MARS FLIRTS WITH EARTH BY WIRELESS

One Scientist Asserts He Heard Buzzing Sound Like Nothing in This World, While Another Got Dots and Dashes; Many Ridicule Theory and One Suggests That the Job of Solving Secret Is for Machinist.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 22.— With Mars and the earth as close together as the two planets will ever come, wireless operators at the Point Grey station today were tuning in for a repetition of mysterious signals "which might have been from Mars."

C. W. Mellish and W. T. Buford, senior operators at the powerful stations, were at the boards waiting to again hear the "unearthly" dots-and-dash.

They still cling truly to the theory that no continuous wave or spark set—the only means known to scientists for transmitting radio waves—could have sent the strange signals repeated in intervals of forty seconds.

"Four distinct groups of four dashes each came through the air," Mellish said. "They started with a low note and ended sharply with a high."

Wireless signals.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 22.—A mysterious set of signals, resembling four dashes each, were received at the Victoria wireless station by Mr. Frank Smith, chief operator. The attention was directed to three wavelengths. They began with a low note and ended with a "sharpened dash" and operators said they had never heard such something before. The signals were sent. Astronomers of the dominion observatory joined the operators in attempting to trace the source of the phenomenon.

Silence and suspense.

LONDON, Aug. 22.— Norman Morris, writer, editor of "Popular Wireless," last night noted one or two brief, strange signals in the powerful station erected at his home at Dulwich. The signals, which were not continuous, came once, one minute apart, about 12:34 a. m. (Greenwich mean time). The signals resembled two dashes, and three dots.

An Calif. High school student, David J. Aspinwall, of Pasadena, Calif., Aug. 22—Professor Scherzer, in the observatory on the Alpine summit, the laboratory on the Alpine summit, believes false of radio signals from Mars are ridiculous, according to an interview in the Herald.

Master for Engineers
PASADENA, Calif., Aug. 22.—Assistants at the Mount Wilson observatory said the mysterious signals picked up in Victoria, B. C., were a matter for mechanical engineers to settle rather than physicists.

Heard No Word.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Wireless stations here have heard nothing "on the air" which might be a signal from Mars.

Picked Up Nothing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Operators of the marine wireless stations of the Radio Corporation, which operates a number of stations around the world, did not pick up the mysterious signals for dash message recorded in Victoria, B. C.

Stars Were Bright.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 22.—After days of intense discussion by astronomers of Harvard university observatory who were viewing Mars, are more brilliant than any others ever discovered.

Nothing Unusual.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The Federal Telegraph company wireless station has picked up an unusual message.

Hears No Word.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The naval radio station here is the most powerful in the world. Operators tuned in on a 25,000 meter wave length and failed to intercept any dash message.

Instruments Did Not Dodge.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—David Todd, former president of one of the largest electrical companies in the country, Washington inventor, designed an especially constructed instrument to receive any planetary communications on the photographic plate. This watched the planet at night and never moved.

Heavy Rain in the Kansas Country Has Cooled the Weather.

TWIN FALLS, Aug. 22.—Heavy rain and a cool wind from the west last night cooled the weather, but not sufficiently to stop the growth of some plants.

"But the temperature has come down to 70 degrees this morning, so you can see it is not hot," said John W. Hayes, teacher at the local high school.

"When Mr. Hayes teaches his advanced algebra class in the morning, he will be well read his address to this court with horror."

CROWD WAITS TO HEAR THE PACT REPORT

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—With the public in a tense state of expectation of a resolution concerning the secretarian reparation bill, Foreign Minister Stresemann gave their report on the reparations pact of London.

When Chancellor Marx started to speak at the beginning of yesterday afternoon, the crowd of London conference communists started a roar, almighty "amenities" and political protest.

It was agreed that the leaders recessed the meeting for ten minutes until the communists were quieted. Police removed Communists Deputy Schwartz who was expelled for 30 days.

MRS. FERGUSON BACK IN HER TEMPLE HOME

Woman Who Seeks Election as Governor of Texas Cooks Beans and Cans Fruits While Chatting with the Reporters at Her Own Residence.

CHARLESTON, Tex., Aug. 22.—The woman seeking election as governor of Texas, for vindication of her family name, is still at her home in the country, set on the hillside, the site of the tomb of her husband, John Ferguson, and there took up the battle only when her husband's effort at political retribution was carried by the anti-Ferguson group.

The mother, whose two daughters have stood unflinchingly by her throughout, is still a solicitous mother.

"I started the race to wip off the unhappy circumstances visited upon the family when Jim was forced out of office," Mrs. Ferguson declared.

However, "Mrs. Ferguson does not allow her political interests to interfere with the administration of her household."

"Come into the kitchen if you want to talk to me," she told her interviewer. "I have a batch of peach preserves ready to be canned and they won't wait."

"I am afraid they'll be taken away in the basement, all prepared during the last few weeks. Among the cans were several of watermelon preserves, remnants of scenes of choice meals that have found their way to the Ferguson table. It was heartbreaking, almost too great for anyone to assume, but we lawyers can no more choose than the court can choose."

Darrow at this point was interrupted by the noisy arrival of a bodyguard of the countrymen and was forced to pause until order was restored.

The biggest crowd of the entire hearing flocked hysterically to enter the courtroom. Thousands of people outside under the trees sat for hours in a vain effort to gain entrance.

For the first time men ostracized the women and the division of the sexes became evident.

Darrow will present his plea for mercy today, probably at the beginning of the afternoon session.

DARROW then read from ancient court decisions and from a report of a 1783 case when old Sir John was hanged at the stake, "because she didn't say please to her mistress."

Turning abruptly on his heels Darrow faced the state's attorney, Robert W. Trammell, who had done little to defend the old man.

Darrow will present his plea for mercy today, probably at the beginning of the afternoon session.

"How a case like that must please Doctor Crowe," pleads a newspaper reporter.

The body will be received in New York by Mrs. Mors' mother, Mrs. Mors' divorced husband or the dead woman will remain here.

Darrow erred.

"Both the attorneys and families of these two boys regret very much that we have not been able to find any suitable home for them until now.

"But their honor, we are anxious to have, to help their lives and their health, to help them get a job, to help them go to school again," Darrow said.

Cloudy weather was forecast for the remainder of the week.

INTERVENTION IN HONDURAS IS EXPECTED

United States May Send Force to Protect American Life and Property in Right of State of Central America Following Murder.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—Intervention by the United States government in Honduras may result from the reported murder of George Gatewood Hamilton, an American citizen, in the port of Puerto Chalal, north coast port.

Wolfgang, racing to Vice Consul Weland L. Beaumont's report of the killing, the state department has organized a committee who is gathered at Puerto Castilla, Nicaragua, and forward full-drawn information.

The state department last week sent the United States naval cruiser Galveston to Callao, Peru, Puerto Callao, to play a role in intervention in connection with the Honduras revolution and to aid labor contractors at the Standard Oil and Transportation company, an American concern.

SELBY'S SISTER THINKS HE WILL YET BE SPARED

Woman Who Told Police That Her Husband Was Her Father Said That God Will Not Forget Him in His Trial.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22—Does any man of great heart care for his wife? asks Mrs. Selby (Mildred McCoy) today as she—the woman who is the star witness of the state in its attempt to send the former father to the gallows—of the fact she had that he would yet be spared.

She spoke with solemn aspect, seated on the veranda of her suburban home, with the sun's bright light behind her.

McCoy has recognized his opinions are making a fight on fundamental economic lines, and she will emphasize his stand on them more than when broadcast by his army of stumping speakers.

The president will make his speech in Washington at the fraternal congress, August 25, after returning from his vacation in Vermont. Acceptance of the invitation to speak was announced last night. Another speaking date he has accepted is September 6 at the dedication of the statue of Lafayette in Baltimore.

Conflicting between the president, willing to speak at the gathering of the national committee, and Isaac H. Hopper, chairman of the national committee, and C. Isaac Hopper, will decide where other addresses are to be made.

A large room over the first floor of the hotel, May 1, will be the presence of state, may 2, the first presence of the convention.

This meeting will mark the end of the president's "monastic" seclusion here. He is thoroughly tested and is now devoting his time entirely to his work.

McCoy, however, is far from being satisfied. She is brooding over her husband's conduct in the marriage and spends her evenings in attending to national mat-

LONDON Hears That Italian Flyer Is Safe in Harbor

LONDON, Aug. 22—The Daily Mirror's early-morning edition reports in a chapter by Steelyard that the Italian aviator, Lieutenant Locatelli, was well as the two American flyers, who were missing since Saturday night.

The canary came to the railroad station unaccompanied by friends and alighted over the ribbon of an orange grove.

The body will be received in New York by Mrs. Mors' mother, Mrs. Mors' divorced husband or the dead woman will remain here.

Darrow erred.

Cloudy weather was forecast for the remainder of the week.

HERRIOT IN SECOND DAY OF DEBATE

PARIS, Aug. 22—Premier Herrion, with strengthened convictions, faced with an old friend for ratification of the pact of London, swooping into the second day of discussion in the chamber of deputies today and responded to many sharp interpellations on the debate of yesterday.

After a stirring appeal on Thursday, the chamber voted 329 to 293 against adjournment of the debate.

Deputies were to adjourn the debate when to allow the part of London to be taken before the chamber's foreign committee for examination. The opposition declared the part of London modified the Versailles treaty.

Wolfgang, racing to Vice Consul Weland L. Beaumont's report of the killing, the state department has organized a committee who is gathered at Puerto Castilla, Nicaragua, and forward full-drawn information.

DAVIS ISSUES DEFY ON HONESTY IN HIS SEAGIRT ADDRESS

Democratic Presidential Candidate Says Honesty Means More Than Mere Proper Accounting of Public Funds; Charges Republicans with Shiftiness in National and International Affairs; Names K. K. K.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 22—A direct challenge to President Coolidge to accept responsibility for the administration and its officials was hurled here today by John W. Davis, democratic standard bearer, in a speech before a huge gathering of New Jersey democrats.

In drawing a sharp line of demarcation between the Coolidge slogan of "common sense in government" and his own demand for "honesty in government," Davis outlined his views on the subject which he is making the paramount issue of the campaign.

"What is honesty in government?" he asked. "Honesty in the handling of the public funds and the public property of course. But it is something more,

"It is candor and fair dealing and impartiality and the transaction of the public business in the open, in broad daylight, without disguise or pretense or evasion. It is the playing of no favorites; whether in making public contracts or in writing public laws."

Total 411 like.

"It is the breaking of all classes and all sections of the country on an even basis. It is the avoidance of secrecy and withholding and sharp practices in the management of public affairs."

"Home republicans hold that if a political party has placed and kept certain men in office, it is responsible and ought to support them. This has begun," said Davis, "and Davis insist that unless political parties are held to protect responsibility-party government will become a farce and a failure."

"Davis entirely deplores special privilege except in the cause of a protective tariff. We oppose it in this and every other form."

"They believe the Fordney-McCumber act is beyond repudiation; we say it is an outrageous imposition on the consuming public."

"They believe offices are to be given to those who believe that agriculture should be on an economic basis with other industries. They have no place to this end but the appointment of a committee to investigate and advise on the question, favoring those less fortunate, leaders not interested in politics. We think the first step to economic equality is to deprive others of their unjust advantage."

"They are content to conduct the foreign policy of the United States through our cities. We think America is great enough to speak in her own name."

"They propose now, after nearly four years of absolute function, to enfranchise the United States as a member of the League of Nations, the organization of international justice. We propose to do, as much as power is in our hands," Free Scarlet.

"They present a party made up of a present racing in the direction of progressiveness and the broadest possible franchise. They are not interested in politics.

"We shamed and fell over, fastened and led our country into war, and now we have a harmonious army, officers and privates, marching to a common end."

Referring to the republican attitude toward the Versailles treaty, Davis said that the Versailles Treaty was a scandal. Davis and his allies, the Wilsonites, wanted to ratify the pact of London.

"When we went about to help Mrs. Puccini, fell his right leg, also weak because he had not been walking for a long time," Davis said.

Puccini, falling out of the chair, fell with a bullet in his back, and slumped into a chair, getting up with his pistol, fell with a bullet in his right arm.

"When I went to see Mrs. Puccini, I saw that she was really sick. She had just been married to Mr. Puccini and she had been having fits.

"When we went to see Mrs. Puccini, I saw that she was really sick. She had just been married to Mr. Puccini and she had been having fits.

After a short stay in the city, Mrs. Puccini and Mr. Puccini returned to Italy. The last time I saw Mrs. Puccini was when she was at the theater.

"I then went to see her at her home and she was very ill. I then went to see her at her home and she was very ill. I then went to see her at her home and she was very ill.

Evening—Mrs. Charlotte Vogel played the piano and the remainder of the evening was spent with dancing—cards—there were several impromptu speeches.

Holiday View Ball—Mrs. Jensen was hostess to the Holiday View club Wednesday afternoon with most of the members present. The luncheon was delicious, the desserts included cake, pie, and ice cream. The vice-president, Mrs. Fuller, and the afternoons were spent with games and needlework. Mrs. Emerick and Mrs. Jeannette played piano while who were enjoyed, Lafe in the afternoon the houses served dairy refreshments.

Motor Club Entertained—Mrs. Frank Dellanté entertained the Mentor club—Womans' Department, the members being the women in the club. There were about twenty members and six guests present. During the business session plates were completed for the annual watermelon picnic to be held on Aug. 31.

Atmospheric Party—The theater served delicious refreshments assisted by her daughter. The next meeting will be at the house of Mrs. George Rettig September 3.

Cooking Is Stressed—in Filer Fair Plan

FILER FAIR—Aug. 22.—The arts of baking, canning and sewing as practiced by the women of this section will be exemplified in many ways at the fair. In the baking feature the重点 will be put on the preparation of the Twin Falls county fair.

Mrs. Ged. N. Tucker, superintendent of the women's department, is making arrangements for higher standards.

Hundreds of articles will be exhibited. Canned vegetables will probably lead in point of number.

Canned fruits and vegetables will also be on display. Many fine cakes will be shown.

The artistic and mouth watering failure of the canning show, of

THE SWEENEY RESOLUTION ON POWER

(By JAMES D. WHEELAN.)

The Sweeny resolution which created so much excitement in the republican county convention Tuesday in this city reads as follows:

"We believe that the people of Idaho have the right to all of the benefits to be derived from the natural resources of our state, and that it is our plain duty to protect that right. Of all of the power now being made from the waters of Idaho there is more going outside of our state for the enrichment and advantage of people and communities elsewhere than is being served to our own people. We pledge our candidates to the active and whole-hearted support of laws that will prevent the taking of any additional power now being made from the waters of our state to places outside of our state, and we further pledge their active and whole-hearted support to laws that will tax any future appropriation of the waters of Idaho for power purposes unless the use of that power be limited wholly to within the state of Idaho."

The theory of law on which this is evidently based is that the state of Idaho retains title to the waters thereof, subject to certain specified uses granted, and that in regulating the use of such waters if it has a right to specify that power generated by such shall not be used outside the state. Of course, no far, so much power is already in use outside the state, it is impossible to prevent continuance, but it is evident, that the purpose to provide that power generated in sites as yet undeveloped shall be used in Idaho, even where the sites are already levied on by the power companies. Should this theory prove sound, companies in order to make profit must strive to induce manufacturers to come here and must endeavor to sell as much electricity as possible; and would have an inducement to reduce rates for Idaho people.

The plank differs, from that of the democratic county convention, in that the latter seeks to have the state actively fight instead of perpetually appear for the users in cases involving rates under the public utilities law. The public utility commission last February tentatively fixed the present rate for electrical users. The Southern Idaho Light & Power Users' association opposed the rate and asked a rehearing. Suddenly the commission by a 2 to 1 vote asked the power company to show cause why there should not be a straight reduction of 10 per cent in rates. The company at once entered the federal court with a claim that the rate already in force is discriminatory and made the commission and the attorney general defendants.

It has been contended here that unless there should be active intervention by the Power Users' association, the result would be insufficient presentation of the case of the people and that the company would get its side alone adequately shown.

The democratic convention, therefore, not only approved of the stand of the Power Users', but also demanded that the state should provide expert counsel to fight the battles of the people in the courts, so that if it could be shown that a reduction were due it would be granted. In other words, the democrats assumed in effect that the majority of the commission was correct in its reduction order and wanted this properly shown in court.

The two planks, therefore, were not conflicting. Neither would depend on the other, and one might be upheld by the courts while the other might fail, or both might be upheld.

The arrival last night of the American aviators in Greenland shows a triumph over difficulties that is characteristically American. When Lieut. Erickson, more than nine centuries ago, passed over the same route, it took him longer. It is perhaps a singular coincidence that in each case the pioneer travelers were followed by an Italian.

City Briefs

Back from the Bar-C-E. Potter and family are back from a trip to Robinson Bar, Red Fish lake and other mountain points.

Leave of Princeton—John Martin, Twin Falls high school graduate, left Thursday evening for Golden, Colo., where he will enter the Colorado School of Mines.

Southern Idaho Association Which Has Adopted a Trade Name for Product Predicts 60 Per Cent Increase; Prices Will Be Good; Average Yield of 23 Bushels An Acre Is Estimated.

"Siebeaga" will be the trade name of the Idaho Great Northern beans marketed by the Southern Idaho Growers' association, according to the day's announcement from the association directors.

Every bag will be branded with the trade name "Siebeaga" in view of difficulties in getting the Great Northern beans grown on the Twin Falls tract. "Siebeaga," adopted upon the suggestion of C. P. Bowles, sales manager for the Southern Idaho Growers' association, is a composite of the initials of "Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association," with the key word spelled out—"Siebeaga."

Cutting of the bean crop began in the early fields Thursday. Sixty per cent increase in the total yield over last year is anticipated by the association. Last year the average yield per acre was 16 pounds of beans last year. Early estimates place the value of this year's harvest of the association members at $750,000.

The association will act as price fixer for its members in negotiations. Consideration outside of the association runs mostly at 4 cents per pound.

Returns from approximately 200 farms on questionnaires sent out last year show that the average yield in excess with an average expectation of a 60 per cent normal yield. Twenty-eight bushels per acre is the average estimated yield at present while prospective yields ranging from average yield of 20 bushels and reported out—40 bushels.

Crop Survey.

Summary of local crop conditions is contained in the report made by George J. Ladd, of the state who after a careful inspection placed the condition per cent of the crops at 90 to 100 in the areas from Hansen to Curry, 75 to 90 from Curry to Peavay, and 50 to 60 in the areas to the north.

Wallace Crop Shows.

Shortage of 1,500,000 bushels in the nation's white bean crop as compared with last year is estimated in an annual report recently received by the local association, describing the situation in the country over.

Rains with no typical summer weather reported in Michigan will start the harvest for some three weeks with the possibility of encountering some difficulty.

Droughts in Colorado have caused a 30 per cent cut in the culminated yield for that territory. California will have a fifty per cent normal crop, it is predicted.

Nothing in excess of a 10 per cent depreciation in bean crop returns due to water shortage is predicted by the association for the Twin Falls tract.

Beans Preferred.

Market profits in eastern retail markets for the Great Northern bean was noted by Mr. Bowles in his recent six weeks' tour of over thirty eastern cities made for the purpose of studying market conditions. Beans in skins, quicksaves of cooking, and flavor are given as eastern consumers as the merits of the Great Northern bean, according to Mr. Bowles.

Bean Future.

"First year's crop of grade and quality will make the Idaho Great Northern Bean and Twin Falls prominent in the national bean market," predicts Mr. Bowles.

No notice of objection or complaint has been made on association shipments during their two years of operation. The principal markets for the Twin Falls beans are in the central, west and south where the demand is said to be far in excess of the supply.

Although the Southern Idaho company does an immense and growing business in the country it is only one of the agencies that will handle the enormous crop this year.
