WHEAT FALLS DOWN DURING END OF WEEK

Market Develops Weaker Tone; Export Demand for Bread Grains Less Urgent at Higher Price Levels; Corn Firm.

Wheat prices reached new high levels during the week ending October 17 but developed a weaker tone and lost most of the gain, according to the Seattle grain market. Twelve of the United States department of agriculture.

The government report showing further increase in the spring wheat crop and making the total crop of wheat about 525,000,000 bushels and the falling off in the export demand, were the principal weakening factors.

There was some export buying on each price decline but total sales for the week were materially less than during the past few weeks. Export bids for hard winter wheat were about two cents lower and on a decline of about seven cents over the Chicago September for No. 2 hard winter wheat on track at the first five days' shipment.

In the spring wheat, each contract closed at a loss of one cent. No. 1 hard winter and No. 2 hard winter northern selling in a range of one cent to twenty cents over the December corn market held firm the gain for the week was small.

The movement of old crop continues fairly heavy and stocks at the terminal markets are very much larger than at this time last year. Some of the crop corn was being shipped from northern Texas and new corn was being offered at St. Louis at three cents under the St. Louis December price for No. 3 or better. Corn shipment by December 15. Advancing hog prices have been a strengthening factor in the corn market but the feeding demand is not so large volume as feeders are substituting local forage and other grains wherever possible.

The continued heavy movement and increased stocks of oats weakened the oats market and prices declined one to two cents during the week. The October 1 estimate showed a further increase of about 22,000,000 bushels in the crop and this also had a weakening effect on the market. Prices, however, are considered rather low compared to other grains and no serious decline is expected.

The barley market remains fairly firm. Reports of rotting by export weakened the market on Wednesday but a continued active demand from domestic sources held prices at about last week's level.

The flaxseed market at Minneapolis advanced about 8 1/2 cents during the week and No. 1 seed sold on Friday at around $2.44 per bushel. To arrive offerings were quite heavy but were readily taken by the mills and offered. Receipts for the week were heavier on the American markets and the new crop movement was continuing to the Canadian markets. The crushing demand was very good and no accumulation of stocks was reported.

MAUREN. AND GUID, last tonight after a Golden Guild Shamoo.

ber with a few extra good ears selling as high as twenty-one to twenty-two cents over. Durum wheat, which is also in good demand with mill active buyers. The Durum wheat market was more erratic than spring wheat and fluctuated over a wide range. No. 1 numbers at the elevator were marked most freely, having completed much of the fall wheat seedling and other field work. The bulk of the movement is toward the Gulf for export and only the high prices grades are moving to the mills and interior distribution markets. The demand for soft winter wheat was less active except at Denver and other western markets. The demand from southern mills was of small volume, which, together with the poor third demand caused a rather weak market at Cincinnati, St. Louis and other soft winter wheat markets.

The eye market was very nervous after the sharp advance of last week. The foreign demand fell off materially at the advance and small lots of eye were reported being offered by shrewd buyers at six cents less than the American price would amount to delivered to that country. Future prices at the close of the week were about ten cents below the high point and premiums for early eye were low and about one cent, compared with the future prices. The eye market is held rather firm in grain, however, because of the shortage in Europe and the relatively small amount available for export from this country and Canada.

The government estimate showed further deterioration in the corn crop and the estimate October 1 was reduced 5,000,000 bushels from that of August 1. The government estimate for this year about 2,450,000,000 bushels. This decrease was about as expected however, by the trade and while the

Calls Willys-Knight
"Smoother Than Most Sixes and Eights"

HIRAM PERCY MAXIM, President of the Maxim Silencer Company, says: "The Lan Chester Balancer certainly takes out the vibration. It makes the motor smoother than most six and eight cylinders on the road today."

No Vibration

Ever since automobiles have been built, engineers have been endeavoring striving to conquer engine vibration. Now the solution Willys-Knight achieves positive engine smoothness by a device so simple and efficient that all engineers are wondering why it wasn't invented years ago.

The Lan Chester Balancer... the discovery of Dr. F. W. Lan Chester, F. R. S., builder of one of the most expensive motor cars in Great Britain. By securing the United States rights for the use of this remarkable invention, Willys-Knight introduces in America an entirely new conception of enjoyable motoring.

This is still another triumph for a car already famous for its engine. The Willys-Knight always valve engine actually improves with use. Never needs valve-grinding. Never needs carbon-cleaning. Owners report 50,000 miles and more without an engine adjustment.

Everybody is talking about Willys-Knight's vibrationless performance—and everybody who rides talks of the thrill of it. If only for the sake of a new experience, drive a Willys-Knight over the road today at all speeds.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR
 Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 26 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent vacuum kerosene (coal oil).
 This inventor W. K. Johnson, 161 North Union Ave., Portland, Ore., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Saving the lives of 769 children of school age is credited to safety instruction in the Detroit schools for the five years 1919 to 1923, inclusive. Decrease in child fatalities has been from 1.64 per thousand in 1919 to 0.8 in 1923, a drop of more than 60 per cent; in relation to automobile registration the decrease has been from 0.85 per thousand in 1919 to 0.38 in 1923; upon the basis of total population the decrease has been from 0.22 per thousand to 0.18 per thousand.

Some bitter feelings are likely to be engendered during the next two weeks. When the campaigns near the finish hot words and sharp thrusts are likely to be the last which divides friends and partisans in a fashion which otherwise would never sever these holy bonds. Each man should prepare himself against such unfortunate slip because if we take time to think these matters over we will be ashamed of ourselves for losing our tempers and flying off the handle in such a fashion.

It is too bad that there are those who wish to hinder the sale of the American Falls bonds in this state, but it would appear from a suit filed Wednesday in the district court here that there is a pretty thoroughly organized opposition to this big dam. There is two sides to every question, but this seems very much like almost a mammoth affair, at least, as far as the vote for the district was concerned. It is to be hoped, that this suit does not long delay the delivery of these bonds as construction work should be started at a very early date.

It is not the habit of the Twin Falls Times to enter seriously into the field of prophecy, but unless we miss our guess there will be "No More of Moore" after the election on November the fourth. The sportsman and the Federated Women's clubs together with a host of other folks who are much dissatisfied with his administration of affairs in Idaho will vote against him to such a degree that the race will simmer down to Frechler and Samuels. The only thing that will save Governor Moore's scalp is a heavy vote for the national republican ticket and we are not of the opinion that this will occur in Idaho this year.

A Pan American Confederation of Highway Education Boards with a constituent board in each country, the preparation of a program for the Pan American Highway Motor Conference to be held in Buenos Aires, May, 1925, better training for highway engineers, and the prospective opening of large rural districts in the Latin American countries, thus facilitating the establishment of rural schools and in every way encouraging more advanced civilization, are some of the results of the Pan American Highway Commission's intensive study of highway problems in the United States. This commission recently visited the United States at the invitation of the Highway Education Board of which the United States Commissioner of Education is chairman.

Heavy fines are helping to prevent violators of the Federal game regulations from profiting by their attempts to evade the law. As an instance of the severity with which violations of the migratory bird treaty act are regarded, a man was arraigned in the Federal court at Bangor, Me., at the June term for shipping partridges from Maine to New York contrary to State law and in violation of section 4 of the migratory bird treaty act. He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $200. The accused had previously been prosecuted in State court, where he paid a fine of $200 and costs. The evidence was obtained by Federal Wardens George E. Cushman and B. E. Smith, of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Poison paste and cresote-pine-tar repellent solution recommended by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, have both been found effective in controlling field mice which were attacking peanut crops in Texas. Because of this pest one farmer had been unable to get a stand of peanuts for several years. Losses would occur within a day or two of planting. This season, on the recommendation of the district leader of the Biological Survey, two batches of live quart of seed peanuts were treated, one part with the standard strychnine and starch preparation and the other with a solution of cresote and pine tar. On inspection after 10 days it was found that the peanuts had sprouted without being molested. In spite of several showers the poison paste was proved to be still effective. The cresote-pine-tar solution which makes the seed unpalatable is more economical of application, but the strychnine coating will actually kill the mice, thus freeing fields of their destructive activities.

The legislative assembly and Senate representatives of the State, such Representatives and Senators as they may severally be entitled to, County and Precinct Officers, In each County of the State of Idaho: One Sheriff, One County Treasurer, who is ex-officio public administrator and tax collector, One County Assessor, One Probate Judge, One Associate Auditor, One County Superintendent of public instruction, One Coroner, One Surveyor, Three County Commissioners, Two Justices of the Peace, One Constable in each judicial district, And the further purposes of voting:

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT "That Section 3 of Article 12 of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to read as follows: Section 3. The right to divest and appropriate the unappropriated waters of any natural stream to beneficial uses, shall not be denied." PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT WHEN THE USE IS FOR POWER PURPOSES SUCH AS GENERATING ELECTRICITY, THE RIGHT SHALL BE SUBJECT TO SUCH LIMITATIONS AS MAY BE PRESCRIBED BY LAW, in order to insure that the water be used for the benefit of all those entitled to use the same, that the water for domestic purposes shall be subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by law, and that preference over those claiming for any other purpose, and those using the water for agricultural purposes shall have preference over those using the water for municipal purposes. And in any organized mining district those using water for mining purposes or milling purposes connected with them, shall have preference over those using the same for manufacturing or agricultural purposes. That the use by such subsequent appropriators shall be subject to such provisions of law regarding the taking of private property for public use as are referred to in Section 11 of Article 13 of this Constitution."

How to Spend Your Money
 is rather an unusual title for a bank ad—but we're serious in making this suggestion.
 It's astonishing how some people let money slip through their fingers—Experience teaches that the person with plenty of cash available is almost invariably found to be the easiest and quickest buyer of the non-essentials.
 The most successful way to stop these leaks is to possess a checking account and draw as the need may arise.
 There is no necessity for skimping or for going without, but the checking account is a constant reminder and one that always results in the small savings that so rapidly mount.
 The man who spends all he makes is deceiving himself. His prosperity is fictitious.
 Your account with this Bank will be thankfully accepted.

BORAH IS ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Democratic Candidate for United States Outlines Platform on Which He Is Making Race and James Ho Will Discuss Tonight; Frechafer to Talk on State Questions.

In an interview with a Times reporter today Frank Borah outlined in general terms the points on which he differs from United States Senator William Edgar Borah, whose name he expects to challenge in his address next week. He will elaborate more on these questions in his address in the evening.

"I believe the time is past when the United States can 'indulge itself' where social affairs are being discussed and decided. America should be the leader in the movement for peace and world happiness and prosperity."

"There is a wide difference of opinion between Senator Borah and myself on many political questions, policies and conduct. 'People who agree with me and differ from the Senator should have an opportunity to express their choice based on principles' for which each of us stand, and especially as the Senator has expressed no choice for any party platform in this campaign."

Senator Borah was nominated by both the Republican and the Progressive parties. The declaration of principles in their platforms are directly opposite to each other. The senator expressed his pleasure at each nomination and his intention to accept the nomination by the Progressive party. He has decided to remain on the Republican ticket. But to this time he has expressed neither approval nor disapproval of the platform of either party, or his intention to support the nominee of either party in this state.

President Coolidge and the all important question of world peace, and our international relations. Without the re-establishment of peace and friendly cooperation and treaties respecting the channels of trade between the United States and European countries there can be no permanent prosperity for America and especially for the continental interests.

"The World Court as now organized and approved by the national governments of both the Republican and Democratic parties. The official participation by the United States in world affairs is favored by the candidates of each party. Senator Borah opposes this and the nations of the world first adopt a code of international laws to govern their relations. This necessary to prevent a super-tribunal to be over all nations, the exact proportion of which the senator claimed was contained in the treaty creating the League of Nations and which he so strenuously opposed."

"Senator Borah is opposed to the United States being officially and directly represented in conferences of the nations as expressed by the League. In this he differs from President Coolidge. I am in favor of all these things."

CONTRACT LET TO HIGHEST IS DECLARATION

Judge James H. Balfour Says That Best Bidder Got Highest Contract Under Way Still

"The American Fuel district court has accepted the highest and best bid offered for the $2,450,000 worth of bonds," said Judge James H. Balfour, attorney for the district when asked today regarding the remaining order placed by the secretary of the United States.

"I believe the time is past when the United States can 'indulge itself' where social affairs are being discussed and decided. America should be the leader in the movement for peace and world happiness and prosperity."
