Enormous Sums Are Paid to Government by Screen Stars; Many Headlines Fall Below Popular Expectation.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—In motion picture Douglas Fairbanks was found out of southern California's greatest source of revenue, according to income tax figures upon for public inspection at the internal revenue department here today.

Fairbanks last year paid a tax of $18,750.00, the rolls disclosed. It is, however, not accurate, it reveals, that taxpayer in this section, having given the government a check for $18,750.00, February 25, paid a tax of $2,882.22.

Other taxes paid by well known picture players and southern California residents, some of which barely approach the figure which California has given them, include:

Mary Pickford, $24,440; Pola Negri, $1,587,337; Jackie Coogan, $29,295; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Connon, $4,255.12; William S. Hart, $2,554,187; Lew Cody, $1,000,000; Mary Pickford, $2,440; Tom Mix, $1,235,593; Robert Taylor, $11,927,401; Cecil B. DeMille, $1,100,000; Charles Chaplin, $1,100,000; Barbara Llaner, $1,851,161; Antonio Brown, $1,235,593; Charles Chaplin, $1,100,000; Constance Talmadge, $10,100.00.

William G. Meadlo, $1,150,767; Mrs. Eleanor Meadlo, $1,235,121; F. W. Brown, $1,100,000; Charles Chaplin, $1,100,000; Scripps, $1,012,167; M. G. Hellman, $1,235,593.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 23.—Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury, had an income tax liability of $1,235,593 for the year ending Sept. 30.

His brother, Richard B. Mellon, president of the National National bank had a liability of $316,936.25. The local revenue collector here displayed a telegram received this morning from Internal Revenue collector here at this office, which attracted attention to that section of the act which prohibits the printing or publication of income tax returns under penalty of a fine and imprisonment.

UTAH MAN KILLED. SALT LAKE, Utah, Oct. 24.—When Fred W. Janke, employee of a street contracting firm, failed to return home to a birthday dinner last night, his wife and daughter began an investigation. A little while later they found his body at the morgue. He had been run over and killed late in the afternoon on a street roller. Janke's wife employed on piece of paving work in the city. Two steam rollers were at work on the job. One passed Janke and he, not seeing the other, stepped in front of it, was hit and crushed to death.

Shenandoah Leaves Fort Worth on Way to Lakehurst, N. J.

U. S. MILITARY PLANE, PORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 23.—The U. S. naval dirigible Shenandoah slipped away from the launch mast here today at 10:10 a. m. bound for Lakehurst, N. J., where she was expected to arrive Saturday afternoon.

Regular weather reports on the northern route put the Shenandoah on a new course over the last lap on the homeward flight. The highest winds were from the eastward to Dallas, where she was scheduled to circle the state flag grounds before turning her nose northward toward Little Rock, Ark. Other points listed along the course were Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, and thence eastward along the air mail route to Lakehurst.

DAVIS' WESTERN TRIP PROFITABLE

Democrats Thought to Have Strengthened Many Doubtful States.

SEN ROUTE WITH DAVIS TO NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Back to the heart of the case, John W. Davis came today to emphasize his campaign with election day.

Tonight he will sleep at home in New York. Tomorrow morning he will start for New York city which will reach him up to the final wire. Democratic leaders within his 16-day tour of the midwest are confident of success. They believe his trip has accomplished:

- 1. A strengthening of the weaker states.
2. A strengthening of the weaker states.
3. A strengthening of the weaker states.

PRIMARY ELECTION BALLETS OF HOPE BY C. J. DAVIS

The ballots are out for the primary election of directors of the Chamber of Commerce in this city. They must be in by Saturday night.

Republican campaign managers got a late start and are just now whipping it up to top speed. The politicians are busy that Coolidge and Davis will carry Minnesota.

C. S. FORTINES CHANGE HANDS FIGURES SHOW

Rockefeller Jr. Exceeds His Father by Immense Margin; Other Amounts Paid by Famous Men Are Revealed Today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Transfer and disposition of some of America's greatest blood fortunes is being made in the form of a new class of wealthy, publication of income tax returns for 1923.

John D. Rockefeller, Sr., long regarded as the richest man in the world, is found to have handed down to his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a net worth of $100,000,000.

John D. Rockefeller, Sr., $124,266,000. Young Rockefeller and the family and most works of Henry Ford are shown by the first published income tax returns to be the two greatest incomes in the world.

But, while the huge holdings of the elder Rockefeller are being transferred to his son, the family fortune of the Astors, Vanderbilts and Gaults, also shown to have been dissipated.

J. P. Morgan is found to pay an income tax of only $28,833. The greatest confusion occurred in New York which it was suddenly revealed that the tax payments had been released to public sight.

Among the nationally known figures in different casts of life, interesting diversions are seen in the New York Times, World, News and other printing the figures, while the Herald-Tribune did not print them.

MINSTREL SHOW

UPHOLDING their reputation as the greatest show of the kind entertained the Minstrel show a decidedly favorable impression in their first appearance last night at the Orpheum theatre.

The costume, lighting and stage effects were faultless, being in keeping with the high style of the entertainment. Bright, sparkling rations and musical, catchy music added much to the success of this stellar show.

Among the hot numbers were "Girls That Men Forget" and "Where the Morning Glories Grow." "Strut and Strut" and "The Girls of the Year" were also well received.

The court, jail and 1160s scenes humor.

The Home Service work of the Red Cross will be discontinued after Nov. 11. Until that date the office will open from 9 to 5 on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The necessity for bringing to the needs and the possibilities to benefit the other fellow, was stressed this morning by Mary Ruth Fisher, principal of the high school, in a talk before the Christian Endeavor convention. Miss Fisher pointed out that we may be educated and developed to a point where we can enjoy recreation, but the other fellow may not be and we must take him into consideration. Various points of view are necessary, she declared in order that we not take a biased view.

When patients work on white grounds they have before their eyes green and blue colors to recreate their eyes, while wearing the slight blue shade which is continuously needed for the eyes during the recreation of an exhilarating rest. We need refreshment of strength and health after toil, as we need refreshment by means of food.

Miss Fisher quoted the scriptures to the effect that worldly pleasures were not satisfactory. "Bliss is to be illustrated in the hospitalities of the other fellow. It is to be found in the proper enjoyment of the pleasures of this world as we are instructed by Thoreau's characters of the place here."

Her recreation, she said, should be of a character that would be more and more sincere, while habituating us to physical and mental. Tonight, Rev. Jesse H. Baird, principal pastor of the Holy Trinity Episcopal church, will talk.

The meeting last evening opened with prayer by Rev. Axel Hoenes, pastor of the Methodist church, followed by a hymn and an offering. The program this morning is in addition to those mentioned by Paul F. Brown and Hess, Clayton S. Rice, A. G. Pearson and J. E. Hines and this afternoon Elma Young, John M. Paulson and Rev. M. J. Galle will speak.

Many fine musical selections were made. There are now about 200 in attendance and at least 20 more are expected.

Methodists Talk Over Church Affairs

A program has been arranged and a 25-cent contribution will be solicited.

MILWAUKEE STOCK SHOW GREAT AFFAIR

Charles F. Dwight Tells of His Experiences in the Great Exhibit and During His Crusade Throughout Wisconsin.

The chamber of commerce, having decided to send me to the National Dairy Show and the representative of this section of the country to be held in Milwaukee September 27 to October 1, the next thing to do was to conduct an exhibit. I succeeded in getting the group of the produce from the Elgin, fair and, with some additional samples of cream which I received from W. T. Leslie and others, was packed and shipped to Milwaukee. Here it had to be under supervision on account of the alfalfa which in Illinois. It was then repacked and shipped to Milwaukee on September 18.

On the 24th, the Idaho delegation, consisting of Miss Grace Peck, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Idaho, and Mr. J. E. Hines, of Jerome, T. M. Nichol, Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Kuzel of Butte; J. W. Harper, county agent of Cassia county; J. E. Jones of Shelby, Idaho; Edmunds and Carl Johnson of Falls; Dr. Carl Jones of Idaho; and Mr. J. E. Hines, secretary of the Idaho Falls Chamber of Commerce, who had proceeded in had the exhibit all placed in a very attractive manner.

In this connection I wish to state how wonderfully the U. P. railroad assisted us. They furnished the services of their exhibit expert, also Mr. Gignoux of the agricultural department who worked with us all through the show and took up for one of the largest dairy farms of northern Wisconsin at the close of the show. The U. P. railroad also

We had everything on display that is grown in northern Idaho except peaches, pears and small fruits, being, probably. There were exhibits from various states but Idaho was prominently by every one to be the best agricultural exhibit displayed. Many people whom we interviewed did not know of our exhibit. We gave our literature from our booth advertising every part of our Idaho exhibit and the result was that we all talked for the "Snake River valley". The party was very "friendly" and I do not know of any other fairer exhibition of the same character that we must have had.

When we talked into consideration number of people with whom we came in direct contact to whom we gave first-hand information, I believe it will prove to be of great benefit in this section of the country.

Everyone was just lovely to us and were frank to admit that Idaho very "friendly" and I do not know of any other fairer exhibition of the same character that we must have had.

I talked to a man who had been a "hunter" in the dairy industry in Wisconsin, who said they had not gone into the business until forced to. The last had all played out so they could not raise grain and what at first seemed to be a misfortune proved a blessing in disguise as the dairy business has until last year Wisconsin sold $212,000,000 worth of dairy produce.

In addition to our agricultural exhibit we had a committee from various other organizations consisting of Mr. Charles L. Kirkman and Dr. E. W. Passer for the scout council, L. E. Smith, Merlin G. Bailey and Dr. F. J. Hines, and St. Taylor, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

What seemed to appeal forcibly to these farmers of the middle states was the great amount of crop which we exhibited all coming from the one valley, while they are limited all to one crop that when one fails all fail.

When the committee got forth with the letter in their Scout campaign, they will do so with a firm conviction that they can accomplish this purpose in a single day. W. T. Kelley is chairman, and St. Taylor, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

On October 7, during the tour of the big dairy farms in northern Wisconsin, visiting Palat farms, the Carleton and other dairy farms, and some dairies the party broke up. They report that people everywhere favor their movement.
