PRESIDENT'S ACTOR PARTY GIVEN AIRING

Senator Caraway Quizzed
New York Man Who Says
He Paid $1,297 in Expenses to Bring People to National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—President Coolidge's breakfast "party" at the White House for a group of actors was mentioned here today when the main campaign fund investigation committee resumed.

Rhinelander Waldo of Goshen, N. Y., testified that he arranged for the party with C. Bascom Shoop, secretary to the president, and paid him $1,297 for railroad expenses and other amounts for the actors and guests.

"Did the president know that you were paying their expenses?" asked Senator Caraway, Arkansas, during questioning.

"No," said Waldo.

"Who didn't tell him?"

"Three men and women make large salaries and I told [the actors] that's why I should tell the president," replied Waldo.

"If that is true, why did you have to tell the president? You do it here as a non-partisan committee to take breakfast with the president," Caraway continued.

"These people were not hired," retorted Waldo.

"How long will it take you to round up all the names of actors to come down here to make the president laugh out loud?" Caraway asked.

"About ten days."

"What was your object?"

"To have them tell the president they were for him," said Waldo.

"I can't tell you if the public," persisted Caraway.

"Why didn't you tell the public their enthusiasm was plain for no much per enthusiasm?"

Waldo said that he paid $1,297 for railroad expenses and $107.50 for lunch on the train returning to New York.

"Did you pay for breakfast at the White House?" asked Caraway.

"Oh, no," Waldo replied seriously, and the crowd in the hearing room laughed.

After the party, stricken by Waldo and his wife, a number of well-known actors and actresses playing here were added to the party.

Waldo said in reply to questions by Frank P. Walsh, counsel for Senator La Follette, that he had arranged the party for the actors and actresses. "All I did was to get them to come down here to show they song he was going to sing and make Cal laugh out loud," said Waldo.

"Yes."

Waldo denied that he had arranged for the White House breakfast paid for through the Shuberts, theatrical producers. He insisted that it was not unusual to get up such parties to call on political candidates.

"The witness said he had collected $10,000 from the non-partisan league, which was instituting headquarters in New York, Chicago and St. Louis.

Man Act Charge Is Placed Against Oklahoma Coupler

BENNETT, Colo., Oct. 29—Violation of the Mann Act was charged against C. F. Cup, Asbury, Okla., and his second wife, following their arrest here.

Cup is alleged to have crossed into Kansas with the girl who there became the second Mrs. Cup, after leaving the first, Mrs. Cup, and three children, in Oklahoma.

The couple pleaded not guilty and are being held in jail here.

MURKIN-SHUBERT DEATH,
WEST PLAINS, Mo., Oct. 29—Murkin, 50, a man known throughout the West, was found dead, three bullet holes in his body as he sat at a steamer basket in his car in front of the Grand Industrial Training school, established by him and other Seven Days Advertisers.

He was born in Missouri and also at one time lived in Colorado. Beers told his friends here that while in Colorado he was a part of an investigation office and was blamed for it.

DIES IN STRAIGHT JACKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—William Krebs died in a straight jacket today in the last of "looney bin" victims in the last reconstruction movement begun by Margaret Sanger, the Planned Parenthood company to four.

Silence Marks Campaign in State of California

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29—Silence—perhaps eloquent silence and at least oppressive silence—dominates California's campaign.

United States Senator James W. Jones, who sits on the spine of Herbert Hoover, whose voice continually is raised in direct appeal through statements to the people of California, has, confounding all general tendency of conflict and speech, confined his home folks.

Campbell rallies have depended entirely on the lesser apellent leaders. They have, however, beyond the tumultuous roar of red fire and in fact, have been for the most part rather ordinary affairs.

The democrats have said almost nothing.

WALLACE BURIED IN IOWA CAPITAL

Secretary of Agriculture Is Laid to Rest in Des Moines.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 29—Today marks the tenth anniversary of the day that George Washington Carver died.

The train bearing the secretary's casket arrived here last night. Hundreds of people stood with bare heads as the lady who bore him from the train, Mrs. Edwin Hall, led the pallbearers and police.

It was taken immediately to the state capitol and placed under the umbrella of the huge dome where the flag over the rotunda flew.

Mrs. Edwin Hall, wife of an F.A.C.T. member, carried the casket.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Union Cemetery, and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

ANGLER PASSES

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 29—Charles Higgins, thirteen months past 100 years of age, died here today after an illness of a week. Higgins was known as one of the most skillful anglers in the United States.

It was learned immediately that the by-laws with punishing fines, who were world political speakers in Detroit, had prohibited the use of the name of the speaker who was to be allowed to speak about the greatest statesman of the century, Robert M. La Follette, and that she would speak under another name.

Mrs. Higgins declared that democratic and republican speakers had been heard and when the motion to hear Mrs. Gale lost, a meeting was held in the Palmer home and the novelist delivered her address.

LEAVIUS JOY RETIRES TO CARE FOR HER CHILD

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 29—Leavious Joy, Mrs. Gable, is through with motion pictures—from now on her boy intent is her baby, she announced today.

A few years ago, Mrs. Joy married George W. H. Hinsch, and they adopted shortly after the baby was born. Charging desertion, Mrs. Joy recently filed suit for divorce.

"I'm tired—tired of holding to an ambition which makes me unhappy," she said. "I'm too much attached to my stardom fame," the star of many spectacular productions declared.

"There is only one interest in my life now—my baby. She will be my only concern for the rest of my life."

A trip to Europe, then possibly a return to her home city, New Orleans, is Miss Joy's plan for the future, she said.

FRANCE CLAIMS SHE HAS Freed Self of Charge
Made Against Country

PALIS, Oct. 29—France believes that La Follette's approval of the Geneva protocol on arbitration and disarmament was not fully and definitely refuted the charges of militarism and imperialism.

These charges have been repeated since the World War both in Europe and in North and South America.

France, it is claimed from France that the cause of militarism and imperialism is likely to go down as one of the biggest accomplishments of the administration.

France diplomate hope that this change of power brought about by Hitler—if there has been any fundamental change of policy rather than an expansion of French influence—will bring about a lasting effect on the administration in the United States.

The Quai d'Orsay (French Foreign Office) points out that France has no objection to the Geneva protocol on arbitration and disarmament.

France, too, has agreed to the League of Nations recently at Geneva.

French government approved and has ratified the Geneva protocol on arbitration and disarmament.

It is pointed out here that the other powers, such as Great Britain, did not go so far in this respect as France, withholding its actual ratification by the Foreign Office.

The French foreign office also points out these important steps that have been taken by France in the direction of disarmament and world peace.

From the standpoint of the United States the administration provisions of the new Geneva protocol, her diplomats point out, that American statement for the past 100 years have made the possible of arbitration one of the most important goals toward securing world peace.

French officials in discussing this comparison leave hanging, of course, the question whether the United States, therefore, should not adhere to the protocol.

The question of the relation of the United States to the "League of Nations" is of great interest.

French officials in discussing this comparison leave hanging, of course, the result of the Geneva protocol, it is thought here. Because of the position in the protocol for a disarmament conference can the United States join the League of Nations further consider the protocol.

SOCIETY

Party for Young People—The Hallowe'en party given by Mrs. Johnson was a success, but not at the home of Mrs. E. M. Wolf was a pleasing success. The house was beautifully decorated in the colors and symbols of Halloween, and the decorations and the Hallowe'en costumes and bobbing with fun made a pleasing picture. The exercises were spent in dancing and games suitable for the occasion after which refreshments were served.

The M. S. and S. club will have their Hallowe'en party in the Business Women's club room, Friday evening, October 27, at 8 o'clock and associate members and their husbands are cordially invited. Each lady is requested to bring pie for her own family.

The First Pres. Episc. Church women's group of the Methodist church will meet in the church parlor Thursday afternoon. All ladies of the congregation are urged to attend as their important business is to attend to.

The Episcopal Guild will meet with Mrs. E. H. Williams, 126 Seventh ave. on east Thursday afternoon, October 30. It is hoped there will be a large attendance as there is much work to be done.

Luncheon for Club—Mrs. L. L. Breckinridge was hostess today in the members of the Wimblund club who gathered together for a luncheon at noon. The table decorations were yellow chrysanthemums and the yellow candles in crystal holders. Mrs. William Craven and Mrs. William Bunn of Pahrump were guests of the club. The afternoon was spent in conversation and refreshments.

Card Party—The Order of Eastern Star met in regular session Tuesday evening and held a social gathering which followed on a large card party. There were thirty tables arranged for bridge, bingo, poker, "500" and pinochle. Prizes were won by Mrs. Anna Gandy, Mrs. Fred Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Saville, Mr. and for the young girls Mabel Evans, and in the cut for a prize by the man Mr. Rus Wilson of Kimberly won. During the evening Mrs. Arthur Osborn of Idaho gave two delightful solos. At a late hour refreshments were served.

Stanley-Newton Mr. Clarence Stanley and Mrs. Myrtle Newton of Twin City were married Tuesday evening at six o'clock at the home of Rev. Dr. D. Harris, who performed the ceremony. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of Three Creek and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. and of their children. The young couple will make their home on a ranch at Three Creek.

On Tuesday evening the Business Women's club room was the scene of a very enjoyable party, given by the Pythian Sisters for their hands and in commemoration of the thirty-sixth anniversary of the Pythian sisters. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion, carrying out also the Hallowe'en idea. At 7:30 dinner was served at beautifully appointed tables, carrying out the same decorations. Following the dinner, Miss Dorothy Marcer came a reading, and was heartily enjoyed. The remainder of the evening was spent with various games, stunts and dancing, and all left for home at a late hour wishing "anniversaries" would come often.

The campaign for boy scouts today is a worthy one. It is a great organization and deserves your cooperation.

The splendid sale of tickets for the Ircem course Wednesday shows that the people of this city are not diverted from the intellectual path by the excitement of the election.

The details of the Coeur d'Alene mine transfer which were given in this week, the substance of which was published in The Times last evening, indicates that the time for great development in Coeur d'Alene is at hand.

Suggestions for new information needed on livestock improvement are invited by the United States department of agriculture in a recent summary of results of the "Better Sheep-Better Stock" campaign. During the progress of the campaign thus far the department has obtained information on the cause and prevention of runty stock, the utility value of purebreds, the utilization of feed by good and inferior stock, and the meat yields of different classes of food animals. Plans are now under way to get additional facts and dependable estimates on a number of other practical questions. It is on this proposed work that suggestions are especially invited. Such information, it is believed, will greatly advance the work of livestock improvement. Communications should be addressed to the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

"A NEW DAY WITH DAVIS"

Katherine Lee Bates of Wellesley, author of the verses "America the Beautiful," is not satisfied with the definition of America in its attitude toward the rest of the world that the republican administration has given. "Though 'both and broad' a republican, she announces her intention to vote for Mr. Davis and offers the slogan "A New Day with Davis." She holds that our "patriot dream" should not stop with the vision of a "brotherhood from sea to sea," but should have some concern for the rest of the world.

Also hoping for a new day under such an American policy as is defined in Mr. Davis' speeches are men in university faculties from whom voters have a right to expect disinterested advice at a time when partisanship is likely to swerve men's judgments. The list of 23 western professors who declare themselves convinced that through the election of Mr. Davis the United States would be brought into the league is not quite so long or imposing as that of the 31 republicans who four years ago asked everybody to vote for Mr. Harding with the same gout in prospect. The list of professors might easily be made many times longer. As it is, it has unusual significance in showing the importance of the language in the minds of representative intellectual leaders in the middle west, from the University of Michigan to the University of Kansas. Professor Reeves' criticism of his colleagues for their persistency is not that they are for the league, since he is himself in favor of it, but that since the contest in that region, as he sees it, is between Coolidge and La Follette, both of whom are against the league, one should not throw away his vote on Davis but vote for Coolidge, who has declared our joining the league "a closed incident." It is hard to follow this reasoning.

With these names of professors in the fields of history, economics, politics, philosophy, international law, education, are to be associated also college presidents who have announced themselves in favor of Mr. Davis. Some of these have been associated with the democratic party in the past, but several of them, notably Presidents Hibben, Garfield and MacCracken, have to leave the party of their bringing up and of their long attachment in order to find a candidate whom they can support. Never has a voter who believes in showing a decent respect for the opinion of mankind had a stronger or clearer call to independent action, says the New York Times.

WAGE DELUSION CAUSE OF ERROR; LOW SCALE DEAR

Economists and Investigators Unite in Showing That High Wages in Manufacturing and Mining Means Low Production Cost; American Miner Produces Five Times as Much as Briton.

Economists generally have very frankly stated that the solution of the farm depression which they prefer is the bringing down of the price level of all commodities to the low range now existing for agricultural commodities. This identical solution is favored by men high in commercial, financial and even in some industrial circles. It must be that the destructive effect of calling upon such a solution at this time is not understood, or its proponents must believe in a cold-blooded destruction of the present desirable standard of living enjoyed by American labor—Republican majority report on the Haugen bill.

There is no reason for assuming that the above statement is not absolutely honest and in perfect good faith. However, it might have occurred to these same economists to consider whether a solution irreducible to "economics generally" and to the practical business logic of which the report refers, may nevertheless be possible. The report itself offers no suggestion on the question, but it is clear that the economic situation as reflected by American industrialists which enable them to build up areas of profit at the expense of the rest of American citizens is not good.

The error sprang a false conception as old as, if not older than, the foundation of the slave trade and practices of slavery. This error sprang a false conception as old as, if not older than, the foundation of production. This terrible mistake seems never to die. When the cold climate of New England proved slavery unprofitable there it was abolished.

The Negro became a greater property as never before. The climate of the south made slavery seem more satisfactory. The slaves are intelligent, more intelligent in the south than in the north, and not only better than those of the north, but wealth where labor was paid increased and wealth in the south grew more slowly. Then slavery was abolished, the property of the slaves was confiscated, the slaves became black and white, after the struggle of reconstruction started at the bottom, and the social impossible occurred. The south with paid labor recovered with astounding rapidity, while whites and blacks, total protracted.

The wage issue lies in the future to realize the psychology of the thing, the fact that when the workers have enough to live on, hold forward when they breath the free air of America and see a rosy future ahead, they automatically produce as they do not for older countries. This is proven by the fact that when companies produce when they come to America.

The economists and financing business men who write the economic reports and speak at, and with a flavor of incisiveness, distinction, are students enough to realize this fact. They do not wish to crash labor in the south, but they do not realize that the low wage labor does not in fact underbid high priced labor in the bulk of the world, because it does not produce either adequately or satisfactorily as much wealth as high priced labor.

Crumbly Textile. Two samples of the views of economists will serve to prove this:

A high rate of wages produces a high cost of labor. This was demonstrated at length in our chapter on Cost of Production: Perry's Elements of Political Economy, Part IV.

thick seam lying near the surface, which England is working in thin veins lying at great depth. In Germany, the coal is worked in thin veins lying near the surface. It is thicker than in the poorest American mines.

After quoting elaborate tables to prove his contention he says: "The English coal is the best in America. The German coal is the best in Europe. The American coal is the best in the world."

And England pays the best wages and has the cheapest though the highest priced labor in Europe.

The latest figures are not available, but in August Germany is in the lead in the last four years before the war said to Germany: "What does she do in return? She sold last year, nearly, not quite one-half of what you did in 1913." This is a good trade of the Germans last year decreased by five percent. What about wages? The wages in the cotton mills of Lancashire are higher than the cotton mills of America. The English coal miners are better, both more, a better trade, higher wages, shorter hours; yet those conditions (the British protectionists) come to you and say, "Look at our figures, look at our

the Work Better Times," by Lloyd George.

Even the very few protectionist economists (most politicians) estimate that the English tariff is not a factor of liberty today. Not according Harry Clark Senator John P. Jones of Nevada, was the most uncompromising economist that ever sat in the United States Senate. So old was he that the protectionists had to invent a defense of the system from an economic point of view, and this, delivered May 19, 1919, in the Senate and reproduced in the New York Tribune, is the mathematical demonstration of protective principles for the American Protective Tariff League. Similarly enough, while Jones points out that the freedom of economic opportunity and personal initiative is not necessarily high wages in free-trade England to more than half its own with protected continental nations, he fails to fully state things in greater departmental detail. State Deputy J. W. Babcock, who was present, told the seat of honor there was a half hour of interesting discussion on the subject. State Senator S. M. Chapman, Mr. Kenyon Parham, Mr. W. Chapman, Mr. Chapman, D. W. Williams and P. W. McHorters.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock in the Laverning theatre.

There exists in this country, and falls not true or enduring wealth. Imagine a nation built of material wealth of little value, and where the people are ignorant, the principles of the following quotations from his work is offered as a compendious refutation of the error which has deceived many honest men, and which has been spread by traitors, grafters, and other persons without intelligence:

How long would the Africans be rich?

But a few days, for they would soon learn to live well, and to protect others in their rights, and to increase their numbers.

"A most powerful factor in the determination of wages is the spirit of liberty. The unfettered interchange of property they possess, the exercise of the power of thought exercised by the people of this country.

It is the answer to the inquiry

"Is there no trade with us?"

"Yes, there is, with England."

"Then why do we not have

"good wages?"

"Because we are not free."

"Then why do we not have

"good trade?"

"Because we are not free."

"Then why do we not have

"good government?"

"Because we are not free."

"Then why do we not have

"good health?"

"Because we are not free."

"Then why do we not have

"good education?"

"Because we are not free."

"Then why do we not have

"good government?"

"Because we are not free."

"Then why do we not have not true or enduring wealth. Imagine a nation of association, and the absence of law where despotic prevail, of depression, tyranny, and oppression. This is a condition less honorable than illegal, and where standing armies stand ready to silence complaints and demands.
