FIGHTLESS CHAMPS HURT BOXING GAME

BY HENRY L. FARBELL.
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—When purses of a hundred thousand or more dollars were being handed out last year for the fighters in ordinary bouts, the fighters of the game profited to the extent that it could be said that the public would permit itself to be so-called terrific prizes for victims.

The anticipated slump came this summer and the collapse of the business end of the game was the chief feature of the year. The business depression, which came on suddenly, was blamed upon the radio and profit-making champions by Tex Rickard, who certainly ought to have anticipated the slump about the sport.

There is not the slightest doubt that thousands of fight fans in New York alone, who used to be regulars at all the shows in Madison Square Garden turned to the radio when Rickard gave permission to have a description of the contest broadcast from the ring-side. It is likely that thousands of fans who could not be satisfied in merely hearing the contest are contributing to the support of the game when the best matches that will be arranged were nearly worth walking across the street to see.

It is a universally accepted theory that when the heavyweights and light-weight divisions are not active, the general interest in the sport declines. The money which is paid for the fights all year would be lost if the money demands for defending his title. Lane said tonight only once and ran out of the star turn on the summer program a fight with Mickey Walker for the world's championship.

"None of the champions will fight. They all have a reason. The other fighters also have excuses for not accepting matches that would be the least of their troubles," Rickard said recently. "The heavyweights all want to fight Dempsey, but none of them will fight him."

To illustrate his point, Rickard pointed down the following on a slip of paper:

"Thompson, too much money."
"McTigue, afraid."
"Grub, poor opponent."
"Walker, running away from Shideler, in consequence of much money since struck."

"Goldstein, too careful. Poor cut."
"Winn, afraid of Gowan."

LANDIS IS STILL BASEBALL RULER

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The white-touched head of the American Mountain Landis still wears the crown of baseball's supreme dictator and it will take a bigger man than Babe Ruth to dislodge him from his office. This, in effect, was the outcome of the joint meeting of the National and American leagues here.

Landis, who has maintained absolute silence since Johnson cut loose with attacks on his handling of the recent world's series, was given a unanimous vote of confidence by the managers of both major leagues, was reinstated now with his office and the league was assured by American league managers that their president's "unimpaired" would cover up his immediate personal from office will follow.

FILER NEWS

The Filer Woman's club held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the Old Fellows hall, and following the business session closed on a able address by Mrs. H. W. Churchill of Twin Falls on "Imposing Idaho Laws of Interest to Women," in which she said that the legislative committee of the state-formation would sponsor a number of bills at the coming session of the state legislature, foremost among them being the bill for the sterilization of the feeble-minded, patterned after the bill that is already in successful operation in several states; also a bill for the erection of a hospital for tubercular patients in the state, at the expense of the state, when necessary.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Juneau Shinn, the club voted to give ten dollars for the fund that is being raised by the members of the Presbyterian church throughout the state to establish a chair for the teaching of the Bible in the College of Idaho, located at Caldwell. The club also voted to contribute ten dollars in the Filer town school fund, and that being raised by a committee from the club with Mrs. T. L. Stone, chairman, that will be used to assist worthy students of this district in their senior year at the Alhara normal school.

Last Friday evening the pupils of the Maroa school under the able direction of Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Hayes presented a delightful miscellaneous program that represented all of the grades of the school, at a box social that was given for the benefit of the school library.

Following the program Earl Munson auctioneered the boxes, the money from their sale amounting to $125. During the program Mrs. J. C. Hayes presided at the piano and assisted materially with the success of the musical numbers.

The next Wednesday evening the people of Maroa will hold a community Christmas tree at the school house, for which an appropriate program is already being arranged. Recently the residents of this neighborhood organized a "Good Time" club which will hold parties regularly during the winter months. The object of the club being to afford amusement for the young people of the community without then seeking it elsewhere. The object is a most worthy one, as the parents will thus mingle with their children in their social as well as home and school life.

HANSEN

HANSEN, Idaho.—Wallace Husk returned to his home in California last of the week after a visit of the past two months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scherrup. Mrs. C. D. Hilgans is staying at the home of her son, J. N. Hilgans at Kimberly while the latter's wife is visiting relatives in Missouri. Orin McKay returned from Portland, Ore. He made the trip there and back in his truck and reports the roads in good condition but says Idaho is good enough for him. The pupils of the Excelsior school will give a Christmas program at their school house on Monday evening, December 22, to which the public is cordially invited. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lowery and daughter, Leola are visiting relatives in Iowa at the present writing. Herbert Smith and family of Twin Falls were visiting relatives in town Sunday.

Mrs. Sampson of Kimberly, member of the Sampson brothers, is still critically ill at her home with little change in her condition in the past week. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith of Twin Falls spent Sunday at the home of E. R. Smith east of town in celebration of the eightieth birthday of the former's mother-in-law. A sumptuous dinner was served in memory of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Waters were also guests.

WILL WE EVER LEARN?

The Republican party is the minority party in Idaho. The present administration is holding office by the vote of 39 1/2 per cent of the voters of the state.

Two elections have proven that a considerable majority of the voters are in favor of certain well defined progressive principles. These principles have been enunciated in the platforms of the Democratic and Progressive parties through their respective conventions of 1922 and 1924.

Political parties are only instruments for the accomplishment of public needs. There is nothing sacred in a party name and no obligation to the members of any political organization, except as it function for the best and highest interests of the state and nation.

There is nothing new in these first observations. They have been discussed generally during the past two years. Since the recent election they have been a very common subject of conversation, wherever politics has been discussed in Idaho.

As an illustration of the sentiment that exists, a quotation is here given from a letter just received from a gentleman in Kootenai county. He has always been a progressive Democrat, it is a clear thinker on political and economic subjects and has taken no small part in political affairs. He says:

"The Democrats and Progressives have repeated their mistake of the former campaign and, by dividing their forces that stood guard over the people's citadel, have enabled the enemy to slip in between and capture the city. Perhaps we will learn in time to avoid such mistakes."

In a recent conversation with one of the leading Progressives in one of the largest counties of southern Idaho, he expressed the earnest hope that some fair and equitable means might be found to unite the voting strength of the Progressive and Democratic parties of the state and state that he would do all in his power to help bring it about.

A prominent Democrat of one of the best counties of this part of the state said to the writer within the last week, "It does not matter what the attitude of the leaders of the party may be, and it does not matter what action they may take in state affairs, so far as our country is concerned, we have decided to go ahead and effect a coalition with the Progressives of the county on some reasonable basis and cut out this foolishness of dividing the progressive vote." This man is a leader, has received recognition at the hands of his party and his influence is not confined to county lines.

There is excellent reason for believing that the expression of opinion here quoted represent the sentiments of large numbers of voters of both parties. If this be true (and it is easily capable of demonstration), then it would seem the point of good citizenship as well as party policy to seek to find a common point on which a working coalition may be effected.

The respective state chairman of the two parties are the proper individuals to determine the strength of this sentiment and to set in motion the machinery for a working agreement. As one voter who is far more concerned with redeeming the state from machine domination than with party "integrity," or party "regularity," we earnestly urge Hon. C. W. Booth, chairman of the Progressive state committee, and Hon. Leslie E. Dillingham, chairman of the Democratic state committee, to confer with the leaders of their respective parties in an effort to find some common ground on which the Progressive and Democratic parties of Idaho may unite for the common welfare of the state; in the hope that in the campaign of two years hence it may be possible to "avoid the mistake" of which our Democratic friend from north Idaho so feelingly speaks - Camas County Courier.

SEA TALK

By RAFAEL SABATINI

CHAPTER XXX (continued) She looked out to sea again and beheld those friendly lights fading farther and farther away.

"We are drifting steadily away," she groaned, "they will never overtake us."

"There is a chance," he said to her. "But it is as a thief of the cloak with life and death for stakes."

"You are prepared for anything?" he asked her. "I have not met that I will go down with you this night. Ah! don't waste time in words!"

"Do it, then," he replied bravely, and moved away a step, then checked.

"You had best come with me," he said. "Obey me, my child, and I will follow him, and none there were who stared as those two passed down the gangway, yet none attempted to hinder her movements."

"I am not to be bought," O'Malley said. "I never was. Already went down with you, my child, and I cannot come now, but only upon the condition that those who are with me shall be free to go."

"I am not to be bought," O'Malley said. "I never was. Already went down with you, my child, and I cannot come now, but only upon the condition that those who are with me shall be free to go."

FARMER WOULD GIVE FREE POWER TO NEW FACTORIES

Peter Link of Hansen District Would Establish New Power Plant and Offer Free Power to New Manufacturing Industries.

As a means of inducing more manufacturing industries to come to the Twin Falls tract Peter Link, one of the large land owners of the Hansen district, would establish a community power plant at the intersection of the low line canal and the high line canal where the difference between the level of the two canals is sufficient to warrant abundant fall to generate water power for an immense power plant. However, Mr. Link is not at all particular where the plant is located but so long as the plant is located in the Hansen district, light can be furnished to canning factories, and other manufacturing industries which could be induced to locate here if some such plan were offered there.

Mr. Link writes in Twin Falls yesterday in a conference with some of his old time friends expressed this opinion as a means to improve conditions on the south side of the Hansen tract.

As to financing the proposition he would tax each acre of land two and a half dollars per acre, which would bring in about $100,000 per year. The like amount could be raised with the various towns on the tract, giving a million dollar capitalization to start with.

If such an arrangement could be put over there is little doubt that free power for five years to a new manufacturing industry would certainly be a wonderful inducement to locate here. Abundant agricultural products are produced here to supply several new manufacturing plants with products.

TEACHER HITS

all do their share in destroying the main issue.

"The conditions prevalent here are, I believe, characteristic of the country."

"The solution lies in interesting the student in scholastic problems," he said, "turning his self-assertiveness to these rather than to athletics, campus activities, dances and plays."

"The university does not make a great effort to do this. It tolerates—yes, even encourages—outside activities. What it should do is to arouse the curiosity of the student and get him to exert himself in scholastic fields."

To change the direction of student energy he suggested courses in fundamental, academic—courses that would intensify the students' basic knowledge of higher education and thus create a desire for more study. "It is scarcely the student's fault when he becomes more interested in the side shows of the campus. We must arouse an interest in philosophy, sciences, arts and literature if the university is to succeed."

Plays, Talks and Reading Given by H. S. Assembly

Two plays were given yesterday afternoon at the assembly in the auditorium by Miss Lindley's English class on public speaking. The first was a modern drama, entitled "Where But in America" and the second was a reproduction of "I, Wrote King." The cast in the first was: Mrs. Espenbayer, Helen Petant; Mr. Espenbayer, Kenneth Rendahl; King, the Swedish maid, Catherine Hinchbaugh.

In the second play, the cast, introduced by Madeline Schaeffer, was: Francis Vilton, Harry Putter; Lady Katherine de Vanclose, Hazel Maquie; the Burgundian herald, Blom Lohman; Louis XI, Lawrence Hall. Alton Young gave a talk on "Dixie," Beulah Chevaland an address on "Business in Canada," and Helen Phier a reading on "Italy at the Baseball Game."

HIGH SCHOOL

At a meeting of the teachers of the high and junior high schools Wednesday evening arrangements were perfected for the standardization of examinations. Lists of questions will be prepared by the teachers of each department which will be used in all classes of the same grade. This standardizes the old method under which individual teachers made separate lists of questions and in designed to secure greater uniformity in the classroom work.

JACK FROST IS BUSY ON PIPES IN THIS CITY

Many Farmers Are Damaged by the Sudden Cold; Fatal County 1 Happy; Mercury Goes to Eight Low Zero.

Broken water pipes, slipped noses, aching ears and blinking eyes were all more or less in evidence today as a result of the drop of the mercury to eight below only this morning. As there was no wind to emphasize the cold in some spots more than in others, the more "merciful" and temperamental people, thermometers, serving in unofficial capacities registered just about the same as the more important official and standard ones. The sun came out bright today and where it shone the thermometer showed a decided change for the better and where reflected back on the beaches around town drove the mercury up decidedly, even in the shade. On the other hand the standards, where shaded, kept low, and at one o'clock had reached only two above zero.

Various pipes were frozen. Part of them were frozen as a result of a mistake in draining, Harry Rayburn, an experienced, said today. Where pipes can be drained at the bottom, they are about to be dried during the year 1925; according to D. J. Koehn of Hanson, who attended the meeting in Pocatello, The D. J. Koehn, Hanson, T. E.
