BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 28.—The senate of the Idaho legislature today killed another progressive primary bill, calling for nomination of state officials by primary election by refusing to print it, a policy early decided and previously enforced by the Joint Prohibition caucus.

Obnoxious final action was taken on a few measures in either house and one of major importance was introduced, however, in the senate a bill proposed for a two toll tax for state highway purposes, fathered by Christianson of Bonner county and one by Whittier of Boise county for operating among the counties taxes on transmission lines of public utilities.

He has been entertained in many colleges and universities by various fraternities, and his opinions, expressed today as he heard a trait to leave this university low accordingly, came from first-hand observation.

Those who know anything about the matter, except whose interests are affected, are opposed to the idea of the Gooding bill. They realize that this bill would stand between us and benefits that will come from generally bettering conditions. Asked if the Idaho legislature had not passed a resolution advocating the passage of the Gooding bill, Sweely replied that the senate had given such a resolution just 20 minutes before it passed. "The senators who voted for the resolution did not know anything about the bill or its merits and were somewhat disturbed when they found out about it," he said. "I think there was no debate on it in the house."

Mr. Sweely at the outset was careful to say that he is not employed by any railroad or carrier interests. As a member of the Idaho commission, he said he has worked with the Intermediary association in the long and short haul fight, but changes in conditions had changed his view since he left the commission.

SUCCESSOR TO LEONARD HARD TO DECIDE ON

Retirement of Lightweight Champion of World Shortly After Dundee's Resignation Leaves Situation in a Muddled State

(By Henry L. Fairrell) NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Retirement of Benny Leonard as the world's lightweight champion within a short time after Johnny Dundee had resigned as the featherweight champion, leaves the international situation in two important boxing divisions in a muddled state.

It will take some time before any successor to the two champions can obtain European recognition of title, because even when championships were following the regular form of successful European boxing bodies were none too willing to concede the championship in any class where European competition had been of a minor quality.

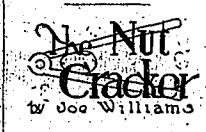

In seeking the successor to Johnny Dundee as the featherweight champion, the New York boxing commission decided upon an American tournament among the most prominent contenders with the crown as the prize for the survivor.

There are only two outstanding challengers in the 126-pound class—Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., and Sid Ferris of New York, but he has been outpointed in two bouts with Mandell.

Tox Rickard has Mandell and Ferris matched to meet in the division next month, and if one of them should win by a very decisive margin or by a knockout, he would be in a good position to claim the championship.

Rickard is a powerful fighter, but he probably will be forced back into a consulting place, as he has lost to Kaplan's right to the championship was not generally recognized in this country. The New York commission has few friendly relations with the commission in other states since the New York body refused to join a national boxing federation that was proposed several years ago, and that probably would have flourished if the New York commission had supported it.

FIELD TRIAL DATE TO BE SET SOON

BOISE, Jan. 28.—Date for the spring trials of the Gona State Field Trial association will be set at a meeting of the association in Boise in the near future, W. N. Williams, secretary, has announced in response to inquiries from dog owners in the southern part of the state. Officers will be chosen at the forthcoming meeting.

Pup entries in the spring trials will be large, Mr. Williams said, judging by the communications received. A letter from Homedale, where the fall trials were held last year, stated that there would be about 15 puppies derived from there and probably in puppies from Twin Falls, according to word from that section.

The club has been hampered by snow in selecting a site for the holding of the spring trials, but another city base will be the site, according to Mr. Williams. The snow has also been holding back the training of dogs.

The growth of Twin Falls as shown by the school poll is exceedingly satisfactory. No more certain indication of growth can be had than a large increase in the grades.

The Sunday concerts in behalf of recreation under supervision are the outcome of a very happy idea. They are inspiring and they take a pleasant way of getting people of Twin Falls interested in a most worthy cause.

The success of Americanization work during the period which closed Saturday speaks well for all concerned with the movement. It has brought people of various nationalities in closer touch with one another and all in closer touch with American ideals.

The letter from Mrs. Henry F. Ora of Clintonville, Wis., published in the Times Saturday, shows what display at state fairs in the east may do in the way of arousing interest of investors in Idaho. Incidentally, it offsets in a very practical way false impressions created by articles like that written by Garret Garret for the Saturday Evening Post on irrigation, which took the worst cases and assumed, at least by inference, that these are samples of the average.

In boosting better understanding between labor and capital, Mrs. Evelyn Aldrich shows that she realizes that general co-operation is the one thing most needed for the growth of contact now that the railroad is daily getting closer to the great copper deposits which enthusiastic boosters are convinced will make the north Nevada town a greater Butte and Twin Falls a second Spokane, and which conservatives admit will be a bonanza for both.

THE TWIN FALLS BRIDGE

If the press reports are correct in indicating a 1,400 foot bridge over the Snake river canyon near Twin Falls, and if the bridge is to be 500 feet above the canyon floor, it should prove to be the best kind of a tourist attraction and might justify the hope that it would bring back to Twin Falls many times its value in money.

Span that are 500 feet above the water are not commonly seen in this world of ours, says the Idaho State Journal of Pocatello.

There were for many years advertisements going the rounds about the bridges across the Niagara gorge and these were but 160 feet from high water. People who went out on them and had the courage to lean over the railing and see the swirling river below, thought the stunt more thrilling than seeing the falls itself. Others would crowd toward the center of the driveway in utter fear, and would dare to look neither to one side nor the other. They were easy victims of dizziness and the suspension bridge was a torture to them; yet it lured them with some mysterious charm. Always they would want to go back.

We can anticipate something like this if the Twin Falls structure is built. As a little side-show it would add attractiveness and charm to the good old Oregon town, and it would teach people how cruel and ruthless the great canyon of the Snake river was to those early pioneers who could see its blue waters without a chance to partake of their cool, refreshing influence.

Twin Falls should have every encouragement to undertake this spectacular project and make it come true. It is a challenging thing and will attract attention from ocean to ocean.

It is that kind of advertising that counts and after Twin Falls completes the great bridge her brilliant people will vision something else equally thrilling and put it over, too.

SUZANNE IS WELL AGAIN

Here is a late picture of Miss Suzanne Lenglen. She looks mighty well for a person reputed very ill, probably out of tennis for good. Perhaps her improvement in health is due to the fact that Helen Wills is in California, not Europe. Recently she made her first appearance in a singles match since she retired in June. Her health was so poor she didn't lose a game.

KNAPPE TO-BUILD A NEW FOUNDRY

First-Building Permit Issued in Twin Falls Since Last October; New Foundry Will Be Structure $20,000.

E. P. Knappe took out a building permit this morning to rebuild the foundry and manufacturing plant which bears his name. This new structure will be located closer to the business section of the city and will be in the 300 block on Second avenue south. The new building will be 50x50 feet and will cost about $20,000. The old foundry was located at Five Points and was crushed with the heavy snow in December. Mr. Knappe states that he has been in this business for 30 years and hopes to get his new plant under way as quickly as possible so that he can begin manufacturing the corrugator which he has built up quite a trade on during the years that he has been in business here.

An Ideal Motor Coat

Spring brings new clothes for motor wear, and the woman who insists on looking chic at the end of a long motor ride will like a coat like the one sketched today. A Paris model by Henriette Bourdreaux. The color is beige or sand, excellent for concealing dust marks, and the fabric is mohair, that lustrous, soft, and pliable new kind of mohair which is now so fashionable for all-day-time wear, whether for business, shopping, sports, travel or motoring. No other material so obligingly sheds the dust, remains unwrinkled and crisp even after long hours in a motor car.

Old Nick's Copper
Nickel is obtained from an ore which had been called by miners "Old Nick's Copper" because, while it looked like copper ore, it yielded absolutely no copper. Nickel was first obtained in Germany about 1751.

Playing the "Trifling" Game
Trifling becomes a manly. Look over the list of the people you know and note how frequently many of them lose all self-respect and become aliens to principle. You can't reason with a crazy man. Neither can you reason with a fellow who has developed the trifling habit. He knows no sympathy and has no pity. He wants to do only the thing that appeals to him. Let where the man and fame about his viciousness. He cares only when the strong hand of justice makes him fearful for the safety of his own skin. The fact is the fellow is crazy in his line. He feels that all the world is subject to the exploding. So he goes on doing the mean and unwholesome things that make the playing of the trifling game possible.—Fischbaum.

Time for Physical Exercise
Whatever mental work one has to do, it should be done before any vigorous physical exercise is taken. Late afternoon is best for most people; the best time for physical culture. To be sure, light "settling up" exercises taken immediately after getting out of bed have a helpful, not a harmful, influence on body and mind alike. As for vigorous exercise in the hours between breakfast and lunch—that should be indulged in, except those so fortunate, or unfortunate, that they do not have to make any real use of their minds for the rest of the day.—H. Adlington Bruce, in the Chicago Daily News.

She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that restores the catarrhal mucosa from the intestinal tract and always the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will guarantee or money refunded. At all drug stores.

Burglars Rob Golden Rule; Taste Is Good

Two Hundred Dollars Worth of Fine Quality of Goods Result from Robbery Last Night; Skeleton Key Is Used to Gain Entrance; Drawers A Riffed and Small Change Taken.

Burglars who entered the Golden Rule store here last night carried off approximately $200 worth of goods, all of high quality, and $22.50 in pennies and small change. No hint of the thieves has been discovered so far, according to the police.

The discovery was made at 2 o'clock this morning by Police Officer H. V. Dutz, who noticed that the side door to the first department of the store was open. He investigated and found that it was unlocked, evidently with a skeleton key, as there was no mark indicating any sort of pressure and as it had been locked when the store was closed in the evening. Further investigation revealed the fact that the inner door leading into the store proper had a panel cut out, giving the robbers access.

The goods were selected with great care as to quality. There had been taken six woolen shirts; three linen shirts with knit bottoms; 20 pairs of silk socks and two pairs of oxford. This is as far as the police can go as far as could be ascertained, it was stated by manager W. H. Van Engelen today. The discovery was made at 2 o'clock this morning by Police Officer H. V. Dutz, who noticed that the side door to the first department of the store was open. He investigated and found that it was unlocked, evidently with a skeleton key, as there was no mark indicating any sort of pressure and as it had been locked when the store was closed in the evening. Further investigation revealed the fact that the inner door leading into the store proper had a panel cut out, giving the robbers access.

The officers are working on the case today, but have to lead to indicate whether the burglars used an auto to carry away their plunder, or whether a gang worked it and carried it away personally.

DOLLY ROGERS DENIES CHARGE OF POSSESSION

She and E. C. Kingsbury Agree That He Hid the Bottle That Witness Says He Bought for Her From Her Sister's Store in Toad.

That E. C. Kingsbury was the person who hid the bottle with half pint of alleged booze behind the easy chair in the parlor of Mrs. Dolly Rogers at 123 on the morning of the December 23 was the only point on which Kingsbury and Mrs. Rogers agreed in their testimony today in court. Kingsbury said he went up to the Grand Hotel in Toad to buy the rat and bought the bottle, for which he paid $3 to Mrs. Rogers. He said he hid the bottle behind the chair but he did not search his person and had not Mrs. Rogers says she remained up late, as it was Saturday night and some young men returning from dance late that evening to the room. As soon as all of the rooms were taken, and had no attendant, Mrs. Howard prepared to go to bed. She noticed a man going toward the men's toilet and asked Mrs. Howard if she had rented that man a room. Mrs. Howard said she had not, so Mrs. Rogers said she went to investigate. The man, who she declared was Kingsbury, had left the toilet room open with a light standing, drinking out of a bottle. She said he wanted to rent a room, but she would not let him have the room. At the time, she said that Gava Hawkins, who afterward proved to be a special deputy, came up and wanted to rent a room, but she refused as the rooms were all full. At this juncture Mrs. Rogers officers came up. She did not see Kingsbury hide the bottle. She says that she afterwards went to the store where he was employed, though not aware of that fact and he walked on her. She says that she asked him if he did not hide the bottle and that he admitted it.

Cross-examined by T. M. Morris, of Burley, Kingsbury said that he had not told anybody about having the bottle except Mrs. Rogers. He was subpoenaed as a witness last evening he said, and went to his own lawyer, who advised him to tell the truth. The case went to the jury at 3:30.

James Fred Hines, the first witness on the stand this morning was Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Jones, whose testimony was along the line followed by all the regular sherrifly force. Mrs. Jones said that he accompanied Sheriff M. C. Finch, Deputy Sheriff E. R. Prator and Special Deputy Gava Hawkins on the raid about 10:30 on the morning of December 11. Hines, whose work normally is to have been somewhere in the line of that of a constable, went first and the others followed shortly after. When the regular force arrived Hines and Mrs. Rogers were standing at the head of the staircase. They went into the living room or parlor. A Mrs. Laury was in this room at their entrance. He thought that Mrs. Rogers went in with them into this room. She might have stopped to glance over the search warrant handed to her by Prator but his impression was that she went with them. The witness afterward went through the parlor and into the private room of Mrs. Rogers. She came in a dark, narrow-liner and asked him if she could help him with the search, or open anything for him. She did not try to say anything to interrupt the search, but offered to help. Later he examined other rooms, and a linen closet in the closet he found about forty or fifty bottles and a couple of cases. Mrs. Rogers said that she picked up bottles by radians and gave them to newsmen who were searching for them. The bottles were empty.

In the living room there was a pile of bottles on the table, a small glass, either a water glass or whiskey glass, on which he detected a faint odor of liquor.

Prator made out a search of the living room or parlor and at that time nothing out of the way (the testimony Jones offered to help search and start to search for bottles, but Prator told him that he had searched that Prator tried to get the easy chair from the wall to search under the carpet, when he found a bottle with about half a pint of whiskey behind the chair and next to the wall. This is identified as the liquor mentioned in court.

French Found Guilty. Following the selecting of the jury last evening after the testimony in the Alvin French case had brought in a verdict of guilty of statutory offenses, Judge W. A. Babcock gave a recess to the other jurors until Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Jurors are A. Dixon, Charles Deering, Neil Larson, J. W. Frain, G. E. Pomeroy, A. C. Charola, J. Stewart, Stewart, Hyrum Prekett, Francis Johnson, H. C. Tremor, A. G. Benson and John Hiebo.

SCOTT EXECUTIVES MEET. A meeting of Scott executives last evening took up preliminary matters relating to Scott week from February 8 to February 16 and decided to make an aggressive campaign to make the matter a success.

AUTO TAX IS DISCUSSED. The auto tax subject was discussed at the luncheon of the Rotary club at Tom's cafe today. The whole talk was informal and various opinions were expressed without action being taken.
