

LAWLESSNESS IN MOUNTAINS CAUSED BY BAD GLANDS

Family Exploiting of Mysterious Glands Is Given as Cause of 80 Per Cent of Criminalistic Tendency of Youth of Today: Says Dr. Max Kern.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Eighty per cent of the lawless youth of the country can trace the criminalistic urge to faulty functioning of the endocrine glands—mysterious glands of inner secretion—Dr. Max Kern said today in an interview with the United Press today. Dr. Kern's backer were used for the first time in the famous Leopold-Loeb murder case.

Parents can learn a valuable lesson from the Danbury, Conn., murder case, Dr. Kern said. "There has been a great increase of crime among youth of both sexes," he said. "The cause is not the amount of crime, but its nature as well as the lack of sufficient motive, point to some abnormal condition underlying it. Much has been written to account for this. It is not abnormal, but it is abnormal in the sense that it is not normal. This condition is caused by an imbalance of endocrine glands, the glands and the whirl of modern life. The endocrine glands are the thyroid, parathyroid and other like glands, which secrete fluids which play a tremendous part in the physical and mental development of the individual. Dr. Kern explained, improper functioning of these glands causes lack of moral balance, he said. "These individuals do not necessarily lack intelligence, but they do not have any sense of right and wrong. They are simply more or less moral imbeciles."

Central Park Trees Dying Says Noted New York Expert

NEW YORK, April 1.—Trees of Central park are gradually growing to death and unless prompt and serious measures are taken to save them, New York's historic playground, in a few years will lose much of its beauty.

The essential plant food elements have been steadily pumped out of Central park soil by trees and other vegetation. Nature's food for the replacement of this food through the annual fall and decay of the leaves. But the leaves and the park are being up and destroyed, and these elements are not replaced, either naturally or artificially.

Christian Church at Kimberly Has Splendid Meeting

Last Sunday was a splendid day at Kimberly. We had one of the largest attendances at bible school we have ever had. And we were glad to put one over on the boys last Sunday. We ran like a band of one. The next two Sundays will be the best yet. We will try to reach the 300 mark the coming Sunday in order to give them some more. The subject will be "Coming to the church and how to get on in it." Let us not let our feet slip now while we are leading the way. Come, and let us join in a greater effort than ever.

Meetings at Baptist Church Interesting

The young people are standing by the revival meetings in a most loyal manner. More than 20 of them were in the choir last evening leading the congregational singing. It was splendid. Mrs. Masters sang a beautiful solo. Mr. Gevin led the devotional services and the pastor spoke on "The Deceitfulness of the Heart." Tonight the singing will be led by the big young people's choir, beginning at 7:45. The solo this evening will be furnished by Mrs. E. E. Moore.

Old Pioneer Is Called by Death

Garfield Henry Diehl, a pioneer settler in the Snake River valley in the Colorado region, an 81st year old man, died suddenly last evening at his home in Kimberly, Idaho, where he had spent the day working as a carpenter, and his body was found by Mrs. J. M. Whitcomb, a neighbor, shortly after 4 p. m. He had apparently been working for a short time and is thought to have passed away at 5:45 p. m. of three-quarters of the century ago. He finished work on the roof. He was found in a leaning position against a wall in a room, where work was unfinished.

Twin Falls Couple Married in California

Mrs. Edwin T. Day received a clipping from the San Francisco Chronicle today telling of the marriage on the 27th of March of her son, Lambert Day and Miss Muriel White, both graduates of the Twin Falls high school. Lambert has finished with the class of 1926 and his wife graduated with the 1913 class. She was the late wife of the University of California and after completing her college work she and Mr. Day, who had engaged in the radio business in California in the meantime, were married in Berkeley.

Announcement

Being a candidate for the office of Commissioner at the City Election next Tuesday, April 7th, I wish to make this statement, that the Citizens of Twin Falls may know the principles for which I stand, and to which I pledge my support if elected.

Every City owes its first duty to its own home folks.

First: Our own safety which requires that those who recklessly hurl automobiles along our streets should be dealt with strictly and consistently enough to compel a reasonable safety for the rest.

Second: Our City rests on the homes of those who live here. To make those homes beautiful and comfortable requires water. So far as it can legally be done, the water rates should be readjusted so as to lighten the burden on the home maker, and to make vacant property of the speculator carry a fair share.

Third: Laws have a purpose. A level headed, straight backed, and consistent observance and enforcement of laws is an important part of the City's business, with neither persecutions nor favoritism. The new law recently enacted at the last session of our State Legislature, making it a felony (and punishable as such) to give or sell liquor to minors is a step in carrying out our most important purpose; that of protecting our young people from unlawful temptations. City officials can go just as far as they have effective backing to go, and our Commissioners should back our officials to the limit in this matter.

Fourth: Tax dollars represent a hundred cents of hard work on the part of those who pay them in. Every one of those dollars spent by the City ought to show a hundred cents of value received.

These principles state the policy which I will do my level best to carry out if I am elected; and if you consider them worthy, I shall appreciate your support at the election next Tuesday.
