HUGE SUMS ARE SPENT ABROAD BY TOURISTS

U. S. Department of Commerce Estimates That $500,000,000 Was Spent by American Tourists Abroad Last Year; Favorable Balance Decreased.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—Expenditure of American tourists abroad mounted until they form one of the largest items in the international trade and export balance of the world, aggregating $500,000,000 last year, according to the department of commerce.

Though during 1924 American exports to visitors from abroad exceeded imports by $70,000,000 those tourist expenditures decreased the favorable balance by more than half a billion.

During 1924, 3,014,648 Americans went abroad, spending $200,000,000. The overwhelming majority of those who merely went to Canada. The overwhelming majority of those who went to Europe and Russia on money laid out were gathered from tourist agencies.

Among other large items of American expenditure contributed directly to foreign countries since last year, according to the department of commerce, are expenditures on automobiles, increasing considerably during 1924, reaching a total estimated at $100,000,000.

Among other large items of American expenditure abroad are the annual expenses of the United States in Europe, the cost of drawing their income from American sources. These were estimated to total $30,000,000.

He will also try to better his record for the mile in a special race to be staged in the Harvard stadium on May 22.

Smuggling Over Mexican Border Causes Conference

U. S. and Mexican Government Have Decided to Send Representatives to Conference at El Paso Tomorrow; Immigrants, Narcotics and Liquor Involved on One Side and Valuable Merchandise on the Other; More Guards Are Needed.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Smuggling across the border of Mexico and the United States has reached such proportions that Mexican border officials have agreed to send representatives to a conference in El Paso, Texas, tonight, to consider the border.

Border, formulating draft extradition treaties, the conference is expected to work out a plan for close co-operation between the two governments in keeping a check on smugglers through a central intelligence bureau in Washington, officials said.

Col. Lincoln C. Andrews, the new director of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, will head the American delegation. He will be accompanied by the chief of prohibition enforcement and departments of state, justice and labor.

FORD'S OFFER TO BUY SHIPS IS OPPOSED

Much Opposition Develops in Washington Over Henry Ford's Offer to Buy 400 Ships; Shipping Board Would Get Millions and Dispose of War Vessels.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Opposition to the plan recently announced by Henry Ford of the shipping board to sell 400 life government merchant ships to the "Ford" ship building bank value was expressed here today.

Though unfavored as to the terms of the offer, the O'Connor-Paul proposal of members of the shipping board were doubtful as to whether it would be approved when submitted to the whole board.

It would be greatly to the mariner interests of the foreign nations for the United States to destroy one-third of its fleet, the O'Connor-Paul proposal for Henry Ford to purchase 400 ships from the board.

DEMPESEY IS A POPULAR HERO IN NEW YORK

World's Champion Heavyweight Again Stopped a New York Baseball Game Coming in Late; Tremendous Ovation Given Champ Regardless of Failure to Fight.

BY HENRY L. BARRELL

NEW YORK, May 13.—Dempsy's physical liability in the defense of the world's heavyweight title apparently has not lessened the popularity which he rather generously enjoys. He nearly stopped a Sunday ball game in New York when he came in late while the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phils were on the field. The crowd gave him a ovation which lasted until he had howled himself hoarse. Dempsy may not be a great fighter, but he is a good showman and that may have prompted him to come in late for a theatrical entrance.

Although there is a general opinion among boxing writers that Dempsy's utterances and activities are inspired by the desire for publicity, the public is still willing to accept him as a great champion, if the attitude of New York sportsmen can be taken as a general indication.

As a matter of fact, New York should be the one city where Dempsy should be the most popular. He is the champion of the world and he is the only one in the world, if there is any particular feeling that Dempsy is hiding his face, who holds the color line. It should be expressed in New York.

The pleasing personality of Dempsy and his personal popularity probably have reacted against any feeling that Dempsy was falling down as a worthy heavyweight champion. Dempsy is still accepted as Dempsy, and it seems that he is not judged by the standard of an active champion.

Business men at the game said that Rickard would draw enough money to pay Dempsy while he assumed obligations of over a half million dollars to promote the Dempsy-Carpenter fight. Boxing writers told the public that Carpenter didn't have a chance to win and if there had been and close supervision over the game as he now exercises by the boxing commission in New York, it is very likely that a permit would not have been granted for the match. Rickard not only drew enough customers to pay the fighters, but he had a good profit out of the $1,000,000 built in at the gate after he had settled the bills for the erection of a huge stadium and the costs of the other incidents of promotion. This was perhaps the best example of Darnum's business theory.

Dempsy's personal popularity is built upon solid ground because he had overcome a lot of prejudice at a time when prejudice was running high and proved to the public that he was worthy of some esteem. It is better perhaps as it is shown in his case, to start out with unpopularity and have a sentiment switch to you.

The champion has been kept before the public by some of the most clever publicity that can be imagined. The first stunt used was the one involving the money. When times were dull and he was not getting much notice from the newspaper editors, a rumor would be spread that he was going to be married. There is more interest in Dempsy's domestic affairs than in any ordinary person, because a young millionaire heavyweight champion was credited as being the man who would "make the grade." While the society girls with a lot of money, a demure little girl from nowhere, an athletic wife, and a woman who was titled lady from across the way?

NATIONAL LEAGUES JUBILEE CELEBRATED

PHOENIX, May 14.—New York celebrated the National League jubilee here today with ceremonies preceding the second game of the series between the Giants and the Cincinnati Reds.

Old-time managers, officials and players paraded across the field to the place where Commissioner Landis presented them with watches, cups and medals.

Fights and Fighters

NEW YORK.—Jack Sharkey, veteran New York featherweight, was defeated in a 10-round bout by Frankie Pazzo, New York. It was Sharkey's second unsuccessful attempt to stage a comeback. Bourque went well for two rounds and then faltered, finishing the bout mainly on his fists.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—Ed Brown Robin outfielder, hit a homer in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and saved the Indians a 2 to 0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Art Nehf hit the Cincinnati Reds down with one hit, by Drossler, and the Giants won 3 to 0. Kelly and Sauer drew in the Giant run.

Charley Robertson allowed the Yankees only three hits and the White Sox won 4 to 0. Hoy's wildness paved the way for the Sox run.

Detroit got only three hits off Baumgartner, Groves and Harris and the Athletics won 3 to 1.

George Merrideo was in fine form and he pitched the Senators to an 8 to 1 victory over the Braves. George Slaughter hit safely in his 28th consecutive game and rapped out his fiftieth safety.

Lefty Francis was knocked out of the box and the Indians escaped the Red Sox 5 to 4.

Two runs scored on a rally in the eighth inning gave the Phillies a 6 to 5 victory over the Cubs.

After winning five straight games, the Braves were stopped by the Pirates, 5 to 4.

NEW YORK.—Ebbe Ruth may be able to leave St. Vincent's hospital in ten days, officials said today. The Babe is rapidly regaining his strength and permitted to take short walks today. When he leaves the hospital he will not be able to get right back to baseball, but he is expected to be able to get on the field in three weeks before he can join the Yankees.

NEW YORK.—Benny Maristell, New York pitcher, who was hit in a spill at the Polo Grounds last Friday, was removed last night to a hospital here. He is still in a serious condition. He is expected to be able to get on the field in three weeks before he can join the Yankees.

SALT LAKE EXCURSION

The visitors from the Beehive State have come and gone and the lesson they have learned and taught will do both parties much good. We are sure they will go back to Utah with a different feeling for the Gen State and we shall hold a kinder opinion of them because of the fact that we have rubbed shoulders with them. Contact with your neighbor is one of the greatest forces to break down barriers that has come to the conception of the human race and this trade excursion will help much in this respect. We need Utah and Idaho has been builded out of trade with Idaho. Looking at the situation from a close-up we believe that the price of development has been borne about equally by the citizens of each of these two western states.

But these trade excursions or visits back and forth with each other cannot help but bring better relationships in the end and develop business for both parties. Twin Falls can learn a good lesson from this excursion in that we should go out in a similar fashion and cultivate the friendship and acquaintance of our neighboring cities and communities in a like fashion. We have much virgin soil which has not been brought into close contact with the local business men of this community and even if we do know them slightly, a closer contact would help very materially. A junketing trip to Contact and to Jarbridge would not be out of place we think. Another or several other excursions to several other Idaho points might be worth while.

Getting acquainted with one's neighbors generally works out to be a very good policy. The business men making up the Salt Lake specialist are beginning to realize there lies to the north of Utah a remarkably rich country comprising the valley of the Snake and its tributaries and that the development and the growth of that territory is but in its infancy. These valleys are rapidly becoming the bread baskets of the intermountain country. Feeding them are streams of mighty unharmed waterpower. Behind and within them are reservoir storehouses to conserve water necessary to assure irrigation of crops. Fringing the more great mountains containing stores of mineral wealth as yet untouched, where scenic grandeur that rivals the Alps is to be found. This is the close-up that the Salt Lake business men are getting on their trip. It looks good to them.

One of the speakers at the banquet given in honor of the visitors, touched upon a definite keynote when he said that the time has arrived when Idaho, to prevent further economic waste, must engage in the manufacture of its raw materials. He stressed this point. He asserted that a state that produces vast quantities of raw material should make it a finished product through manufacturing. What he said is so true, so accurate, so important, it should not be permitted to pass by unnoticed. Idaho needs to get into the manufacturing business. Its very salvation depends upon turning out a more condensed and finished product for the waiting markets. High freight rate barriers, long hauls, distant markets, skim the cream from the products taken from the ground, raised in the fields, removed from the mineral zones, the ranges and gathered from the farms. Falling markets have resulted in a vast economic waste as the speaker has well said, the bulk of which could be saved if the state would engage in the manufacture of a greater proportion of its raw materials.

Salt Lake business men have left in their wake a suggestion often considered but never really attempted and solved. If for no other reason their trip into this state is of great value. Probably we may profit by that important thing that strangers among us have been able to grasp and begin to go into the manufacturing business on a much more extensive scale in the future than we have in the past. And when we do Idaho's growth will be by leaps and bounds instead of by snail paces.

TEACHING HAS CHANGED

That the teachings of natural science have changed greatly during the last few centuries is, of course, common knowledge. But that these changes have been so radical as to amount to a complete overturning of the whole of its former edifice, few probably would have dared to say originally. Such, however, is the case, it appears, if one believes the conclusions reached by Paul R. Heyl, of the United States bureau of standards, in a remarkable article in the periodical, "Science." Those conclusions Mr. Heyl summed up in the following words:

Where, then, has the progress of three centuries in physical science brought us? Of the many distinct concepts of the eighteenth century not one is left. The sole concept of modern physics, energy, was not known in the eighteenth century, and this concept is above all things immaterial. The theoretical structure of our science is left without material means of support. Could matter be wiped out more effectively?

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
 NKA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Justice Department officials are doing up an announcement they believe will cause to catch the attention of the "public world." Several high government officials are doing up a department plan to submit it to the public.

It is a catch it won't get the indorsement of certain long-time North American evildoers that is part of Latin America known as the River Plate region.

Several of them are very prominent and influential there. If they object to the justice Department's scheme their protest will be a potent force.

It is a plan to designate him "too happily." Old Bob has been 24 years in and around Nevada. He's a very substantial, good-looking citizen now, but he never loses the fact that once he robbed trains and rustled cattle along the Mexican border.

One evening he was talking with me in a cafe on the Avenida when the question of the war was raised. "I know it was because that was the year," said Old Bob. "You" after a moment's reflection. "I know it was because that was the year they chased me out of Texas for killing a man, and the strike was going on at the time."

WHY IS IT that American Government has taken ex-Governor Haddock of Missouri as a

SCOUT MEETS LAST NIGHT SUCCESSFUL

Camp Committee Agrees on Plan and Tentative Budget; Much Activity Is Shown During the Past Month in All Parts of the District.

Successful and enthusiastic meetings of the Snake River camp committee and of the Snake River Council were held here last evening culminating in the holding of a very pleasant banquet at the Hotel Perini.

The camp meeting. The camp committee met in the office of Thomas M. Robertson at the Arlington Land company and was attended by Guy Towle of Jerome, Dr. Harry C. Pierson of Dulhi, G. C. Winsor of Piler and E. V. Berg of Twin Falls. It was voted to ask for $150 in the budget for the coming year.

There were a dozen members of the Scout council present. Reports from the Scout Executive, Scoutmaster A. J. Peavey were received. The analysis of a rank for the month showed 140 first class scouts; second class scouts, 157; tenderfoot scouts, 438; merit badges given for merit points were 140.

During the month Gooding has been organized; boy scouts have been held in nine cities field days in five. Meetings in four towns and one in government in four counties. The scouts assisted in the D. A. R. memorial dedication.

STOCK JUDGING BY FILER-JEROME AND GOODING BOYS

High School Boys Participate in Stock Judging from Three Schools and Much Learned.

Stock judging day was a great success at Thousand Springs farm near Wendell, on Wednesday, May 6. Seventy-five boys from Gooding, Jerome and Piler took part in a judging contest at the farm on that day.

Five classes of livestock were judged, including the following: Duroc Jersey, fall boars, fall gilts, junior Guernsey bull calves, junior Jersey calves and next. Some of the classes were extremely difficult and most of the boys failed to agree with the judges. Considering the difficult classes and the large crowd present most of the boys did fine.

O. C. McDonnell and William Bolin of Gooding, Colonel Walters of Piler, and Mr. Robinson of the Thousand Springs farm acted as official judges.

Thirty Jerome boys, twenty Piler boys and eighteen Gooding boys took part in the contest. Gooding ranked first with a score average of 573 points out of a possible 1000. Piler was second with 567 points and Jerome third with 561.

Robert Lyard of Piler was high in judging hogs with a score of 281 points out of 400 and H. J. Limons of Gooding was high in judging cattle with 416 points out of a possible 500.

The following is the rank and score of the six high men: Robert Lyard, Piler, 761; D. Clemens, Gooding, 721; G. Smith, Jerome, 686; E. Sharp, Piler, 659; J. Carter, Jerome, 651; O. Leonard, Piler, 651.

At noon the boys enjoyed a fine picnic dinner under the trees. In the afternoon they spent some time in looking over the farm and the time they enjoyed the day and they look forward to the event next year.

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

A Straw Hat City Over Night

FOR years it has been the custom in this locality to change to straws on May 15. So far has it gone that the man who appears in his felt Friday morning must feel self-conscious.

We handle the original Swiss Straw Hat which is imported from Switzerland and will readily conform to every shaped head. These hats are non-breakable, pliable and lightweight. Buying direct from the importers gives us an opportunity to show you a wide range of styles in the different qualities. Before selecting your Straw Hat let us show you this Swiss Straw which is the cheapest in the long run. A large selection to choose from.

Hats That Are Good Enough To Be Fresh in September

There is no economy in buying an inexpensive hat, if it has to be replaced when the season is two-thirds along. The real economy is in paying a little more at the outset.

These straws will come through looking just about as smart as the day you donned them. The name of the leading manufacturer assures that. And in addition you'll have the satisfaction of wearing the finest sort of hat all summer.
