ICEED DRINKS IN THE SUMMER

On a warm and sultry summer day, there is nothing more refreshing to the palate and to the body than a cold drink. Of course, when such drinks are being used, moderation should be practiced, because it taken in excess will be harmful, they are liable to be injurious to the stomach. However, when taken in a sensible manner, they are refreshing and invigorating to the fatigued. In the manufacture of these drinks, care should be taken to avoid any combination that may be indigestible or hard to assimilate. The drink should be consumed in a slow and leisurely manner.

The greatest danger present in the use of food drinks is the fact that in the use of ingredients that are possibly impure or contaminated in any way. This is why it is very important to know the sources that are used are allowed to stand until they become soured and unfit for use, or if the milk or other ingredient used is not strictly fresh.

The preservation of milk to spoil during the summer temperatures makes it necessary to use such preservatives as milk, which after all is just pure fresh milk with more than half the water taken away. It is also important to always use safe for use in food drinks, it is ideal.

KIMBERLY WINS LAST BURL GAME

KIMBERLY GREYS GO DOWN TO DEFEAT IN ONE OF BEST GAMES IN SOUTHERN IDAHO; BOTH TEAMS PLAY SNAPPY AND BAIN STOPS GAME FOR ONLY FEW MINUTES.

Kimberly, June 25—Kimberly command for winning streak by defeating the last Buhl aggregation Sunday afternoon by a 2 to 1 score. Two teams played, few minutes on account of rain but notwithstanding the somewhat unfavorable weather conditions the teams played an exceptionally fast game. Both pitchers were working in fine form and received good support. But 23 men faced Fuller during the game and only three were pitched off. One delivery, "Latty" Faust was shooting over his fastness in an effective manner, fanning 12 Kimberly batters and the ball was fairly well distributed until the final ninth when Thompson led off with a hit while Fuller took over. He pitched a few balls to unnerve Faust and he issued a pass to E. Fuller. He lightened up and struck out Johnson and Minton and took over very much as the party was over, when F. Fuller came through with a hit, scoring Thompson and E. Fuller and, incidentally, winning his own game.

Probably the outstanding feature of the game aside from the splendid pitching of Fuller were two catches by Young, fielder for Buhl, of long flies near the foul line off the bat of Johnson in the second and of Johnson in the fifth, the latter ruling Kimberly out of base two runs and a sensational catch by first baseman Johnson of a fly ball thrown from third baseman Fuller.

BUSINESS IN MAY (Continued from page 1) but certainly cautiously. Perhaps the best summary up of recent operations would be that a rather large business is being done at a very small net profit.

Wheat Recreates After Loss... Some of the features of the sharp upward rise in the price indexes in May will be the wheat market. Wheat receded about half of the reaction shown by pig iron production in May was of interest showing a reduction of 10 per cent from April and a decline to below the output of last December, although still showing a reduction of 10 per cent over May a year ago.

The metals moved irregularly, pig iron being off despite the price in late May while scrap metals showed an big advance. Steel products showed a slight advance in the nonferrous metals, except copper, showed strength but the really big advance in the price of tin, which was up 10 per cent at 78 cents or nearly four times the price paid a year ago, on the working out of the Stevenson plan of restriction plus the world consumption of tin in the United States for automobile tires. The latter was advanced twice in the period under review.

Among the raw textile features have been the alternate weakness and strength of cotton, the price of raw wool after the decline in price of the month before and the enormous quantity of raw silk taken by mills in the first five months, 200,877 lbs. as against 145,529 lbs. in the like period of 1925.

Automobile production in May confirmed predictions in that trade that the output of cars in the United States in May a year ago. Up to the end of May, production for the year was 1,629,676 cars, as against 1,723,890 in the same five months of 1924, a decrease of only 5.5 per cent from the peak output of the first part of 1924.

The same inequalities as between car loadings and gross railway earnings noted in earlier months still exist especially in the United States, for the output of April, 3,721,662, a gain of 6.3 per cent over the like period of 1924.

The United States has 44,000,000 acres planted to potatoes. Fish with poisonous flesh are a danger in the Philippines.

BILL BOOSTER SAYS

Wanted Larger Back Yard... Speaking of cramped spaces for clothes yard, a woman who was looking for a place to rent gave this opinion: "Yes, I liked the house all right," she said, "but that was mighty little yard room. Of course that wouldn't have troubled me much, for I do not care for gardening, but the only place you could hang your clothes was so close to the back door that no one could get in or out by that door when the clothes were drying. When I thought of the butcher, the baker and the endlesstick maker, to say nothing of the gas fitter, the electrician and the plumber, I thought of the few men having to trip in the front door on Monday mornings the rent did not look so attractive to me." HOW TO SPEND YOUR MONEY

It's astonishing how some people let money slip through their fingers. Experience teaches that the person with plenty of cash available is almost invariably found to be the easiest and quickest buyer of the non-essentials. The most successful way to stop these leaks is to possess a checking account and draw as you need may arise. There is no necessity for accumulating money, but the checking account is a wonderful thing and one that most always pay small savings that so rapidly add up. The man who spends all his money himself, his property is diminished. A checking account will save all your money, no rocks, splendid improvement, offered at $125 per acre, with liberal terms.

WHY THE BOOTLEGGER WAS KILLED

That a prohibition officer was not killed recently instead of the bootlegger, Jesse Martin, was due to the fact that the officer was quicker with the gun. The bootlegger was not killed because he was selling liquor in violation of the law but because he attempted to commit murder. Moonshiners and rum runners and bootleggers usually are prepared to kill if molested by officers of the law, and when one of the officers is killed it is in self defense. It is not because a moral reform has been enjoined by an enforcement passion that these tragedies occur, but because men defy that law and kill, or attempt to kill, those who are charged with the duty of enforcing the law.

The prohibition law cannot be treated with contempt without creating disrespect for all law. It should be added that the whole responsibility for liquor lawlessness does not rest upon the bootleggers, who could not sell their stuff if there were no buyers. The patrons of the dead bootlegger will probably look about for another without stopping to consider that they are morally as guilty as he, or that they contributed to his death by furnishing a market for his illicit wares and making it profitable to him to violate the law.—Herald-Courier.

Progress toward the more enlightened treatment of inmates of Canadian penitentiaries is recorded in the latest annual report of the superintendent of penitentiaries, Brig.-Gen. W. S. Hughes, D. S. O. Discipline is insisted upon. But proper discipline does not tolerate dungeons, chains or any form of cruelty or brutal treatment. Real discipline, indeed, it is affirmed, must be humane, just, and firm. The aim of the penitentiary administration is rather to make better men of the convicts.

It is frankly admitted that in this great work, improvement of the system, although it is excellent in some respects, is still much to be desired. "The Canadian superintendent stoutly declares: "A penitentiary has no right to exist if inmates discharged from same are not turned out better citizens than when they entered." He urges that in addition to receiving a fair education and learning a trade, they should be paid a fair wage for labor well performed. They would thus be enabled to assist in supporting those dependent upon them; at the same time they would be well grounded in the matter of their responsibility as citizens. It is submitted that this may be done by the government providing sufficient work to keep all inmates suitably and continuously employed, under the direction of the proper class of officer.

Useful work and the right of kind of supervision, then are regarded as two of the great essentials in connection with penitentiary management. Because of the vital importance of character building, stress is laid on the necessity of exercising care in the selection of all officers employed. The superintendent of penitentiaries says:

"On a religious conception of the entire prison problem real prison reform must be based. It is a recognized fact that, in order to secure a rebuilding and satisfactory reconstruction of the inmate's character his heart must be reached. This he done by law-abiding, God-fearing officers.

Reports from the penitentiaries indicate that this desirable standard of administration is being attained. It is to be seen in better living conditions for the inmates; dingy cells have been replaced by white enameled rooms, with cleanliness, sanitation and light. At the large penitentiary of St. Vincent de Paul, near Montreal, an educational system has been established which has done much to reduce the percentage of prison illiteracy. The warden there, Col. R. de la B. Girouard, is also a firm believer in the regenerative influence of useful employment. In urging that the convicts should be employed in the manufacture of some commodity, he says: "It is a grievous mistake in my opinion to imagine that all who are condemned to penal servitude are hopelessly lost. If such were the case it would indeed be by a travesty on the teachings of the Master." Perhaps the Dominion Minister of Justice, Mr. Lapointe, who is the political head of the penitentiary department, may find it possible to give the penitentiary inmates more work in the manufacture of government supplies.—The Monitor.

WHAT IS EVAPORATED MILK?

Did you ever stop to figure out the real meaning of "Evaporated Milk"? The word "evaporated" may give you the idea that in the process of evaporation the milk has lost some of its valuable qualities. That is not so. It has lost only water. Sixty per cent of the water is evaporated from the milk. For it comes from the cow's udder. The first step in processing the milk is the evaporation, when a portion of the water content is removed. The second step is the concentration which insures the cream being distributed evenly throughout the milk. The third is the canning. The fourth is sterilization, which takes place in the can when the milk is subjected to sufficient heat to destroy the bacteria. Thus evaporated milk remains as pure and fresh in the container as when it formed into the milk in the mother's udder.

Evaporated milk is now generally recognized as the freshest milk available to those not living on farms and producing their own milk. For fresh milk is milk means purity.

LAWYERS RETURN FROM MEETING OF THE STATE BAR

Turner K. Hockman, Shad L. Hodshon and J. P. Feltz are back after attending an interesting meeting of the Bar association and transacting business in Boise. The bar association meeting which was the first under the new law, was presided over by John C. Rice, former chief justice.

An interesting discussion took place without definite action being taken in regard to the meaning of the new law which permits the filing of a general denial instead of a detailed denial of all the claims separately. Another question which aroused much consideration and warm debate was whether or not judges should have greater power in selecting juries and in compelling on evidence. His consideration was finally indefinitely postponed.

In the matter of time for filing appeals a committee was appointed to draft suggestions.

The young ladies' quartet which rendered, "Why I Sing," in composed of Jerona Kivraak, Iris Leason, Ray Franklin and "Lillian" Brown. Ken-Neil Henderson sang "Come Ye Disciples," followed by "Hallelujah" and "Devercome rendered a solo, "Oh, Morning Land," Jerona Kivraak sang "Thou Art My God."
