Devastated Santa Barbara Starts Rebuilding and Gets Aid from California Banks

Twenty Million Dollars Has Been Asked From the Banks of California at Six Per Cent to Rebuild This Wonderful Resort City; Serious Fires Prevented by Presence of Mind of Fire Chief; Newspaper Office Stands Uninjured and Is a Monument to Earthquake-Proof Architect; Total Dead Is Thirteen.

SANTA BARBARA, June 30.—Quake-tortured Santa Barbara took heart this morning after the first four-hour period without a shock had elapsed since the first devastating tremor.

A bright sun dispelled the murky gloom of early morning and the work of clearing streets and buildings began again in effluence of the countless setbacks of the night.

Thousands of broken delivery pipes in the falling structures throughout the city were rendered harmless and the small firms that developed every where were, with three exceptions, soon established.

Chief Cooley also sent runners to the electric plant of the southern California Edison company with orders to shut the current from all wires.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 30.—Residents of Santa Barbara, sleeping peacefully in their homes, were awakened by a violent shock, equaling in intensity the original quake at 6:46 a. m.

The structure, of old Spanish design, was built two years ago by George Washington Smith, famous architect of old Spain, and was designed to be quake-proof.

Out from houses and from tents in which many had taken the occupants to sleep, poured Santa Barbarans, to view the fresh destruction.

BUHL WINS BGSUIT IN HIGH COURT

Buhl Highway District Gets What is Said to Be Largest Judgment Ever Given in County Sustained by Supreme Tribunal; Alred and Surety Company Are Liable.

Sweeping victory for the Buhl highway district was contained in the decision of the supreme court in sustaining the verdict given in the district court here before Judge W. A. Harlow in the suit against R. W. Alred and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, his surety according to record received by Bohlman & Chapman, attorneys for the district today.

The court holds that the fact that a check was later realized on a note is immaterial, so far as the district case is concerned since the money is located where the bank failed to deposit it in the first National bank of Hull under the state law and was not thus unus with interest made up to the total.

Third Term for Coolidge Discussed By Stove League

President's Chances for Re-election Are Argued From Many Angles; Query of Third Term and Roosevelt Case Will Be Refreshed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—Will President Coolidge be a candidate to succeed himself in 1929?

Already the gossip around the political crackler boxes in Washington is commencing to buzz about a third term in the White House, although no one pretends to know for certain.

One of his "calors" recently suggested the possibility of a chat over the breakfast table that the way certainly was open for him. The president's smile was broad and he had no more worries now confronting him as president to occur than he has had in the past.

Upon his return from Africa however, he looks with "fair" interest at the possibility of a third term. The republican nomination is expected to be decided in the fall.

At the expiration of his present term he will have been president less than six years.

Numerous presidents have been elected for full terms of office, serving eight full years.

With the congressional election coming on, and two strongly partisan clashes over tax reduction and world court to be decided in the present session, the need of money at present has become increasingly important.

The republicans have plenty of cash on hand, but the democrats seem to be a bad way. The independent group which fought Senator Robert M. La Follette in the last presidential campaign and which is now entering the congressional field, has little more than a "dry" campaign committee.

CHRISTIANS WIN FROM KNULL NINE

Knull Team 1
Christians 9

In a one sided game last evening the Christian church team romped off with a one out of a 9 to 1 score. At no time during the game was there any great danger of Knull winning. The Cannells had their nearly out classed. Knull has played better ball than they presented last evening but seems to certain players but out of form the game was not as fast as usual. The Christians on the other hand were playing fast and snappy and hit like veterans.

Knull was the winning team and Mansfield, F. Campbell and Bill Thompson for first batter. Bill struck out, Lancaster filed out to center and Copped filed out to center.

Wilson was sent in by manager Patrick as the opener for the dry square but got on by being hit and was out at third. Foster fanned, Davis got a two bagger and later scored. King got a hit and Anderson fanned. Miller came up for Knull and was put out by third baseman, Frank Thompson fanned and Bennett filed out to center.

Trubeloh got on, and Dossert came up and threw out a home run, scoring Trubeloh ahead of him. Parerth hit a two bagger and scored. Wilson was put out by Anderson on a hard drive. Wilson hit fine, Foster hit a two bagger and "Iard Hiltner" King came up and hit one over the right field fence. Anderson was out at first, retiring the Cannells after scoring six runs in this inning.

Bansford was thrown out at first. H. Hite got on with a single and was caught at second on Cannon's ground ball. Hiltner fanned. Trubeloh fanned, Dossert got a hit, Parerth struck out, McCornick was put out at center.

Lancaster walked and took second on Parerth's sacrifice. Hiltner hit a high fly to Anderson, F. Thompson got a hit and Lancaster scored, making the only run for Knull. Bennett fanned.

Wilson got on by an error, stole second and Hiltner fanned. Dossert fanned, Davis hit a fly to right field, King got a hit, and Anderson hit a pop up to short.

Bansford was thrown out at first. H. Hite was thrown out by Dossert's throw and got out to center and was out at first.

The other players being outlanded by Warner being absent and some of the other players being out of condition. Thompson and King were retired in favor of Lancaster in the third inning.

Watched unplayed.

Again we should return thanks that we are not in the zone of the earthquake or the landslide which have menaced seriously our neighboring states. Idaho is remarkably free from such disasters but we had perhaps better knock on wood for fear that something may come this way.

While Twin Falls and this immediate community will not stage a celebration on the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, yet we can teach our children a great lesson in patriotism and show them in a real way that this day means more than making a great noise and playing baseball and drinking red lemonade to the limit of our capacity. There are greater lessons to teach and those who have been shouting about it celebration should see that these lessons are driven home forcibly.

The Caldwell Tribune says that "the Statesman is worried for fear that Idaho is in the belt of severe thunder storms. Not Idaho, brother, just Boise. For we respectfully call your attention to the fact that while that deluge visited your beautiful little city and the thunder droned all the main line whistles, it never even sprinkled in Caldwell. We were blissfully ignorant of that storm until you told us about it. We used to think that Idaho climate was hard to beat." But maybe it is just part of Idaho."

We hear a good deal about farmers experimenting in this that or the other crop. It is wrong. A farmer does not have time to experiment. Besides the federal and state governments both are doing this experimenting for him. All the farmer needs to do is to accept the results of the provided experiments. The experiment farm at Aberdeen will work out any problem for any farmer and whenever a new thing is suggested this station will be quick to try it out on our soil. What the Aberdeen station is doing every other one will do. Call it paternalism if you will, but it is the right thing. A farmer is not equipped to experiment except under the direction of known authorities. In no other business are the problems worked out as they are for the farmer.

The story of the landslide in the Teton mountains into the Gros Ventre river near Jackson Hole reads like a page from history. Such things have occurred on various occasions in this section but not recently. Here is this great phenomenon right at our doors and its importance is hard to estimate. What will be the effect on grand Old Faithful? Will the grumbling of the earth and the tremors felt, demand a rearrangement of the wonders of that wonderful region? It may be that simply a new lake has been provided, a new source of irrigation, and then again, it may mean that the disturbances underground which have caused the wonders of Yellowstone park will affect the entire area. There was no cause on the top of the earth to make the mountain to fall into the river. The reported grumbling and tremors may be the workings of the volcanoes that have gone partly to sleep and left Old Faithful as a sentinel and reminder of power. If the latter view is correct, the last has not been heard of the tumble.

In last week's Times we published a communication from one by the name of Patton in which the Times editor was scored somewhat because certain communications which were not properly signed were refused publication in this paper. These were not refused because they were objectionable but because the signature of the writer was concealed by some other non-descript. If one refuses to sign what they bring to a newspaper office for publication it must be more or less questionable and the party writing it is not altogether willing to take the blame if there should be any blame attached to same. Then it is a customary cry to put up that the editor is afraid to publish anything which may tramp on the other fellow's idea a bit. We believe that the Times' policy is so well and clearly understood on this issue that no explanation is necessary and therefore we have refrained from saying anything. But we might say further that we have no pre-conceived notions about revolutionizing Idaho and making her conform to the principles enunciated by folks from the Beehive state or any other state. We are here to play fair and square with all concerned in building up a greater Idaho and to inculcate the principle of honesty and patriotism in all. Since the writer happens to be a member of one of the Protestant churches of this city he would hardly wish to further any other sect to the exclusion or overshadowing of the one to which he belongs. Let's give others credit for being as fair and open minded as yourself at least.

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS LETTER KIMBERLY NEWS

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—Washington's all excited over the Doherty and Sinclair oil decision.

The capital feels a proprietary interest in these cases. How they started in the senate. Here they wind up, in the supreme court. In the meantime, Washington's watching developments, as they break out, here and there.

It's no exaggeration to say they've got her guessing in the shape they are taking in the last few weeks.

FIRST: Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick of Los Angeles fooled Washington by deciding the Doherty case in the government's favor, Washington expecting a decision this other day.

However, Doherty having lost "Sinclair surely will," thought Washington should expect a decision against the government's evidence against the Sinclair lease was a much stronger case against the Doherty interest.

And then Federal Judge T. D. Kennedy of Chicago rendered in favor of Sinclair.

JUDGE McCormick found evidence of fraud in ex-Secretary of the Interior E. A. Clegg's deal with Doherty. Judge Kennedy found no such evidence in Paul's deal with Sinclair.

There's nothing inconsistent in this. The deal with Doherty was a deal with Doherty. The deal with Sinclair was a deal with Sinclair.

There may have been fraud in one and not in the other.

Washington was surprised.

The two who had been a little less suspicious the Doherty deal of the Sinclair lease.

Clegg and Doherty had been old pals. Doherty was the type of man to help out a friend who was in a bind.

That he said, was all there was to that $100,000 loan he made to Paul. It was a loan, not a gift.

Washington recognized there was a chance it might be a loan.

Sinclair, on the other hand, never stirred up as the kind of intruder to get good money for nothing.

Yet Judge McCormick refused

TO SWALLOW THE EXPLANATIONS OF PAUL

to swallow the explanations of Paul Doherty, while Judge Kennedy readily accepted those of Paul and Sinclair.

UNIVERSITY, both judges say—naturally—no right as to the matter of fraud.

Washington is now trying to settle the question of the late President Harding's power to transfer property of the government's oil lands from the navy to the interior department.

Judge McCormick says Harding exceeded his authority when he made the transfer, that the land remained the navy's in spite of him, and that Paul's lease to Doherty was void because he was disposing of what belonged to another department.

According to McCormick, it was void regardless of the question of any crooked deal between Paul and Doherty. McCormick added incidentally, that the deal was crooked, too.

Judge Kennedy holds that President Harding did act within his rights, so the Sinclair deal is okay.

Kennedy agrees that it wouldn't have been legal if Paul and Sinclair had framed it, but that he ends by saying that he doesn't think of the dispute to be settled as to whether President Harding did or what the law entitled him to do, or what he did do for that matter.

If he went far for the losses to Doherty and Sinclair are no good, and it's unnecessary for Paul at the civil suit, to discuss the question of fraud.

The deal is closed, unless fraud is proved.

This criminal case still hangs in the air. Judge "probably" will refer to a reversal of Judge McCormick's decision. McCormick added incidentally, that the deal was crooked, too.

The civil and criminal actions are separate, and no court has considerable influence with one another, back and forth.

POPLARS AND MORNING GLORY ARE NOW TABOO

Notice to Owners of 343 Trees Which Injure Public Health Will Be Sent Out by City Will Give Use of Arsenate of Lead to Weeds in the Hicket Addition.

In pursuance of the request received at a previous meeting of the city council, Commissioner Ralph B. Smith reported last evening to the board of health that he had located 343 poplar trees within the municipality that were interfering with the city sewers. The council instructed him to take immediate action to remove the trees. The poplars were diagnosed with less order than the respective liabilities of city and owners could not be ascertained. It was finally agreed that the general fund would stand a suppression of the weeds in the Hicket addition.

The meeting started later than usual and continued for a long time. The meeting during its proceedings last night also discussed the all tank ordinance and referred to various changes after consideration of its provisions with Frank B. Wilson and Leonard E. Smith, of the Home Oil company, and Arbor Weib of the Continental Oil company. Other action was taken to amend the preliminary ordinances and notices for the creation of improvement districts on Bliss, Lee and Birch avenue north. Action on the submission of notes for warrants on the city indebtedness was held over.

The Weed Problem.

The question of whether the city was locally empowered to exterminate the weeds within its limits took up a long time. Ed S. Larned appeared before the council in behalf of the county weed campaign and stated that he hoped the council would see its way clear to take care of the noxious-weed situation in the Hicket addition and tax it up to the property, or at least take care of it. He held that this was the province of the city. Mr. E. L. Ashton said that the situation was one that required attention, and while he was not clear that the law permitted the city to cultivate on private land for the purpose of exterminating the morning glory, he thought it might be well to make it possible it might be well to do it. Commissioner J. S. Keel said he would favor the plan if legal. However, City Attorney A. L. Myers had said it was not and he was not in favor of doing something in the face of the suit of the legal adviser of the city. In reply to the statement of Mr. Larned that the city had done similar things in the past, Mr. Keel said that this was true. Members of some local boards who had talked did things without realizing it. It ran counter to the letter of the law and found themselves in a tight place. He said that the city had a right to pay for the extermination of weeds out of the general fund, and if the fund were not doubted whether they could do it and he would like to see the bill. Commissioner T. J. Douglas thought this could possibly be done and favor-
