DRUNKENESS IS CHARGED AGAINST BIG U.S. GENERAL

Governor Fields of Kentucky Will Investigate Charges Against Brigadier General Kehoe for Drunkenness and Disorderly Conduct to Officers and Men.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 15.—Governor E. H. Field, today, published an order charging General Kehoe with conduct unbecoming an officer after against Brig. General James T. Kehoe, adjutant general of Kentucky, with a drunkenness charge.

Brig. General Elmer W. Carter, commander of the 3rd Kentucky field brigade, brought the charges and in addition, re-against Kehoe of drunkenness alleged specifically that Kehoe:

—Instructed fellow officers and non-commissioned men:

—Ordered a soldier's radio set while intoxicated.

—Assaulted Chapman Herrick II, captain of the 139th Indiana field artillery.

—While intoxicated commanded an official celer prohibiting gambling, betting on a prize fight.

Jazz Girl Is Insane Today Says Head of Stockton Asylum

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The chess master of "Jazzland," who recently believed a histogram of Dorothy Chapman's brain, threatened to take the stage in court here today when the girl's trial for the murder of her mother opened.

One alibi, Dr. J. Dan Hall, a Berkeley psychiatrist, remained to be called by defense, while expert testimony that the girl is still insane.

Palms of the chess master, late Friday, death boy Hance Hance, who at whose farm they hit but hit him. It was Hance who have authorities the tip that resulted in Chapman's arrest.

Traces of the handwork of the most amateur handiwork of modern times, who now is awaiting execution in a Contra Costa county prison, were salary and returns with returns made, examine reported earnings with profits listed and deductions to make sure the government has received the exact amount.

Testimony of Dr. Fred B. Clark, a psychologist, who has been retained by hospital, that Dorothy is and is insane caused the girl to fush and dash with effort to repress another outburst similar to those in the former trial.

Dr. Clark declared the girl, wife of Jimmie Leland, the player who her mother was another victim of her lack of balance. Defense Attorney Walter McGovern indicated that he would call the jury to witness the same.

Such action by the defense is "stealing the thunder" of the prosecution, which had planned to bring the start even if there was any such evidence.

"Lamar" he alleged part in the killing of Mrs. Ellington was fictitious.

BUSINESS IS NORMAL SAYS U. S. MINT MAN

BENNETT, Colo., Aug. 15.—Business in the United States is normal, according to R. J. Grant, Washington, D. C., collector of the mint on a tour of branches of the department.

The man in charge of measuring financial conditions is watching the demands of manufacturers for gold. When the country can buy more insurance than it can afford to pay for. At present we are supplying a normal amount of the metal," Grant said.

The Denver mint is at present turning out 100,000 gold pieces for the Christmas trade. Gold bars. When this is done the mint will start making $2 gold pieces. The mint is also making silver coins.

"The mint is ready to supply the country with pennies, nickels and quarters, for which the demand is great and we supply about half of them. Pennies range from $30,000 to $100,000. Nickels are melted daily in the mint," Grant said.

In commenting on the unpopular tax of one dollar, Grant said it cost only seven-tenths of a cent to coin the "iron men" and that it costs a cent to make a nickel. The paper money soon wears out. The paper money costs three per cent to keep it in circulation.

FIFTEEN-CENT HAIRCUT IS RESULT OF BARBER WAR

KIRKVILLE, Mo., Aug. 15.—What can do here is to get his hair cut. A member of the barber's union was expected recently and began operating a shop, cutting hair for a dime and 20 cents for a shave. "Then the war started."

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

WORLD'S STAR SPRINTERS TO RETIRE SOON

Charley Paddock Intends to Retire From American Olympic Team When He Returns to U. S.; Swedish and German Officials Roared Over Charges of Paddock and Murchison.

(By HENRY L. PARFITT, NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Charley Paddock, world's champion sprinter, the sprinting master of two American Olympic teams and one of the most colorful athletes on the track, intends to retire from competition when he returns to the United States.

Paddock and Loren Murchison, another American ace, are now touring the end of an exhibition tour that took them around the world and got them into some water when Swedish and German officials charged that they demanded to remain in their respective countries in all meets.

This, however, has nothing to do with the retirement of Paddock. His legs started to go on him two years ago, and he has had to give up the writer who was double-champion could make the 1924 Olympic team.

"I'm going out—for the team and with a place and make any kind of a living I can," he said. "I don't know what happens after that," he said. He didn't make a phenomenal showing in Paris, but he was short of wiles and the names had been held up as the ones that might have won both the sprint events.

Paddock's place will be hard to fill when he decides to hang up his shoes but there is a youngster coming along in the form of Bob Collier—who not only may take Paddock's place but may nab some of his records.

"We'll see a lot of new faces on the Olympic team that goes to Amsterdam in 1928," Lawson, Robert, head track coach of the 1924 team, told the Associated Press about through. Murchison is past his prime and most of the college athletes that are now showing up are not as good as he was. Bill Watson, Inker and many of our star distance runners are no youngsters. I wouldn't attempt to make any predictions as to who are sure to be on the boat in 1928."

Murchison, writing recently from the other side, said that Nurmi was resting up at his home in Abo and that he was still training.

Here, according to "Murchie," is Nurmi's idea of light training:

"He arises at 5 in the morning and takes a long walk. He then runs and walks and then eats a breakfast of fresh milk, porridge and hard bread. He takes a sleep, goes for another walk and then goes for another walk and then goes to bed again."

"He does this in a room where there are a pile of his stones on the floor. He pours warm water over the stones first and then covers them with a towel. The steam generated would suffocate an ordinary man." After the steaming he goes right out into the cold air. Some of the stones get cold again, so he comes after one of these "steam baths."

The time which Nurmi seems to have for his light training cause one to wonder where he gets the money to buy his hard bread and porridge and keep the hot water ready for the bricks.

THE CHAUTAUQUA IDEA IS RIGHT

While there seems to be considerable discussion just now relative to the Twin Falls chautauqua presenting their last attraction on Sunday afternoon on account of their tent being blown down by the storm on Thursday, yet this does not involve the right or wrong of the chautauqua idea. It may or may not be proper for this organization to present an attraction of this kind on Sunday and charge for same but this does not in any sense involve the right or wrong of the chautauqua movement. The people of Twin Falls are thoroughly sold on the chautauqua idea, and we are glad they are because we feel that this movement brings more than it takes away. Several prominent citizens have been heard to remark that one of these attractions alone is worth the price of the season ticket. There are some very prominent men in this city who profess to be leaders who are opposing the chautauqua and they have a perfect right to their opinion, but the public should not allow the prejudice of these few to cloud the great onward movement for progress in thought and educational discussion of the things which are presented on the platform of the chautauqua.

We stated our position very clearly and frankly yesterday on the proposed Sunday attraction and we have not changed the least but some of the enemies of the chautauqua are making capital of this proposed Sunday play to create prejudice against the movement. We hope the citizens of Twin Falls will think this thing through for themselves and not be led astray by some demagogue who might be inclined to distort the facts. Careful thinking and sane judgment on these matters is essential at this time as well as at all times when grave questions face us. Do not allow some one else to think for you but instead solve your own problem and decide for yourself and then if you are right stick to your position.

WOMEN EARN WITH MEN

The number of women employed in the United States is now estimated by the government at about 8,500,000, of whom about 2,000,000 are married. This measures concretely the economic revolution in the last quarter of a century. It has an important bearing on the wage problem. There was a time when only the man in the family, and perhaps a son, were the wage earners. Their wages, too, were much less than present scales.

Now there are several million families in which the mother and perhaps one or more of the daughters are earning incomes. This supplements the higher wage income that the head of the family, if employed, brings into the family coffers. Women in business are no longer rare. Their wages, taken as a group, are not always on a parity with those of skilled workers, but their earnings are substantial, and they are treated with the same consideration that men receive. They dress well, work well and have a definite status as employees. This has increased their capacity and the earning power of the country.

Nor is this condition peculiar to America, though it is more pronounced here than in most lands. The English girl has learned to work for wages, and has learned, by the way, to dress attractively. In France and Germany the women always have worked outside of the house and for the most part in the fields, or in the same occupation as their husbands. Now their energies are extending to other lines. The status of women in a word has been enlarged without shock to the body politic.

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WATKINSVILLE—The Democratic "front" on the Republican Bank Tax resolution presented yesterday at the annual meeting did not go so far, but against the kind of action of the Secretary of the Treasury, Melvin Jones, who considered certain the Republicans will advocate.

It would be difficult to predict what's bound to be popular with everybody. The party that fought it would be doing the worst that it could do.

On the other hand, the Democrats figure it will be extremely popular with the public, not only the independent, but also the chronic insurgents—but also the occasional ones.

To summarize, tax reduction will be taken along easily, but the time isn't any question. The public will be willing to let the new Congress find the answer to it.

THAT Secretary Melvin wants resolution to begin at the top this time there isn't any question.

He's willing to let the new Congress have a little of the gravy but he wants the big helping to go to the Republicans.

He was originally out of favor but he's generally agreed among the Republican managers that he's to be the man to handle the Bank Tax resolution—provided, of course, they're able to give it to him.

It would be difficult to predict what's bound to be popular with everybody. The party that fought it would be doing the worst that it could do.

On the other hand, the Democrats figure it will be extremely popular with the public, not only the independent, but also the chronic insurgents—but also the occasional ones.

To summarize, tax reduction will be taken along easily,

but the time isn't any question.

The public will be willing to let the new Congress find the answer to it.

Manager Stout Announces That Other Arrangements Will Be Made for Ticket Holders Later; Steps Were Taken to Arrest Actors as They Came on Stage.

There will be no chautauqua program at the Twin Falls grounds tomorrow. It was announced this afternoon by Manager C. V. Stout, who had been in touch with Rev. A. G. Pearson, chairman of the Minotaur Alliance to secure the arrest of the players should they attempt to give a performance without giving of the program. He said that other arrangements would be announced later by the company for the stage.

Would Have Given Show Free.

The program was to have been given on Sunday, and Manager Stout, "allowing for the possibility of the players' coming first and then throwing the rest open to the public without charge." He declared, however, that while some arrangement would be made for the stage, it would be unfortunate if the stage would be unoccupied.

Rev. Mr. Pearson reiterated his demand that the play be stopped if he were forced to make it out on the play. He said that he had been requested by many outside the Minotaur Alliance to do so, and that he had been told that he knew about the plan to give the program on Sunday was from people calling him up and asking him to do so. He said that if he did not do so, he would not back up. Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor said that the law would be violated by the performance with the audience statement. He said that as the storm was an act of Providence, the Elliston-White company was to be allowed to furnish another performance.

Question Is Close.

While Prosecutor J. W. Taylor was convinced that the presentation of "Daddy Long Legs" by the Elliston-White company would violate the statutes, he was clear that under the law it could not be stopped by injunction, but the only remedy left is to arrest those involved. One attorney had a different view, and held that the presentation would not violate the law. The trial was ruled by a storm, which chautauqua season, apparently mentioned in the statutes as prohibited, and that the fact that a show part of the program was an entire dead.

Rev. Pearson's Stand.

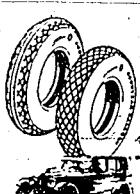

Rev. Mr. Pearson in discussing the matter said today:

"I am against the show itself; I believe that it is a good show. But I believe in the command, 'Rejoice ye in Sion.' That is what I am doing. I am not going to be chautauquaed. I have been tried to take the stand which I have taken, and it is the stand which I believe is right. So I believe that I am familiar with conditions. Both Elton and Elliston have said that the chautauqua goers were largely on one side and the non-chautauqua-goers on the other and the former were the ones who wanted to have a show here on Sunday, and the latter a chautauqua season, and the company back to fill an engagement."

This is an institution that Jerome needs and the field is wide open. There are practically no storage facilities available in Jerome, and that should and will be brought adjacent to Jerome considered. By this, I mean like the old time, when a man trades and such an arrangement places the buyer at a disadvantage with the buyer.

Keel stated yesterday he could call to mind storage warehouse capacity in Twin Falls of 150,000 square feet and more in buildings.

Library to Get Book 'Pygmalion; Play Is Coming

Among the books ordered by the Twin Falls public library is "Pygmalion," which is one of the most striking of the stories of George Bernard Shaw. It is the first number in the current series of "The Moxon" players who made such a hit here last year. This is to be followed by "Pygmalion," a production of the Springfield-Ashley district will be presented this afternoon to the members of the American Play division of the National Drama League.

It is the maximum of amusement, with the minimum of shock. The play comes September 22, opening the season.

Other famous plays in the same category are "The Ship," by St. John and "Friendship," by Paul Kester.

The series will be put on by the Business and Professional Women's club.
