NEW SCALES NEEDED SAYS COAL DEALER

Council Hears Request for Better City Weighing Facilities to of Farm Produce; Power? Question of Increasing Laid on Discussed.

Continually increasing load farm products brought to the city scales of eighteen capacity, obsolete, according to D. E. Dewberry, coal dealer, in a statement to the city council at its regular weekly session Monday evening, new scales are needed, according to Mr. Dewberry, speaking for farmers and merchants at least eleven weighing facilities.

Increased use of motor trucks in hauling crops, he pointed out, has made necessary more efficient means of getting accurate weights. The city scales, he pointed out, are necessarily both farmer and buyer appropriate. It furnishes the best means of telling the exact amount of product on a scale and city scales alpha are unquestioned by both farmer and the man to whom he sells his product.

Cost of scales of 20-ton capacity would be in the neighborhood of $1000, it was pointed out by Councilman J. J. Douglas, expressed the opinion that the city should either install adequate scales or purchase private and public and install adequate weighing devices would be willing to pay 25 cents a ton, which is almost twice what they are required to pay now.

Scale Facilities.

Plenary presented show that the scales during the fiscal year cost the city $240 and that gross revenues during that period were $284.40. It was the opinion of the council after further discussion of the matter, that the city would not have funds during the fiscal year to put in the new facilities.

Councilman J. S. Reed and W. T. Leslie in discussion of the municipal power ownership question, which came up last night, declared they did not believe municipal ownership would bring the revenue to the city through the Idaho Power company or through action of the state power commission, was suggested as the means for obtaining lower rates.

It was the consensus of opinion among councilmen that the construction of twin falls were paying too high a rate for the power used, funds of a municipally owned plant, though Mr. Leslie, would not obtain the demand they should through competition of the city in this field with a privately owned company at ready in the field.

Miss Matthews.

Demonstration of slot machines now in use in a number of the city's business houses which dispense prizes was given by H. S. Frame, local agent for the machines. Plans of the machine as pointed out by the agent was to stimulate business. Councilmen were of the opinion that the machine which dispense checks in trade in addition to prizes, certain evils which have been largely attributed to young patrons.

Request of the mayor to the chief of police that they should through competition of the city in this field with a privately owned company at ready in the field.

Routine bills amounting to $2,525.66 against the general fund and $235.00 against the special fund were ordered paid.

CANCER GERM IS ISOLATED SAY DOCTORS

LONDON, Aug. 15.—(By the day more light is being shed on the interesting career of Dr. W. B. Cole, whose discovery made in connection with J. C. Harland, microbiologist, has opened the way it is believed to the solution of the cancer problem.

A small circle of medical and scientific experts the two men were practically unknown until a few days ago, and the story of their lives was known to very few.

Son of Poor Parents.

It is now revealed that Dr. Cole has forged his way to the front rank of scientific circles against extremely adverse conditions. He became the son of poor parents of the working class and lived his early days in the Midlands.

When he was about 17 years old he determined to become a doctor, and commenced studying in his spare time. He was then working as a railway porter at a Midland station. By frugal living he saved enough from his small earnings to come to London where he continued his studies and where he eventually took his D. Sc. degree.

Thenceforth.

His next step was to return to the Midlands where he taught school and tutored other students. He continued to make his money carefully against the time when he should be able to go to the University of Edinburgh to pursue a course of medical study.

When he finally went to Edinburgh University he found himself compelled to live on very little, but he persevered. The circumstances would have discouraged a less sturdy man, declared one of his friends, but Dr. Cole tightened his belt, settled his teeth and went through with it, finally winning his certificate as doctor in 1912.

During the war he served with the military laboratory, continued in France and Italy. Following the war he joined the scientific staff of the Medical Research Council where service he is still engaged, and under whose auspices he and Mr. Harland made their most famous cancer discovery. Dr. Cole is just over 40 years of age.

British Columbia Will Establish Dry Navvies

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 18.—British Columbia is going to have a dry navy to stop rum, runners, similar to that of the United States.

It is planned to add these and other fast craft to the first fleet acquired for British Columbia's dry navy.

Facts About Compass

The angle between the true north and the magnetic north is called the "magnetic variation," and has to be allowed for in navigation. Thus when the song says "true as the compass of the star," it is talking nonsense because, although the star is fixed, the compass is not. Nevertheless, its variations are well known, so that the compass remains the seaman's most valuable possession.

KANSAS JUDGE SENTENCES BANK PRESIDENT

In China they still have an ancient law by which, when a bank fails, the banker is beheaded. This may seem barbarous to some Americans. But only one bank has failed in China in over 400 years.

Strict enforcement of the law, regardless of the wealth and influence of the lawbreaker, always has a tendency to prevent crime. And it makes the government more substantial and enduring, for a government is built on quicksands when the people do not have confidence in the integrity and impartial justice of courts.

We have in mind, in particular, the excellent public service performed by Judge Jesse D. Wall of Kansas in sentencing the convicted president of a defunct bank to 45 years in prison and $45,000 fine. This was the absolute limit possible under the law.

A few more judges like Wall would do more to strengthen our democracy and nip Bolshevism in the bud than a million years of flag waving, pious oratory and two-faced platitudes.

There can be no firm public confidence in the courts when the rich, by reason of being able to hire crafty lawyers who find loopholes in the law and methods of delay, have the advantage over defendants whose purse cannot afford such costly but effective dodging.

The courts themselves usually are theoretically impartial as to the wealth or poverty of defendants.

So are the laws. The trouble is the laws are made by politicians recruited mainly among lawyers. And most of these incline to frame a law so there will be loopholes. Thus assuring plenty of business for the legal profession.

These loopholes frequently are in the nature of intended safeguards for people accused of crimes. But, given a rich client, a shrewd lawyer can find enough of these loopholes to delay a case almost interminably. The poor man cannot afford such lawyers.

One great weakness of our laws—and a weakness that is employed to keep rich offenders out of jail—is our foolish procedure of abiding by technicalities of the law rather than the plain meaning and intent of the law. By citing precedents and starting arguments, the rich man's lawyer battles over the interpretation and technicalities of the law itself, even more than the question of guilt or innocence.

We need simpler laws, quicker justice—and more judges like Wall, inexorably going hammer and tongs after offenders regardless of wealth and standing. The courts are fast enough, all right, when the defendant can't hire an army of skilled "mouthpieces."

DOUBLE TAXATION

Every newspaper in the land, but more especially the smaller dailies and more especially still the country weeklies, in every issue give liberally of their space to the promotion of matters of public or civic interest. The local commercial clubs and chambers of commerce, the civic organizations, and community welfare promoters of all kinds feel themselves free at all times to demand—we said demand—from the newspaper of the community not only passive support but active participation of the editor and his columns. This support is always given and more often than not columns of publicity are freely granted at the sole cost and expense of the publication.

We have in mind some publications that not only devote much space to this free publicity but also furnish the cuts to illustrate the stories and if necessary furnish the photographer to take the pictures. Others without the facilities for this service give their space, say their limit of eight or nine dollars a day to set the type and give up valuable space in the paper to all kinds of public service. And then, with nerve sublime, the editor is asked to dig up some more and write a check for "dues" or the like to the organizations on which he has already spent probably ten times the amount asked.

This is double taxation with a vengeance. There is no other industry so taxed. If you want to prove it, Mr. Secretary, go to one of your grocer members and tell him you want a sack of sugar and a lot of coffee and a couple of hams AND a check for dues to the organization. He'll probably give you the check all right and thank you for the patronage and you'll find a bill for the same in the next mail. And you'll pay it without a thought. Perfectly all right.

But your publisher has given you of his wares in the same way and if he sends you a bill you'd have a conviction. But after all, the trouble lies with the publisher himself. He has given away so much and so easily that everybody expects it and thinks it a matter of course and right. He has never insisted that he amounts to much, so people don't think he does. But my! what a howl would go up if the papers got on their metaphorical ears and put a full stop to the free stuff! They'd get the next job of printing them, sure.—Idaho Pioneer.

Wanted Men

"Why, Jeremiah Jones?" exclaimed
Mrs. Jones when her husband came in safe and sound from a railroad journey.
"Ye did ye?"

"Why, of course," said her husband,
"this is the time I expected to come home here, hey, hey?"

"And you haven't had an accident, nor lost your arms and legs or been killed?"

"Have many times more I tell you that nothing has happened!" said the irritated man.

"Well," declared the good lady, "you do not tell. There you went and put good money for an insurance ticket just before you left, and you haven't done a thing to get the reward. That's money just wasted. No matter who you are, Jeremiah Jones!"

Laurely Russians

No Russian "volostelchik" or driver will ever walk his horse to make him go alone a little more today.

Prices appear to be a little easier.
Profits are being withheld by the middle men. The dealers are waiting time to be held at 14 to 15 cents in the green. Half bush (retailer) points of sale than 5 cents more, you will get there in a pleasant, leisurely fashion. Such is the way in Russian-National Geographic Magazine.

High Grade Fertilizers

Are Cheaper for Farmer
The high analysis fertilizers are now nearly as cheap as the low analysis goods, says E. L. Worthen of the state college of agriculture at Idaho. The new concentrated mixtures, however, do not offer any benefit over those containing a total of 18 to 22 per cent of plant food.

In mixing and marketing fertilizers at the factory there are certain costs which depend on the volume rather than on the concentration of the product. It costs as much to make, print the guarantee on the bags, and so on, whether the fertilizer is high or low grade. The result is that a low grade fertilizer is at times a cheap product.

It is interesting to note that the fertilizer now being used for 4-4-4 fertilizer is for 5-0-0, but it is not as much better to the farmer to handle, and it really is cheaper on the farm.

The 5-0-0 costs $2.00 a ton more than the 4-4-4. For this $2.00 one gets in each ton of 5-0-0 an additional 50 pounds equivalent to the 4-4-4.
Other words: the extra 50 pounds secured in the 5-0-0 costs at least $2.00 more than the 4-4-4. The result is that the 5-0-0 is not worth the extra cost of $2.00 a ton.
