FANS GIVE RUTH BIG OVATION

Crowd at Ball Park Are Willing to Re-locate Bambino at Once But Yankee Manager Appears Obstinate; Ruth Willing to Go Half Way and is Anxious

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—When Miller Huggins caught the same form of mind as Ruth, ball fans seem to be in. Babe Ruth probably will begin playing baseball again.

The fans indicated in their reception to Ruth when he arrived here yesterday and again when they cheered for him at the ball park during the Yankee-Red Sox game that whatever the fans had done, they were willing to do it all over again.

Ruth planned to be at the ball park again today, ready to put on a uniform and take his turn at it. His manager would not let him.

Huggins refused to discuss with him what it was that had caused his suspension, saying it was "many things" and "not just one act."

SENATORS ARE GOING STRONG FOR PENNANT

Pittsburgh Pirates, and Washington Senators Are Almost Sure to Clash in World Series; Ruth Are Going Strong and Have Big Lead.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Washington now looks almost as much of a certain pennant winner as the American League as the Pittsburgh Pirates seem sure champions of the National League.

The Pirates are leading the New York Giants by eight games in the National league and the champion Senators run up their lead to 4 1/2 games when yesterday they overcame the visiting Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of the series that may decide the pennant.

The Senators can't lose as much ground as the Pirates, of course, but in the first game of the series they won their first game in at least three games better than the Athletics from scratch.

It is not safe to hazard a guess on the form in one game but there is enough opportunity shown by the Senators to make it safe to make a prediction that they are going in with the pennant.

The Pirates looked as bad as they have ever looked in the field; they couldn't handle the ball in a tight place and they didn't know what to do with it when they did handle it. Their work had all of the symptoms of a young team that has come to play and still lacks the confidence of that sparkling execution that is so characteristic of Ducky Harris' veterans.

There are seven more games to be played between the two contenders, and the Senators are in a position to do better than break even, counting the Pirates' record.

Stanley Coveleski, former Cleveland veteran, is expected to pitch for the Senators and to be the star of the team in such desperate straits that he may have to call upon his old, Sammy Dyer.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's results: Roger Peckinpaugh, veteran Washington shortstop, doubled with the bases full, and stole home, accounting for four runs that beat the Athletics 7-3. The Senators increased their lead to 4 1/2 games.

Philly hitting off three straight victories, 10-5, and increased their lead over the Giants to eight games in the National league pennant race.

While the pennant race still looked an as a spectator, Bob Meusel, became the leading slugger of the American League with the 20th home run that gave the Yankees a 2 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

The Braves moved into sixth place in the National league when Larry Rhoton shut out the Cubs 2 to 0.

Was a Good Judge of Liquor

"Since a young man had killed for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave his stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a good factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Mergal Wonderful Remedy, and I had now as good as recovered. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the excess acid from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach and intestinal ailments, including indigestion. TWIN FALLS DAILY TIMES

Published Every Evening Except Sunday by the Times Publishing Company, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Entered at the Twin Falls Postoffice as Second Class Matter in a Daily Publication, April 11, 1918.

The submarine that sank the Lusitania has been blown up. Obviously this news would have been considerably more gratifying if it had been received ten years ago.

Prof. Rasmus Bjorn Anderson of the University of Wisconsin thinks "decorations are humbug" and for the second time he has politely declined one offered by a gink of Norway in recognition of his contributions to Norwegian literature.

After being first afraid that she would die and then afraid that she would not die, as is usual in such cases, a Syrian heiress offered the captain of the Olympic $100,000 if, to cure her sea-sickness, he would put the ship about and steam back toward Cherbourg on the second day out. What the captain said is not reported, but doubtless he was kind enough to promise that she would be better on the morrow.

According to report, the Strict Orthodox church of Rochester, N. Y., has excommunicated an expert florist noted for his production of new varieties of a popular flower because "if the Almighty had wanted the gladiolus hybridized he would have made them that way." The logical conclusion of such reasoning is that all nature should be left in its wild state and that man should in no way employ the inventive powers given him.

From Eagle Lake, Maine, comes the news that Trial Justice John M. Brown has sent his resignation to Governor Brewster with the explanation, "I've had enough, in fact, too much, with bootleggers, drunken drivers, hold-ups and thieving—let some young fellow handle it." Trial Justice Brown at the age of 72 needs no excuse for giving up a job of that description. Obviously it calls for a younger man and a strong one.

Independence would not mean peace for India, with its fierce race antagonisms and conflict of religions. A serious riot between Moslems and Hindus near Calcutta having been quelled by the British, the outraged Moslems charged that the Hindus had carried an idol in the procession and played music while passing a mosque.

When John W. Davis of Kansas in the presidential campaign of last year, denounced the religious and racial intolerance of the Ku Klux Klan, M. O. Dunning, a Georgia klanman, left the democratic party and became a republican. This is a matter of some importance only because Dunning has now been appointed by the president as a collector of customs in Savannah. "Of course," comments the Philadelphia Record, "the laborer is worthy of his hire and the traitor of his price, but sometimes it is dangerous to pay him."

It is reported from Russia that the leading jewelers of Moscow have been sent to Siberia and their goods confiscated "because they were making too much money." Another story is that the Bolshevik government recently had a number of its own agents shot on the charge that they were showing greater favors to private business than to communistic concerns. The Soviet appears to be very much disgusted and in a dangerously ugly mood after having been compelled to sacrifice principle to the extent of tolerating private business in order to keep commerce alive.

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology was prompted to recent the assertion of Dr. William T. Hornaday, the scientist, that the insects were doing all it ought to check destruction of the country bird life, by the Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology comes across with the information that the birds certainly are being destroyed.

What the entomological folk have to say is purely on their own account, not in answer to the biologist's rather angry editorial of Dr. Hornaday's charge. They simply arise to remark that bugs are a good deal more agricultural problem than they used to be, and that the reason is—there aren't so many birds.

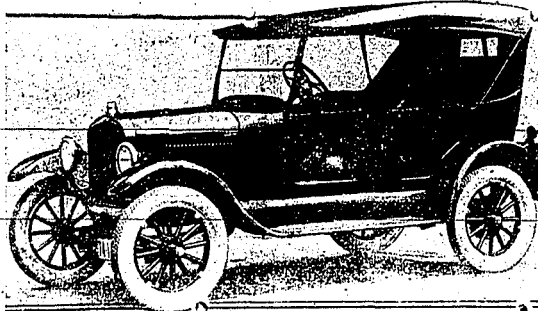

"NATURE has her balance," as Congressman Martin L. Davey, the tree doctor, remarked to me recently "and when they're disturbed it makes bad work." For instance, plant life would be endangered but for birds. Insects live on the plants and if there were enough of them they'd eat all the vegetation up. There would be enough of them, too, if it weren't for the birds. They eat the insects. They eat so many, if there are enough birds, that the plants look after their own. The more birds the more plants. But destroy the birds or reduce their number and the insects multiply enormously and at a prodigious rate, and simply sweep vegetation away."

That America's bird life has diminished greatly in the last generation or two is authority on the subject denies. Some of the Agriculture Department entomologists estimate that it has been reduced by half in 10 years. They reply the department's biologists during the entire part of the 40 years, when less protection was afforded than is afforded today. It's adequate now.

Dr. Hornaday says not. He says it's inadequate yet, and he still maintains that he thinks the Department of Entomology know it but don't do anything about it because they're too completely under the influence of the American Game Protective and Propagating Association, whose members, he further claims, seem to him more interested in hunting than in protecting and propagating game.

A NEW FORD MAKES ITS DEBUT

Here's Henry Ford's first new touring car. All his models have been changed. The body is slung lower, the seats are lower and wider, and there is more room between the front and rear seats. More of a streamline effect has been obtained by raising the radiator cover. The size of the brake drums has been increased to give greater braking power, so necessary in these days of heavy traffic. The touring car now has four doors and the roadster two. A one-piece windshield has been placed on the closed models.

FARM NOTES

About 10 per cent of the land area of the United States produces crops.

Whitefish is one of the old reliable substances that have held their own against all newcomers.

Crushed rock salt is the best chemical to use in killing the common barn lorry which spreads the black stem rust of cereals.

Valuable feed may be saved by cutting the poultry flock this summer. These hens lay most eggs that are old and inactive, are generally brown and should be sold or put in the pot.

Cattle need liberal amounts of salt and should have free access to it all the time. They will eat more ground rock salt than ground rock salt and ground evaporated salt than any other kind. The ground rock salt seems to furnish a salt for good results.

MR. PLANE WILL TAKE OFF (Continued from page 2) "We are making time," he said and expect any further word from the INS-31 search unit about 7 o'clock," said Captain Stanford E. Moses here early today.

While expressing confidence that reports would show Commander Hodges and his crew all safe, Captain Mosey, flight project commander, closed the strain of an aircraft which with no definite news. "We haven't given up hope," said Mosey. "We don't yet know whether the men may be lost. Expeditions on the ground they have, it is inadvisable that complete disaster could stalk the fliers."

Captain Moses based his estimation of news around 9 o'clock on the start of a search party by all available equipment from Honolulu about 6 o'clock, Hawaiian time. The Hawaiian time is two and a half hours ahead of the time of Twin Falls.

Clipped Plane Halted In. The clipped INS-31, Hawaii flight plane which was forced down Sunday after the start Monday, was towed back into the bay today. The towmaster, William Jones, first station ship along the route, which picked up the plane by a heavy hook and a line of steel cables, steamed through the Golden Gate, pulling the craft behind it, shortly before 7:30 a. m. and a half hour later the U. S. S. Cannet, mother ship of the flight planes was ahead of the fliers.

Seek Handkerchief Origin It is difficult to assign a period and a country of origin to the handkerchief. But it seems to have been known in remote ages, and traces of it are to be found among the Egyptians.

On the contrary, strange as it may seem, the Greeks appear not to have used handkerchiefs, says the Detroit News. Passing from the Greeks to the Romans, we find that the latter had something of the kind which they called "sudarium" (sweat towel).

It was of the finest linen and was used chiefly as an ornament and as a fan during the games in the circus. For many centuries afterward there is no mention of handkerchiefs, and we only find traces of them about 1250 in Italy. For many years the handkerchief was round and oval, and it was only in the time of Louis XVI that it became square.

Benefit of Motor Trucks

Benefit of Motor Trucks in Transportation Seen
'Marked progress in the methods of handling supplies has been made during the last ten years,' said George W. Graham, chairman of the traffic planning and safety committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, speaking before the traffic committee of the House of Representatives. From the rail transport of the public and shippers.
'The shift in population in our country from 40 per cent in 1900 to 54 per cent in 1920 has called for a reorganization of shipping facilities, with particular need for big local terminal operations.
'The railroad in the face of great obstacles has been meeting this situation effectively. Particularly the development of the motor vehicle has come about in this period, providing rapid transportation in the short haul and long haul. From the rail transport of 25,000 motor trucks a year, and today about 400,000 new trucks being purchased annually.
'This new development means better service for the public and more profits for the railroads while not usurping the railroads' territory. From the standpoint of the carrying of goods promptly from the railroad terminal to the point of use, the motor vehicle provides an economical means of carrying goods in less than 20000 ton short haul.
Mr. Graham also emphasized the need on the part of all transportation authorities to safeguard the public interest. Particularly the Department is demanding the removal of parking for trucks and is pushing the best methods of traffic control.

'Progressive Motor Vehicle' which carried the weight of an elderly lady is believed to have been given her by a postman; and the lady is believed to have been taken to the hospital when it was taken to the post office.

OLD SETTLERS OF IDAHO MEET IN CONVENTION

Albion Greets Seventy-Ninth Annual Gathering with Festive Assembly Large Crowd and Good Time Today Many from Twin Falls Congressional Smith Speaks

(Special to The Times.) ALBION, Sept. 2.—The forty-ninth annual gathering of the old settlers from southern Idaho and from other states who meet annually on the occasion of the fifth anniversary of the seventy-ninth anniversary of the big battle of the state normal, displayed a welcome sign for the visitors who congregated from Idaho, Washington, Utah, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada to participate. Music, singing, spending and routine of every routine sessions experiences are features of the program.

Judge Lawrence Hansen of Twin Falls is president of the jubilee organization, Hyram S. Lewis of Idaho is vice president, Mrs. Anna Bridger of Albion is secretary, and George Cook of Albion is treasurer. Among those from Twin Falls are C. S. Wellmont, historian; Mr. and Mrs. William Lanning, Congressmen; Addison T. Smith, who is an honorary member and John F. Hanson, with two granddaughters, and one great-granddaughter.

Congressman Smith delivered the address of early settlers. He said in part: "It seems most fitting that the men and women who 46 years and more ago came into what was then an unknown and desert country, should meet together as you have done today, and have been doing annually for so many years, to renew your bonds of friendship, to discuss plans for the future, and to fondly recount the virtues and good deeds of those who have come before."

You are among the thousands who passed and the courage and endurance to endure the hardships and dangers incident to frontier life, and who aided in the re-creation of the west from its wild and desert character. The storm-tossed mountains have been tamed, the rugged rivers have been harnessed and desert wastes have been transformed into beautiful farms and landscapes covered with happy homes. The spirit of greed no longer exists here, but the spirit of good will and helpfulness remains for the future, and to fondly recount the virtues and good deeds of those who have come before."

Among all the states in the new west, Idaho proudly fills her part. She was one of the first states in the Union to give women her rightful place in the affairs of government. For nearly 20 years she has been on equality with men at the ballot box, and she has shown that responsibility, an influence which has resulted in the enactment of laws which are intended to protect the morals of the people, to protect the public health, to give the children a better education, and to assist in the struggle of life, and to accomplish many other things for the benefit of the people generally. The natural ambition for the education of the young which has made the American wife and mother the best guardian of the home in all the world, has spurred her on to accomplish her great work. She has constantly in view the welfare of the home, the welfare of her children, and the welfare of the human race.

It must be a source of great satisfaction to you, pioneers, to reflect on what has been accomplished during the last half century not only in the making of laws under which we have become a happy and prosperous people, but also in the upbuilding and development of the various industries of the state. It is only a little over a half century since Idaho was created into a territory.

and only 25 years since it became a state. During the last forty years we have grown in population from approximately 21,000 to 450,000. Idaho has produced over one billion dollars worth of minerals, and her annual returns from the soil amount to over one hundred million dollars. Our great mills are producing annually to market millions of dollars worth of finished lumber products, and the sheep industry is bringing into the state each year over 750,000 head of sheep. Our livestock industry has developed over 125,000 horse power, and it is estimated that there are over five million head of cattle and sheep in the state.

When we contemplate the possibilities of this state and our great resources in agriculture, and in the cultivation of those "Christian acres" which that great and noble brotherly love has given us, and that we are American citizens, it is in the twinkling of an eye that we are in our position, we are all paid a bonus of a common country, ready to work together for the advancement and the preservation of its institutions, and to take a determined stand against those doctrines opposed to our form of government, the advocates of which prefer the red flag to our Stars and Stripes.

It is good to live in times like these and to participate in the grand undertakings which are being conducted here. Such occasions as this can only result in good. An interchange of opinion is not desirable, and better acquaintance results in unity and cooperation and more kindly interest in the welfare of our neighbor. We go from this place more loyal than ever to Idaho, more proud of our country and its achievements, and more confident than ever that the future of our state is bright and full of promise and development and more happiness and prosperity.
