FIVE HUNDRED HOMELESS IN TEXAS FLOOD

Rio Grande Leaves Break and 500 Are Homeless in El Paso; Backwater Does Most Damage and American Red Cross Are Providing Relief.

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 3.—Five hundred persons were temporarily homeless in El Paso and vicinity today as a result of the Rio Grande river breaking through its levee after a rise which exceeded that of last month. A side current two feet deep was running through the levee quarter here at 10 o'clock today, five blocks from the river bed. Three outlying additions are flooded. The American Red Cross, the Mexican Red Cross, and other officials and rental agencies are providing relief for the sufferers. Soldiers from Fort Bliss are furnishing homes of refuge to prevent looting. Most damage has been done by the backwater and not more than forty homes have been wrecked. There were built of masonry. The flood waters have been receding in the city since morning, and floods squally turned the river into a muddy yellowish brown water which menaced the city from the east of the flood reaches there.

Sixty Dollars Stolen By Youngsters Here

Kids Stole $60—Two miners were arrested this afternoon by the police for stealing $60 from the sack in the name of David West of Wells Valley, who was selling his mules on the street here. The thief took this money to the city jail, aged 13 and 15 respectively, went home, hid the plunder in a baking powder can and then came to town. Their father is dead and their mother who is employed was not home. When taken into custody by the police, they admitted the crime and stated that the money was hidden. An elementary in juvenile cases their names were not given out.

Fourteen Killed When Dirigible Is Struck By Wind and Lightning

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—The dirigible Shenandoh was struck by lightning and cut in half at 5:30 a. m., according to an official navy department dispatch from the army flying post at Mundsville, W. Va. The message did not state who was the authority for the statement that the ship had been hit by lightning.

According to a message from Lieutenant Commander Rosenthal to the Lakeside air station, intercepted here, survivors of the disaster will arrive in Philadelphia tomorrow morning. The story of the tragedy was told by Lieutenant W. L. Richardson, chief aerial photographer of the Shenandoh who escaped unhurt.

"We were up 3000 feet and I was in my bunk," he said. "We were caught in a squall. We immediately lifted the ship upward and succeeded in ascending to a height of 5000 feet. Conditions in the higher altitude were unfavorable, however, and we dropped back to 3000 feet. We thought then that the ship was under control but it was sidswiped by a terrific wind. The wind caught the ship and it was blown up to a height of 6000 feet. Frame No. 80 buckled and snapped and the craft broke in two. Then the front half split again."

The after-part grounded in a field. The center section, which was a part of the front half, drifted and landed in a woods. It was in this section that the deaths occurred.

The fore part had so many gas-cells that it drifted about and finally landed safely like a balloon, near Sharon.

Details of Awful Disaster. The wrecked Shenandoh ran into a severe storm about 10 p. m. last night, according to a survivor of the disaster who would not have his name revealed because of strict censorship ordered by Lieutenant Hensley, who took command of the dirigible after the navy bureau officials found the nose of the craft downed, the survivor said.

"In an effort to restore an even keel the strain became too great and the keel of the ship snapped. The front half of the dirigible fell dropped onto the farm of Harley Hinkle, four miles south of here. The rear float, ten miles and landed at Sharon, Ohio, with eight of the crew which survived."

The giant airship floundered around in the storm despite heroic efforts of the crew. The men and women became beyond control.

"Without warning, the giant bag emitted a rending sound and burst," the survivor said.

"Men were thrown from the drifting Shenandoh like shells from a gun when the big bag completely split along from the storm."

The control car was the first to break loose. The dirigible was blown to a pilot and at the mercy of the wind. The dirigible, the bag drifted miles before bursting.

"The wind spun the craft like a top and the big bag completely split along from the storm. The men were hurled from the cabin by centrifugal force."

Rodgers and PN-9-1 Are Still Missing

HONOLULU, H. I., Sept. 3.—Lieutenant Commander John S. Rodgers and his four men of the Navy San Francisco 11-10, the dirigible PN-9-1 were still missing when 26 hours had passed since they departed from the air to the dirigible patrol that their plane was sent out of fuel. Rodgers, merchandise and accessories have searched hundreds of square miles of the Pacific off the Hawaiian Islands without finding a trace of the dirigible, its crew and her crew. Although navy officials refused to say up here, newspaper boys were frankly sceptic.

NAVY WILL NOT ALLOW DISASTER TO CHECK PLANE'S

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Sept. 3.—This disaster shall not be allowed to divert the navy department from its determination to continue the development of American aeronautics.

Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, declared here today when informed of the Shenandoh tragedy.

"We must go on. As a nation our hearts go out to the families of those men, but the progress of the United States must not be discouraged. Such accidents are bound to happen as we try to find our permanent place in the sky."

FANS FAVOR SENATORS IN WORLD SERIES

By Henry L. Parrish.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—With the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Washington Senators facing a comfortable lead in the major league pennant races and the "road" ahead fairly smooth, baseball's most interesting speculation turns now to what will happen in the world series.

With two teams that seem to be fairly evenly matched it is likely that the experts will favor the Senators for the same reason that they are favored over the Athletics in the American league pennant race—the advantage of experience.

The Pirates now are perhaps a better team than the New York Giants which carried the Senators into extra innings in the decisive game of the series last season but the Pirates are a young club and they have not had the test of handling both that are worth several thousand dollars, representing the difference between a player winning and the losing share of the receipts.

In the series just closed, when the Senators threw the Athletics twice and practically clinched the pennant, the 154 champions showed their nerves to be without noticeable weakness.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—Holt Meusel, Yankee outfielder, hit his 27th homer and helped the Yankees beat the Red Sox 4 to 2. Babe Ruth watched the game again from the stands.

The champion Senators knocked Sammy Gray out of the box and beat the Athletics 9 to 2. Coyne's weakness in the ninth and had to be removed. Tom Zachary relieved him and helped the Senators to a 4-2 victory.

The Boston Braves advanced to within three games of fifth place by beating the Robins 4 to 2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates won their eighth straight game and increased their lead to six games over the New York Giants when they downed the Reds 8 to 2.

After Jimmy Rix had dropped them 6 to 3 in the first game, the Giants went on a rampage in the second and beat the Phillies 24 to 2.

The Nile's Source

The question of the source of the Nile is at once the oldest and the most recent of geography. The first European to lay claim to having discovered the true source was James Bruce, the Scotch explorer believed that the middle one of the three branches, called the Blue Nile, was the true one. It was later discovered that he had been mistaken in his assumption. The one he believed that the westmost branch, called the White Nile, was the true Nile. The ancient writers called it Khara and the modern explorers sought to trace the White Nile to its source, but the greatest discovery of all, that the Nile really rises in south latitude and crosses the equator, was made by Captain Clive and Speke, who in 1868 discovered Lake Victoria Nyanza.

L. D. S. DEFEATS BAPTIST NINE

Hard Hitting was the Principal Feature of the Game Last Night; Baptists Get Three Hits and L. D. S. Seven.

The L. D. S. Twelfth baseball team won from the Baptists team last night at Lincoln field last night. The Baptists had the assistance of several other players on account of their regular being away. This is the second game between these two teams this season, the first one having been won by the Baptists by the score of 6 to 2. Last night's victory gives the L. D. S. a good chance to win the pennant in this league unless Manager Patrick's Christians can defeat their opponents in the game to be played tomorrow evening they have the championship for this season. If the Christians win all their games they will be champions. As they stand now the team has lost one game but the L. D. S. has won more games than the Christians.

The Baptists took the field last evening and "Covey" got a couple up as a leadoff man. He grounded to first. Brown hit a two banger, Jarman fanned and Gwin struck out. The right field fence for a home run. Hammond struck and bowler's fiasco. The game was tied up 1-1.

The Baptists led off with Gwin, who flied to second, Howard Martin, who has recently returned from California, played his first game this season with the Baptists. Gwin grounded to pitcher. Hart hit a pretty home run and Navin fanned.

Wilkins flied to second. H. Pitters was the only double play of the game. King grounded to short and was thrown out. Nelson hit an infield fly to short and Kappel fanned. D. S. who comes out with a single and stole second and took third on an error. Brown got on by an error and Pitters fanned. Brown was retired by Davis on an infield fly. Jarman hit a long fly to Gwin, who made a good catch and retired the slob. No runs, two hits, one error.

Giles got on with a hit. Davis batted for Lyons hit an infield fly to short and Jarman hit the best. Marty fanned, and Hart hit a long three banger, scoring Gwin. Giles grounded out inside third on a balk and error hit by a ball from the catcher. Navin fanned. Two errors, two hits, three errors.

Giles got on with a single and Nelson stole home and scored. Giles was when he stepped off the base. Leavitt got on by an error at second. Cowley struck out. Brown was retired by Davis on an infield fly. Jarman hit a long fly to Gwin, who made a good catch and retired the slob. No runs, two hits, one error.

Giles fanned and Gwin grounded to second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

"Dad" Allen umpired the game.

Christians vs. L. D. S., Friday evening. Game called at 6 p. m.

LOW PRICES RESULT OF PROMPT PAY

Effect of Slow Payment, Had Checks and Fingers in Pockets of the Dealer, Dealers Secretary, Many Provisions, Thus Against Law Breakers Start.

The effect of the working of the Twin Falls credit association which is affiliated with an organization extending to most parts of the United States is being demonstrated in the Twin Falls market. The result of living by making the losses to merchants smaller, are being set forth by J. J. Hatcher, the secretary, who is now conducting a campaign for increasing membership. At this time the society is especially active because of the greater number of "dummy" checks or downward transfers, in evidence since business began to pick up rapidly. Several prosecutions for violation of the check law have been started.

How People Benefit.

Secretary Hatcher points out that while bills are not promptly paid, even by those who eventually pay, the merchant pays interest on the amount carried on the books, or what amounts to the same thing, is made to pay his bills. At the same time the bills which are never paid, have the same effect all more strikingly. The merchant must make a large investment in a community bank; all right, the general level of prices on property is bound to be that much higher, automatically.

Lends to Farmers.

"There is one class made up of folks who will, say, $5 in the bank," said Mr. Hatcher, "will loan $25 worth of small checks, which, of course, will aggregate more times the total sum on deposit. We have a line on them and warn all members against them. It sometimes happens that when they discover that nobody will take their checks, these people resort to force." They are, therefore, watched carefully. Whenever a check issued without sufficient funds is discovered all members are warned at once.

"In an office in the Golden State building is a row of filed cabinets and in these files, carefully indexed, for quick reference, is a card that will answer that question for any merchant who is a member of the Twin Falls County Retailers' association."

"The credit system knows all about you as a large customer. Your card gets a condensed story of management which you take care of your obligations, both past and present, and through these agencies the cards are kept right up to date."

"They are of value to you, the customer, because they make it easier for those who do pay promptly to obtain credit. For if your card tells the story of prompt pay you will have a little difficulty in obtaining credit at any store that is a member of the association. For all the merchant has to do is to phone the association office and secure your rating. If you should have a customer who has there is a credit association, and apply for credit, the merchant would then ask his association to secure your Twin Falls record and if satisfactory your credit standing is established in the city."

"Every merchant knows that the average customer is honest. He knows that it is through neglect rather than intent that bills are not paid promptly. Unfortunately there are many people who have wrong conceptions of credit granting. They assume that they should be allowed to pay whenever it is most convenient for them, even though months should pass. This is of course wrong. The accepted rule is that all bills should be settled in full by the 10th of the month following the date of purchase. If you do not pay the retailer cannot pay the wholesaler from whom he has bought goods. By creating a bad charge account the merchant allows you the use of his capital for a time. If you do not intend to back him financially he is obliged to make other financial arrangements to pay his own bills. He may be forced to borrow and pay interest, meantime you are enjoying the use of his money without interest.

Unrequited Service.

Crowds of people are always saying "something must be done" and finally one or two thoughtful and courageous men do it, and they don't always get the "status" they deserve.

An advertisement worth looking over to never overlooked in this newspaper.

Felicity Easy to Acquire

If you cannot be happy in one way, be in another; this facility of disposition wants but little aid from philosophy, for health and good humor are almost the whole affair. Many run about after felicity like an absent-minded man hunting for his hat while it is in his hand or on his head.—Slings.
