DEBT FUNDING

French Debt Funding Commission Makes Proposition to U. S. and Same Will Be Considered By President's Cabinet Tomorrow, Terms Are Not Entirely Satisfactory.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A formal proposal for funding the $4,200,000,000 French debt to the United States was laid before the American debt funding commission by Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux today and was immediately taken under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his associates. It was understood that the commission was authorized to make any recommendation following the final meeting of the commission.

Although all members of both commissions retained either to confirm or deny that such a move had been made, another session of the American commission with the French ambassador was held for 4 p. m., when the proposal will be discussed.

Tomorrow morning the proposal will be placed before the cabinet with President Coolidge's presence. It is understood after what some believe was the French refusal to take place.

The proposal, it is believed, is not completely satisfactory to the American viewpoint, but is regarded as a sufficient basis for consideration by the United States commission.

Offer to Pay $20,000,000 Now. It is assumed that the French proposal contained an offer of payment of the principal immediately beginning with one-half on one per cent, or about $20,000,000 and gradually increasing to 2 1/2 per cent with small concurrent interest payments and substantial demands for interest during the initial payment of interest.

Church Attendance Increasing as Result of Jazz Is Claim

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24. Despite jazz, extremes in dress, smoking and betting parties, the churches of the United States are feeling the reaction of 400,000 men and women to the high life. Rev. Dr. Charles L. Goodell, secretary of the commission on evangelism of the Federal Council of said today.

"Men throughout the country are turning to the churches," Goodell declared. "The women are not far behind. Staggered by the extremes of the modern age, they are turning to the churches for help. The church has been the center of the religious life of the people for centuries. It is in the church that the religious life of the people is being rekindled."

Helium Gas Output Will Be Doubled for U. S. Dirigibles

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The United States Bureau of Mines today announced the output of helium gas for dirigibles by a new process just developed and a new plant at Fort Worth, Texas, will be completed by January 1, it was learned today. FAMOUS FORTS IN U.S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

The Key to Ownership of the Ohio Valley

It was the basic military mind of George Washington that first saw the strategic importance of the spot where the Monongahela and the Allegheny rivers join to form the Ohio, and it was his recommendation that Governor Dinwiddie of Virginia in 1753 ordered a fort built there to hold the eastern end of the Appalachians for the English. Hardly had Dinwiddie's party begun to work on the fort when Pierre La Moignon, director then away, demolished the crude structure and built on its site Fort Duquesne named for the governor of Canada.

This began the great struggle between the French and English, known as the French and Indian, war in America and the Seven Year war in Europe, and control of this outpost on the American frontier was destined to be the chief factor in deciding whether colonial settlers were to control the Ohio valley, and with it, North America. It was against Fort Duquesne that General Braddock set out in 1755 on the expedition which ended so disastrously almost within sight of the fort and three years later Major Grant and his Highlanders, the advance guard of General Roebuck, met a similar disaster while reconnoitering before it. But Fort Duquesne Braddock did not see the advice of "George Washington, and he reached his goal.

When he arrived at Fort Duquesne on November 25, 1758, he found that the enemy had left it a smoking ruin. The next year Gen. John Stanwix rebuilt the fort and named it Fort Pitt in honor of the great English minister. It was soon abandoned, for in 1763 the terms of Pontiac's war broke over the western frontier, and when one British post after another went down before the scolding hordes and torch of the savages, Fort Pitt alone, although besieged for several months, held back Pontiac's warriors from driving the English into the sea. It was to Fort Duquesne that Col. Henry Bouquet was marching when he won his brilliant victory over the Indians at the battle of Red Bank, and this fort was held by the Americans and at the close of the war it became the starting point for thousands of settlers who poured into the Ohio country, around it sprang up a little settlement, and today the great city of Pittsburgh, marks the site of Fort Pitt, the key to the Ohio valley.

AN OPERATION RECOMMENDED

Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I cannot give too much praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound for what it has done for me. My mother gave it to me when I was a girl 14 years old, and since then I have taken it when I feel run down or tired. I took it for three months before my two babies were born for I suffered with my back and had spells of nervous heart was affected, and it helped me all the time. The doctors told me at one time that I would have to have an operation. I thought I would try Pinkham's, and I call it the best thing I have ever taken. I firmly believe Pinkham's cured me. Every time I have a headache, or feel that I looked so well. I only have to take one or two bottles of Pinkham's and I always keep a couple of bottles by me. I recommend it to women who speak to me about their health. I have used your Sanative Wash and like it very much. — Mrs. E. G. Gould, 400 East 28th Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

Many letters have been received from men who have been benefited by health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised.

A CENTURY OF AMERICAN ART

"Morning Sunlight" by Gail Borden, N.Y.

A Series of Noted Works

One of the exhibits in the National Exhibition of the National Academy of Design to be held at the University of California, Berkeley, September 10-18 at the Grand Central Art Gallery, New York City, is "Morning Sunlight" by Gail Borden, N.Y.

A Corot was shown in his old days of the wistful mood of his beloved Pompadour, to another painter, an American, has come to fame largely through his genius in transferring to canvas the wistful sunlight and snowbound hills and plains of his native land.

Carroll Shuman, a Chippewa artist, is a unique placid American artist, as the painter of the snow and one of his finest works, "Morning Sunlight," has just been secured for the great National Exhibition of the National Academy of Design which President Coolidge will open December 1 to January 7.

UNIFY SOUTHERN IDAHO

The suggestion has come that the southern part of this state should be brought together into a unit and that some feasible plan should be worked out which would tend to greater co-operation from all counties in this part of the state.

The problems of the Northside and the Southside are so similar that there can be no distinct dividing line between the two great agricultural sections.

Just now a movement is being fostered which should tend to draw these counties of southern Idaho together into a closer bond of fellowship and unity such as has seldom been witnessed in these parts.

TAXING SEED WHEAT

With all the clamor over the proposed reduction in national taxation that will be undertaken at the next session of the congress, it is somewhat surprising that little or no attention has been given to reducing the taxes paid by the 40,000,000 Americans engaged in agriculture.

The farmers pay no surtaxes on large incomes earned by their toil. With rare exceptions their estates pay no inheritance tax. They are, therefore, outside the scope of what is heralded as "tax reform."

Despite all the investigations and surveys made by various country life commissions and other official investigating bodies into the causes of constantly recurring periods of agricultural depression, the relation of the taxes ultimately shifted to the farmer (who has no one to whom he can in turn pass these along) to the unpropitious condition of so many of those engaged in agriculture has been practically ignored.

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—The "automobile" of the poor—people who have a driver and nothing else—came in for their share of attention before the National Conference of Catholic Charities in Washington recently.

The Treasury Department, which has been hammering away on the idea of the failure of federal law reduction it state and local taxation is to continue to increase his efforts to prove how serious the situation is.

Three years ago, when federal taxes were higher than they are now and other taxes were not so high, of all taxes collected in the country the central government took 55 per cent and state and local governments 45. Last year the federal government took 23 per cent and state and local governments 77.

MASS MEETING URGED TO PASS ON CELEBRATION

Rogerson-Wells Railroad Celebration to Be Passed on by Residents of Southern Idaho at Mass Meeting; Meeting Favors Celebration This Fall.

That a mass meeting of the people of Twin Falls should be called to decide upon the time for holding a celebration in honor of the completion of the construction of the Rogerson-Wells railroad, was the main purpose of the meeting of the general committee, which met last night at the chamber of commerce. The resolution to that effect was voted after a discussion by the representatives of the chamber of commerce, the South Idaho Hotel, the Elvada club, the business and professional women's club and the Rotary club.

All Want Celebration. There was practical unanimity among all present regarding the advisability of holding the celebration. The discussion followed the general line referred to yesterday as dividing opinion namely, whether the affair should take place some time in November, or should be deferred until the road had been opened for traffic. The final consensus of opinion is the effect that it would be better to hold it this fall than to wait until spring. Senator J. J. Sweezy, head of the railroad committee, who had assurances from the Oregon Short Line officials that the physical completion would be made by November 1, and that President Carl Gray had promised that a special train, carrying heads of the Union Pacific system would be present, said that the chamber of commerce officials will also be present at that time, should the celebration be held then. Senator Sweezy threatened the resolution which was seconded by W. R. Priebe, carried. "That it be the sense of this meeting that we have a railroad celebration to be held this fall and recommended that the chamber of commerce of Twin Falls call a general mass meeting of citizens for final determination of the question at the earliest possible date."

Those present were C. D. Thomas, R. E. Reed, Mrs. Burton E. Reed, Emma Warren, J. A. Cron, J. E. McKittrick, Dr. Oliver Herstad, Mrs. D. L. Alexander, J. G. Bradley, W. H. Fribble, club members, Mrs. J. Van Meter, Dr. F. F. McAttee and Mrs. Lewis.

HARRIS IS FOUND GUILTY OF CRIME OF MANSLAUGHTER

Henry Harris was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter, on the ground that neglect driving July 26, resulted in killing Clifford Zachary, by the jury in the case which brought in a verdict shortly after 9 o'clock last night. Mrs. Harris was sentenced to 18 months in the county jail. Sentence will be pronounced at 9:30 Saturday morning. It was announced by Judge W. A. Hulbeck.

JURORS HAD TRIED BOOZE CASE BEFORE

Star Witness in Selwyn Moonshino Case Disappears and Charge Dismissed; Messers, Allen and Berger Had Convicted Lewis and Objected to Serving on Present Jury.

The case against Lorenza Selwyn, after several unusual changes, was dismissed this afternoon by Prosecutor J. W. Taylor, when he discovered that his unnamed star witness, an whom testimony was expected to prove partial defendant in the Moonshino liquor, found in a raid on the Duracka rooms had disappeared.

The court room was started this morning, when after the jury had been empaneled and the taking of evidence had started by the defense, the state against Lorenza Selwyn, charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquors, was taken up.

Selwyn was arrested by the combined police and sheriff's force, August 6. On that occasion Mrs. Selwyn and John Lewis were also taken into custody. The rooms have since been closed by order of court. Lewis, who claimed to have taken over the rooms from Selwyn, but who had not placed the alleged transfer on record. Lewis was tried before a jury in the probate court and convicted of illegal possession. Mrs. Selwyn was tried without a jury and found guilty by J. L. Hodgson.

The charge against Selwyn is felony as he was convicted of illegal possession on a former occasion, officers say, and the state alleges.

At Preliminary Hearing. According to the testimony of Deputy Sheriff E. E. Prater when the officers approached the Duracka, Mrs. Selwyn was outside and warned the inside of the approach. He and search warrant. They went to the kitchen with Lewis. They found a glass with a little whiskey in it. Prater said, and several other whiskey glasses and a whiskey bottle empty. They went to the coat house, which they claim smelt strongly of liquor, and where liquor had evidently been poured on the floor. On a similar raid

Lord Byron and the Eagle. The last bird I ever tried at was an eagle on the shore of the Gulf of Lepanto, near Vostica. It was one wounded, and I tried to save it, the eye was so bright, but it plied and died in a few days; and I never did catch and never will attempt the death of another bird. -Journal of Lord Byron.

Incidentally, it is said that Lincoln had apparently been pointed out to the owl. He said that the house was then in the name of Selwyn on the city records.

According to the statements of Police Officer William Mmowpower, lanes met the officers, and demanded a search warrant before permitting the search.

COUNTY LEVY FOR TAXES IS GIVEN INCREASE

Commissioners Raise Assessment for County Purposes Fifteen Cents; State Levy Remains the Same As Last Year.

State and county levies on Twin Falls property were fixed at $1.50 for each $100 valuation, which is an increase of 15 cents above last year. The increase is for county taxes, for state tax remains the same. The board estimated that there had been a reduction of a million dollars in assessments and that the total amount raised would be increased less than the amount levy would indicate. The new county levy is $1.50, while the state levy remains at 10 cents.

The Twin Falls county levy is increased from 85 cents last year to $1.50 this year. Increases have been made in the county taxes for the general school and bond redemption and interest funds, which constitute fixed charges, and the bond was finally reduced from 25 cents to 20 cents; general school fund from 50 cents to 40 cents; bond redemption and interest fund from 5 cents to 7 cents. The levy for the agricultural fair has been reduced from 3 cents to 2 cents, while the levy for the county hospital remains the same as last year at 6 cents.

EGG PRODUCERS WILL MEET IN GEM BUILDING

Meeting of Plan Will Bring District Gathering in the Business and Professional Women's Hall at 7:30 Friday Evening.

The meeting place of the Idaho Egg Producers' association tomorrow evening was positively announced for the Parish hall, has been changed to the rooms at the Business & Professional Women's club and the hour definitely set for 7:30 o'clock.

Representatives of the state association will meet members from Twin Falls, Cassia and Blaine counties. The following statement of condition and growth of the association, has been given out. On January 1, 1924, the association had 100 members; one year later it had twice that number and the stock subscribed had increased from $10,000 to $22,000. As a sample month, May is taken. In 1924 for May seven cars of eggs were shipped, while in May, 1925, a total of 12 cars were sent out.

The average furnishably per dozen for 1924 of $500 had grown to $1,000 in 1925, it was reported.

OIL DRILLER IS DROWNED

Manager of Operations of West Pearl Oil Company at Seelye Plunges Into Main River East of Hansen and Is Killed.

Manager J. W. Toney of the West Pearl oil company was killed about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, while endeavoring to cross the main canal, as auto plunged into the water. The body floated down the stream for a mile before it was recovered. The body was taken to Burley.

According to L. E. Fletcher, who was the accident witness, Toney was traveling toward Burley, when Mr. Toney, was, according, the letter seemed to try to apply the brakes ineffectually and Mr. Fletcher heard a collision. He threw up his arm over his eyes, but when he lowered it he saw the Toney car strike the water.

Mr. Toney, 42 years of age, had just secured to try to swim, after which his life fell forward and he began to float.

Mr. Fletcher tried to get the body out of the water. Others gathered around and the body was finally recovered by means of a rope thrown over by Forest Briggs, driver for the Twin Falls company. A medical officer was called and it was agreed that death had taken place, and that efforts to revive the dead man would be useless. It was agreed by medical men in attendance that the death was not from drowning, as there was no water in the lungs.

Officers KJHL, Seema, owing to the absence of Sheriff M. E. Flach and all his deputies, J. G. Rankins went to the residence representing the sheriff's office. Governor P. J. Greenman was notified and went out at 2 o'clock, returning about 4 o'clock.

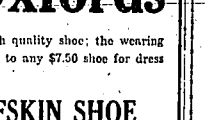

Mr. Toney was 41 years old. He had no family, it is stated. He was an expert well driller and had charge of the operations of the West Pearl company at Galdy.

England's Fish Rain

In August, 1913 a small territory in northern England enjoyed what was possibly the most novel of all showers. The precipitation of large part consisted of fish. The explosion which has been made, and which is being by a logical one, is that a waterspout over the fish. The fish, by its power, carried them a short distance inland, and with the dispersion of the water-spout and its power dropped the fish on the land. -Scientific and Invention Magazine.

Fish Has Vocal Powers

Scottish fishermen have reported that the fish called "the butterman" produces a hoarse sound when landed.
