NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

WASHINGTON HAS GREAT INFIELD BUT PIRATES HIT

Pans Have Great Problem in Placing Their Cash Because Pirates Have Eight Regulars Hitting Over .300 and on Other Hand Senators Have One of Greatest Infields in Baseball History.

(By HENRY L. PARRELL) NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Washington and Pittsburgh in the world's series this year, if they play the customary game, should provide a lot of figures to prove the relative merits of a smash-hit attack against a stone-wall defense.

The champion Senators have a number of good hitters, but they are noted principally for an almost invincible barrier of defense that separates the infield from the outfield.

The Pirates, with eight regulars hitting over .300 have the heaviest attack in baseball and they have the fastest and most daring base-runners in the major league.

Those inclined to back their judgment with cash, however, are undecided whether the Washington infield will be able to stand up in front of such a smashing offense.

Interest in sporting events is developed by a diversity of opinion and there has been no world's series in the last six years that has brought about so many differences of judgment among baseball men who are unafraid to speak with authority.

The Washington infield, according to Billy Evans, the veteran American league umpire and sport writer, in the greatest he has seen in twenty years of fortunate association with baseball.

"I have worked with that famous Athletic Infield—Baker, Barry, Collins and McInnis. I have seen the wonderful combination of the Cubs—Steinfeld, Tinker, Evers and Chance, but I have never seen defense to perfection like Blanton, Beckley, Harris and Judge," Evans said a few days ago.

"I have heard Buckey Harris say many times to Peck, 'We've got a double play here. Can we get em?' And Peck always came back with 'We can double any one.'

The Senators practically won the pennant and the world's series on the brilliance of the infield and their uncanny ability to make double plays. Harris was fortunate in buying one of baseball's greatest shortstops at his right and he, of course, had the natural ability to work with him and they made their double-play defense a study and developed it to an art.

The importance of a double-play combination was emphasized recently by a star member of the New York Giants.

"We lost the National league pennant this year," he told the writer, "because we were the champion double-play team of the league. We hit far more double plays and made more double plays than any competing team in the league."

INDIANA LAWS PROHIBIT WILLS-DEMPSEY FIGHT

Proposed Fight Between Jack Dempsey; Champion, and Harry Wills—Prohibited by Decision of Attorney.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 28.—The proposed Dempsey-Wills fight at Meridian City, Indiana, July 4, 1926, will be prohibited under Indiana's anti-prize fight law, it was announced today by Edward White, assistant attorney general.

White cited the law in two parts: 1. To constitute a prize fight there must be an expectation of reward to be gained by the contest of competition, either to be won from the contestants or to be otherwise awarded and there must be an incentive to inflict some degree of bodily harm on the contestant.

2. The term "prize fight" has no technical legal meaning, but is used in its common significance to indicate a fight in a public place for a prize.

"Such a fight as proposed would break every prohibition of this law," White declared. "It would be next to impossible to permit such a fight."

Young Magee Was Doing Stunts When Plane Crash Came

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 28.—"Proca accident" was blamed for the airplane crash Saturday night, in which Carl C. Magee, 29, fell from the top of the famous New Mexico editor and aviator of Tulsa, who was instantly killed when his plane crashed.

According to officers of the Phillips-Bowman airplane field, Phillips never allowed his students to practice stunt flying, Phillips acting as instructor.

Investigators who visited the scene of the wreck said that Magee who had been manipulating the machine, had apparently become frightened when the motor failed and "travels his controls" so that the plane could not be made out from a fall spin.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until Magee, 67, arrives from Albuquerque, N. M.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. Mex., Sept. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Magee, whose son was killed Saturday night at Tulsa, Oklahoma, in an airplane accident, will meet young Magee's wife in Kansas City today when funeral arrangements will be made.

The elder Magee has been confined to his home almost constantly since an attack made on him in Las Vegas about a month ago by former Judge David J. Leahy, a political enemy, in the fight Magee received three broken ribs and severe bruises.

Believing he would be killed by Leahy, Magee shot at the former judge, the bullet hitting J. B. Lassiter, who had interceded, and killed him. The sluck has severely impaired the editor's health.

Magee is under bond, charged with murder, in connection with the shooting of Lassiter.

Yesterday's hero—Curly Gleason, recalled to Washington from Cantonment, Okla., the Brown down with three hits and won his game 8 to 0.

Jack Faurner got three shutouts, drove in four runs and stole a base, holding the Red Sox to the Clouts, 5 to 4.

Erl Whitford held the Yankees safe, and the Tigers won the first game to 5 to 0.

Alexander was in fine form and the Cubs downed the Phillies 3 to 1.

After being blanked for three innings the Pirates set to Lague for four runs and beat the Reds 4 to 2 in a six inning game that was stopped by rain.

Rosed's thirteenth hit got home runs, one giving the Cards 6 to 6 to 5 victory in the first game but the Braves scored the second, 7 to 6.

July, in most times, and the turnover was probably better than since late spring. Iron and steel output which at the close of July showed a larger daily output than the month before, in August passed a gain in total monthly output over July, the first gain in tonnage over the preceding month since March. Prices were fully steady.

Cool Output Large in August. Output of coal in August was the largest since early in the year when the April soft coal strike was threatened. The automobile manufacturing trade apparently did not make as many cars as in July but the centers of the industry report a large increase in employment over August a year ago.
