

ADMIRAL SIMS WRAPS THE NAVY

Former Commander of Fleet in World War Before Senate Air Inquiry Board Declares Fleet Is Controlled By "Uneducated and Untrained Men" and Defends the Airplane As Valuable Defense Arm.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Admiral William S. Sims, retired, commander of the United States fleet in European waters during the world war and a hero himself of a conflict between himself and the navy department over a navy aircraft controversy, entered the special air inquiry board, here today.

Aggressive as ever, with the inevitable blurt for position which has made him as a young lieutenant at a station in China of challenge to his superior with charges of insubordination, he belatedly the present directive head of the sea forces for technical progress.

The navy today is without a definite air policy of a real air organization, he said, and without a definite use of the airplane can be made. "The department is violating every principle of confidence in its military air forces," he said today. "The policy is a failure in that it does not take into account the development and progress."

The navy for many years has been controlled by "uneducated, untrained officers," Sims continued. "This is the root of our present troubles and the present loss morale is due to lack of confidence in our leaders," he said. "This lack of trained men explains why the department is administering the navy in violation of military principles—particularly the solid principle of command."

Why in the conditions prevail? Because of lack of public interest. Sims denounced the navy for believing the battleships can successfully defend themselves against aircraft and for harping on a "well armed fleet."

"A well balanced fleet has no definite meaning," he said. "Like all things, it is relative." Sims belittled the navy department investigation into the relative value of the battleships and the airplane. "The secretary of the navy returned from a speaking tour and returned with a speaking tour and returned with the attitude that the airplane is the backbone of the navy," he said. "The battleship is still the backbone of the fleet. This investigation is a waste of time."

Sims violently played the navy for maintaining a "defensive policy," why does it expect to increase in new weapons? "Why has the department failed to carry out bombing tests against coast defenses?" Sims answered his own questions by stating "that a state of mind in the navy that has not been cleared it had profoundly influenced (Continued on page 2)

NEW LABOR POLICY IS EFFECTED

American Federation of Labor Adopts Plan of Increased Wages and Shorter Hours in Move to Keep Up With "Era of Super-Productivity" in Substitution of Mechanical Devices for Hand Work.

ATLANTA, N. C., Oct. 14.—American labor has taken the lead in the labor movement of the world in formulating a new policy to meet the "era of super-productivity," according to President William Green, an official spokesman of the American Federation of Labor.

The new policy was adopted in a report of the executive committee of the federation, approved by the convention in Atlantic City. It declares that labor must not be content with fighting for higher wages and shorter hours, but that it must maintain its share of advantage from this era of super-productivity and the new methods of mechanical devices for manual labor in industry by working for shorter hours and wages which will be sufficient to maintain the living power of the dollar.

This action plan, American labor has taken the lead in the labor movement of the world in formulating a new policy to meet the "era of super-productivity," according to President William Green, an official spokesman of the American Federation of Labor.

The main points in the policy as adopted are: Declaration that the best interests of all concerned are served by increasing production as well as quantity of production through the promulgation of high wage standards, training higher standards of personal efficiency and better environments for the workers.

Declaration that wage reduction produces more and falls to bring production costs.

Socially unbalanced industrial machinery must increase and less the workers' resistance—the purchasing power of their wages—countering the quantity reduction in the number of hours making up the working day, are progress in production and efficiency and the increasing power of production.

our present lack of definite air policy. Sims expressed opposition to both a unified air service and a separate air corps for the navy, but paid tribute to Colonel Mitchell's service. "I don't agree with Mitchell's unified air service proposal but he is a happy good fellow and he has done a tremendous amount in bringing the question before the public and before an impartial air board. The old sea warrior is passing defied the navy against unjust criticism because of the recent run of disasters.

"Our disasters in the air and elsewhere have brought down upon the navy considerable public criticism," he said, "but some of the criticism has been unjust due to a misunderstanding of the navy's obligations. I am trying finally to an expression of his opinion of views of what had been done with the navy aviation. Sims declared it should retain its present status as a branch of the whole naval organization, not be independent, directly or united with other air services. Sims then shot away on another tack.

"Anti-aircraft guns can never be any particular value," he said.

"If an airplane pilot has a bomb to drop, no anti-aircraft gun will stop him. One thing we must bear in mind in the air is that the airplane will stop Sims with emphasis. It is necessary to obtain control of the airplane in order to insure a victory."

Senator Hinchman, republican, Concluded his remarks by stating that he would be pleased to see that Secretary Wilson had testified that "there was no such thing as a control of the air as long as one plane was in the air."

I wonder who told him that, Sims declared with amusement. "The mark of the secretary, although he does not suspect it, does not mean anything."

Karnak, Sensational Medicine On Sale at Schramm-Johnson's

Marvelous Results Accomplished by Remarkable Preparation in Other Sections of Country Almost Incredible.
HAS HAD PHENOMENAL SUCCESS
Karnak, the remarkable new medicine that has created such a sensation by its amazing powers, to restore health, strength and energy, is now on sale in the Schramm-Johnson Drug Co. at Twin Falls.

ENDORSED BY PROMINENT PHYSICIAN
After Searching Investigation, Dr. Charles L. Moore Indorses Sensational Medicine in Highest Terms.

Thousands quickly restored to health. Wichita men and women by the hundreds, of all ages, in all walks of life, received the most astonishing and gratifying results. Numerous people reported that they had been entirely relieved of their distressing symptoms and were restored to complete health and happiness as a result of the amazing medicine.

Dr. C. L. Moore

The biggest tribute that can possibly be paid to a proprietary medicine has just been accorded Karnak, the sensational new-cure which is accomplishing such remarkable results.

Dr. Chas. L. Moore, a physician of 48 years general practice, comes and states in unconditional terms that Karnak is without a doubt, a most extraordinary medicine. Such favorable and convincing testimony for the physician will not recommend any medicine until he is "absolutely sure" it will produce the results. "I am frank to say that Karnak is the most efficient medicine I have ever used for building up a rundown sluggish system," declares Dr. Moore. "Dr. Moore has spent 48 years in the practice of medicine in Georgia. He is now retired and resides at 1115 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Ga."

Just about one year ago Karnak was first introduced in America and placed on sale in Wichita, Kansas. So great was the interest in this new medical discovery that within one week's time over 1200 bottles had been distributed to the public in that city. The results produced by the medicine was astounding. Nothing like it had ever been seen.

The adjoining states of Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa began clamoring for Karnak. Telegrams began pouring into the Karnak Laboratories from all over the country. Many people, seeking arrangements for a month's supply of the medicine, were referred to their communities. The demand was overwhelming.

OVER 600,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN 10 MONTHS.

RESULTS FROM KARNAK ARE GUARANTEED

Karnak is sold under a strict guarantee that the first two bottles will produce "beneficial results or the purchase price will be refunded without question. Both the manufacturers and the Twin Falls distributors, the Schramm-Johnson Drug Co, stand squarely behind this guarantee.

This policy was announced by Mrs. L. A. Carroll of Karnak, incorporated, and Mr. Johnson of the Schramm-Johnson Drug Co. "Our guests amount simply to this," said Mr. Carroll. "Anyone who purchases two bottles of Karnak and does not benefit, we may return their money back without question."

TWIN FALLS DAILY TIMES

It is to be hoped that out of the movement which may start at the meeting called for Friday evening of next week, may come the erection of a canning factory in Twin Falls. Shipping fruit, vegetables and berries out to be canned elsewhere and then shipping them back to be eaten is not a profitable process for any institution that touches Twin Falls, except the railroad company.

Now that two firms with ample capital are in the field for the purpose of constructing a rim to rim bridge across the Snake river, a franchise with proper conditions will not doubt be attainable. It is true that neither, even without competition regarding terms would figure on fixing the rate higher than the point of maximum net return, or, as otherwise stated, than traffic would bear. Still, there is a difference between that and a competitive rate. With two firms seeking the franchise; the rate of maximum charge which will be written into the franchise, will probably approximate a fair competitive rate.

There are two sides to every question and in considering this rim to rim bridge we must not forget that Jerome county has some say in this proposition. Thus far the northside crowd have said very little and we should be hearing from them as to whether they favor this move or oppose it. If they should oppose the plan of constructing a bridge across the Snake river they could perhaps delay the game for some time. We are inclined to believe that these gentlemen have the progress of southern Idaho too much at heart to place any stumbling block in the way, yet they should be taken into our counsels and we doubt whether this has been done in the past.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows will be entertained by Twin Falls the first of this week and the first of next. The grand lodge officers will begin to arrive tomorrow, and the Magic City has a splendid opportunity to act as host and the people of this city should co-operate with the local lodge in providing plenty of rooms for these visitors. It will cause some sacrifice of course but this is worth while in order to show our hospitality to those from every section of the Gem state that we are really glad to entertain our neighbors. These delegates will judge our city and its people by the manner in which they are entertained here during this convention. This is a splendid season to sell our rich empire to these visitors who our crops are being harvested and everything looks like this was a second valley of the Nile.

"I'm—something happened. In fact I'm in a bit of a predicament. I turned her over. Perhaps it was more morally right, but I did. I mean you know, I mean I know that I had a very great credit for being just, even generous. I gave her half of my ready money, which wasn't much. I've never been much of a money-grubber. I'll let it stay. I've never had an inconsequential business. I had a few here and there, but I had a lot of what I had, and I would like to have it. I could command, and let her keep the lot. That was the biggest mistake. I was a good deal of it through different hands, but for letting her keep the lot I demand some credit. It's done one or two hard things, and you know, that was one of them."

"I finished his cigarette and he said, 'When I came out here, he contended. It seemed the wisest thing to do. I had an idea that I would just about complete section Two. She's a wonderful girl, Jean. You know—the other day, I was thinking about the other day. "I think she'll get a thousand old fires of memory that morning. Moving about in my room sitting at my table; putting my feet on the table, do you understand? I was too much for her body. I don't know what would have happened. At any rate, I was a little bit of a hard thing to blame her for—' that summer, you know, I never interfered. I may as well let her go. I had an idea that I would just about complete section Two. She's a wonderful girl, Jean. You know—the other day, I was thinking about the other day. DELEGATES BACK TODAY

Twin Falls Women Who Attended the Blackfoot Convention Praise Gathering in That City Which Closed on Tuesday Afternoon.

The Twin Falls delegates returned on the noon train today after the third annual convention of the Federation of Women's clubs which closed at Blackfoot Tuesday afternoon and which was pronounced the most successful in the history of the organization. Representatives of twenty women's clubs returning today or expected this evening were Mrs. M. H. McCracken, E. M. Wolfe, Mrs. W. G. Johnson, Mrs. M. Kenworthy, C. E. McCracken and C. J. Schroeder.

Adopted Many Resolutions. The convention voted to increase the per capita dues to 25 cents; also to have the booklet issued quarterly; the home products association to approve the club president and her committee.

After passing certain resolutions the convention favored raising the standard required for public school teachers and a state-wide fund for the support of public schools. A resolution favoring a more liberal supervision for the Blackfoot insane asylum also carried. The federation voted to endorse the Idaho Co-operative Rural Stage company on notes advanced by the state. It also endorsed the plan for amending the state constitution to provide for a record on delinquency that a proposal will be introduced in the next session making women eligible for jury duty. The body pledged itself to work for world peace and interest in the home products movement. The delegates approved the resolution requiring all legislative bills to be sponsored by the women's clubs and be reported to the year before the legislative convenes. This convention called congress to continue the maternity bill, to amend the act, and also favored a survey to determine how the child labor and the minimum wage for women were being enforced and pledged its support in the enforcement of these laws. The delegates opposed any change in the Wadsworth-Garrett amendment, and condemned the liquor license bill declared for a campaign against its circulation. It endorsed an amendment to the constitution which would allow congress to pass a universal marriage and divorce law, and voted its opposition to any change in the present amendment, urging its enforcement, both state and federal. It favored the establishment of a state tuberculosis sanitarium.

The state federation adopted universal membership in the General Federation of Women's clubs and voted to accept the plan for a state fund work. The session also adopted the recommendation of the revising committee that the state federation meet annually and that the per capita dues be increased from 15 cents to 25 cents. The matter of selecting a state club song was deferred until next meeting.

Rev. W. A. Moore to Speak at Christian Church Tonight

The second of the series of church night services will be held at the Christian church tonight, beginning at 8:20 with a following of prayer. Those who cannot be present at that hour will be afforded an opportunity to participate in an exceptionally interesting and helpful program, has been arranged and a great service is in store for those who attend. Rev. W. A. Moore of Yakima, Wash., and former pastor of this congregation, will be present and will bring us a report of the International convention of the Christian church just held in Oklahoma City and which he presided. The very mention of the name of Mr. Moore should arouse great interest in this evening's gathering.

Another very interesting talk and devotional will be given by Rev. Humphrey of the Methodist church on the subject "Visitation by Angels." This may be the only opportunity that you will have to hear the topic "What the Temple Sunday School Can Do for the Coming Year."

Approximately 150 people were present last Wednesday evening at the first of these services and it is hoped by these that the clearness of the message will steadily grow until the evangelistic meetings in November.

To the Citizens of Twin Falls

One year ago the Representatives from Twin Falls Lodge, No. 23, I. O. O. F., to the Grand Lodge, were authorized by the people of our city to request that Honorable Body to convene here this year, which was done.

As we expect 1000 visitors at that time (October 10 to 22, inclusive), we find the hotels and rooming houses cannot accommodate all, therefore must ask that the residents also be in caring for these people.

PLEASE FILL OUT CARD AND MAIL TO H. M. HOLLER, Box 2 OR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, PHONE 070
