After the crash, I saw the submarine drifting by us toward the home's stern. I am sure I saw her from the deck of the submarine. I didn't send any message until I heard from the captain, Captain Kelly, that he had sent a message to the Ocean Steamship company at 12:10 a. m.

Sting Rules for Apples Announced

"During the past 10 days," said District Horticulturist E. V. Gibson "considerable difficulty has been experienced by some growers in sorting out late worms, which have only recently appeared. Grade rules clearly define what constitutes a blemish, making it a simple to be classed as heated 'must show a depression or dark green ring, denoting that the injury has been done long enough so that the apple has overcome the defect. All other late blight symptoms and must not be allowed."

Wood of Lignum-Vitae Harder Than Hickory

Lignum-vitae, the vital wood, or wood of life, which is found in the West Indies and some other parts of the tropical America, is said to be the hardest wood nature produces. The reason why this wood is so tough is the arrangement of its fibers. Instead of being straight, they were laced and forth, crossing and recrossing, like the weave of an automobile tire. Another peculiar feature of this wood is that when the tree is cut, the sap cells fill up with a very heavy resin, which causes it to weigh about twenty times as much as water, and so, while excellent for many uses it would not make a good staff.

It is used for carpenter's mallets, as it is so tough that it will not split from hard usage, and it is also employed for tool handles. Of the wood growing in the country the hickory is generally supposed to be the hardest, but for making mallets and other uses where great toughness is needed, it will not stand on a par with lignum vitae.

Odd Properties Are Accorded Elder Tree

Most people know the common elder tree, but probably few realize that more attributes are accorded to this tree than to any other. It is, for instance, a pretty safe refuge from flies and other insects, for they avoid it, while quite the reverse is true when it comes to bees. It is often found growing in churchyards, as it is supposed to be avoided by witches and sorcerers.

Whatever its magical power, the elder certainly has valuable medicinal properties, though whether the English villagers' belief that the leaves of an elder bush growing on a wall will cure this is justified is open to doubt. In some districts it is also believed that to stand near an elder tree during a thunderstorm gives certain immunity from being struck by lightning. A fungus called "Jew's ear" often appears on the trunk of the elder tree, and this, too, has been supposed to be a cure for galeas.

King's Mystical Sword

Excelsior is the name given the famous mystic sword of King Arthur, which he found inserted in a sheath of stone and pulled out, although 200 of his bravest knights had singly been unable to withdraw it. An inscription on the stone declared that whoever should succeed in unsheathing the sword would prove to be the rightful heir to the throne; and Arthur was accordingly chosen and proclaimed king by general acclamation. The sword was said to be so bright that "it gave light like thirty torches." Arthur, at the approach of death, commanded an attendant to cast the sword into a lake nearby, but the order had to be given three times before it was obeyed. As soon as the sword touched the water, a hand "dusted like white samite" appeared, caught it by the hilt, flourished it three times, and then sank beneath the waters of the lake. Tennyson has related this incident in "Morte d'Arthur."—Kansas City Star.

Lip-Rending in Mills

A London police court was amazed by the case with which a deaf mute was able to speak and hear, giving soundless lips in answer to the message he read on the lips of those who spoke to him.

But the deaf would not be considered remarkable in Lancashire, for the girls who work in the cotton mills have brought the art of conversing by lip language to a high degree of perfection.

It is impossible to carry on ordinary conversation in the hush and roar of the weaving sheds, but long practice has enabled the girls to converse quite easily across a long room filled with the deafening noise of machinery by watching each other's lips.

NEW LEADERS OF GRIDIRON

Pennsylvania, Army, Michigan, Missouri, Dartmouth, Alabama and Georgia, Tech emerge as leaders. After Week-end Smoke of Eastern Class.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Pennsylvania, Army, Michigan, Missouri, Dartmouth, Alabama and Georgia, Tech rank as the leading football teams of the country with one half of the 1925 season behind.

They remained undefeated by repeating the hectic week end that brought about the defeat of the 1924 champion teams, Yale and Notre Dame and another downfall for "Red" Orange's Illinois team.

In handling Yale the first defeat in two seasons, Pennsylvania was particularly impressive and Pennsylvania also showed one of the real star backs of the season in Al Kruppa, a plunging full back at the old school.

The West Point coach looked like the strongest team in the east in beating Notre Dame, 27 to 0, the largest score that has ever been made against a Rocker coached team.

Dartmouth remains undefeated with a fine-looking squad but the eleven will not be tested until Saturday when it meets Harvard.

School of Forestry Attracts Foreigners

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Oct. 18.—Students from 13 states and from three foreign countries, have come to Idaho this fall to study forestry.

The mother state of the university continues to furnish by far the largest individual number, but no wide-spread thing is the reputation of the school of forestry that the local representation of the 13 other states is considerably larger than that of Idaho.

Of the 116 regularly enrolled students in forestry, 48 are from Idaho, 41 came from other states and 27 are from other countries, Canada, Russia and the Philippines next the latter 347 of the 116 students are freshmen, 24 are sophomores, 21 sophomores, 22 are seniors, and two are graduate students.

SMUGGLED BRIDES CAUSE OF WORRY

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 18.—The desire of foreign born Americans to get wives from native lands is swelling the tide of smuggled aliens into this country according to Stephen Sullivan of Youngstown, who was assigned to the immigration department here to give special attention to the alien smuggling problem.

Women are brought into the United States by men of foreign birth carrying good passports here who were wives from their native land, Sullivan said.

"In some cases passports are forged," he added, "the women are brought into the United States without visas, he stands alone. It is said."

During the last 12 months, Sullivan said, he detected at least 25 of these arrangements made by foreigners in and about Cleveland.

In fact, the demand by men of foreign birth for women of their own kind is so great that agencies have sprung up which advertise to supply the women and get them into this country. These agencies advertise in foreign countries, featuring the various powers of the men in American cities.

They net large fees from the men for whom they get wives and also large fees from the girl or her parents.

Other practices of smuggling alien women include the alien's return to his native country with the wife he married without violation of the immigration laws, divorcing her and marrying another with whom he returns on his first wife's passport.

When smuggled women are apprehended they are immediately sent back to their native country. It is prosecuted for immigration law violation.

This Generation May See Return to Knee Breecches

Alas, it's just a little more than a century ago since long trousers began to come into fashion. Dean Hummel, the celebrated English society leader, had introduced them a few years before. His daring example had been copied by the "dandies" of the day.

Most men felt that, especially the conservative "solidarity" ones. They considered trousers a childish form of masquerade and were afraid they would look ridiculous if they abandoned knee-breeches.

Today it's the other way around. After a century, the position has swung and knee breeches are being worn by guffers, engineers and other men of the outdoors, and on camping trips and hikes.

Judging by ease and comfort, a great many men-if truth were known—would like to wear "knee pants" all the time.

Why not? Alas, in their community association men have acquired a quality and sense of shame in anything not conforming to the crowd. Look trousers are "the go" and it's a brazen plea who dares fly in the teeth of convention—Washington Post.

TWIN FALLS TRADE ASKED BY AGENT OF LOS ANGELES

We bought 7041 cases of foodstuffs from southern states last year and this only reason we didn't buy more was because you didn't have any more to sell. Frank H. Coates, special representative of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, told the Kiwanis club today at the weekly luncheon and was here to talk to members with you and bring about better relations.

He realizes that we are not self-sustaining from a food viewpoint and the only way that we can get enough to sell to top this big bread basket here. We will return to you as you sell you, all we can do our product sold on a competitive basis.

DEITRICH IS UPHELD

Judge J. S. Deitrich of the federal court yesterday by the court of appeals in the case of Charles Sullivan and appellants, against the Commission Trust company in foreclosure suits brought by the trust company against appellants, according to the terms of a decision rendered here Saturday by U. S. Judge Deitrich held that foreclosure would lie in this case, and Sullivan and others appealed. The circuit court sustained the decision of Judge Deitrich and held that the issues involved were different from that in the Peck case where it was held that foreclosure would not lie, owing to conditions peculiar to that case.

Upon hearing evidence, the circuit court held that the foreclosure would lie for the whole tract, except for the 1.2 acre tract which could be had for the debtors' benefit. The court also held that the appellants' objections for incidental losses (payments due to the failure of the appellants to deliver the full amount of water and fixed the duty of water at 1.2 acre feet, and that a decrease of 70 per cent of the principal amount of the contract was less certain in questions. It was assumed that all water appurtenant to the project would be equally distributed over the patented area of 25,000 irrigable acres, and that defendants would receive 75 per cent of the 1.2 acre tract per acre of the water covered by the contract was deducted because of improvements made by the appellants. Defendants were allowed interest at 6 per cent on such profits from the date interest commenced on the principal due plaintiffs under their contract.

Appellants argue that the case should have been dismissed for lack of jurisdiction, but because when the contract was submitted there remained lands for which water rights of defendants were not patented had not been made, and that the other settlers' interests were not extinguished. The court held that the case should be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction, but because when the contract was submitted there remained lands for which water rights of defendants were not patented had not been made, and that the other settlers' interests were not extinguished.

PIONEER PASSES AWAY IN EUGENE

Word was received here Saturday afternoon by Mrs. John D. Bolton, from her husband, who is in Willington, Wash., on business, that his father, S. Henry Bolton, one of the early pioneers of modern Twin Falls, has passed away suddenly in Eugene, Ore., where he had come to make his home and engage in the insurance business.

The telegram, which was sent to the son, was brief and up to today no further information had been received. Mr. Bolton was born in Canada about 65 years ago. He lived for years in Chicago and came here in 1908.

Mr. Bolton was active in the development of the country and in its religious life. He was a member of the Methodist church and a tireless worker in his Sunday school activities. He was a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellow lodges.

Besides his widow, Mr. Bolton is survived by four sons and one daughter. The sons are John P. Bolton of Twin Falls, Wilbur Bolton of San Jose, Calif., Lyart Bolton and Milton Bolton of Eugene. The daughter is Mrs. Sam J. Cheney of Eugene.

Every contract holder has an interest in them and will be affected by their determination, however minute. It is of concern to him, not merely whether his tract be held in fee, but also whether, and to what extent other lands are in the same situation. In this and other respects what is determined in respect of other holders is of direct concern to him. In short, the interests of the contract holders are so related that an effective and just determination of the question can only be had in a proceeding to which all parties. No such allegations are made in the present complaint, and the decree herein, as between the parties before the court, has determined these rights without injurious effect on the rights of others before the court.

RAILROAD MEETING ON CELEBRATION IS CALLED FOR TODAY

The railroad committee has been called to meet at the chamber of commerce this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to consider the question of whether a celebration should be held, when the centennial of the line is made at Weiler or whether it should be postponed until spring. The committee members have been sounding public sentiment on the subject. The recent pact between the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific is said to have facilitated the work.
