

MARRIAGE ANNULMENT COURT ISSUE

The action of J. A. Olson to have set aside the marriage of his daughter Evelyn to Ernest Hansen was presented to Judge W. A. Haines today. The plaintiff claims that the defendant swore that she was 18 years old when she was married 15 years ago. He denied giving consent, while the defendant claimed that what amount to best consent had been given. Hansen was convicted of perjury by a jury last winter, but the jurors, taking the position that the offense under the circumstances was technical in nature, requested leniency on the part of the court. Formal sentence was never pronounced.

the line and it made us buckle and feel kinda queer. We weren't able to stand our distress because we only had a receiving set.

"We saw only two ships during the entire trip. One was a Japanese vessel and we couldn't make her. The other was a freighter that we saw across the days ago. We told the freighter we were out, heading for port."

Mr. Bondard, attractive sea officer, only 24 years old, appeared none the worse for the harrowing experience.

"I didn't feel really hot at any time, but I did get fed up on the fish and water," he said. "I knew Captain Rensell would pull us through somehow. He's an old-timer on the sea, you know."

SENATE URGED TO RECONSIDER

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Hundreds of telegrams urging senators to reconsider the resolution adopted Monday, condemning the proposed sale of the government-owned Admiral-Offit Steamship line to the Dollar Trust, are pouring into the capitol.

Meanwhile the United States shipping board which accepted the $12,000,000 bid of the Dollar Trust, is preparing to take the matter up with the senate commerce committee if the resolution is reconsidered and referred to that committee as now expected.

Senator Hill, democrat, Washington, who chaired in the senate the committee which established a "board" to employ in the shipping in the Pacific and would limit the shipping of the dollar trust, said today that he had received a telegram from the Seattle chamber of commerce urging him to withdraw his support.

Senator Chandler, democrat, New York, also yesterday joined Senator Shreve, republican, California, in urging that the resolution adopted unanimously by the senate be reconsidered. He said he had received hundreds of telegrams urging him to take this action.

OIL DRILLING TO START AT EMMETT

BOISE, April 22.—Drilling for oil on the Steiner Creek anticline near Idaho will start within a few days under the supervision of Philip Herdell.

A 40-ft bit rig has been set up between Boise and Emmett where there are indications of oil and details of operations of the strata will be made as the drilling proceeds.

Woman Asks $25,000 for Death of Husband

BOISE, April 22.—Eda Gentile, widow of Ferry Gentile of Ashton, has filed suit in federal court for $25,000 damages from the Northern Pacific Railway company for the death of her husband who was killed while walking on the railroad tracks a year ago.

Mrs. Gentile claims that the company through which the railroad runs is the only means of approach to the points of Morning Mine, and has been used for years by workmen and others as a thoroughfare without restriction on the part of the railroad. She claims negligence on the part of the railroad in not providing any on the day of her husband's death.

Borah Resolution Beaten in Senate

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—The Borah resolution to recommit the $25,000,000 Italian debt settlement was defeated in the senate today, defeating the debt-adapted of the settlement itself.

The senate voted today on the resolution proposed by Charles Borah of Idaho, which would have indefinitely postponed action upon the settlement to permit the senate commerce committee to study Italy's capacity to pay her foreign debt. The vote was 21 to 24.

The Borah resolution was approved by the United States debt settlement committee's settlement of Italy's $25,000,000 foreign debt to this country.

Ponzi Sentenced to Penitentiary

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 22.—Charles Ponzi, "financial wizard" of Boston, was sentenced to serve a year in the state prison at Florida today for his part in the Ponzi scheme.

Ponzi, who came to Florida to re-instate his activities following his mother's failure to pay a $100,000 debt, was sentenced to 12 months in the state prison at Jacksonville for his part in the Ponzi scheme.

New Jersey Fire Claims One Life

TOMS RIVER, N. J., April 22.—A fire in the town of Tom's River today destroyed the home of a family of four. The fire was caused by a gas stove in the kitchen.

Henry Dickey, 65, was burned to death when the flames overtook him after he had abandoned his motor truck in the burning area. His charred body was found near Pineville.

Two other men were injured in the crash with Dickey but no trace of them has been found.

Early Settlers' Hard Time With Toothache

An interesting and instructive library could be written on the care of the teeth. We have plenty of tooth-pastes, tooth-powders, tooth-picks and tooth-pain-killers. But the history of dentistry is not so well known. There is something that the record of Lewis and Clark makes interesting reading. It should like to know some day how Daniel Boone, or to some other pioneer, how pioneers in the Tennessee valley wrestled with wicked mauls.

The early settler, or for that matter, our forefathers who may have lived in settled European communities, never needed anything for their teeth but their teeth. The science of dentistry is new. It is a science that has suffered from disrepute, but alive if his resistance was strong, otherwise, he died from one or more of diseases not unrelated to local infections. Faith in the good, and days" has a foundation in fact. The average age of American appears to be 45 years. In the days of King David, it was less than twenty years. The difference represents the advancement of science.—Eugene A. Weisner.

Dressing the Part

There's a story that has to do with a man who was dressed for a party. He had dressed the men who had been selected for the event that evening. "This man we're rehearsing takes place in Boston, and I want all you guys in for a few minutes."

"That's none of my business," replied the stage manager. "If you're not dressed for Housin I won't let you go on."

"The actor arrived at the theater that night—but without a fur coat."

"Housin I tell you I wouldn't let you go on unless you were dressed for Housin," said the manager.

"But I've got two suits of underwear," protested the poor actor.

Funeral Services for James H. Mays Held in Gooding Chapel

(Special in The Times.)

GOODING, April 22.—Friends of James H. Mays, former second Utah district congressman, who succumbed suddenly at his ranch home seven miles south of Wendell early Tuesday morning, gathered at the Methodist Episcopal church here shortly before three o'clock this afternoon to pay him tribute.

Mr. Mays died following a paralytic stroke which crippled him late Monday evening, the seriousness of which was not realized until his condition was beyond medical assistance.

Services were to be conducted by the Rev. H. D. McCallister and the body was to be laid at rest in Elwood cemetery, here.

Floral offerings heaped about the casket were beautiful and profuse and among the many who joined in tributes were friends of Mr. Mays from all parts of southern Idaho and from Salt Lake City and other Utah points.

Members of the immediate family who are here to attend the services include John H. Mays, father of the congressman; Thomas G. Mays, of Boise, a nephew; Mrs. Ma Owen of Palo Alto, Cal., a sister; Miss Ethel Mays, a daughter; and four sons, Arthur James, Harold H., Lovell W., and Theop. R. Mays.

TO REMODEL TWIN FALLS BALL PARK

Club Officials Take Steps to Augment Seating Capacity and Further Improve Playing Field.

Skipper Calls Practice for 10 o'clock Daily, to Continue Until 3 o'clock; Today's Morning Session Cancelled.

At the Park, home of the Twin Falls baseball club and the center of out-door athletic interest in Twin Falls for years, is to be remodelled to increase seating capacity and further improve the playing field. It was announced Thursday morning to club officials.

What the exact value of the improvement will be has not been determined and shortly before noon Harry Best and Skipper Zambich were reported to be hot on the trail of an architect to estimate the work which will be started within a few days, it is expected.

Seating capacity of the park, now estimated at 1200, will be increased to a little more than 2000, according to plans, and in addition, 200 yards of soil will be placed upon the playing field.

"We certainly seem to have a classy array of talent for our baseball club, and you can't put on a three-string circus in a clear box," said President Colvig this morning.

Practice three times. "The increased seating capacity of the park will meet with the favor of the fans I am sure, for from the interest indicated, Twin Falls baseball fans and families are going to have a look at the Utah-Idaho league this or know the reason why."

Decision to remodel the park came after a conference of club officials, when the cold weather caused the cancellation of the practice scheduled at Lincoln field at 10 o'clock this morning. Skipper Zambich had his players out at one o'clock and indicated that from now, until another change appears desirable, efforts will be made to hold indoor practice sessions. This will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon the club met together for its first workout, and a large array of best talent was on the field. "Zam" received word from Tom Lenihan, pitcher, that he will not report.

Everybody hits. Although no special stress was laid upon the batting, observations were made of the fact that the best players got more real practice during the afternoon than they have had in all of their workouts prior to the arrival of the Twin Falls pilot.

There was not much real pitching yesterday afternoon, as the heavens had not had an opportunity to get in shape, and as a result, everyone that stepped up to the rubber pushed the ball to the far corners of the lot. Among the Idaho bats who turned out for the practice were Cliff Osborne, Harry Riley, Bruce Watson, Elliott and Leach.

Manager Zambich has received word from Bob Whitzer, another Twin Falls player, that he will not be a candidate for the Twin Falls succession.

How to stop BOILS!

There's only one way to stop boils. Stop the cause of boils. That's common sense—ain't it? All right. Boils happen because the blood is full of unhealthy red cells that can't throw off the impurities that get into the body. There's nothing but red blood to purify the system. Now—S. S. S. checks the blood to fighting strength. S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells—builds them by the millions! Boils disappear! S. S. S. is the thing. Impurities that cause boils and other skin eruptions can't stand up against the rich, healthy, red blood that S. S. S. builds. That's all there is to it. Get it at any drugist. The larger bottle is more economical.

BRUINS WILL CLASH WITH ALBION NINE

Make It Five Wins in a Row By Downing Paul; Will Oppose Teachers Friday at Lincoln Field.

Twin Falls high school baseballers having annexed their fifth win in as many starts by defeating the Paul high school club Wednesday afternoon, will clash with the Albion State Normal nine Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at Lincoln field, it was announced by Coach Felix Plunz Thursday morning.

Just what the chances of the Bruins will be toward overpowering their winning streak against the Teachers, it is somewhat in doubt, but the boys are using it to try hard to make it six wins in a row. At Paul Wednesday, the Bruins scuffled off with the long end of a 14 to 3 score by hammering the offerings of the Paul heaver and standing behind their pitchers well, just opened the game with a rush but the Bruins were able to squinch it very early in the contest.

Bestick and H. Martin worked for Twin Falls and Sanford, Smith and Sanford composed the battery for the Paul outfit.

RICKARD SIGNS JACK DEMPSEY

New York Boxing Commission in Fuss Over Probable Opponent of Champ; May Fight October 18.

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 22.—The great status of the proposed Dempsey fight apparently will have to be settled in New York, where Tex Rickard and the New York boxing commission will attempt to get together upon a contract signed with

Richard holds a signed contract today in which the champion guaranteed a purse and an option on the "fight" expected to net him in the neighborhood of $50,000 for an appearance against an unnamed opponent in a bout yet to be decided some time next September. Rickard has 90 days before the bout to select the second man in the ring and 90 days before the bout to select the fight title according to the terms of the contract. September 18 was favored by Rickard as the date of the bout. Dempsey is scheduled to leave New York today for Indianapolis, N. C., to begin training and Rickard will return to New York after a visit to his old home at Henfield, Texas, within the next few days.

NEW YORK, April 22.—William Wheldon, first chairman and senior member of the New York boxing commission, threatened to resign today unless his new commission chairman their stand against a heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney. Wheldon said the commission had placed itself in a "difficult position" and he said that under no circumstances would he vote approval for a bout between Dempsey and Whitt.

Machine Sets Faith Cold Facts of Life

A machine for showing the relation of one set of facts to another set of facts has been invented by a Princeton university student. Although the machine has fewer parts than the simplest typewriter, its capabilities are tremendous. To illustrate it will tell a man how long he may expect to live. The factors used in this determination, according to reports, are the quantity of tobacco smoked daily, the average duration of sleep a year, and the average blood pressure.

Measuring mortality is an important part of the insurance business, and the new machine might serve as a useful check on the existing tables set up by similar activities. But probably the machine's most important application is in the study of the habits and life of the man himself. It is a machine that will tell a man how long he may expect to live. The factors used in this determination, according to reports, are the quantity of tobacco smoked daily, the average duration of sleep a year, and the average blood pressure.

MUNICIPAL POWER SITE FILED ON

The granting of petition by the federal power commission for construction of a dam 40 feet high over Rock creek two miles north and two miles west of Twin Falls, near the wooden bridge applied for by Barry Dibble, noted electrical engineer, Wednesday in Washington, should the commission act favorably, may have an effect on the plans for municipal light and power in this city, it is agreed, but just what that effect will be nobody here professes to know. The Murtagh irrigation district has a prior filing on this and on Augur Falls. Mr. Dibble also asked leave to build a dam 120 feet high on Snake river which, on its face, would conflict with the filing of the Murtagh district and with a second filing on Augur Falls by the city of Twin Falls subject to the prior permit of the district. The magnitude of the proposals which Mr. Dibble evidently has in mind have created much speculation, and have aroused hopes that the long desired power for factories may be in sight.

It is stated, however, by Shad L. Hodgkin, attorney for the Murtagh district, that the district and Mr. Dibble are working in harmony, beyond which he makes no statement. Engineer E. V. Berg is equally reticent and declares he does not know the exact character of the intentions of Mr. Dibble, or the exact effect it would have on the plans for municipal power, and Mayor E. L. Ashton says that he has no knowledge of the intentions of Mr. Dibble in the premises.

The Rock creek site and the Augur Falls site are intimately identified, as it was shown in the Berg report to the city some time ago that the power from both could be best and most cheaply generated in a plant for both together. The city filed on Augur Falls as a precautionary measure so that in the event the Hansen butt proposition should not be developed by the company or in the event that it should have power enough from Rock creek to develop the lands on the butte and should let its filing and permit lapse. At the time of making his report before the filing Engineer Berg indicated that while the Rock creek power site would scarcely supply power enough for reclamation for the entire butte without supplemental power, yet he, at the same time indicated that the power of both combined would be enough for the reclamation of the lands and for the supplying the city. It was currently stated on the streets when the Berg plan is awaiting 50,000 acres to the tract was under discussion that should it go through only a portion of Augur Falls and Rock creek power would be needed for the reclamation of that part of the butte for which power could not be generated by turbines.

The magnitude of the Dibble plan indicates that capitalists are convinced that Twin Falls has a future greater than is dreamed of by most of its own inhabitants. Dibble has a wide reputation and is believed to calculate carefully. The dams will not be built unless there is use in sight for the power which will be generated.

Over the Top
She covered in silence. The voice raised, a gentle, restraining drawl, would normally have tended to soothe the heat of panic attack, which she was delivering actual, heart-breaking bark.

But it was pitch dark. As the freight train rumbled ahead it began to lurch like a schooner in troubled waters. Beneath her feet the boards billowed over a bottom of clanking, rattling, and she clutched through rattling teeth. She couldn't help it, for could she retain an appointed cry?

"I was locked in, locked in! What was she?"

"As I said before," the quiet voice spoke from the darkness, "nothing—absolutely nothing. Blessed be he who expresses nothing, for he shall not be disappointed."

He said it would be a couple of days before they open the door, she protested frantically, "maybe more. It takes no way to get out of it if the lifting lead line fitted, opened the voice, "both shall fall into the alley."

"Who are you?" she queried.

"If of good cheer," came the answer, "it is he. It is not afraid."

Although no longer a member of the Actors' Equity Association, Edwin Booth (and that, mind you, was his real name) was still on the list with Shakspearean reputation. Before this modern company was formed and invited to their midst the ghost of Imperial Caesar, the most eminent though slightly deranged man of his time, had been looked upon as a scene-familiar and was usually, whether he liked it or not, the pale, flickering light of a half-dimmed candle sipped on an occasion of the faintest of gloom. The sickly gleam and their several tendencies to the dramatic or sentimental gave them the character of the infernal, not the celestial, and their appearance accorded to their sinister aspect.

Mr. Booth coughed only for attention and announced his arrival to his himself here and now was the first to be seen. He had caused critics the could show ripple of comparison but, unfortunately, he did not distinguish himself by the same name. Even the steepest line of his face, Mr. Booth elevated his blue-lined nose, stared into a mass of space as was not excluded by the presence of his hair nor 23,000 feet of the Atlantic beyond him, and wondered.

"I have a question," he queried, "lead me your way?"

He was interrupted by a chorus of protest, which he greeted and did without having the least idea of what it meant. Mr. Booth will admit in the end of his career, he was the only one of his kind who had ever been perfect. He possessed passionately and his voice rose to a pitch.

"What Caesar fell, O, what a fall he had! My countrymen, pursue not this funeral wail." The interruption of the funeral was as remarkable as it was thoroughly uncharacteristic. Above Mr. Booth's noble brow a square of the car roof had quietly disappeared, a Johannesburg stage had shown for a moment in the frame and, without a warning cry, the rest of the black face's owner had sailed forward into his arms, which instinctively wrapped themselves around the interruption.

Mr. Booth, for reasonable seconds, stood in idle contemplation of the sole of Barbara's shoe. He had let his burden fall in a heap at his feet. He saw his eyes and addressed the last line of his epilogue to the overhead pipes.

"—Honey, please pursue not this funeral wail."

The figure of Barbara's companion, she called, into the company of the artist, he found Mr. Booth's noble brow a square of the car roof had quietly disappeared, a Johannesburg stage had shown for a moment in the frame and, without a warning cry, the rest of the black face's owner had sailed forward into his arms, which instinctively wrapped themselves around the interruption.

"—Honey, please pursue not this funeral wail."

"How do you know I ran across the sacred artifact?"

"Don't you mind being locked up for a few minutes?"

"We are all locked up no matter where we may be. What does it matter?"

A philosopher, well, she thought he was a staid. And a practical joker, too.

"Got a match?" she called.

There was silence while he searched. Presently he answered, "Just one."

"Here, take it, please."

"No, thank you."

"Why?"

"The last match always goes out."

"Please hold it! I feel the job isn't done until you light the bulb of his whole looks like."

There was a splutter of flame which for a moment lit a tall figure. The match promptly went out.

"You are funny," he commented. "We may suffer to death," she suggested, confidentially.

"Not unlikely," he answered, in his gentle voice. "I have fretted by contemplated death in its various forms. However, I believe, you will be the least unpleasant, and the most useful, of the three. The craves food above all else, and when food is denied it, he'll cry 'Thank!' Her interruption was a 'Thank!' He didn't want to hear any more."

"But as dreaded as starvation is, it is not so unpleasant," it is nothing compared to the sensation of going by train. Your throat betrays the most fearful of the three. The craves food above all else, and when food is denied it, he'll cry 'Thank!' Her interruption was a 'Thank!' He didn't want to hear any more."

TIMES-UNION PRAISES U. P.

Declining Associated Press Membership, New York Publisher Lauds Work of United Press Association.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The board of directors of the Associated Press has suffered a defeat at the hands of Mr. Hearst, said Frank E. Gamett, publisher of the Rochester, N. Y., Times-Union today following the election and a subsequent attempt of the Associated Press directors to gain the Times-Union as a member at their annual meeting here.

The unanimous recommendation of the directors which required a four-fifths majority was defeated by the members.

Gamett pointed out that the Rochester Times-Union has always recognized the United Press and that "its dominant position in its field has been built up by the United Press and its excellent news service."

The statement followed by the Associated Press directors of the Associated Press unanimously recommended by election as a member representing the Rochester Times-Union. The bylaws require a four-fifths vote of all members present to override the objection of an Associated Press member-holding the greatest rights. In fact, Mr. Hearst, who also owns and operates a competing news service, the vote was 719 to 249 in favor of adoption of the recommendation of the board of directors. Mr. Hearst (who had fifty votes more than the number required to block the board's recommendation). The fight was conducted largely by the board and not alone by him.

"I feel that the Associated Press more than I. The Rochester Times-Union has a United Press franchise and is not in the slightest degree dependent on the Associated Press. Its dominant position in its field has been built up by the United Press and its excellent news service. The Times-Union does not need the Associated Press as much as the Associated Press needs and wants the Rochester Times-Union. The board of directors of the Associated Press has suffered defeat at the hands of Mr. Hearst and his associates more than one-fifth vote of the membership has deprived the Associated Press of the great strength which the Rochester Times-Union would have added to that organization."

"The customer must receive more than he expects"

THAT is the substance of the Conoco service code—more than you expect—extra service.

The Conoco service man does not consider his job done when he has filled your gasoline tank with Conoco's extra miles. He wants to satisfy your other needs, too. Air for the tires (just the right amount), water for the radiator, road information, a helping hand for any motoring trouble, these are the things the Conoco service man likes to supply.

And of course he will accept no gratuity. That has been a rigid Conoco policy since the first Conoco service station opened for business years ago.

Drive to the nearest Conoco station and let extra service send you off to extra and better miles.

TWIN FALLS SCHOOLS AT HIGH POINT

Number of Students and Pupils on Rolls at Beginning of First Period of Second Semester Larger Than at Any Similar Time in History.

The largest enrollment in the history of Twin Falls public schools for the first period of the second semester was recorded by figures compiled this morning at the office of Superintendent Ernest D. Hixon, which also showed that for the second time in the history of the schools the enrollment for the second half was larger than the enrollment for the school year in September. In the year of 1925-26 the enrollment showed an increase of 53, this year the increase for the second half is 75. The total enrollment in 1925, 67,000 among the schools as follows: High school, 712; junior high, 552; Grade, 678; Union, 227; Washington, 23. The increased number enrolled indicates growth of the city in a rapid and steady fashion.

AMERICAN FALLS DAM WILL BE UP BY JULY 1ST 1927

That the big dam at American Falls will be finished before the time set in the amended contract, July 1, 1927, is indicated by word received today from E. D. Johnson at the office here. The contract, July 1, 1925, was $2,824,752.90, while the cost to the government was $2,167,223.71 or a total of $1,797,577.07. It is estimated that the cost of the two remaining for the quarter ending September 30 will be $2 million and a half more dollars, so that the total to that time will be $4,000,000 out of a total estimated cost of $4,500,000.

... AT THE THEATRES

LLOYD MASTERSON... LAUGHTER MARINE

There is no philosophy in the art of comedy, and this is the philosophy of fun and that sort appeals to all. Extravagance is, as the tale of Heron Hutchinson was extravagant, and the acting appeals to the thrill as the printed page never could. In his production, "For Heaven's Sake," which is the plot with which he noted his success at his last in the opinion of the audience, who had evening at the opening, the development of the plot with much of merit. There are fewer story-ripper scenes than usual, but more realistic episodes than his previous productions, and the choice added to the popularity of the show. —J. D. W.

Crisis Seen in Strike of Passaic Textile Workers

Economist Foresees Bloodshed Before Settlement of Difficulties; Workers, Mostly Foreigners, Have Families of Five Children Who Suffer Because of Privations.

BY REV. W. H. F. HULL. (Associated Professor of Economics, California University.)

NEW YORK, April 22.—Perhaps the most consistent failure so far in American labor is our effort to act along together peacefully in the periodic crisis which occur in the chronic conflict between the owners of industry and the workers in it. The most acute of these crises is recent years in extending to a level just across the river in Passaic, N. J.

Water Impounding at Big Dam Grows

The impounding of water, which is reported to be the median of the small board started Tuesday on a small scale at the American Falls dam, is now on a large scale yesterday, according to word received here last evening by E. D. Johnson, assistant secretary of the district. Six of the six gates of the dam have been closed. It is stated and concrete at the rate of from 2,000 to 15,000 cubic feet is being poured daily so that the impounded 70,000 acre feet of water will be about beyond flood.

SCHOOL TRAGEDIES ARRIVE

Two athletic troubles for Twin Falls high school boys, one the American football team and the other the basketball team, both of which are the student council trophy for the summer in the recent inter-school track and field meet.

On the other hand the textile industry as a whole has a very long history of conflict. Again and again there have been some terrible. One of the elements in the situation has been the lack of fraternalism among the mill owners, and the complete breakdown of morale among them. I have checked through financial records and found that the mills have been profiting more than they have admitted. In 1924, the earnings per share of the Hottel Mills rose. A share of the Hottel Mills rose. The Great Mills, the New Jersey Worsted mills and the Besenmann-Huffman company among others have a record for large scaled profits.

Particular from guarantee Thursday.

Thirty-five students from Excelsior, Rock Creek, Colver, Hanawa and Pleasant Valley wrote on several grade county subjects at the state building Friday forenoon.

The state building owned by Fred Walker on Main street is being treated at a new coat of paint this week. Donald Blakely visited with relatives at Eden Friday and Saturday.

The following students make up the honor roll for the past six weeks in both grade and high school:

Primary, "S": Leta Schurrer, Beulah Smith, Billy Korf, Frank Johnson.

Most men and women past fifty must give to the bowels some occasional help else they suffer from constipation. One might as well remain a old weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels. Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel regularity—or must you purge and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, hemorrhoids, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural, regular bowel movement even for those chronically

"Home Manager— Purchasing Agent— Art Director—Wife"

Just a slim girl, maybe, or a motherly woman with sweet eyes and white hair—but what a responsibility is hers!

She is the special partner in the business of running a home. She buys most of the things which go to make home life happy, healthful and beautiful. Through her slim, safe fingers goes most of the family money.

And wisely and well it is usually spent too—far better than the average man could spend it himself. For women are better purchasing agents than men. They compare prices, weigh values and shop carefully.

They read advertisements regularly. Every day you'll find the wise little home manager searching the advertising columns for news that will add to the comfort, convenience and improvement of her home. You will find the same clever purchasing agent studying the advertisements to find where and when to buy, and what and how to buy most economically. The advertisements, too, tell his responsive art director how she can make her home more beautiful, more individual—the kind of home that a man appreciates but never knows how it is done!

Advertisements are the wise counsellors in the spending of money that the clever housewife heeds daily.

The business of running a home is made easier reading advertisements.

CHIROPRACTOR FROM CHICAGO COMES TO CITY

Anticipating large crowds for this city, Dr. S. C. Wyatt, who has been here 11 years, has found a partnership with Dr. Paul Davis of Chicago and the company has located the offices in the South-Bay building recently vacated by the Parker doctors and set up a laboratory room for chiropractic and electro-therapeutic treatments.

The new addition to the profession in life of the city is to seek an athlete of note, a famous golf player and a bit man of the University of Indiana, who has just completed a tour through 20 states in physical work, it is stated.

Boise Ministers in Agreement Against Funerals on Sunday

BOISE, April 22—General directors and ministers of the gospel in Idaho today completed and signed an agreement to the effect that after July 1 no funerals will be conducted on Sunday.

Succession that a city ordinance be drawn prohibiting Sunday funerals was made a few weeks ago, but the ministerial association divided against such a course.

As the ministers themselves, they only agree with the secular authorities, reserving the right to conduct funerals when called upon by the churches and other organizations not a party to the agreement.
