Willsunday Breakfast

Following the early church services on Willsunday, the Episcopal Guild served breakfast for the young people of the church in the Parish hall. Three tables arranged in the shape of a T, at which the guests were seated, had decorations of purple and white, the senior colors, papers and flowers carried out the color scheme. Each place was marked with a small card topped with tiny red candles symbolical of Willsunday. Mrs. S. P. Newman and Mrs. F. P. McCrete planned and served the breakfast.

Girl Scout Social

The leadership of Miss Betty Scott entertained with a social Saturday evening in the U. O. C. hall for the purpose of enlarging the fund. The room leaves May 29 for the scout cabin where they will remain for two weeks on an outing. The program consisted of a demonstration of all the work accomplished during the year, and the members of troop No. 1 taking part were Miriam Hallock, Lucile Gardner, Bergette Johnson, Jennie Morgan, Priscilla Morrison, Cora Galt, Viola Ward, Wilham Ward and Dorothy Wilks. Donald Ward acted the clerk with the demonstrations. Announcements were made by Miss Betty Scott, and the program was announced by Lewis Leonard. Refreshments were served during the evening. Approximately 425 were added to the fund through this affair.

Maroa Revival Is to Continue Until Next Week

The revival in the Maroa school will continue until Sunday night, according to the announcement made by Miss Betty Scott, and the program was announced by Lewis Leonard. Refreshments were served during the evening. Approximately 425 were added to the fund through this affair.

Announcements

The Christian Endeavorers of the Christian church will hold a lawn party of the country house in 1407, Miss Betty Scott, and the program was announced by Lewis Leonard. Refreshments were served during the evening. Approximately 425 were added to the fund through this affair.

First English Almanac

The first almanac printed in England was "The Calendar of Shepherds" which appeared in 1497, and that time the almanac was very numerous, "omense and prognostication" being added in most cases to calendar information.

Correct weight can be yours

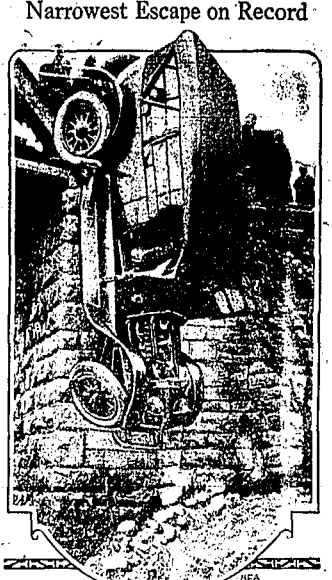

DO NOT want to be thin! I just want to be my right weight! I want enough firm, plump flesh on my face to fill out my figure.

If you do not want a figure that you can wrap your clothes neatly and last long them on. What's the use of having pretty clothes, if they just hang on you?

What would you say if you were told you could have the figure you want? A graceful, well rounded body—firm, well fleshed out—just what you need to look like a woman? Well, then, be happy, wouldn't you? You'd be happy, wouldn't you? You'd be happy, wouldn't you?

Put plenty of red cells in your blood and watch your weight go up to where you want it. That's what's the matter with you! Your blood is thin. Nature's built red blood, S. S. S. is the thing to put red blood in your blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build red blood cells by the millions.

You just try S. S. S. and watch how quickly you begin to fill out your clothes. Notice your face clear and your complexion naturally blushing—your appetite increasing—strength come to your muscles and you and vigor all your whole system. It's red blood that does it. And S. S. S. naturally helps Nature build that red blood. S. S. S. is added by all drug stores. The larger bottle is more economical.

Narrowest Escape on Record

The two men who were killed in this auto at Stillertown, Pa., had just about the narrowest escape on record. The car failed to make a turn and crashed through the side of the bridge. But one eye wheel caught in the wreckage and the car hung suspended over the side. The men stayed in the car and were rescued by firemen with ladders.

Methodist Pioneer
The first Methodist preacher in America was Philip Embury, who had been in the Irish Methodist conference for some time before he came to America. He was the first to preach in this country in 1726. He found a number of Irish Methodist ministers in New York city and gathered them into a small congregation that held its meetings in the city.

Then It Isn't
The most fascinating of all things is a secret provided you don't know it.

FILER SENIORS WILL GRADUATE WEDNESDAY

Commencement Program Opened on Sunday Evening with Baccalaureate Services: Twin Falls Minister Delivered Sermon; Thirty-nine to Get Diplomas

FILER, Idaho, May 25.—The elaborate services for the Filer Rural High school were held Sunday evening in the high school gymnasium with a large attendance of relatives and friends. Rev. G. H. Humphrey of the Twin Falls Methodist church delivered a wonderful address to the graduates. He took for his subject, "Pre-eminence of Christ." The following is the balance of the program for the evening: Practical George Demann sat with the other speakers on the platform and the graduates made a very remarkable picture as they took their places on the platform.

The pre-eminence of Christ was rendered by the orchestra. The high school orchestra was selected from the Hubbard city. The invocation was offered by C. A. Waterhouse of the Baptist church, the High School five club sang "Hallelujah Chorus." The benediction was pronounced by Rev. D. L. Graybill.

1926 Class Roster:
The class consists of 29 graduates for this year and the following are the names:
Glen Maye Allen, Alvin A. Alkison, Marcelle Armistead, Bergette, Lois E. Benjamin, Everett J. Beachell, James L. Berry, Laura A. Clark, Shirley Augusta Foster, Fern Margaret Christopherson, John A. Regulate Children's Diet, Says Expert

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—Children should be made to eat what is best for them at the dining table and not allowed to choose their own diet, is the advice of the home economics bureau of the agriculture department to mothers and fathers of the country.

"Eat it or leave it as you wish, there will be nothing else until breakfast tomorrow morning," the bureau should strictly rule. The child who is allowed to leave his food on his plate a few times soon knows he has the upper hand, the department said.

SPEED UP!

"Speed up!" said the policeman as an automobile blocked the traffic. It is a suggestive command to everyone who is causing needless delay or hindering progress. You intend to make a gift. If you wait long you may never be able to make it. It is needed now more than it will be later. Better and greater work will be done if your gift is made now. Speed up! You intend to live a more useful life and be a blessing to others. This far you have only resolved and expressed your good intentions. Life goes by very swiftly. Conditions will change. Doors of opportunity will be closed. You are wasting valuable time and depriving others of the good which you might bring into their lives. Speed up! You have some definite task waiting you. If you went right at it the work would be finished and you would have the satisfaction of having done something worth while. You talk about it, think about it, look forward to the day when you will take the decisive step. You are better able to do it now than you will be later. Speed up! You intend to help some friend or some worthy cause. They are losing strength and courage while you wait and withhold. They will pass away or their work will fail before you come to the rescue. You could give hope and courage now when it may be sorely needed. Speed up! Every year for you means one year less to live. You have much to do. Unless you hurry you will finish life with much undone. Speed up! Others would move faster and farther if you were not in the way. You are blocking the traffic. Speed up!—Johnston Myers.

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

America remembers heroic sacrifices and deeds of valor. By the designation of special anniversary days it is the custom of our Nation to commemorate the outstanding triumphant events of its history, or as a tribute to the memory of particular citizens who by their lives or nobility and patriotism have upheld the honor and glory of their country.

Among these days one of the most significant is May thirtieth, set apart as an occasion for tangible remembrance of all the deceased soldiers and sailors of the United States who gave their lives in the service of this country.

Combining memories of the just with hopes for the future, it is a day for grateful recollection as well as solemn dedication to patriotic ideals. Gratitude to those who gave all that this Nation might endure should bear with it the pledge to "carry on."

This year the thirtieth of May occurs on Sunday and in such case the following day is usually observed as the legal holiday.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, C. C. Moore, Governor of the State of Idaho, by authority vested in me by law, do hereby proclaim Monday, May thirty-first, nineteen hundred and twenty-six,

MEMORIAL DAY and a holiday throughout the State of Idaho. I earnestly request and urge the people of this Commonwealth to observe the day in the spirit for which it was established, by devoting the hours thereof to exercises and deeds that be token remembrance of those who have passed on from the earthly battle for preservation of home and country.

WHEN YOUTH FARES FORTH

It is now only a matter of a few days until the usual army of boys and girls, eyes but recently freed from the strain of examinations and hands clutching diplomas or degrees, will "stand on the threshold of life," as the baculae speakers are so fond of saying.

The older folks are inclined to sit back in their comfortable chairs and smile at the youngsters as the latter confidently step forth to meet the new problems, and associations so suddenly thrust upon them. "Poor fledglings!" one can hear them say, "here they are again; thinking they can reform the world,—and the world will not be reformed."

But the older folks smiles and criticisms contain more of envy than of pity. How often have they wished they had more of the idealism, nay, dauntless courage, of youth! But they have lost it through the companionship of those wary elders, Age and Experience; and their precocious little ambitions have been obscured amid the growing responsibilities of taking care of the sick, educating the children and performing the other duties of maturity.

What is pity the youngsters cannot profit by the experience of the older folks and thereby avoid the countless pitfalls which drop down so many promising youth! And an equal pity that the oldsters cannot retain their former enthusiasm. Probably the world would see fewer failures than, fewer misfits. But the law of life demands otherwise. After all, each age has its compensations: Age its past, and Youth its future. And when all is said the present crop of youngsters will produce tomorrow's great men as well as its failures. May the latter be scarce.

BAPTISTS PLAN TO FIGHT OVER IMMERSION

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—One of the important issues to come before the Southern Baptist convention this summer there is consideration of a proposed amendment which seeks to exclude from the following denomination those churches which receive members from other evangelical denominations without re-baptism by immersion.

This proposed amendment would apparently to define what constitutes a Baptist church, was in reality almost to exclude the Park Avenue Baptist church of New York city and the pastor, the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, who accepted the call of the church on condition that open church membership be practiced.

The amendment will likely meet with determined opposition. If accepted, it would exclude this New York church and other churches in various parts of the country which have practiced some form of open membership for years.

The Southern Baptists, which the amendment was referred after the Seattle convention last year, has reported that the proposed amendment would affect churches and churches in various parts of the country which have practiced some form of open membership for years.

Whereas, W. M. Pezras has filed his petition with the Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Milner Law Lift Irrigation District, reciting therein that he is the holder of the title to the following described land:

The 200-acre tract of the South-West quarter of Section 11, Township Eleven South, Range Twenty East, E. 3. S. 1. and the land which is included in the same within the following corners, metes and bounds, to-wit: Beginning at the Southwest section corner of Section 11, T. 11 S., R. 20 E., 3d. M. 30 north one-quarter mile; thence east one-quarter mile; thence south one-quarter mile to point of beginning. And further reciting that the said land lies adjacent to the boundary of the Milner Law Lift Irrigation District, and upon that the Board of Directors of the said Irrigation District take proper and legal proceedings to lease and grant said petition and to annex the above described-lands to said Irrigation District.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given to all persons interested in or who may be affected by such annexation of land of the Milner Law Lift Irrigation District to appear at the office of the said Board on the 6th day of July, 1926, at 2 o'clock P. M., of that date and show cause in writing if any they have why the lands mentioned herein should not be annexed to said District.

KENNETH W. MOORMAN,
Secretary of the Milner Law Lift Irrigation District.

GRATIFYING PROGRESS BEING MADE IN SETTLING WAR DEBTS

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

From The Monthly Bank Letter For May Issued by The National City Bank of New York

Events of paramount interest in furthering the restoration of sound economic conditions throughout the world has been the progress made during the past month in settling the debts owed by the United States Government to the United States. On April 30 an agreement between the American Debt Commission and Ambassador Beyerger for the funding of the French debt was announced, and during the month Congress ratified the agreement, endorsing representatives of the United States and Italy, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Rumania, and Latvia for the funding of the debts of these Governments to this country. These are gratifying results, and for those nations with which the settlements have been ratified, clear away a subject of controversy and enable them to plan definitely for the management of their finances.

In the case of the French debt, the amount to be fully funded will be related both to the United States Congress and the French Parliament. Arranging to pay over $5,647,674,104 in 10 paid periods of 62 years, or approximately $27,100,000 per year. Under the terms of the Latham offer made last October, payments are to be made in installments of $300,000 for the first and second year, $325,000 for the third and fourth year, and $350,000 for the fifth year, thereafter rising to a maximum of $125,000,000 in the seventeenth year, at which level they continue until the final year when there is a payment of $117,074,104.

During the first five years no interest is charged, after that the rate averages about 1.5% per year, at which level they continue until the present day, when the average payments to be made are $25,000,000, or 29 per cent of the principal of the debt funded, compared with 26 per cent in the Latham agreement and 28 per cent in the British agreement.

Certain provisions are also to be included in the agreement. France is obligated to pay the principal of the debt due within the first five years.

Under all these settlements large concessions have been made from the face of the debts, the principle being recognized that agreement should be based on the basis of the debtor's capacity to pay. All of the proposed practical details, however, in business men would deal with a debtor under like circumstances, and the adjustments are with a view of affording the debtor a trade opportunity to function as normally as possible, for upon this depends the successful operation of all plant and the hope of general prosperity for debtor and creditor alike.

The world needs a restoration of order in its affairs. The people of the United States are being benefited in current trade in getting the last possible dollar in debt obligations. The world needs a range for payments a half century hence. Secretary Mellon has expressed the United States' preference for exports of farm products. Unquestionably prosperity in Europe would increase the demand for our meat products, which affords the most practical means of offsetting our surplus corn, and the south is facing the need of a larger outlet for cotton. In the five fiscal years ended June 30, 1914, our yearly average export of cotton was $222,218,000, and for the five years ended June 30, 1927, it was $225,000,000. The cotton market has been depressed in particular months because of accumulating surpluses of raw cotton. The latter signifies unsteady trade conditions over the world.

Need for Debt Settlement

On the general question of the war debts there has been a vast amount of controversy. It is perfectly possible, however, to reach an agreement that in regard to relative interests in the war or relative obligations in sharing the costs of the war, the associated countries ever will think the same. The objection upon that phase of the subject might go on with nothing but mutual irritation until the last survivor of this generation had passed away, and be answered by the descendants; furthermore, it is not the practical solution.

The matter of real imperialism was not how the war originated, but how the war was conducted, and who was to pay the costs; all the world is now interested in the question of how the war was conducted, and whether the debts are to be paid in full, or in part, or whether either debtor or creditor is to share the costs of the war, and that the masses of the people shall have a right to know the truth, and to be able them to buy and consume each other's products, and that to the extent that the settlement of the war debts can be put in order, that national credit shall be re-established, that the liabilities of nations shall be definitely determined and covered by payments, that taxation shall be neither so heavy upon business as to paralyze development nor so heavy upon the masses as to unduly restrict consumption and trade.

The Example of Reparations

The deadlock over reparations, which lasted from 1919 to 1924, teaches a most pertinent lesson upon the debt settlement problem, and until the allied governments quit fighting on the losses which they incurred in settling reparations for the justice of their claims, and agreed to the appointment of an international commission to determine how much was practical for Germany to pay that any real progress in debt settlement would be made through the reparations problem was solved.

The Dawes Commission held definite certain principles, and that not only was it impossible for the reparations to be paid in gold, but that the allied governments must cooperate as would cooperate, must lend Germany sufficient gold to enable the foundation of a national monetary system, in order that in dustry might have a first hand of operations, and be able to compete with the products of the country, by a supply of raw materials imports after allowing for home consumption on a scale sufficient to maintain the health and energy of the German population; also that there must be some accumulation of new capital, to enable Germany to be maintained on a competitive basis. In short, the conditions required by the commission were of being what might be expected for a conquered country at the hands of enemies, read very much like a prescription for prosperity. The plan was that Germany was to be allowed to export its surplus to a long period the productive capacity of the country must be maintained, not restricted.

Finally, it made it clear to the creditors that Germany would discharge her obligations by collecting the required sums within Germany, and that the responsibility of converting them into foreign currency belonged to the creditors. They must take German goods or bills of exchange drawn against assets of German goods abroad. If German goods are not credit foreign bills, reparation payments would have to cease.

Masterpieces Lost to World Through Flames

The world is very much poorer today because of the burning of the library of the early centuries has been lost.
Archives is said to have written from 70 to 80 volumes. It is only seven, in a complete state, have been handed down to us. Only seven, out of the 120 volumes written by Sophocles are known, with perhaps 100 fragments of the others. All the dramatic works of Euripides, which are said to have totalled 62, only 17 tragedies and a single comedy, have been handed down by the other composition, now remain. These losses, also, of Greek lyric poets are due to the destruction by fire of the two great libraries of Alexandria in 47 B. C.
when the city was besieged by Julius Caesar, in this fire 700,000 volumes were destroyed.

And old story, said a well-known author recently, "tells us how a railway freight train wrote to a gardener to get a new pair of shoes.
The freight train was the gardener's shipment of the Commodore express for three days. If same is not for the "indemnity," it will be sent."

CAR THIEVES ARE TAKEN UP IN OGDEN

Two Men Arrested in Possession of J. D. Wiseman Car Confiscated; Utah Officer Says Officers Believe They Are Burglars Who Entered the Kimberly Hardware Store Sunday Night.

Two men, T. W. DeCamp and Earl Home, arrested in Ogden in possession of the Studebaker sedan stolen Sunday evening from James D. Wiseman, have confessed to officers there, according to word received here from Sheriff H. D. Pitcock. Harry Roy Davis, deputy sheriff, will have this evening with necessary papers to bring their car. They had stolen in their possession, similar to those alleged to have been stolen from the Kimberly Hardware store, and officers here believe that they were guilty of the burglary in that town early Monday morning.

Several cars in the county were stolen in the same way, it is believed. An Essex car stolen from Here, was found in Utah. The W. West car of the second city was taken and abandoned four miles this way for lack of gasoline. A Chevrolet car was stolen from C. B. Hawkins in Piner and replaced here by the Wiseman car. An Opel was made to steal the plate from a car owned by C. Emerson in Kimberly, but this was unsuccessful.

In one of the cars along the line's Spokane newspaper was found in which the name Home suggests it is believed that it is believed that this was owned by the men.

Confiscated. The Kimberly car was confiscated by breaking the glass door, then opening the hood lock, only six dollars and a few small articles were taken. Officers believe the car might have been committed by boys and a still hunt was carried on later when two men were arrested in Ogden afternoon in Caldwell for a burglary.

Fine Steel Explains The Car's Long Life

This fact should be read and remembered by everyone who ever expects to buy a motor car. In the percentage of costly Chrome Vanadium steel used, Dodge Brothers Motor Car outranks every other car in the world, regardless of price.

Chrom Vanadium is the ideal motor car steel. Its remarkable toughness and strength account for the fact that more than 90% of all the motor cars Dodge Brothers have built are still in service.
