HATS FALL FOR G. O. P. NOMINATION

Borah, Dawes, Watson and Lowden Are Considered As Possibilities.

Idaho Senator Looked Upon With Favor Because of World Court Stand.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Hats are falling into the ring for President Coolidge's job so fast that politicians here are amazed.

Senators William E. Borah, and Vice President Charles G. Dawes, Senator Jim Watson, leader of the Indiana republican organization, and former Governor Frank O. Lowden (Illinois) have made recent get-togethers to decide that they would oppose before the 1928 republican presidential nomination.

With the next republican convention about two years off and no word from the White House as to whether Mr. Coolidge will seek another term, ultimate selection has been placed on recent developments.

Besides, the four mentioned, a dozen others are in the back ground, led by Senator Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, Senator of Commerce Homer of California, Senator Weddington of the New York who...

Boomed in Idaho.

Whatever may happen in two years to honest or not the chances of the last-named are very slight in Congress as their prospective candidate in his recent Baltimore speech. His boom was first launched in his home state after his flight from justice would court in the seat of that speech. Borah, however, was given to the movement in Illinois when he aided the anti-world court campaign of Colonel Frank Smith in his successful primary fight against Senator James W. Bryan for the republican senatorial nomination.

He has been close to Mr. Coolidge as far as Congress is concerned.

"He abominated the vice presidency as Mr. Coolidge's running mate in 1924. He supports him in his present organization as yet, but a few days could make one for him."

Borah is regarded as a liberal and staunch advocate of far-reaching farm relief. His home came into conflict with the administration's repeatedly foreign policy.

He is a member of the National Farmers' Union.

When plans were made by Miss Patterson's mother, whereby she and her daughter would visit Europe this month, Codman and his fiancee decided not to wait until the return before becoming engaged.

The formal announcement was made by the Pattersons, the first word of the marriage which had been made public.

BROCKTON, Mass., June 2.—Death sentences will be imposed upon Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, the two Italian immigrants, who were condemned to death for the murder of James "Whitey" and "Big Nose" Kid, Boston, on the night of May 25, the bride's parents revealed today.

DEATH AWAITS TWO BOMBERS

CHICAGO, June 2.—A man and a woman were killed and another woman mortally wounded in a gun battle in a Chicago residence early today. Authorities were unable at first to obtain details of the shooting or to establish exact identity of the persons involved.

The murdered woman was known to several witnesses as "Mrs. Christopher of Chicago," and the man as "James Lester."

The wounded woman was known only as "Mrs. Bass."

Officers' Training Camps Open Today

DOVER, June 2.—Schools for officers of Idaho National guard units opened today in Boise and Pocatello. Instruction at these schools will prepare the officers for the summer camp encampment, which opens here June 12. Officers of the 14th Field artillery and 18th Cavalry have been assembled here for instruction under Capt. H. R. Mattingly, cavalry, and Capt. George King, Signal Corps.

TRANS-POLAR FLIGHT FROM ROME TO TOKIO PROJECTED

NOME, Alaska, June 2.—While the Norse was steaming across the wastes where the North Pole lies, Captain Umberto Nobile was conceiving another flight which should add to Italy's glory.

It is a trans-world flight by way of the North Pole, from Rome to Tokyo which he hopes to undertake at some undetermined time in the future he said here today.

Nothing definite of the Italian adventurer's new venture arrived in Nome Tuesday on the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Hazel from Dutch Harbor, Bay. They embarked at Point Clarence and a 11-mile trip over the ice took them to Nome.

"The 'Norse,' declared Captain Nobile, "was absolutely under command and control at all times. None of the crew, including myself, had any idea from what point we took off from Ningaloo Bay until after we had arrived in Teller, 72 hours later."

The Italian commander conjectured reported inaccurate statements regarding his proposed flight across the North Pole.

"These rumors arise, I understand, from the fact that in September, I will be sent to Japan by the Italian government to direct their work of as-ssembling a new dirigible, constructed in Italy, under my direction for the Japanese navy."

"I must add, though, that this brilliant idea of a trans-polar flight from Rome to Tokio is not impossible."

"The idea came to me on our flight over the North Pole some day, I hope, it will be fully realized."

RAIL MEN IN SESSION

Three Hundred Engineers Discuss Wage Scales at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., June 2.—Three hundred Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers general chairman, representing the full strength of the organization in the United States and Canada, met here today to discuss the question of wage scales.

The meeting, according to Alfred Johnson, general chairman, was the result of a vote taken among the chairman some time ago asking them if they desired to participate in a wage movement tending toward more money and better working conditions.

He had been close to Mr. Coolidge's running mate in 1924. He abominated the vice presidency as Mr. Coolidge's running mate in 1924. He supported him in his present organization as yet, but a few days could make one for him."

THE TWIN FALLS CHAUTAUQUA

Chautauqua Week, which is eagerly looked forward to by innumerable communities of the country, is just around the corner. The big tent will be going up soon. Townspeople, country-folks and suburbanites will soon be mingling together on common ground, enjoying in full measure the music, the lectures, plays, and novelty features. Little boys and girls will gather together during the morning hours for their share of the entertainment and will have one big special afternoon program.

To have the best in drama, music, science, history, and humor brought to our doors is as much of a blessing as it is a convenience.

Last year's program was one grand success, both from a financial and entertaining standpoint. We also had the largest attendance of young people in the history of our chautauqua career, which shows the necessity of continuing to keep up our chautauqua spirit for the benefit of our growing youth. We as citizens have made it possible to have the baseball this year to encourage the athletics for keeping the body in good physical condition and now we as citizens of this wonderful country of the west should put our shoulders to the wheel and make this chautauqua season the most successful one we have ever had to promote the education, the uplifting and the encouragement of our youth to attain loftier ideals.

Boys, not wrecker!

Boasters, not knockers! for chautauqua has done as much advertising for Twin Falls county as any organization ever came to town.—Contributed.

KEEP ALIVE SPIRIT THAT BUILDS GREAT CITIES

As a rule a great, growing, progressive city, in the forefront of public service to its citizens and to the strangers who visit, is the home of unselfish, public-spirited men and women—and is dominated and led by that spirit. It attracts the attention of strangers instantly and induces friendships that further its growth.—Natural advantages are reinforced by the unselfish attitude of its citizens.

There are backward, unprogressive communities made up of people "looking for the best of it," and concerned only in their own selfish purposes. Strangers look over the town and want to know what is the matter with it, but nobody seems to know. The fact is that it is poisoned with the predatory spirit.

Seattle has become the youngest of the great cities of the world because it not only enjoyed unusual natural advantages, but was dominated by a general willingness to help and serve and by devotion to community progress.

Seattle indicated this spirit from its beginning; it showed it when a great transcontinental rail line passed us by, and our people raised the money and built a railroad of their own. It came to the front again after the fire that practically destroyed Seattle thirty-seven years ago through the willing hands and open purses that rebuilt Seattle bigger and better than ever. In every disappointment or setback that has come this great flame of public unselfishness flared up and put us on the map again in larger letters.

After a time other communities noted it, and the "Seattle Spirit" came to be well known.

We still possess this pioneer type of good citizenship. Many of the old leaders have passed on, but younger men are here to take their places. In the confusion of rapid growth we must not forget our chief source of greatness.

Seattle is approaching the half-million mark in population, and in our greater opportunity for public service we need this Seattle Spirit more than ever.

We must continue to think more of giving than of just taking what the community gives. We must stimulate the traditional spirit of public service to keep abreast of our obligations and opportunities. We must help unselfishly, to make Seattle the great city is ordained, to be.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
News Service Writer
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—It is many months since the treasury's committee on reorganization of the federal government issued its report.

Their report recommended many changes in the current system of federal accounting.

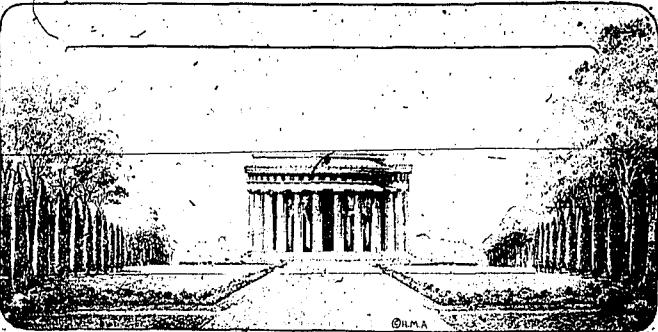

The department is convinced that our present paper money system can be made more efficient and is anxious to continue to implement it.

It says Assistant Secretary Charles H. Davis, "We are the official directors of the expert committee on reorganization.

The change in size is expected to be most radical. Ever since the first paper money was issued in 1792, the dollar has been approximately 72½ inches long and 3½ inches wide. The new bills will be printed with 1½ inch long and 1¼ inches wide.

FUEL SHORTAGE IS MORE THAN JUST A RUMOR

Autos, Airlines, Planes, Motor Manufacturers Will Develop Their Light Car Solve Problem for U. S.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—Some time, no doubt, we hear that "a fuel shortage is imminent" until we see it in print and realize that it probably means another rise in the price of gasoline. At a time of the situation, however, reveals a condition which, far from "reasonable," would show that the price of gasoline is not much more than a rumor.

The total domestic production of gasoline in the United States in 1927 was 7,255,916,165 gallons, and the imports, of which the motor car used better than 50 per cent. In 1921, domestic consumption of 7,250,625,505 gallons of which the motor cars of the country used better than 50 per cent.

In the same period, the increase in registrations over the preceding year was 17 per cent showing that the tax on cars on our domestic market is not the hindrance to imports.

On the basis of the present consumption of gasoline, the motor car driver is making his petroleum-driven in a few more years, at a rate to the productive capacity of the oil fields in fact, of something like 100 million barrels a year.

In 1925 the productive capacity of all our companies had increased to 100 million barrels a year, and the same figure is to be expected in 1928.

100,000 ACRE FEET ASKED FOR SALMON

Application for Increased Supply for Tract Presented to American Falls Board Is Considered Favorably; Committee Selected to Work Out Details.

Special to The Times
HOLLYSTON, June 2.—A petition for 100,000 acre feet of water for the salmon was received and considered at American Falls Falls Tuesday afternoon by the board of directors of the big timber tract selected here. No formal action was taken, but the requirement was favorable, it is stated.

The application after setting forth the size of the Salmon tract and pertinent conditions, declares that the proposed supply will be greater than the water is. It further states that the owner's application will be made to the government for permission and adequate assurance given. The amount of water sought would furnish in it a supply of 100,000 acre feet. In his original petition he had requested only two and three-fourths acre feet. This, however, with the normal supply, would be greater than the Twin Falls tract could furnish.

Following the hearing afternoon considered the matter of increasing the supply from various angles. Opinions was expressed that the arrangement might be made. Engineer E. V. Borchelt said he would cut out and an arrangement reached with the Twin Falls Company.

The matter of fulfilling the east fork of the Jackfish river was also taken under consideration. A committee was appointed, the personnel consisting of Nelson Hayward, T. J. Daniels and J. H. Tremont.

The committee will interview the Twin Falls Company and make an investigation under a plan to improve water rights in that way.

It was reported that the gauge height at the dam was 17 and seventeen feet above the height of the season before. Further filling will be done in the coming days up to twenty-seven feet. Thus far starting second fillment has not yet been started. The water level about the middle of the month, depending upon weather conditions and crop requirements.

Agreement has finally been definitely reached with the Twin Falls Company concerning the purchase of water from tributaries. The U. S. company has agreed to turn over its entire water supply for 10 days to E. V. Borchelt with President Hayward conducting the negotiations.
