SOUTHERN STATE HIT BY HEAVY DOWNPOUR; CROPS SUFFER

BATH-TUB HOST SENTENCED TO YEAR AND A DAY IN JAIL AND TO PAY FINE OF $2,000

Earl Carroll, New York Theatrical Producer, Punished for Alleged Mis-information of Federal Grand Jury; Serves Notice of Appeal and Posts $5,000 Bond.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer today was sentenced to serve one year and one day in Atlanta federal penitentiary and fined $2,000 for telling federal grand jury here that nobly had bathed in a bathtub of champagne at the party he gave on the stage of his theatre the night of February 22-23. The fine of $2,000 was assessed in two parts, $1,000 on each of the two counts of perjury.

Herbert Smythe, attorney for Carroll, announced that an immediate appeal would be taken. He says he said, were already prepared, citing "very" alleged "creditors" and other "details" as a basis for the appeal.

Clad Not Present.
"I think this is the first time anyone in the world that I has been anywhere," was the comment of Smythe when asked why he was not present, nor was his lawyer, Carroll's bail was set at $5000 pending appeal. He went immediately from the courtroom with his attorney to the clerk's office to arrange the bail.

Carroll came to court accompanied by his attorney, Mr. Carroll was not present, nor was his lawyer, the girl in the bath tub. The courtroom was crowded, but only a few women were present.

More New Trials.
"Is Mr. Carroll present?" he asked.

Carroll and his lawyer stepped forward and both remained standing throughout the proceedings.

Smythe made a motion for the motion which U. S. Attorney Emerly H. Buckley opposed. The motion was denied.

Sentence was then passed. Carroll took the sentence willingly and with little show of nervousness or emotion.

While Carroll's actual punishment was a year and a day in prison, technically he is sentenced to that term on each count, but the jail sentences were concurrent.

March Interest.
Sentence was passed by Federal Judge Henry O'Connell, in connection with the verdict returned by a week ago today on two counts of perjury.

Carroll's conviction and sentence was the climax of an action, which several federal officers busy and much of the country interested for weeks.

Five hundred people, it was estimated, attended the party on the night it started around midnight, after the opening's performance, at his theatre.

NEW SCHEDULE ON MAIL ROUTE

BOISE, June 3.—North bound air mail planes on the Elko-Idaho-Pocatello route will advance their schedule one hour, effective Friday, according to orders received today by L. W. Thrall, postmaster from the post office department in Washington. The planes will leave at 12:30 p. m., instead of 1:30, arriving in Boise at 3:30 instead of 4:30 and at Pocatello at 6:20 instead of 7:20.

Reasoning for the change was that during the winter months the north-bound plane, under the old schedule, would not reach Pocatello until after dark.

No northbound plane made the trip Wednesday after its route as the transportation plane was 10 hours late in reaching Elko.

Business in Twin Falls is not as good as it might be just now, but it would be considerable better if a lot of individuals would just decide to let go of a little loose cash that they have in their pockets for those necessities that they must have in the very near future.

Some people are trying to insinuate that Southern Idaho has a serious water shortage facing it but if they will come this way and allow us to take them out to look over our splendid crops and our overflowing canals they will change their tune on this subject.

The leaders of the Republican party are very much alarmed about a coalition of the Progressives and Democrats in this state. They palaver a great deal about sacrificing the principles of Democracy and then they say to the Progressives, "You want a clean victory without the loss of your party principles" if you are to win.

IDAHO'S INDIRECT PRIMARY

There is little disagreement among the intelligent as to what is the matter with Idaho, but when it comes to setting on a remedy, we are still apparently in the "up-in-the-air" condition most pleasing to our Machiavellian republican friends who brought the condition about.

The political life of our fair state date from the repeal of the state-wide primary and the passage of our unique anti-fusion law by the republican legislature of 1918.

And we can never expect anything else until the progressives of all parties lay aside all thought of partisan advantage and concentrate on the one idea of voting for MEN pledged to the re-enactment of a state-wide primary and the repeal of that other monstrosity, the anti-fusion law, which benefits no one and protects nothing outside the republican machine and the "sacred principles" of the malodorous gang of state house "cabinetters."

No wonder the gang and all of its little toots and camp-followers froth at the mouth and dance "like der-vishes at the mere mention of a state-wide primary or the possibility of the fusion of the progressive elements, for no one knows better than the gang that their political lives depend on keeping the honest, intelligent majority divided into two or three camps of dopes, fighting for mere party labels.

That's the reason the gang repealed the primary law and passed the anti-fusion law, and the only thing behind the hypocritical "party principle" slush put out by the gang is the office-holders' itch for pie.

Let every voter who is tired of contributing to the outrageous tax fund necessary to maintain a lot of duffers posing as statesmen and business men, while piling up deficits and debt for the state, pledge himself to vote for no candidate who will not declare himself unequivocally for a state-wide primary law—let him stick on this one thing, and his other desires will follow, in due time.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Where "The Man Without a Country" Originated. Fort Adams, in Philadelphia county, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is the place among the historic forts of the United States because it gave to us the greatest story ever written in our history.

The site of Fort Adams has long been a historic one. The first white man to visit it was Daniel Gookin, a Frenchman, who erected a cross there and called it Fort de la Devotion. It was later called Fort Mifflin, and when a British man who with 400 men was ambushed there by the Tuxton Indians in 1705.

President John Adams' administration the government bought this site from Francis Jones, who held the land as a Spanish grant, and built there Fort Adams, named in honor of the President. "Heroic Little Fort" Meriwether Lewis was stationed for a while before going to the expedition to become President Jefferson's secretary, had from their Governor Calhoun and General Winthrop started for New Orleans for the formal ceremony of receiving the Louisiana Purchase.

In its early years Fort Adams was one of the most important military posts in the Middle West. It was at this fort that General Winthrop negotiated with the Indians for opening a road from the fort through Natchez to Nashville and that point of the route between Natchez and Nashville became the famous "Natchez Trace." There is a good story told about the capture of General Wilkinson's army at the fort. The general had lost his queue and ordered all of his officers to have theirs cut.

Desperate Prisoner Hits Sheriff Finch on Head With Pipe

T. W. DeCamp Awaiting Sentence on Plea of Guilty for Grand Larceny, Strikes Officer; Blow Does Little Injury; Finch, Who Was Unarmed, Starts for Automatic and Is Held Up by Daughter Who, with Ready Pistol, Is Prepared to Prevent a Jailbreak.

Hit on the head with a sprayer pipe by T. W. DeCamp, confessed burglar who is awaiting sentence for grand larceny, Sheriff M. E. Finch while creating his automatic found himself held up by his own daughter, Eleanor, at 10 o'clock last night. The sheriff got his gas, however, and frustrated what was a bold attempt at jailbreak on the part of DeCamp. The sprayer was too light a weapon to stun or knock the sheriff down. Miss Finch was prepared to stop anyone who attempted to get out and her father was the first person to attempt to do so. DeCamp hid on top of a cage and struck the sheriff.

Hold Over Case.
Sheriff Finch locks up the prisoners in inner rooms or cells at 10 o'clock. Sometimes a prisoner has to get up and is lying down when this takes place. After he has locked the prisoners up he makes a search outside to be sure nobody has been left in the corridors. The search is usually hurried. DeCamp secured the sprayer pipe and crawled to the top of the inner cage. Sheriff Finch had changed his clothes and forgot to transfer his automatic. The other prisoners walked in and the sheriff locked the door. As the sheriff raised his weapon DeCamp leaped over and struck him on the temple with the sprayer pipe, which bent from the force of the blow, but only startled the sheriff. DeCamp in his cramped position was in no condition to jump on the officer. The sheriff reached for his gun and realized that he did not have it. In order to get out of the jail it is necessary to pass through the house of the sheriff. Miss Finch heard the commotion and, suspecting an attempt to break jail, grabbed a pistol. Hearing somebody coming, hurriedly raised the weapon. As her father stepped out, he was confronted with a determined young lady with a big gun on the head of his head. He capitulated at once and got his own weapon. The sheriff went back and at first could not see DeCamp who had hidden. The sheriff fired in the air and DeCamp came out with his hands up and surrendered.

DeCamp and a young man named Earl Brome was arrested about two days ago in Ozden on a charge of stealing the J. D. Brown car. Both entered pleas of guilty to the charge when brought back and admitted committing the burglary at the Kimberly Hardware store and made a lot of other cars. DeCamp evidently figured on waiting until the sheriff had locked up all the other prisoners, including his partner in crime, knocking out the officer and making his escape. He made no comment regarding his intentions after he surrendered to the sheriff.
