

PENNSYLVANIA PRIMARY ELECTION IS A FRAUD, CHARGES GOV. PINCHOT

Seven Thousand Falsely Registered in Allegheny County, Committee Hears

Keystone-State's Executive Also Alleges Votes in Mellon's Home Town Were Held Up by Election Committee; Jim Reed Opens Discussion.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(Special) Unimpaired dry candidate in the Pennsylvania primary charged at the opening of the state primary investigation today that there was fraud in that election, Pinchot contended that 7000 persons were falsely registered in Allegheny county (Pittsburgh).

The governor, who was associated with the late President Roosevelt during the height of the executive's career also claimed that the votes to the home town of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had been held up by the election committee.

The bridegroom is Gideon Boleyn, member of a well known Dutch-American family newspaper said.

"We met only a few weeks ago—it has been a case of pure romance, the couple was quoted as saying.

"It will all be very secret," Boleyn said.

Boleyn was born in America, of a Huguenot family which came from Holland.

Hollywood Girls Are Hard-Boiled

INGLEWOOD, Calif., June 9.—Hollywood girls are still doing it—that is, making the man walk home, according to a Hollywood police.

Motorcycle Officer George White arrested two local men after they were ejected from an automobile in Inglewood by two girls, said to be from the city.

The men, J. A. Blake, 26, and E. L. Williams, 23, claimed the girls were "hard-boiled" and had liquor in their machine. The officer declared he searched the car and failed to find a drop.

Blake and Williams were arrested when they tried to escape in a street car and avoid overhauling by the traffic officer.

They were held in charge in default of $50 bail.

Blake's wife visited him in his cell "told you not to go around riding with girls" she declared.

KITCHENER HONORED IN LONDON

Empire Unveils Statue to Memory of Missing War Hero.

Mystery Shrouds Fate of Field Marshal After Ten-Year Search.

LONDON, June 9.—A simple, undecorated statue of Field Marshal the Earl Kitchener of Khartoum, whose fate may forever remain a mystery of the mystery of the World war, was unveiled in the Horse Guards parade here today by the Prince of Wales.

The late inscription, "Kitchener, 1850-1916. Erected by Parliament," under the seven and one-half foot high figure in the uniform of a British army field marshal, tells all that is now known of the unhappy end of one of the most brilliant military careers in the history of the world.

The British secret service and the entire military intelligence of the government have, for more than ten years, carried on an unending search of every corner of the globe in an attempt to determine the truth about Kitchener's disappearance. Every possible clue which might shed some light on the mystery has been run down by the intelligence.

Last Seen. Reports, accepted as the most authoritative available, state that Kitchener was last seen talking with the captain of the British cruiser Hampshire, while the ship was being abandoned off the Orkney islands in the North sea early on the morning of June 5, 1916. It is believed that the vessel struck a floating mine, but this point has never been definitely established.

BRITISH COURT OPENS TONIGHT

1200 TO ATTEND

Five Hundred Debs With Mamma Will Queue Before King, Queen and Wales.

LONDON, June 9.—Brilliant weather today inaugurated record foot-furture for 100 debutantes, including about half a dozen American girls, who tonight will line up at Buckingham Palace for the privilege of entering before King George, Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales.

The occasion will be the first of the season's royal court, scheduled for May but postponed because of the general strike.

Long before midnight hostesses containing the social ban, his mamma or sponsor and in some cases, a man, will stretch for hundreds of yards into the palace gates. Gradually the procession will work into the palace yard, the girls and the others will get down and the lord chamberlain will run his eyes over each costume to make sure that it was made the queen with unobtrusively inimitable dress.

Approximately 1200 guests will be present, 100 of them women.

GUARDSMEN OF IDAHO HOLD CAMP

Annual Field Training Opens Saturday at Boise; Enlistment Is Encouraged.

Greater Part of $100,000 for Yearly Upkeep Borne by Federal Government.

BOISE, June 9.—Idaho's national guard encampment will begin at the Boise barracks Saturday and continue for two weeks. The national guard will hold this camp several days, as many soldiers and the whole state would be benefited thereby.

The early summer of a fairly proper, some say this. It takes a great deal of work to make it possible, and hardly anybody except the men themselves can master such excitement.

Some companies and troops are already able to master their minimum strength for encampment, and employers of the boys do not make it easy for them to attend. Yet if effort is put forth to arouse more general interest in guard activities, it will be "paid" readily.

State Guards Armories.

It is probably true, those who do not think and energy to national guard work believe, that if its effectiveness depended on state appropriation it would soon die out. Happily, the greater part of the $100,000 annual cost is defrayed by the federal government, and this essential work of national security goes monthly on.

The state of Idaho provides only for rental of armories. It has been found that national guard organizations once established to maintain themselves permanent establishments if they acquire armories of their own. Adjutant General M. G. McManis has made it his special

GOODING IS LEARNING

BY JAMES B. WHELAN.

Senator Frank R. Gooding is learning things about the tariff. The trouble with the junior Senator is that it takes him so long to learn that his information comes too late to do much good. In 1922, when the Fordney bill was up, he discovered that the wool growers who had been waiting for what they thought was protection for themselves for half a century, had been flim-flammed under Schedule K. The wool manufacturing trust had been getting double protection, while the grower got little of none. He discovered that in 1922 there had been 700,000 yards of wool.

But he still believed even as late as last year, that the tariff on wheat was a panacea. He admits that he believed that, but he says now that, this, too, was an error and that we must have other farm relief. We must, indeed, though the value of the Haugen bill which he supports is of dubious value as drafted. He still clings to the fallacy that a low wage scale in a nation makes cheap labor cost in the teeth of the fact that the contrary is true, and this sophistry still induces him to cling to an obsolete system, and to refuse to recognize the value of cutting off the tariff on trust-made goods. He admits that there are trusts but refuses to censure the administration because it fails to prosecute them. He says that you cannot prove a conspiracy. He says in his address in the senate May 21:

"There is no record of any conspiracy or any combination to increase prices. They do it in a very simple way. In an investigation by the government of the General Electric Co. it was shown that while the sale of the little light bulbs constitutes only 20 per cent of the business of that company their profits from that source are 60 per cent of the total profits of the company. Under the improved methods of doing business the Sherman antitrust law is pretty near a dead letter on the statute books."

It may well be admitted that it is a dead letter under this republican administration, but it would not hurt to make an honest effort to enforce it.

In the same speech he said (Congressional Record, page 9234):

"Mr. President, I was very happy when the present increase in the tariff on wheat from 20 cents a bushel to 42 cents a bushel was made. I thought that was going to help the farmer, but I have discovered that for some reason, at times he has received but little benefit from the tariff of 42 cents a bushel on wheat, and I have come to the conclusion that it is simply because the millers have a thorough organization."

"Mr. Smoot. The hard-wheat growers."

"Mr. Gooding. No; not even the hard-wheat growers at times have received much benefit from the tariff."

"Mr. President, I offer a table for the Record showing the price of No. 1 dark northern wheat at Minneapolis and the price of No. 1 northern at Winnipeg for the years 1924, 1925, and up to May 1 of 1926. This table shows that, with the exception of a few months, the growers of wheat in this country who come in competition with the high-grade wheat of Canada have received but little benefit of the protection on wheat, and it is safe to say, Mr. President, that the growers of the low grades of wheat in this country have received little, if any, protection out of the tariff of 42 cents per bushel on wheat."

"Let us not forget that this table refers to only the hard-wheat grower. Only 15 per cent of the wheat growers of this country produce what is known as No. 1 northern wheat, which competes with Canada."

"It is safe to say that the wheat growers, outside of the hard-wheat growers, have gotten any benefit from the tariff."

How far the promontory ruminating of the Iowa storm may have accelerated the educational processes of Senator Gooding and expedited his arrival at the conclusion that the tariff, per se, is no panacea for the farmer, is hard to determine. The conclusion itself is correct, but the senator is too slow and uncertain in getting wise to facts. He has made some feeble gestures toward the right direction of international relations and could he live a few centuries longer might make a fair senator.

In view of the overwhelming defeat of Senator Albert B. Cummins, a combination of the old machine, with Senator John W. Hart, of the Utah-Idaho sugar company; C. A. Barton of the lumber trust; the Deweys and Senator I. Rockwell, of the electric trust, all Borah leaders, to supply Gooding with a near-progressive would seem a not unlikely thing."

SAMUELS ASKS LOWER RATE ON COAL SHIPMENTS

Reduction of Freight from Teton Mines by Dollar a Ton Is Requested.

BOISE, Idaho, June 9.—Freight rates on coal from the Teton county coal mines in Idaho are being asked to be reduced by one dollar a ton in a petition filed today with the public utilities commission by the Teton coal company and its president, J. A. Samuels.

The rate schedule proposed in the petition lists 27 stations on the lines of the Union Pacific in Idaho, and rates ranging from 50 cents a ton for Clark and 75 cents a ton for Lem, on the Victor Astoria branch to $2.50 a ton for Clark and $1.20 a ton for Lem on the Idaho State. The base rate asked is $1.75 and $1.30 and the Twin Falls rate $1.25 and $1.24.

Incorporated in the petition are exhibits A and B, resolutions adopted by the Idaho State Senate at its public hearing in January, 1925. W. W. Boyd, member of the senate, presented the petition to the public utilities commission for Mr. Samuels, who is in Idaho on business in connection with the coal mine in which he is preparing, but he was obliged to leave before it was completed.

... AT THE THEATRES

DELICIOUS PHOTOPLAY ACTED PERFECTLY BY STAR CAST

Low Cost and Max Star cast playing the leading roles supported by one of the most brilliant casts of any current picture. For those critics who are desiring the best of proper picture titles "Time, the Comedian" is an answer.

The title has much to do with the production. Time in an unusual degree is pictured as the great companion of life twisting the destiny of all mankind as a junior might play with puppets. The faculty of stretching and time and fate is presented through the medium of a first hand panorama of the first quarter of the century twentieth century.

Also five acts of vaudeville in conjunction makes a big show.

HOUSE PETERS STARS IN "COMBAT" AT THE IDAHO

Romantic, witty drama of the outdoors such as "Combat," the current feature at the Idaho theatre, is popular because it presents life of a nature that we would all like to know, yet don't. House Peters has the starring role, that of a trapper lumberjack. Opposite him is Wanda Hawley, while the other members of the colorful cast are Walter McMillan, C. E. Anderson, Charles Miller, Steve Clements and Howard Treadwell. Lynn Reynolds directed.

Charles Chase in "Charlie, My Boy," a historical feature, and the Idaho Photo-grams complete the program.

Idaho Guardsmen Hold Encampment

Idaho Guardsmen held their encampment during their term of office to encourage the officers of each company, troop or battery to hasten the financing and construction of armories. In so doing he is giving the state the best possible insurance that the national guard will live.

Encampment Small. Boise has not shown interest in the guard in the above mentioned by other towns. It seems to take for granted that the encampment will be here and that a certain headquarters and personnel will be here. Only for the thousands of loyal young men who realize the essential importance of the national guard as the country's first line of defense could the allotted units be maintained here.

The muster roll of these organizations is one of the most interesting and interesting about half as many as a year ago. In the past the less composed of so many names of heroes, accomplished and soldiers, who have elected to carry on as they and others did in 1918, yet without any of the glamour and honor.

It is interesting to note that the American Legion, membership in the United States is based directly upon military service. It is a definite peace time program.

BUHL NEWS

Miss Estelle McMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan, who lives at Buhl, was married to Robert J. Buhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Buhl, on May 21, by the Methodist minister. They left immediately for Buhl and arrived here last Thursday. They visited for two years in the little town of Salem, Oregon, to visit Mrs. J. A. Buhl's sister, Mrs. Arnold Johnson.

Mr. O. R. Brannon of Buhl and Mrs. L. R. Goodrich of Jerome arrived here Sunday from Pitzer, Colorado. They were called by the serious illness and death of Mrs. Brannon's mother, Mrs. W. J. Walters. Mrs. Walters was well known in the Buhl country, having lived here a number of years. She was a member of the local Baptist church. She leaves to mourn her death her husband, O. J. Walters, three daughters and two sons. Mrs. Goodrich is the wife of Mr. Goodrich, who is a member of the local Baptist church.

The Buhl dramatic club took their annual cast of characters and sang and acted at their lodge last Tuesday evening. As usual one hundred and fifty members and members of their families responded to the invitation soon after dark. The program was the first annual gathering. The festival dinner took place in the early days on the tract here and marks the carrying of the first harvest. Stewards, officers, cream and cake were in attendance for all who came.

(Special to The Times) BOISE, June 9.—The state bureau of dairying has planned four district meetings and has sent out 700 letters of invitation to all creamery managers, buttermakers, cheese factory managers, cheese inspectors, ice cream makers, cream station operators, and field men.

Some of the subjects that will be discussed are: Manufacturing publications, our present day dairy laws, constructive dairy legislation that is needed, the relation of the state bureau of dairying to the purchaser and manufacturer, the spreading of the return of your, skin milk, and buttermilk, improvement of quality of Idaho dairy products through better raw materials and other matters of importance.

Idaho Chamber of Commerce Is Rapped Again

(By A. F. RIDDLE)

BOISE, June 9.—Though not publicly admitted, the state chamber of commerce is a failure. It may attain the endorsement of sufficient finances to achieve the purpose of a state-wide advertising campaign. With the half year of failure to date may be an indication that it would be wiser to abandon the original objective.

It is not uncommonly true that a failure is not recognized until it is too late to recognize. Perhaps the mountains and the river canyon are substantial barriers after all. It is a merger. Perhaps agriculture, fruit growing, livestock and wool, dairy and cheese, mining, lumbering, manufacturing and other separate lines of business could better be served by its own organization, such as work out its own development program.

Editorial Lobby. The state editorial association, called to meet at McCall in July, in total need of legislation will be threatened out.

Were the newspapermen of the state really to unite on something really necessary, not for themselves but for the state—and why they to fight it through in spite of all the troubles that can be connected with the end and that interest, they could get it handed down.

SEEMED LIKE HE'D NEVER GET BACK ON FEET AGAIN

The 'Flu' Just Knocked Him Clear Out, Says Heffner—Took Karnal, and This Medicine Buhl Him Right Up Like a New Man.

"I tell you, this Karnal sure picks a person up right now and puts him in good condition again," declares Palmer Heffner, of 39 S. Logan St., Denver, Colo.

"About six months ago I had the 'flu' and it nearly 'kilt' me. Just seemed like I'd never get back on my feet again. My stomach and other things were all gone and I just looked like I couldn't get back on my feet again. My stomach was in such bad condition that everything I ate would make me sick, and I was so dizzy and weak I could hardly stay on my feet. I suffered with constipation, too, and was so easy to take cold that I had one all the time. My head ached nearly all the time, and the whole of my home I was so nervous and irritable I couldn't sleep. Mornings I could hardly move myself, and I lost many days work just because I felt too 'tough' to go.

"Well, sir, I heard so much about Karnal, and I decided to try the medicine, and it was sure done wonders for me. It has given me the best kind of appetite and fixed me up so I can eat now. I found the Karnal pills and pills have disappeared. I have gained weight, and have so much new strength and energy I am just like a new man. I found the Karnal pills fine to take along with the Karnal, and I can't say enough for the medicine for putting me back on my feet in such fine condition."

Karnal is sold in Twin Falls by the Schramm-Johnson Drug Co., and all leading druggists.

DAILY MARKET REVIEWS

Closing Grain Review on Chicago Board of Trade Today

CHICAGO, June 9 - Grain closed heavy on the Chicago Board of Trade after a nervous day in the markets.

July wheat was fractionally lower while the September and December futures were a small fraction up.

There was a break of about one cent in wheat, shortly after the opening but the dip was checked by commission houses who picked up the market.

Corn closed a small fraction lower, but under personal shilly after the steady opening.

AERONAUTIC CHAPTER FOR TWIN FALLS

Unqualified Approval of Robert Ray's Landing Field by Experts is Followed by Taking Steps Toward Organization of First Society in Idaho.

Following unqualified approval by Lieutenant Ray Schreuder of the Ray's Landing field, preliminary steps were taken here today toward the organization here of the first chapter of the National Aeronautic association in the state of Idaho.

Lieutenant Schreuder, while a first lieutenant in the air service of the government but is now in reserve, he has lived in Salt Lake City for some time, but is prepared to leave for Akron, O., where he enters the service of the Firestone Tire & Rubber company.

Lieutenant Schreuder visited the field this morning in company with Eugene Ostrander, Robert Hoyt, whose timely donation has been claimed as one of unusual foresight and generosity, is already clearing the ground. The expert pronounced the field flat in every way, having seen it from the water, to a telephone and to other advantages.

Regarding the organization of the chapter, details have not yet been worked out, according to Charles F. Dinkley, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who is actively in securing the idea. The membership fee is $5 and anyone interested in furthering aerial navigation can join of the fee, all but $2.25 is returned to the member either in advertising or in improving the field. Membership in the national association has many advantages for the community, which is placed on all the maps, it is said, and which where the field is as satisfactory as that located by Mr. Hoyt, will attract birdmen from many places.

Woman Discovers Value of Ancient Precept

"Sometimes a little precept is more than good," said the woman, as, with flushed cheeks she threw down a dress she had been working on the day. "For I believe I had drilled into me in my youth, 'Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today,' and I actually suffer for it to this day. For I would have been better to put things off till tomorrow, but I feel that old precept driving me in this line. I think I would be much better if I had put it by this dress until tomorrow, for I work on it too long already. But no, I have put it off and now I've made a real blunder of it."

"Again and again I am reminded of precepts for a better life, but I find that old precept keeps ringing in my ears, and I attempt today what would be much better attempted tomorrow. In the case of important decisions, I think it is much better generally to sleep on the problem, but sometimes I feel as if putting off until tomorrow was a sin, and I often decide with hardly a thought."

"I know that lazy people often put off till tomorrow, believing that tomorrow will do the task for them, and of course they're very negligent and slack—but sometimes it's better to be late than to follow 'Springfield' in being late."

"If you don't need it someone else does. Try it now."

UTAH HERDER CHAMPION HOAX PLAYER, BELIEF

CEDAR CITY, Utah, June 9.—That Martin Biehl, 19 year old sheep herder, treated the outstanding hoax of a decade as being the belief of many who have been engaged in searching for his lost body the next few days in this vicinity. The bloodstained redskin, saw knife and bayonet, have been submitted to State Chemist Herman Harris of Salt Lake City and the blood stains pronounced out of human origin.

It is the belief of many that the missing boy entered the circles in the blood of a lamb found in the hills by searchers with its throat cut, and then deliberately disappeared.

In the search for the missing boy more than six hundred men have participated. Blood hounds have been used and the famous dog "Squid" of Salt Lake City, noted for his tracking abilities found the dead lamb, but not the lost boy.
