TWO WOMEN PRAISE SAME MEDICINE

Both Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"After the birth of my little daughter I was very badly run-down. I could not think of going to bed and I was actually worse being compelled to get up in bed two or three days each week. My doctor said my system was all out of gear. I had not taken all of the medicine when I was up and able to do some work. I am truly a booster for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may have my testimonials."—Miss Maxine Lyman, 1115 Island Ave., East, Steokton, Cal., Pa.

Funeral of Mrs. Houghtelin to Be in California

Funeral of Mrs. A. L. Houghtelin, who died in California of sleeping sickness, will be held in Santa Monica this week at a date that has not been learned here. She was about 62 years old at the time of death. She is survived by her husband, two sons, John and Clark of Twin Falls, and by her mother and other relatives, who live in Santa Monica.

Mrs. Houghtelin's name before her marriage was Isabel McLeod. Her mother was a Miss Davis, before marriage, and in a first cousin of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy. Mrs. Houghtelin was a member of the Christian church. Some time ago following serious physical illness she underwent an operation in Portland from which she largely recovered, but later took a bad cold, went back to Portland when it was discovered that her trouble was developing into sleeping sickness. A person of unusual brightness and intellectuality, she had many friends in all around Twin Falls.

OR HEALTH'S SAKE EAT SKINNER'S SUPERIOR EGG NOODLES

WHAT YOU GET IN THIS WORLD-FAMOUS SIX 40 or 55 miles an hour in high gear... 5 to 6 miles an hour in 21 seconds... High speed motor... Low resistance... Durable gears... 115 lbs. net weight... 10 lbs. net weight.

ARE you tired of "sluggish" cars? Do you want the thrill of flashing, brilliant performance... to be able to step out and around other cars on the road? Then this is the car for you. It is built for young people who are going somewhere.

They have discovered it in thousands. It is "modern" just made over. We mean just what we imply. Many cars have been "modern" too long. Buyers of such "new" cars are due for a "shock" when they look for resale value.

The Overland Six is new all thru... brilliantly engineered as a unit. It was designed for road speeds of from 45 to 55 miles per hour without wear and tear on the motor. That's why you can run this new-type car at high speed hour after hour.

It will pickup in high gear from 5 to 40 miles an hour in 12 seconds. It has ample power to climb steep hills in high... gear shifting reduced to a minimum. It has a modern full pressure-fed oiling system.

Modern engineering has made possible a lower gravity center. The Overland Six fairly hugs the ground. Without sideway slipping or wandering... it is surprisingly safe and easy to control. In performance this remarkable new-type car is brilliant.

The only way to appreciate it is to actually drive the car. Sit behind the wheel and experience yourself the wonderful thrill of its tremendous power, its lightning pickup and amazing bursts of speed. In fairness to yourself, see this car. Note: 4-wheel brakes are now furnished as optional equipment at slight extra cost.

IS FUSION DEAD?

Both Democrats and Progressives have seemingly come to the conclusion that they won't fuse, but, notwithstanding and nevertheless, outstanding members of neither party have quite given up the ship. In considering the question it might as well be declared, conclusively, that there is only one kind of fusion possible and, indeed, that ever was possible. That is the checkerboard system. Any other way involves sacrifices that neither party would agree to.

To go a step farther, it may also be almost as conclusively stated that fusion involving all the state ticket from top to bottom is no longer possible. What is left, then, by this process of elimination, is the possibility of a fusion involving only the offices of senator and governor. It is not, however, and never was possible, except in an almost unimaginable contingency, that the two parties could ever come to an amicable agreement upon the distribution of offices all the way down the line. A reasonable time to allow for the reaching of such an agreement might be set at a date about July first, 1928.

But there is still a possibility that an understanding might be reached between now and convention time whereby a checkerboarding of these two offices might be accomplished. As we have before stated in these columns, there is not a Republican in the state of Idaho today could heat Judge Morgan for governor running on a Progressive ticket and with the Democrats leaving that office blank on their ticket. The same thing might be said of John Nugent running on the Democratic ticket with similar conditions. He would certainly make our Republican friends scrutinize their hole card once again before calling the bet.

It is being freely stated that Ray McKaig was the power in the Progressive committee that turned down the Democratic advances. It is also freely stated that Samuels doesn't like Ray any more. And Mr. Samuels himself says that he is out of politics and will not be a candidate for anything. With regard to Ray, the committee seems to have gotten the impression that he was for fusion alright, Alright, provided it was the McKaig brand of fusion.

To sum the matter up: It is conceded that there is only one way to "turn the rascals out," and that is to combine forces.

It is conceded that a checkerboard fusion is the only possible way at this time.

It is conceded that a checkerboard all the way down the line is out of the question.

It is evident that there is still a possibility of fusion upon the two principal offices—Idaho Pioneer.

By whom is it "conceded that fusion all the way down the line" on the state ticket is impossible? So far from being impossible, it would be easily accomplished. Should the fusion arrangement be carried out all the way, good candidates could be secured for all positions and there would be no misunderstanding later. On the other hand, should there be fusion on senator and governor only, and two full tickets run for the other positions, not only would the election of either be made practically impossible, but the confusion incident to their rivalry would jeopardize the success of the candidates for the positions on which fusion had not been agreed on. The Idaho Pioneer, which correctly says it is not a democratic party, seems to have a policy which would let the same results as another policy advocated by Ray McKaig; Republican victory.

DAIRYING IN IDAHO

Dairying in Idaho constitutes one of the most promising industries in this state. And this industry is growing by leaps and bounds.

There is no industry that should receive more encouragement or greater protection from outside invasion and interference.

Nothing should be left undone to advance the interests of the industry, to bring into this state better dairy stock, to manufacture and sell a superior product.

Cooperation among dairymen and those engaged in the dairy industry has done much to advance its best interests. This is proven by a bulletin that has just been issued by the census bureau.

This bulletin shows that in 1919 Idaho farmers sold cooperatively dairy products valued at $3,359,598. This milk production has increased from 52,365,449 gallons to 78,505,093 gallons, butterfats from 4,951,918 pounds to 14,489,694 pounds.

Cooperative creameries have proven a success in this state. They are paying to the dairymen big returns. A better brand of butter is being manufactured and stronger markets are being opened.

When Idaho takes into consideration her natural advantages for dairying—the best of forage, fine pasture and excellent climate—it can not only make dairy pay well, but it can attract to this state the better dairymen of other states.—Exchange.

FIVE YOUNG HEIRS WORRY THEIR PEOPLE

LONDON.—Europeans are commenting on the fact that there are now five young royal bachelors ready to succeed their father's thrones in the Old World.

This is the first time in history, it is believed, when the responsibility of the royal thrones of Europe has been shown such a marked disposition to enjoy their twenties free from marital cares.

These five royal bachelors are: Prince Leopold, Duke of Brabant, heir to the Belgian throne, age 25, studied philosophy under Cardinal Mercier, and is a member of the Order of the Holy Spirit.

Prince Alfonso, Crown Prince of Spain, age 27, son of a Spanish father and an English mother, is believed, at an early date.

Prince Albert, Duke of Prussia, age 22, studied medicine at the University of Bonn, and is a member of the Order of the Red Eagle.

Prince George, Duke of Greece, age 21, studied law at the University of Athens, and is a member of the Order of the Redeemer.

Prince Nicholas, Duke of Romania, age 20, studied law at the University of Bucharest, and is a member of the Order of the Star of Romania.

Prince Alexander, Duke of Yugoslavia, age 19, studied law at the University of Belgrade, and is a member of the Order of the Karađorđević.

Prince Michael, Duke of Serbia, age 18, studied law at the University of Belgrade, and is a member of the Order of the Karađorđević.

Prince Peter, Duke of Montenegro, age 17, studied law at the University of Belgrade, and is a member of the Order of the Karađorđević.

Prince Nikola, Duke of Bulgaria, age 16, studied law at the University of Sofia, and is a member of the Order of the St. Alexander.

FARM STOCK FEEDERS SIDE OF BABY BEEF PLAN

Cattle feeders are becoming more interested in the feeding of baby beef, each successive season.

The advantages of baby beef feeding have often been published, in which the change in the demands of the household, the baby beef has been compared. The cattle feeder may wonder if the feeding of baby beef can be justified by greater economy and increased profits in his own feet.

Experimental data proves that the production of choice heavy-weight animals of the baby beef variety has economic advantage. The feed cost of white-face Colorado calves was compared with the feeding of yearlings and two pounds for two years.

When the calves were fed for two years, the average daily gain per head was only 2.23 pounds, as compared with 3.32 pounds for the yearlings and two pounds for two years.

Sanitation Good Policy

Despite the fact that the United States is now the most advanced country in the world in which to live, the greatest losses which are being caused by animal diseases are being caused by sanitation.

The sheep were started off on fall-wool, and winter lambing. Next they grazed on and Canadian hay and pasture, and then on alfalfa, and after that corn and velvet beans, when fall-worm grain was again in the field.
