Prolific Tomato Plant
The bureau of plant industry says that it is not beyond the bounds of possibility to produce one bushel of tomatoes from a single plant. This field is received, however, by giving individual attention to the plant, allowing plenty of room, liberal food and fertilizing. A trellis must also be erected over which the plant can extend its shoots. There is little advantage in trying to get a maximum yield from a single plant, for when the attention is concentrated on one plant rather than six the plant takes the space of five or six ordinary plants and the possible yield is greater. As many as fifteen pounds of tomatoes can be had from one plant without abundant care on the part of the grower.

"Grass Is Great"

Say People Who Have Seen This

"Grass" is the grandest picture I have ever seen. It has amazing authenticity. To my mind this certainly will be remembered as one of the greatest pictures ever produced."
—WILLIAM BEEBE, Famous Explorer.

"The pictured story of the primitive 'trek' for grass in the 20th century is an amazing one. It is a story that has an epic quality and a memory of the nomadic period in our own civilization."
—JOHN FINLEY, Associate Editor, New York Times and President American Geographical Society.

"An extraordinary story of one of the greatest natural dramas the struggle for existence, told by a dramatist of reality."
—LOUIS L. BRIDGES, Editor of ANIMA Magazine.

"An amazingly interesting picture portraying a unique experience on a trip that could only be undertaken by real adventurers possessed of courage and initiative."
—KERMIT ROOSEVELT.

"I have told Mr. Beebe (President, Explorers Club) that your film is the best thing I have ever seen and I think I will stand by that statement hereafter. It made a tremendously deep impression on me."
—BRIAN HOWMAN, Director, American Geographical Society.

"From the point of view of our society's fundamental objects, a diffusion of geographical knowledge, this picture has extraordinary value, while from the viewpoint of entertainment it also possesses striking qualities."
—GILBERT GROSVENOR, President, National Geographical Society.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

RICKARD MAY WITHDRAW IN BOUT TANGLE

Tex Must Decide Whether to Abandon Efforts for a Tunney-Dempsey Match.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Tex Rickard may decide before night falls whether he will continue his efforts to stage a Dempsey-Tunney match for the heavyweight championship or back out of the picture for the time being and promote a Dempsey-Wild bout.

The anger that was first aroused in Rickard when he learned that the Coliseum club had announced its preference for Dempsey's services and would promote a Dempsey-Wild bout, has turned to a virtual acceptance of defeat.

This statement came from Rickard after he had met in Milwaukee for Ray Cannon, former attorney for Dempsey was held.

The only encouraging news in Rickard's camp was that Jim Dempsey was quoted in dispatches from Colorado Springs as saying his contract with the Coliseum club was void and that he would fight contract now is with Rickard.

Rickard may decide to fight the case in the courts and set a definite ruling as to whether his contract or the Coliseum club's contract is legal.

BRUINS DROP FIRST GAME WITH BEES

Big Pete Thompson Falls in His Effort to Break Hitting Record Yesterday.

SALT LAKE, July 21.—Twelve hits in bunches of three, two, four, two and one came across the plate for the Bruins yesterday while the Bees were making the effort of an Mr. Dolan of Twin Falls to set a carbon partition of the hit and base record.

Thompson, the big slugger, led off with the offense of Mr. Dolan, but Mr. Dolan's mates failed miserably at first time to give him the support that he had reason to expect. The Twin Falls team made five runs, the result of nine hits, one error and four bases on balls.

There were two errors in the day's play. One was the hitting of Zinke, who was dropped from his three square by the Pocatello team.

Thompson, who was picked up by Salt Lake, says the Tribune, Zinke and a two-bagger and two home runs lost of four times on a double-bagger.

Zinke will be a good batter if he ever finds that hitting eye.

NO SAGE HEN OPEN SEASON ON THIS YEAR

Castle and Twin Falls Counties Will Be Closed, Unless, Possibly for a Short Time Late in August.

There will be no open season on sagehen this year in Castle or Twin Falls counties unless, which seems unlikely, there will be a short period in the last days of August.

This information was conveyed Friday afternoon by word received by L. W. Hawkins, deputy game warden, and confirmed by a communication received by Alvin Harbour, president of the Southern Idaho Fish & Game Association.

The info applies in both counties and the reason given is that the dry season has compelled the game to concentrate around water areas and makes their practical application possible.

The letter received by President Harbour was from the Castle and Twin Falls clubs.

FATHER KILLED THE BEAR

BY JAMES H. WHELAN.

The story of how the old man waited until the bear had been put out of commission and then called to the children, "Stand back and see father kill a bear," is being reenacted in this county right now.

For months The Times has insisted on the speedy construction of the rim to rim bridge and has published every item of news, with frequent editorial comment. It has pointed to the wrong that has been done through the methods adopted by the board of county commissioners. Not one peep of censure was heard during all this time from those, who, now that it is safe, say occasionally that the old board must be beaten, and who are helping the same machine that picked this bunch to pick another.

The Times is the only paper that has published accounts of the showing of various audits and auditors' reports, county, city and canal board. It has not sought to array one class against the other by dividing citizenship along occupational lines, whether farm, merchant or labor. It has favored all legitimate enterprise and work and has fought monopoly wherever it appeared, backing the Southern Idaho Light & Power association in its fight for more equitable electrical rates when nobody else would do so, or did so. It did this when others were complaining about the suffering of public utility corporations which were compelled to defend themselves against the attacks of misguided "lower rate" enthusiasts.

The Times is glad to see citizens who have heretofore been either silent or covertly antagonistic join it in its fight on the bridge question and the issue of expenses to the tax payers. It shows that the fight is won.

A COUNTY SCHOOL TRANSPORTATION REPORT

Thirty-five school busses in Montgomery county, Alabama, traveled 260,058 miles making 17,380 trips during the school year 1925-1926, according to a report from that county. They averaged 10.54 miles per gallon of gasoline and 172 miles per gallon of oil. (Last year the 43 school busses averaged 10.56 miles to the gallon of gasoline and 169 miles per gallon of oil). The distance individual busses traveled varied from 4,792 to 11,747 miles; the gasoline mileage from 5.65 to 13.77 miles per gallon. (Last year the gas mileage varied from 4.96 to 14 miles per gallon).

Montgomery county schools operate under the county unit plan. The county owns the busses and the county board maintains school garages where the busses are housed and kept in repair. The transportation system is under the direct supervision of the assistant county superintendent. Daily, weekly and monthly reports for each bus are kept. From these the annual report is compiled. Four different makes of busses are in use. All four makes were fairly well distributed through the scale of miles traveled per gallon. Carefully kept records promise continued improvement in transportation management.

A MEAN METHOD OF REVENGE

It is well known that Calvin Cobb, publisher of the Statesman, dislikes Senator Gooding, whom the Statesman calls "Gloomy Gus" and there is "no love lost" between the senator and the noise publisher.

Cobb "evened up" on "Gloomy Gus" in last Sunday's Statesman by publishing an excellent likeness of the junior senator, on its first page. The picture is large, was taken as a "close up" and brought out all of the ugliness of Senator Gooding's mug, which never took a prize at a beauty show, showing every detail. It is really one of the ugliest pictures ever published outside a comic supplement, but Gooding has no "kick" on the picture, for he posed for it and it was taken by the staff photographer of the Statesman. But we can just imagine how Calvin Cobb chuckles to himself when he looks at that picture, exclaiming almost in a whisper to the front pages of the Statesman: "He sure 'got even' with Gooding for all of the upkinds things Gooding has said and thought about the Statesman and its editor—Idaho-Free Press."

Newspaper "Police" Michigan's Distinction A merchant wished to advertise "rubber stamps with pockets." The printer made it read "rubber stamps with pockets." Another merchant wanted an advertising notice which the printer set in the opinion of those who had not like that way. The printer never noticed it in the paper. The merchant, after the printer refused to correct it, wrote a letter to the printer, saying: "I am sorry to hear that you have printed my advertisement in such a way as to make it impossible for me to get any business from it. I am sure that you will be glad to correct it. I am sure that you will be glad to correct it. I am sure that you will be glad to correct it."

WHY GOVERNMENT PRICE FIXING WON'T WORK

One of the most persistent fallacies is government price-fixing on competitive commodities. There is always government price fixing in commodities and services where competition plays no part in value determination. These are railways transportation, electricity, gas, telephone and telegraph, and so on. Here government price-fixing is likely to protect the consumer. There are two fatal objections to government price-fixing for agricultural products, which represent the most competitive business in the world. These are, first, that it will not work; second, that it is always done for the consumer's advantage by the producer.

Government price-fixing for agricultural products would work if at the same time the government regulated wages, profits, middlemen's margins, the production of all commodities and the rationing of all consumers. In short, if the population were enlisted in one vast army, directed and rationed, price-fixing would work, but otherwise not. If the price is fixed on the wheat the farmer sells, then he cannot keep on producing wheat. He waits for the cost of harvesting machinery, etc., or if the cost of other material he buys rises. So the next step would be the fixation of other prices, and yet other prices.

The United States government fixed the price of wheat last year in our history, and then it was benefit consumers, but producers. The government might, in an emergency, fix some agricultural prices for the purpose of elevating such prices. Such action would eventually and specifically lead to entry from other consumers and a consequent reversal of policy.

Fixed, the consumer, but the producers, are most likely to be deceived and secure food price regulation by government authorities. The farmer, therefore, who favors any form of governmental price-fixing is working against his own interests. It is putting his head into a noose. J. C. Boyd, Professor of Rural Economics, Cornell University, in the Berkshire Review.

GRANGE HAS BIG MEETING LAST EVENING

Large Number Gather for Interesting Program Friday Evening at Home of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilcox.

Henry Nelson, state grange organizer; H. E. Henson, county agent, and Mrs. J. H. Stover were speakers at the meeting held last night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilcox. Mr. Nelson spoke on the growth of the grange which now has 1500 to 18 organizations through the county. Mrs. Henson spoke on plant diseases and Mrs. Stover on the Idaho school law.

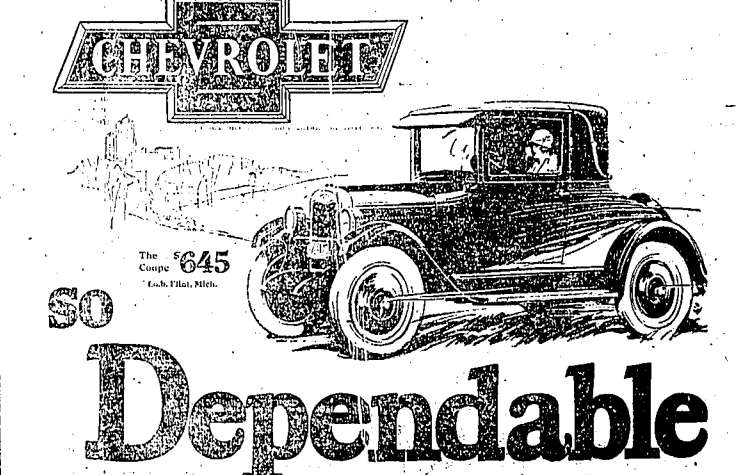

The Harmon orchestra gave musical numbers and the assemblage joined in singing "America." A. E. Henderson, grange master, announced that the grange was a non-partisan organization, and that candidates would not be among the speakers. There were about 150 at the meeting.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served.

Indefinite Term The word "row" has never been authoritatively interpreted to mean a definite number. The word is necessarily indefinite and implies a small number, not many. In general the number is about two. The word is indefinite in respect to the number to which it is compared. If a thousand were expected, an attendance of a hundred would be a few, while if a hundred were a maximum, ten or twenty would seem a few.

GUARD HEALTH OF YOUNGSTER IN HOT MONTHS

CHICAGO, July 24.—To keep babies and children well in summer, first of all keep them comfortable.

Dress according to the weather, guarding against sudden changes to lower temperature. Keep them out of doors as much as possible, but when heat is excessive outside and the home is comfortable, let them stay indoors. Bathe children daily. Give plenty of pure water to drink. Avoid fatigue, excitement, crowds, dust, flies, mosquitoes and all insects.

Breast-feeding is best for the baby. Weigh him once or twice weekly. If he does not gain weight, or is listless, restless, dull or fretful, he is not well.

Do not experiment with foods, nor give laxatives nor anything except one of these medicines nor consult friends or neighbors nor postpone decisions in cases of illness. Consult a physician. When cow's milk is advised, it should be the purest obtainable. If possible, use milk certified by a milk commission of the local health. Milk should be as pure as water used to be sterilized or even pasteurized. Milk should be kept at a temperature not above 45 degrees Fahrenheit.

The diet of children should be selected and prepared with extra care in summer. Use plenty of fruits and bread from whole wheat flour, but do not be reckless with fruit. All fluids and fruits to be eaten raw should be sound, properly ripened and well washed. Children need very little meat. It is easy to overfeed on eggs.

No tea or coffee nor alcoholic drinks for children or youth. No stimulants nor candy for those with poor appetite for plain foods. Drinks—no water, milk, malted milk, buttermilk, milk, unfermented fruit juice. Avoid the strong or saccharine or highly flavored confections—avoid any hard candy.

Meals should be served regularly. Avoid feeding between meals, and while playing about.

Have the children eat slowly, chewing well. Rinse the mouth and clean the teeth after the meal. If teeth are carious or out of line see a dentist.

POULTRY FACTS

FEEDING TURKEY POULTS PROPERLY

It is very poor economy to stint turkeys, especially young growing stocks, for when stunted, it takes a long while to recover. For the first 24 hours after the chicks emerge from the shell they should remain under the hen unmolested, both to dry and gain strength and hardiness. They do not require any food, as the yolk nature provides will last over this time. As the chicks hatch sometimes irregularly, the older ones can be cared for in the house until the others are ready to be taken away, when the hen and her brood can be removed to a sunny spot, with a tight-board bottom and rain-proof roof. They should be fed five times daily, but just what they will clean up. The first food should consist of stale bread moistened in water or in fresh milk—the milk is preferred. Do not neglect food, a very moist or slippy food will cause sickness and a high rate of mortality among young turkeys. If milk can be spared, give it in a tin can in place of water.

The best use of corn meal has caused quite a change in turkey chicks that has children among grown flocks. Until the chicks are half-grown, corn meal should be but sparingly used, but after that time, when judiciously used, is one of the very best and cheapest foods for fowls and birds in general. The young turkey, less which die when in the "stomach" state, eat their double-brood corn meal, as it is a very common practice to feed the young turkey with some raw corn meal and then feed it in that way.

When the chicks reach advanced stages of cracked wheat and wheat screenings, while rice, well boiled, is not only eagerly eaten by the chicks, but one of the very best things that can be given. It frequently happens that damaged lots of rice, or low grades of rice, can be bought at the grocery in the cities. As it increases in bulk in cooking, it is not an expensive food for young chicks even at the regular price. It is well to use it, and ordinarily pay to feed it to fall-grown fowls very liberally or very frequently.

In the absence of some large lot, during the early spring, cheap parts of fresh beef can be well boiled and shredded up for the little chicks. There are many to be taken out to feed more frequently than once in two days, and only then in moderation. Feeding must be very beneficial to young turkeys when they are "shedding" their first quill feathers, as then they require extra nourishment to repair the loss in immature and weakly bodies.

Master of the Rolls Once Not Eminent Title

In the days before printing, the old records were always written in a form which made them literally a roll, says the Portland Independent. The sheet of parchment was cut and the text was sewed to its bottom edge, and the entries repeated until a document selected copies of a hundred or more sheets, or skins, as they were then called, all sewed together in one long strip. A roll of wood was then fastened to either end in the manner of a modern map and the strip rolled up from the bottom into a great roll or bundle. The reader began at the top, slowly unrolling one end or one rolled up the other end on another stick.

From this form rolls came to stand for manuscripts, particularly official manuscripts, court records. The keeper or master of the rolls was then the high officer who kept the records of the English courts of justice. Today the president of the chancery division of the high court of justice in England, ranking next to the lord chief justice of England, is called the master of the rolls. Originally the master of the rolls had the custody of the record-keeping in the court of times this charge became merely nominal.

Cat-Tails in Commerce

Cat-tails are not used commonly in this country. In England they were used for upholstering prior to the time that kapok was introduced from Java. Cat-tails have a disagreeable odor that is not easily removed, and for that reason they are not satisfactory when used for upholstering bed and mattress.

Coal Formation

A fuel technologist says that there is no coal being formed under the earth's surface now and there never was. The coal that is now found under the earth's surface, no matter how deep it may be, was formed above the surface and later covered up. Coal was formed in ancient peat bogs in the same manner as peat is formed at the present time.

Youth and Age Will Not Mingle Well in Flock

Conditions fatal to profits are developed in the poultry flock by allowing youth and age to mingle indiscriminately in the nest and house, according to Prof. L. F. Taylor, head of the poultry department at the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"If the pullets are fed enough for growing purposes," he explained, "the hens become fat and sluggish and if the house are fed but sufficient to lay well the pullets starve."

In the farm demonstration flock at the college poultry farm the 75 best pullets are separated from the 50 best hens October 1 each year and are kept in separate compartments throughout the winter.

Poultry Facts

Green feed is very essential in stimulating egg production.

Early-hatched chickens will get a good start before but weather and mature before winter.

Bathing chicks on fresh ground away from the farm stock lessens the danger of disease.

Two mature pullets can be held back by withdrawing all mash and feeding only grain, and this sparingly.

Arrange the poultry breeding pens. A few more dollars spent for a high-grade "runner" will be a good investment.

Heating and improving the chicks before they are taken from the incubator makes stronger, sturdier stock.

Feed a dry mash and green feed so the hens will always have something to peck at without troubling the eggs.

Please remember the importance of fresh air. Poultry houses that are not ventilated are responsible for many poultry ailments.

Under good conditions and management it is estimated that at least five to six eggs must be set for every pullet ready for service in the fall.

A single pair of chickens live well naturally to 12,000 in eight weeks, under favorable conditions. That's enough to live up your whole flock.

The British government has established an international research center for conducting experiments with motor cars with a view to abolishing the use of horses for military purposes.

A Kansas city inventor's slogan booklet for a baby can be fastened to a crutch to prevent the rolling out. It permits of comfortable movement without assistance.

The motor that propels a new road car is mounted inside of it for protection from the weather and to improve the balance.

Machinery will be used for production on an extensive scale for production in a street in England from which small amount of metal has been produced for half a century.

America's New-Type Light Car

CASEY-PARKER AUTO CO.
TWIN FALLS

This New Engineering Idea has revolutionized America's performance standards

The day of the slow, cumbersome, bulky automobile has gone. A safer, more active, more powerful type of car has come to take its place.

The old school of engineering practice is rapidly passing out of existence. A new regime of scientific thought has started in America.

The change began 18 months ago.

When the Overland Six was first introduced it marked a revolutionary departure from all former standards of design.

This new car embodies the most advanced, the most efficient engineering... from both sides of the world.

It is a complete new car... brilliantly engineered as a unit. Not a modern body on a chassis that is 5 or 10 years old.

It is a car built to meet present-day performance standards.

You can drive it at an average road speed of 40 to 55 miles an hour without excessive strain on the engine.

Its "high-torque" power plant has ample power to master the steepest hills. Gear-shifting has been reduced to a minimum.

It has a low gravity center. An outstanding engineering feature due to these modern principles of design. This means greater safety at all speeds. It means protection against side-sway and skidding.

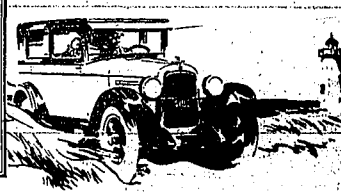

And it means comfort such as you've never known before.

Buy a modern car if you want flashing, brilliant performance. Be sure you have the modern principles of design if you seek the utmost resale value.

Don't buy blindfolded. See the Overland Six and find out how modern engineering science has contributed to the safety, security and comfort of motoring.

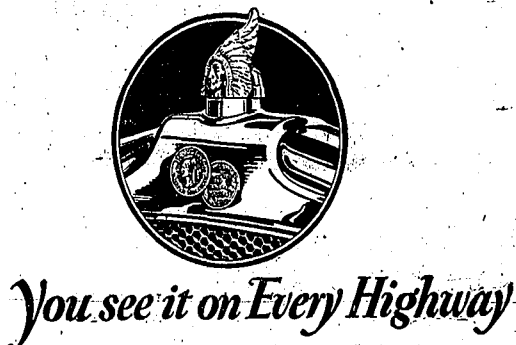

NOTE: 4-wheel brakes are furnished at slight extra cost.

OFFICIOUS OFFICIALS KILL JOY

Sheriff's Force Stops Ford Auto and Gets Clanton and Three Quarts of Moonshine En Route to Bring Happiness to the Visitors at the Show.

The joy of the circus was destroyed for a number of days by the pernicious activities of the officers when Jim King and H. L. Kith of the Miller neighborhood were taken into custody at 10 a. m. today and a gallon jug and three quarts of moonshine was found. The result was that the men were apprehended much smaller to many spectators than would otherwise have been the case.

The men were caught the other side of Hansen driving this way bringing joy and happiness to many who are now as fit as the deer. Kid had four children with him and they were riding in the box car. Both men claimed that Kith owned all the liquor and that his passengers were innocent of any offense, either in the way of consumption or knowledge.

After the deputies had brought in the prisoners, they returned to the Miller neighborhood, declaring that they believed a still was located there, probably over the line in Cassia county.

KANSANS AND KNIGHTS MEET ON TOMORROW

Member of K. C. Committee Says That There Is Room for Both and for Others and That the More the Merrier on Such Occasions.

There is no conflict between the Kansans and the Knights of Columbus, both of which organizations called plenies for the Piler fair grounds tomorrow, each without knowledge of the other, said Thomas H. McElwain of the K. C. committee today. "Two grounds are large enough to accommodate both. So far as the baseball grounds are concerned, if the Kansans want to use them first we will wait, or if they desire to use them later, we will go on first." There is room enough for all and I only wish that there were more plenies so that there would be a larger crowd on every body is friendly.

Bring Your Own Fake. Mr. McElwain said that an impression had gone abroad that cake would be furnished on the grounds by the Knights of Columbus. Lemonade and iced cream will be furnished to so will cake that folks bring with them.

TWIN REALTORS GOING TO LIVE ON THE COAST

E. J. Finch and A. J. Lambethin Will Build Home in Seattle, Wash. Their Homes, Former Has Been Here 15 and Later 17 Years.

E. J. Finch, for 18 years a resident of this city and for eight years county auditor, will leave August 1 with his wife and son for Seattle, where they expect to make their home. Mr. Finch has in recent years been engaged in the real estate and insurance business in Twin Falls.

Miss Marguerite Finch goes to Los Angeles where she will take a three-year course in nursing in the Lutheran hospital.

It was announced today that J. W. Lambethin, another realtor and insurance man who has lived here for 14 years, had sold his interest in the real estate firm of Lambethin & Smith, to his partner, Leonard J. Smith, and would move to the coast with his family. He was on account of the condition of his wife's health, which requires a lower altitude.

WAR MOTHERS RESOLUTIONS ARE GIVEN

The following is the official copy of the resolutions adopted this week of the state meeting of American War Mothers in this city:

No. 1. We, the American War Mothers of the State of Idaho, in convention assembled, renew our devotion to the principle and purposes for which our organization was founded. We commend the officers of our state for their self-sacrificing devotion to their official duties and especially do we commend our state War Mother, Mrs. Westfall for her untiring efforts in behalf of our organization.

No. 2. We view with satisfaction the improved condition in the care of the disabled ex-service men on the part of the United States Veterans War Bureau and urge the cooperation of War Mothers of the state of Idaho in seeing that all worthy cases are brought to the attention of the War Bureau.

No. 3. That copies of the flag rods be placed in all the schools of the State of Idaho.

No. 4. That the members of the fifth biennial state convention extend to Mrs. Osburn of Burke, sympathy and love in her sorrow.

No. 5. That each chapter on a carnation drive the Saturday before Mother's day.

TWIN FALLS LAND BEST COUNTRY

Son of Congressman Smith Finds Conditions Wonderfully Improved in Last Three Years and Expects to Settle Here to Make His Home.

"The Twin Falls country from Meridian to the city was the best country that I saw on the long trip from Florida here, and I hope to re-visit the Twin Falls tract," said Walter S. Smith, son of Congressman John S. Smith, today. Mr. Smith left here three and a half years ago and spent the last year in Florida. He was formerly engaged in farming and poultry raising in this country.

"Mrs. Smith and I drove from Florida to Washington and then to this city," he continued, "and saw nothing that even approached the irrigated tract of this county in beauty except a small portion of northern Georgia where they raise peaches and peaches I was much surprised at the improvement here during the last three and a half years. I notice that the poultry business is growing in this country."

W. J. Irwin is Caught Between Ves. Bulb and Engine Bumper and Receives Fatal Jam Which Takes Him Off Last Evening.

The body of W. J. Irwin, yardmaster, who died last evening as a result of a crushing accident, will be forwarded to Sallisaw, Okla. for interment. Investigation into the details of the fatal accident in charge of O. H. Chalmers of the Short Line at 2:30 this afternoon.

William J. Irwin, Twin Falls yardmaster, who was injured when jammed yesterday shortly after one o'clock by being lammed between the baggage car vestibule and the engine bumper, died several hours later after having been awaiting a special train to take him to the Short Line hospital at Portello.

He came here some months ago from Nampa. He was unmarried and leaves a mother and brother in Oklahoma and a sister, Mrs. Robert Evans in Portello. He was a World War veteran.

LOWER PRICES ON GOODYEAR'S

Same High Quality What price mileage? LOW PRICE MILEAGE ALWAYS if you ride on Goodyear Tires. Lower priced than ever now because you can buy Goodyears for less. Check over your equipment and see how many brand new Goodyears you can use at these prices. There's big value in every tire.

Table with 4 columns: Tire Size, Type, Price, and Mileage. Includes items like 30x3 1/2 Cl. Fabric $12.95, 29x4.40 Balloon $15.25, etc.

Extra Savings on Pathfinders

Table with 4 columns: Tire Size, Type, Price, and Mileage. Includes items like 30x3 1/2 Cl. Fabric $ 8.65, 32x4 S. S. Cord $17.65, etc.

We've been selling tires here in Twin Falls for a good many years. We've watched prices go up—and we've seen 'em come down. But up or down here's one thing we have noticed about Goodyear Tires. The QUALITY IS ALWAYS GOING UP. Our customers are getting average mileage from their Goodyears today that we would have considered sensational a few short years ago. They will probably be getting even better mileages than now in a few more years—but that's a long time away. It's hardly likely you can wait that long for new tires. All right. Goodyear Tires, we sincerely believe, at the present rock bottom prices are the best and cheapest equipment you can buy—bar none.
