PETER B. KYNE STORY FILMED AT THE IDAHO

Hold the camera! terrorizing the South seas, and the holdout of them all is Blaise DeLuce. This powerful character is the leading figure in "Direct of the Sea" an F. B. O. Gold Bond special now showing at the Idaho theatre. For sheer romance, mystery, and daring, a character of fiction has ever been brought to the screen that may be compared to this spectacular personality. The house is a mighty seigneur; his domain, all the known and unknown seas of the Southern realm; his world, one of eternal sky and water. Another of his adventures is to weave the strange and amazing tale of his life: a life with tenderness, equaling boldness; with memories of the past, a roughness, his present realizations. The role of Blaise DeLuce is played by Ralph Ince who imbues the part with tremendous realism and passion. Margaret Lockwood, Dorothy Dumber, Shannon Day, Alphonse Etiler and Pat Harlow. The story was written by one of the most popular authors in America, Peter B. Kyne. J. G. Hawks made the adaptation and J. Grabie Alexander, the continuity credit for this excellent direction of the picture is also due to Ralph Ince.

RED SHADOWS TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY AT LAVERING

Because of the immense amount of labor in making new and special scenery for the play, "The Red Shadows" it will be necessary to close the theatre tonight. "The Red Shadows" Artist Grade Trapp promises that everything will be in readiness for tomorrow night. "The Red Shadows" is one of the funniest plays we have ever offered and has to do with a country boy and his girl who want to be a detective but has other business, being hired by Uncle Sam to investigate. This is Jack Stanford's last engagement here and we want to promise you that it is his funniest part he has yet had.

ers for the benefit of the library. Sutton Vane, not far into his thirties, has been known for some years in England merely as an intelligent young actor. He was among the first to "join up" when the great war started and during his first two years fought rather badly in his attempt to fight for king and country. So that in 1917 he was sent home from Europe with a bad case of shell shock, accompanied with hysteria, and invalided out of the army.

He has written several plays, "Outward Bound" being the first successful one. Curiously enough it got its first hearing in London last July by reason of the fact that the author himself had shared and lived through it. He had the opportunity to live for two weeks a tiny adapted playhouse in Hampstead. In the scene left, he does himself a double, painted them himself, tacked up some curtains he had brought from home and engaged a remarkable company of actors who labored willing to work on cooperative terms. The entire production including the rent of the theatre cost $400 and he never had to dip into the remainder of his capital. Thus he added the world a theatrical masterpiece.—Current Opinion.

BABE RUTH EXPECTS TO GET 150,000

Yankees Hope to Sign Babe Ruth But Not So Easy As John McGraw Put Hornsby's Name on the Dotted Line; Hornsby Demanded $50,000 From Cards and a Three Year Contract; Agrees to Quit Betting.

(By HENRY L. FARRER)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Satisfaction in the household of the New York Yankees over the sport and game which attended the signing of Rogers Hornsby to a new contract hardly will spread to the freestone of the Yankees.

The Yankees aren't so narrow-minded in business as to wish their National League rivals trouble in securing the biggest drawing card in the league but their "must" feel that they will have to come high to get their prize, Babe Ruth, on a new parolment with as little difficulty.

Hornsby came in the Giants from St. Louis with a contract that had another year to run calling for $30,000 a year. After handling a club that brought the first pennant and world's championship to St. Louis, Hornsby was deposited because he defied a three-year contract at $50,000 a year.

When Hornsby responded to a summons to come to New York and talk business, John McGraw, manager of the club, is said to have opened the negotiations by tearing up the contract that had been mailed from St. Louis and saying to the star: "Well, what'll you like for the new one?"

The conference was short and sweet and Hornsby found himself in possession of a two-year job at $40,000 a year and a title as captain of the Giants.

It was the first time in years that McGraw had given one of his athletes a contract for more than one year, and to top an idea that is being secured in his job and does not give him the inducement to hustle.

The Yankees, no doubt, do not feel that Hornsby will be such a drawing card as to stir the hysteria of the "Babe" but they surely realize that the man whose way in which the Giants finished the league will not be lost upon a Ruth who had turned very business-like in recent years.

Within a few weeks the Yankees will mail out and one will have to be sent to the Babe as his $12,000 a year contract has expired.

McGraw, Madisonville.

The Babe has been "too busy" depositing exhibition and vaudeville pay checks to talk about baseball but it is credited as a fact that he will be modest enough to suggest that he is worth $100,000 next year.

It is a cinch, after the great work

M'KAIG REFUSES TO DEBATE GEM POWER QUESTION

Pursuing his usual tactics, Ray McKaig has in a recent article declined to debate the question submitted by I. H. Masterson as to whether the Idaho Power plan of operating the Gem method had any merit.

McKaig first proposed a negative question and pretended to want to debate the question as usual. He refused to do this as usual and refused to debate the question before the people of the entire Idaho. But instead he hopes to limit his efforts on the Gem method the issue and one which will give him a decided advantage. This is not the first time that McKaig has "declined" to debate but has preferred to do this trick so much that it has become a sort of second nature to him.

The first incident was the military and navy is something about for some morning to which he can hitch his chair.

We gave one of our readers in a longish article as to why the question proposed by Ray McKaig was not debatable and it is useless to repeat this. But this Idaho Power issue is a real question and involves the clear Idaho question directly but the latter is not a fair question for debate unless you know the facts. The facts are as follows:—

- 1—Absolute freedom of church and state.
- 2—Absolute freedom of education.
- 3—Absolute political freedom.
- 4—Absolute freedom of the press.
- 5—Absolute freedom of assembly, petition and speech.

BRUIN SQUAD REDUCED TO 20 HOOPSTERS

Coach Platinus Today Announced 20 Men from Which First String Basketball Team Will Be Picked.

Twin Falls High school basketball squad numbering 20 men, has been picked from the large number of students to start this week's practice preceding the opening game at Kimberly Friday evening, January 14. Due to crowded facilities and small gymnasium, Platinus will be obliged to cut the squad to 16 later in the week. Eighteen of the 20 have already been designated. They are: Walter Berbeck, Edna Kelly, Hal Ho Martin, Charles Battelle, L. Nelson, P. Higgins, Tim Robertson, E. Ward, E. Kempton, A. Bora, A. Kelly, P. Lancia, A. Krenson, H. Putzer, Chuck Taylor and Doug McCall.

POTATO GRADING INJUNCTION MAY BE HELD HERE

Resolutions were adopted here late Saturday afternoon by the Pomona grange, opposing the four year term proposition of Governor Hilditch in laws recommended by a working plan of direct taxation, endorsed the injunction suit against the potato grading of the state commissioner of agriculture, favoring a federal grading law for potatoes to prevent collection of levies on pits of ancient holders other states and favored retention of the tax law in counties in which it is collected. The suit will be submitted to the state grange.

Issues regarding the state law of grading potatoes are set forth in the matter of A. W. H. Kinross, et al., vs. the state of Idaho, et al., which is being drawn to it. It is likely that the latest legislative action is taken the matter will be decided on the night of January 10 and will probably be held by Judge W. A. Babcock in the opinion of potato growers.

The new law was to take effect January 1 and was expected to be partly a few days before. It was really understood that the matter would be presented to the court January 10, although in order to that effect was made and the injunction was to stand until released. On January 5 it was announced that the case would be held later in the month unless the legislature should change the law in the meantime.

Some criticism has arisen in connection with the Kinross case which is supposed later, with the matter of establishing a federal intermediate court which meets with approval everywhere. It is stated.

The resolution of the Twin Falls Pomona grange and another resolution favoring a federal grading law.

IDAHO POTATOES AND GRADING

Idaho has established an enviable reputation as a potato producing state. Idaho potatoes command a premium on the market.

Growers of these spuds in a conference with State Commissioner of Agriculture Kjosness, asked for changes in the branded sack regulations.

Idaho should keep in mind that it now has a distinct advantage on the potato market through a superior quality of potatoes offered for sale.

It can be taken for granted the commissioner of agriculture has but one object in view, and that is to increase the quality, the production and the marketing to the best advantage of Idaho potatoes.

The issue that came before the Pocatello conference and the issue that was before the conference held in Boise this week was the improvement of the present United States grade No. 2.

Removal of the grade No. 2 would, they told the commissioner, permit them to do this. This grade they hold restricts the sale of perfectly good potatoes and holds the price down, when they can command a better price.

The humble potato is an important factor in Idaho which realizes hundreds of thousands of dollars annually from its spud crop. Anything that can be done to improve the status of the Idaho potato should be embraced by officials and growers.

NEWSPAPER TAKES CRACK AT EDUCATORS

Sometimes it might be observed that the lot of a school teacher is a hard one. Besides being entrusted with the supreme duty of rearing the rising generation to good citizens and placating the fond parents who do not always do their full duty in the shape of co-operation with the teachers and besides all this to be bawled out by the newspaper editors of Idaho is anything but pleasing to the teaching profession.

The public welfare department of the Twentieth Century club has issued a statement regarding the method of distribution of the 2000 red, white and blue books now in its possession.

Members of the committee constituting the active committee are: Mrs. James D. Whelan, chairman; Mrs. M. Wolfe, vice chairman; Mrs. Robert Haller, secretary; Miss Emma Mitchell, Miss I. C. Reynolds, W. Orr Chapman, H. C. Macaulay, Mary V. Norton, Mrs. W. C. Clark, Mrs. Margaret J. Josie Kramer, and Missie Farrell.

"What we need, more than anything else, for our professional advancement and for the improvement of education generally, is cooperative effort. The district institute must be revived, not the old five-day institute, but—until we find ourselves again—a one- or two-day meeting for demonstrations of work, discussion, and inspiration.

"We must, of course, give careful consideration to educational legislation; we must have a legislative program; and, once decided upon, we must give unanimous support to that program. This is as much a matter of co-operative effort as any other educational matter.

"We are going to be judged by results. There is a healthy, newly awakened interest in the development of Idaho. The people are going to demand that we know what is best for ourfield. We must gird ourselves for the work, accept our responsibilities and forge ahead."

RAINBOW PAVILION BURNS UP

Origin of Fire Is Unknown. But Street Rumor Has It That It May Have Been of Incendiary Origin; Sunday Night Movies Had Been Talked; Manager Is Away.

Fire of unknown cause, which started about 2:30 this morning, destroyed the Rainbow dance pavilion, a mile east of this city, eastward, a loss of several thousand dollars. In the absence of the proprietor, Ezra D. Rupp is likely to be not known whether there was any insurance or not; his wife saying that she lacked information on this point.

Due to breaking of crank casing in the fire engine while connecting with the nearby engine, it was impossible to apply water to the flames. The fire had made its headway before it was discovered and the damage to the structure would have been serious in any event.

Mr. Rupp left Sunday morning for Rigby. He had announced Saturday evening that an auto show would be held at the pavilion for three days beginning February 17. It was also reported that Sunday movies were contemplated.

Mr. Rupp said that there had been no fire lighted in the pavilion to keep it warm after the dance closed Saturday night and that nobody had been in the place after it was closed, so far as she knew. Officers are making rumors and the street that the blaze might have been due to incendiary activities, but the police said that such rumors were wholly "indefensible" and speculative and suggested so many remote possibilities that they could not be traced to their origin.

Twin Falls Lawyers on Commission

W. Orr Chapman and John W. Graham of this city are members of the legislative committee named Saturday by the Idaho State Bar, association for the purpose of conferring with the judicial committee of the senate and house. Jess B. Hawley of Boise is chairman. All parties are represented on the committee, the personnel of which is as follows: Jess B. Hawley, Boise; John C. Rice, Caldwell; H. P. Samuels, Samuels; John P. Gray, Coeur d'Alene; William M. Morgan, Boise; A. B. Child, Boise; Jay Downing, Pocatello; Robert L. Leeper, Lewiston; Clarence M. Ward, Boise; J. P. Pope, Clancy; C. L. Clark, Idaho Falls; L. L. Langford, Boise; W. Orr Chapman, Twin Falls; Otto McCutcheon, Idaho Falls; John W. Graham, Twin Falls; Charles P. McCarthy, Boise.

Members of the commission conferred with members of the Idaho supreme court Saturday morning relative to proposed changes in the rules of the bar association. Approval was given of the findings in the case of A. M. Downie, attorney of Mountain Home, charged with sending obscene matter through the mails. The trial committee found Downie guilty and recommended his disbarment from practice in Idaho. The charges against J. D. Zacher, attorney of Lewiston, were cleared with a reprimand.

TAX CHANGE IS FAVORED

County Assessor Stewart Declares Himself in Favor of Return to Old System of Distribution of Taxes of Power Companies. Present Plan is Inequitable.

The matter of changing the law and returning to the old method of distribution of the proceeds of taxes for the maintenance of the Idaho Power company will be viewed in a meeting of assessors with a view of getting the legislature to reenact the old statute. It was stated today by S. Clark Stewart, county assessor, Mr. Stewart said that he had consulted with a number of other assessors who also favored the old system.

Under the old system, the rate which still applies to other public utilities provided, and the whole was brought against the counties in accordance with the length of lines operated. Under the Haines administration this law was changed so that the proceeds of taxes in each county went to the county in which the improvement existed. For instance, under the old system, which Mr. Stewart wants revived, Twin Falls would get its proportion of the value of the power house across the Snake river, the greater part of the value of which it uses; how it gets none of this.

Tax Paying Time

Relative to the question of change of tax paying time so that one payment would not come about the joint days, Mr. Stewart says he finds several theories. He says that some years ago, the chamber of commerce took this up through a committee of which T. J. Lloyd was head. Mr. Lloyd in his report said that while this would mean more sales at Christmas time in which he would himself be interested, it might lead to extravagance. Mr. Stewart said that there is a banker or view, which is voiced by J. H. Harker of Bluff, to the effect that a change if made should not be first payment about October, at which time payment could be best made and the second in March, and that this would in his opinion prove most satisfactory to farmers and bankers.
