Holdest at Bridge—Mrs. H. L. Lamb entertained with an exquisite appointed bridge supper Wednesday evening at her home, 210 Sixth avenue east. The eight small tables, at which the guests were seated were decorated in yellow and white, yellow carnations in crystal lighted glass and centerpiece. Delicately shanked favored the same color combination and the place cards bore hand-decorated designs of yellow and white. Yellow carnations were also used in decorating the rooms. At bridge Mrs. Sturgeon Metcay won the high score and Mrs. George the lowest. Mrs. E. F. Palmer, Mrs. Richard Smith received the "lucky" prize. Mrs. J. N. Davis of Kimberly and Mrs. Fred Walker of Ionia were out of town guests.

William Van Eudelen Luncheon—Mrs. A. P. Wilkins and Mrs. W. C. Engelen were hostesses at a charming arranged bridge luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Wilkins, 231 Seventh avenue north, this week. The eight small tables, and red centerpieces in crystal baskets centered each table, and the nut cups and place cards were detailed in the same color. Mrs. Glenn Astoria was the high score favor and Mrs. Frank Mattson the all-out.

League Gives Card Party—The Catholic Women's League entertained with a season of a series of delightful card parties Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. M. J. Smith serving as the committee on arrangements. Nineteen tables were set for 500, 500, 500, and 500. The prizes were won by Mrs. Clyde Gabby, house guest of Mrs. Charles Holmer, and Miss Mrs. D. J. Smith. Mrs. M. J. Smith and Mrs. W. J. Smith were won by Mrs. Zane and Mrs. Walter Mattson. At the conclusion of the game a delicious luncheon was served.

Club Initiates Three—Mrs. E. E. Kall was hostess to the Ninth Avenue club, of which she is president, at a special afternoon. A special feature of the afternoon was the initiation of three new members into the club. Misses Hately, Herron and Clay Mrs. George Eklund and Mrs. Ross were in charge of the initiation. The remainder of the evening refreshments were served by the hostess.

Morningside Club Meets—The Morningside club met in all day session at the home of Mrs. Ozren Fuller Wednesday, nine members attending. At noon a delicious refreshment luncheon was served, each member contributing some article of food. The entire time was devoted to the making of a quilt which will be donated to charity. Mrs. Frank McCormick and Mrs. E. C. Sawyer will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Honoring Dr. Wright—Mrs. J. T. Wright, who is leaving Twin Falls, city to make for home in Salt Lake City, was the incentive for the club to a farewell courtesy Wednesday when the members of the Wednesday Bridge club entertained at luncheon at the Alford on Tuesday before last. A centerpiece of frosted, combined with pink carnations and fern, nut cups and place cards in the form of hearts of the Alford, and a pink ribbon in ivory candlesticks, ornamented the one long table at which luncheon was served. The eight small tables were arranged in the house of Mrs. Alvin Harbison on Maple avenue, where Mrs. H. G. Lundberg entertained the club at the evening bridge party. Mrs. Jack Thorp won first prize and Mrs. P. H. Stowick second. Mrs. Wright received a lovely gift.

Aid Division's Meet—Divisions 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church met for their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the several homes of division members. Division 3 under the chairmanship of

After 9 Years She Eats And Sleeps

"I had stomach trouble for 9 years, and the ever pressure in my stomach made me nervous and nervous. After she helped me so that I can eat and sleep good. I don't suffer any more with gas."—Mrs. E. Touchstone.

Because Adierka acts upon BOTH the upper and lower bowels, it gives the system a REAL cleansing, and cleans out old poisons which usually cause constipation, easy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, and other ailments. It stops GAS, and relieves that bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. When it flows more daily, Adierka brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system, and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adierka will surprise you. It is a safe, healthy and other drugless—adv.

THRILLS, LOVE, ACTION AND SUSPENSE AT IDAHO

These who like love stories told with thrills, action, suspense and romance and who doesn't will find their dreams realized in "Man of the Forest," the Paramount production of Zane Grey's novel, which came to the Idaho theatre this afternoon with Jack Holt, George Hale and Ed Hunt as its featured players.

"Man of the Forest," one of the most thrilling characterizations of Zane Grey's novel, tells of a man who built a mountain inn and bear for his pet. George Hale, as Nancy Raynor, the girl who inherits a ranch, in embarking on a journey to find her father, for that the unscrupulous but effective, Ed Hunt gets all the leads.

"PARADISE IS BRILLIANT PHOTOPLAY AT THE ORPHEUM"

An unusually brilliant array of scenic pictures, story and color, is the combination that Ray Rocket has put out in First National's latest, "Paradise," the current offering at the Orpheum theatre.

The picture has been filmed from an adaptation of Cosmo Hamilton's great novel of the same title, which had a tremendous sale both here and abroad.

BUHL NEWS

BUHL—George McDonnell is reported quite ill.
C. D. Meeker entertained the Deep Creek Bridge club at the Macy play on Monday evening.
Mrs. Dan Whelan and Mrs. Harry Davis were joint hostesses for the Home Culture club at the Whelan home Friday evening. This being the husband's annual night, a banquet was served from small tables at 6:30 o'clock to the twenty members and their husbands with ten guests present. After the banquet the evening's diversion was games and music.

Mrs. N. J. Jordan and Mrs. Larson attended the Rural federation meeting given Friday Saturday by delegates from the Home Culture club.

The Christian Church Bible class had 349 in attendance Sunday morning. It was the largest class the church has ever had in its eight years and it would be fruitful to say the largest Bible class that was ever in Buhl.

The Unit Circle met with Mrs. Charles Bunnam with Mrs. Glasgow assisting hostess at the Bunnam home, Mrs. E. C. Orr gave a very interesting and descriptive talk along with lantern slides on a "Travel Through the British Isles." Twenty-two members were present and three visitors, Mesdames William Vogel, N. C. Of Ancient Lineage
The Biscainos are a remarkable race of people, dwelling partly in the southwest corner of France, but mostly in the north of Spain, adjacent to the Pyrenees. They are probably descendants of the ancient Iberians who crossed Spain before the Celts. They preserve their ancient language, for use manners and customs, and make admirable soldiers, especially for guerrilla warfare.

Agnes Was Interested
Little Agnes was to be the flower girl at her aunt's wedding and her grandmother was teaching her how to comport herself. But the little girl was so quiet during the instruction that her grandmother, rather abruptly, if she were listening, Agnes replied innocently: "Course I is. My ears ain't closed, even if my mouth is."

Cured by King
King George IV cured Gen. Sir George Hignson of smoking. General Hignson recalled on his one hundredth birthday recently that when he was a child the king noticed him in his perambulator one day and, for a joke, since the child was staring at the king's chair, put it to the baby's lips. The numerous huffings which stayed with him all his life, Sir George stated.

Solitude
Solitude, the softcover of meadows, is to genius the secret friend, the cold, obscure shelter where most of the wings which will bear it further than sun and stars. He who would inspire and lead his race must be contented from traveling with the souls of other men, from living, breathing, reading and writing in the busy times.

Thistle Raining Profitable
The travel, a fact—the thistle, provides the only entirely satisfactory means of curdling wool, removing the burr and bringing up the nap. Consequently in some parts of the world, especially in England, in northern New York and in Oregon, raising thistles for the wool manufacturing industry is a regular business. Thistles were introduced into America by William Strouck, an Englishman, in 1820.

SOUTHERN FARMERS FIND NEW MARKETS

Cooperative Action, Motor Truck and Railroad Facilities Add to Profits in North Carolina

Pulling out of the deep mud tracks of the past fifty years the Southern farmer is finding his way to new markets and prosperity.

Cooperative action, joining together in the purchase of warehouses and equipment, is meeting the need for adequate capital. New highways and the use of motor trucks are giving him a wider range of markets.

The combination of the motor trucks with the railroad places him readily in touch with every avenue of trade.

Such is the story of a new day in Dixie related by James C. McClure Jr., President of the Farmers' Federation, Asheville, North Carolina.

It was at the Interstate Commerce Commission hearings in Asheville which this story of the rising South was presented. Railroad attorneys had presented heavy statistics, shipped heads stated their cases, when McClure aroused and asked leave to state what the farmers were doing in his community without aid or hindrance of regulations using modern facilities and using them profitably. This is his statement.

The Farmers' Federation is an organization of farmers that was started in Buncombe county in the fall of 1920. The aim of the farmers' Federation is to improve the farm to that means could be obtained to better living conditions on the farm. The only way to improve conditions on the farm seemed to this group to be to make more money by producing more. They agreed to the way to stimulate production was by creating marketing facilities.

We found on analyzing the situation of the farmers in the mountain section that the gross income per crop worker averaged $350 per acre for the county in Western North Carolina. This is the gross income, and after necessary expenses for fertilizer, seeds, feeds and farm supplies were deducted, it left a very small sum in favor of the maintenance of a man's family.

Lack of Transport Barred Prosperity

The meager production of the farmers in the mountain section of North Carolina has caused the farm. When the first settlers drifted down through the valley of Virginia and later the mountain section of North Carolina and commenced to farm, they found that their markets were a long way off. The only markets were the seacoast towns, and the expense of carrying corn and wheat to the market by train or by wagon was more than the value of the crop produced. The farmers in the mountain soon adapted themselves to the Western markets, and lived on a basis of raising or making practically everything necessary for existence.

Railroads Opened New West

The steam engine and steamboat were discovered and used in opening up the central part of the United States and the great West. Rails were laid, cities were built, and a complex civilization grew up, developing cash markets for grain and livestock in Chicago, Kansas City and other great centers. In this network of civilization the mountain region was left like an island in the sea, the railroad not coming into Asheville until 1850, and good roads many years later; that is, no cash production, were in existence. The Farmers' Federation pooled capital resources.

The Farmers' Federation was organized with the idea of creating marketing facilities. This organization purchases supplies for the farmer, such as seeds, fertilizer, feeds, etc., and sells for the farmer what the farmer produces. The organization grew out of meetings of a group of fifteen farmers who felt that they must take steps to better their condition. We organized a cooperative company, a share of stock in which was $50, with all profits based on the stock to be repaid pro rata to the stock holders according to their patronage with the organization.

This is Warehouse No. 1 of the Farmers' Federation at Fairview Station, North Carolina. This structure was financed by funds subscribed by the farmers.

Markets were developed in Western North Carolina. The only markets available were the towns, which were small and whose consuming power was very limited. Two or three farmers coming to town with wagon loads of produce would just the market for several days. No shipping markets and no outlet for produce, and therefore no stimulus to production, were in existence. The Farmers' Federation pooled capital resources. The Farmers' Federation was organized with the idea of creating marketing facilities. This organization purchases supplies for the farmer, such as seeds, fertilizer, feeds, etc., and sells for the farmer what the farmer produces. We organized a cooperative company, a share of stock in which was $50, with all profits based on the stock to be repaid pro rata to the stock holders according to their patronage with the organization.

We built a small warehouse, 60 ft. by 30 ft., at Fairview (November, 1920). The organization commenced to grow, and in the year 1921 it did a business of $55,000. It now has over ten thousand stockholders, operates eight warehouses and handles a business of $120,000 per month.

Raising Tomatoes for Florida. Along with the creation of marketing facilities we promote crops, such as tomatoes for Florida. An illustration, we are promoting

Part of the fleet of motor trucks owned and operated by the Farmers' Federation of Western North Carolina. For many miles around Asheville in carload lots over the railroad. We expect to see the production of poultry increase very rapidly. Creating Business for the Railroads. We are able to ship in carload lots because we tap the surrounding territory with our trucks. We also distribute fertilizer and feeds with our trucks over quite a territory. The tonnage of fertilizer has probably increased three or four times since the Federation started operations. I cannot but believe that our truck operations are actually increasing the railroad freight tonnage because of the fact that we are developing agricultural industries in sections that were isolated and had no hope of markets before we commenced assembling and shipping by freight by means of trucks.

We are making a sustained effort to build up the agricultural resources of this section of the state. We are developing marketable crops. The motor truck enables us to assemble these crops at railroad points. We are continually increasing tonnage to give the railroad. The railroad has cooperated with us in every way and is actually increasing its business in building up our business. We are developing townships and counties which would have been isolated if it were not for the truck.
