

PROHIBITION LEGISLATION THREATENED

Government Medical Whiskey Bill Is Buried and Red Top Together with Politics Will Defeat Dry Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Bound with the red top of politics, vital prohibition legislation now pending seems certain of defeat by default, when congress adjourns two weeks from tomorrow.

The government medicinal whiskey bill has been buried by a house committee. The bill to repeal prohibition agents under civil service has been languishing for nearly a year on the senate calendar, and the prohibition reorganization bill has been so encumbered that it will be recognized to a bill to add more enforcement provisions to the Volstead act.

The custom bill may be passed in the closing moments.

The failure of the general "dry" legislation legislation prohibition enforcement is expected to have an important influence upon the coming presidential campaign.

Although wetters are not entirely responsible for defeat of the legislation they are cited and look forward with eagerness to expect future developments.

The story behind their opposition to the dry legislation is this: If the bills which Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews says are needed for the enactment, Andrews may resign. The wets would look on his resignation as another blow at prohibition.

Further, they could say, if the little band of dry legislators were responsible since both houses are overwhelmingly "dry."

SENATOR PIKE SCORES DEATH OF POWER TAX

Bill Making Fair Apportionment of Assessment of Electric Lines Is Withdrawn by Administrators

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17.—Pressure is being brought to bear on legislators here from Twin Falls without apparent success to pass the bill apportioning power transmission taxes among the counties in proportion to the number of miles of lines within the counties.

The bill relating to taxation of power units on a transmission line basis did not get very far. It was immediately ordered printed and referred to the state affairs committee, a majority of which were favorable to the bill.

They got word from the administration, however, to drop it, the theory being that nothing should be done which will disturb conditions in Idaho appreciably. They object to taking away from one county a fund which would be paid elsewhere. However, I notice that there are no complaints about taking $5,000 per year of gas tax money out of Twin Falls county to place elsewhere, which amount will be increased to $25,000 or $30,000 under the new tax bill. The people can, however, if they want to, place the responsibility where it belongs.

British Prisoners Paid Half A Cent a Day for Labor Earn $11 In Seven Years

LONDON, Feb. 17.—A criminal's first days in a British prison are spent in solitary confinement.

Three times a day he hears another—when his food is handed to him through the bars of his cell. He cannot receive the imperceptible bloom of his first habitation in prison—the "dark cell."

From there he is assigned to a working gang, usually the flocks of a new corner area laborious, monotonous, heart-breaking. Pick up and shovel ash gives him. If the prisoner has not had a good night's sleep, so much the worse for him.

Upon his conduct with this gang depends whether his work eventually will be commensurate with his right to life, so much the worse for him.

The working hours are not long. The morning period is from 8 to 12 noon. The afternoon shift from 1:30 to 5. But there is no rest, day in, day out, with effort to introduce a "snip"—a solid rubber truncheon—hanging from the trowel-belt, which the gang with impunity—any "shelving" means a "snip" into the eye.

Complete silence among prisoners is insisted upon. The penalty for any offense is solitary confinement in the "dark cell" on bread and water.

It is a favorite talk among prisoners in British jails. But an even more dramatic task is given—convicts carry the cement blocks to the site of the adoption of a penalty handed out to violent prisoners in the days of Pharoah. A prisoner undergoing this punishment is shown a sign of respect, which he may have to crawl down to a wheelbarrow, carry 200 or 300 yards and dump. He is then made to reload the wheelbarrow and carry the cement back to the site. He got it, dump it and begin all over again. The effect of this non-productive, monotonous work is striking. It keeps the mind from becoming restless of it all begins to create whatever spirit the prisoner originally possessed. The officials know that if any offense is committed, the prisoner would become insane but long before that stage is reached the victim has expressed a keen desire to resign, which he may have to do.

Heard work and willingness is rewarded. A prisoner found to be obedient and industrious is one day assigned to a good performing center task. If he continues to be obedient, he may finally find his way into the work shops inside the prison and some trade taught him with a view to his becoming a useful member of society again.

A much sought for post in that of "trusty." Competition is keen while the vacancies are few. A "trusty" in a British prison is exempt from the rigidity of discipline, but he is allowed to perform his tasks without the eye of a later watching.

TWO SCHEMES TO KILL NEW FARM MEASURE

Opponents of McNary-Haugen Farm Bill to Push Substitute Ahead of Regular Bill, Vote Expected Friday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The farm bill amendment proposed forward the house today to crash two attempts to kill the McNary-Haugen farm bill.

Opponents of the measure sought to substitute the Aswell bill and if this plan fails they will offer the Curtis-Cris bill which the senate rejected. Little hope is held out for adoption of their substitute. Even those opponents of the two proposals admit their pluck is anything but bright.

Farm leaders are confident they have sufficient votes to defeat any and all amendments and look for a final vote tomorrow. Their plan is to have the bill placed before President Coolidge Saturday.

Although there will be some chance when the final ballot is taken, the vote on the two substitutes will give a clear indication of the fate of the McNary-Haugen bill. Both are regarded as lost votes.

The Aswell substitute was offered Tuesday but agreement was made of postponing action until today. Of the two proposals the Aswell bill stands the best chance of adoption.

Representative Curtis, Democrat, of Oregon, held out little hope for adoption of his proposal. He said the farmers' representatives voted enough to defeat any changes in the senate bill.

IDAHO PASSES GAS TAX RAISE TWIN OPPOSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A raise of one cent a gallon in the gasoline tax in the state of Idaho was voted by a house of representatives of the Idaho legislature. The present tax is three cents a gallon. The new measure would make it four cents.

The passage of the tax bill, which carried by a vote of 16 to 19, was strongly opposed by the Twin Falls delegation, which voted against the raise, claiming that the gas tax has collected in the county over $100,000 a year while the state has only spent $28,000 a year there for improvements.

Representative Pettigrew made a vigorous talk against the raise. While he declared he favored the principle of the gas tax he was strongly opposed to the method of distributing it and declared that his vote for, or against, would be of much more benefit.

CORNS

Ends pain at once

No waiting—one minute after you apply Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads the pain is gone. After the corn is healed it never comes back. It never irritates the spot again. It never comes overnight. Old methods of paring corns, or using caustic acids, are dangerous.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads are safe, scientific, painless. Beware of cheap imitations of corn-removing and preventers of corns but Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads are the only ones that are safe.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

Put one on—the pain is gone!

FOUR TESTS BY WHICH TO PICK WINNER OF BIG FIGHT

Four Old Adages Regarding Prize Fighters State No Little Man Beat Big Man, Youth Always Wins, Brain Beats Brawn and Experience Gives Advantage.

By HENRY L. FARRER.
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Four "old and tried" fight adages are about to be tested again.

"No small little man can beat a good big man."
"Youth always will win against experience."
"Brain is better than brawn."
"Experience has all the advantage over youth."

Figure those old saws out to your own way of thinking and you will have the winner of the contest in the prize tournament between Gen. Jim Maloney, Boston heavyweight, and Jack Delaney, world light heavyweight champion.

On the other side you take "You will find 'takers on the take."
Bob Fitzsimmons was one little man who upset the theory that weight is the vital factor in a fight.

"Old Mike McTigue is not just in the process of proving that age is not a fatal handicap against youth."
Big Luke Fippo made a fortune by proving brawn could get along fairly well without a brain.

Durly Paul Berenbach demonstrated that experience isn't a vital necessity by winning a world championship within the first two years of his career.

The coming contest between Maloney and Delaney will pit all its complex angles, in the hardest fight in modern times. If it happens to be a contest between a heavy weight and a light-heavyweight it would be much simpler to analyze.

But in addition to a purse that may reach $50,000 each, there is a much bigger prize for the winner, who will take a big jump toward a bout with Gene Tunney for the world's championship.

DELANEY PREPARES FOR BATTLE

Jack Delaney, who will be the next man to meet Tunney, is here in New York city in the first of a series of heavy-weight elimination bouts under Tex Rickard's auspices.

With the exception of one line of the Southern Pacific.

The marine base at San Diego was damaged by high waters.

Los Angeles has been swept by all most seven inches of rain to date, with more in prospect.

With bridges demolished, highways washed out, with telephone lines down and other sections of the Southland inundated and every type of communication with the possible exception of the rail, was shattered and will be crippled for days.

Efforts to resume trans-continental travel from Los Angeles, which has been almost completely at a standstill, will be made today.

Flow trains have entered no department for the rail in the past 24 hours and traffic, both rail and highway, to the north and south, has been completely paralyzed.

SANTA ANA, Cal., Feb. 17.—With flood conditions still prevailing, damage county took stock today of damage caused by the most severe storm in 42 years.

In a 24-hour period almost six inches of rain fell in some sections of the county, with the Santa Ana river breaking its banks and hundreds of acres of farm lands submerged.

Hundreds of families have been driven from their homes in the vicinity of Fullerton, where an 80,000-barrel tank of the Union Oil company collapsed and flooded nearby orange groves.

San Joaquin creek has reached flood stage and is overflowing its banks, inundating scores of homes.

YUCCA, Cal., Feb. 17.—The citrus district has suffered an earthquake.

Basketball fans will be entertained tomorrow night with a double header between the Bruins and the Wildcats to be played at Elmer. Both the Twin Falls and Elmer boys' basketball teams were with him and should be pretty evenly matched tomorrow night. The Bruins girls are hoping to come through with a win tomorrow night and have a good chance to do so. With their good showing against Bill Tuesday night they now look better than at any time during the season. Indications now are that Twin Falls will go to Elmer en masse to back the Bruins team.

Coach Plattner put his men through one of the longest practices of the season last night. The practice lasted from 5 to 7:30 o'clock. Plattner was disappointed with the team's work in the ball game and is making every effort to bring the team up to first-class shape for the Elmer affair.

I'm telling you straight—

P. A. is the works

PUT it down now for a double-riveted, copper-corned fact: Prince Albert will give you more pleasure to the cubic inch than any other tobacco you ever packed in a pipe. Maybe I'm prejudiced. Even so, my statement holds. I'll leave it to you, after your first P. A. pipe-load.

Buy a tidy red tin of P. A. and follow these simple directions: Tuck about a thumbful into the bowl of your favorite pipe. Light up, and pull that cool, consoling smoke up the stem. Exhale slowly and get the full benefit of that wonderful Prince Albert taste.

Cool as a claim-adjuster. Sweet as an unexpected inheritance. Fragrant as pine-boughs, swaying in a summer breeze. Mild, but not willy-nilly, if you get me. And of course you do! Make the test today and check-in with what I've been telling you.

You'll probably say I wasn't enthusiastic enough! Anyhow, get some Prince Albert now and get on the sunny side of pipe-pleasure. No matter what your previous experience with a pipe has been; no matter how set you appear to be, try Prince Albert. It will be a revelation!

IS THE IDAHO LEGISLATURE FAIR?

Legislatures, as a rule, are made up of fair and impartial men who want to do the right thing in the consideration of all legislation that comes before them.

Many are not as experienced in the parliamentary procedure as they might be. Often they are thrown into mental confusion by a parliamentary move that serves the purpose of sidetracking legislation.

Legislative members are representatives of the people who elect them. They should be willing to give legislation that comes before them, even if they do not approve either of the legislation or the form that it is in, a fair deal.

Unless there is something about a bill or a resolution that is publicly objectionable and is not entitled to the time of the legislators, it should be allowed to find its way to the floor of either the house or the senate and there be passed or defeated on its merits or demerits.

To strangle legislation either in a committee, through a parliamentary maneuver that pigeonholes it, is not only unfair, but it is directly opposed to good government and does not represent either the wish or the will of constituents.

Take, for instance, the osteopathic bill that was introduced in the house, was sent to a committee and was reported without recommendation. There was a fight on this bill by those who believe were opposed to it in principle, by others who, for reasons best known to themselves sought to strike at the osteopathic profession. It involved no party principle. It was not a party measure.

Instead of letting the bill be printed and considered on the floor, it was promptly strangled by placing it on the table. It was a shrewd parliamentary move and accomplished the purpose of those opposed to the bill, but it did not leave a good impression with the public.

Be fair, Mr. Legislator. Give legislation a fair show, even if you are opposed to it, and in the final analysis will vote against it.—Exchange.

BORAH AND BUTLER

Senator Borah is taking too seriously the pompous assumption of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler that he is the guide and director of the republican party and can speak authoritatively for the Coolidge administration. Dr. Butler having publicly declared a purpose to force the issue of repeal of prohibition upon the next republican convention, Mr. Borah asked, "Would you oppose the republican party's pledging itself specifically to the upholding and enforcing of the 18th amendment so long as it remains a part of the Constitution?—that is, until it is taken out of the Constitution in the manner and through the process provided in the Constitution for amending the same?"

Is that the sort of plank on prohibition that Mr. Borah wants in the next republican platform? It is hoped not. That weak and straddling position would be a dangerous letting down of the party from its specific pledge in the platform of 1924. "The republican party," it then declared, "pledges the full strength of the party for the maintenance of these principles and the enforcement of the Constitution and of all laws."

There is no weak compromising in that; no fishing in two waters for wet support and prohibition support; no faint-hearted intimation that the republican party might stand for a movement to repeal the 18th amendment.

The utterance suggested by Mr. Borah, pledging the party to the upholding and the enforcement of the 18th amendment "so long as it remains a part of the Constitution," would be taken by many voters as a party avowal that prohibition is a failure and the 18th amendment should be taken out of the Constitution.

Mr. Borah's suggested plank would weaken the party's previous utterance. If the plank of 1924 is altered at all, it should be strengthened and made more ringing.—Spokesman-Review.

DOG TAX BILL STIRS ORATORS

Many Dogs Might Lose Their Life If New Measure Slightly Pass, but Many Think the Bill is Already Talked to Death.

BOISE, Feb. 17.—The senate file bubbled over with oratory this week and most of it burst forth after long hours in the so-called dog tax bill. The measure was finally passed after an erratic debate which touched on the ultimate phenomenon of canines in spring time and the "hissess" between dogs and Indians as deflagged by Buffalo Bill.

Senator Greenwood said it was the city dogs who made most of the trouble. "I don't know if it is the city dogs or the country dogs, but I know they are a nuisance." "I don't know if it is the city dogs or the country dogs, but I know they are a nuisance."

Countless girls and women know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "take themselves out" with acid cathartics, dizziness, biliousness, anorexia, colic, or sour, stinky stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those heretofore chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement, but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, frowny, bilious, sick child gladly takes it. Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

IDAHO HOUSE PASSES 33 BILLS IN ONE DAY

Thirty-Nine Measures Passed on First Reading; One Proposal Killed; Blue Sky Substitution Made to Appear Today.

BOISE, Feb. 17.—The lower house, under Speed's draft, Monday morning and afternoon passed 33 measures, seven of them appropriations bills and the balance measures for highways; defeated one bill and listened to first reading on 40 new bills, including 35 additional validating highway measures—a record day's work. Besides this, the committee of the whole considered seven measures for amendments.

House Bill No. 176, the "Idaho revenue bill," favored by the state department of finance to replace the present "blue sky" law was taken from special orders Monday, and set on the calendar for today under general orders for debate. It was considered probable, however, that the measure would not be ready for the committee of the whole today and therefore, would remain in place until such time as proposed amendments were ready to be submitted. Speakers of the bill intended conference with the Governor this morning in an effort to have it made an administrative measure. It was withdrawn.

A demand that house bill No. 85, appropriating $25,000 for a wagon bridge across the Snake river between Owyhee and Elmore counties, be reported in from the reference committee where it has been slumbering since January 23, was withdrawn in the afternoon by Hickey, the author of the bill.

House bill No. 202 placing Indian hemp on the prohibited drug list was withdrawn to make place for a substitute, house bill No. 358, which prohibits the cultivation, possession or sale of the drug except by regular physicians or pharmacists.

Revival Stirs the People at Kimberly

KIMBERLY, Feb. 17.—Interest continues in the revival at the Christian church here and it is announced that the meetings will continue over next Sunday and that more than 250 are expected at the Bible school Sunday. Tonight Professor Straub speaks on the subject: "What is Religion"; tomorrow night on: "The Church Membership Essential for Salvation"; Sunday morning "Equal Burden Bearing"; and on Sunday evening on "The Unparagoned Sin." Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock Professor Straub will speak on "The Missing Link"—treating organic evolution from a scientific point of view. This meeting will be free, but a silver offering will be taken. This lecture, which is one of his regular platform addresses, packed the house at Duhl.

Rich but Still a Smith

Russell P. Kenyon, 67-year-old San Jose (Calif.) blacksmith, has just inherited $500,000 from the estate of his brother, Clarence Kenyon, rubber manufacturer. But he says that after a short vacation he'll keep on choosing hammers. "A man has to have a job," he says.

British Prisoners Paid Half Cent

(Continued from Page 1) The ever movement should be full from grace, however, his punishment is even more severe than that meted out to delinquents of an ordinary working class. It has been given a position of trust and has abused it, therefore he must suffer. He does. Also he never becomes a "crusty" man. A well-behaved prisoner earns good reparation marks. For example, a prisoner serving a five-year sentence will be released on ticket-of-leave at the end of three and a half years providing his conduct has been exemplary. As an effective deterrent to his retaining his old ways, a ticket-of-leave man must report every week to the nearest police station, no matter where he be. Our failure to do so is noted immediately so well outlined in the information emanating from Scotland Yard and the ex-convict is tracked down and sent back to prison to serve the remainder of his sentence under most painful conditions. Scotland does not escape the police net.

Goes 18 Miles, Does Own Housework

"For years I couldn't eat, my stomach was so weak. Went 18 miles for Alberta. After a few doses, I began to feel better and now do my own housework."—Mrs. L. A. AUBIN. Because Adolpha sets upon BOTH upper and lower bowels, it gives the system a REAL cleanse, and cures old colic pains which usually cause gas, empty stomach, nervousness, constipation, headaches, dizziness, agonized sleep, GAS, and reflexes that fall, loaded feeling so that you can eat better and soon better. Even if bowels move daily, Adolpha, because it can reach additional toxins which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. Set water what you have tried for stomach and bowels. Adolpha will surprise you. Majestic Pharmacy and other druggists.

Prisoners are paid at the rate of half a cent a day, every working day. At the end of a seven-year sentence the total emolument does not exceed $11.

PETERS BODY MUST BE PRODUCED HERE OR DEATH PROVEN

Prosecuting Attorney Witham Says That Bondsmen Must Either Pay $4000 or Establish Demise If They Fail to Bring Man Here; Supreme Court Upholds Lecturer and Peters Conviction.

"It is up to the bondsmen of Keith S. Peters either to produce the man or to pay $4000 bail money, or to show that he died and therefore cannot be brought to Idaho to serve his sentence," declared Prosecuting Attorney O. W. Witham this morning. "So far as our records go, Mr. Peters is still alive and we cannot go on any hearsay evidence which may indicate a contrary state of affairs."

This statement was made as a result of receipt last evening of an opinion by the unanimous membership of the supreme court affirming the verdict of the jury to the effect that Frank K. Leichter had enticed 313,701.84 and K. S. Peters, $4471 from the Mutual Building & Loan association, while employed by that company; and the sentence of Judge W. A. Babcock of from one to 14 years each.

Leichter's bond was signed by the late John Wolfenden and H. W. Wilson. The bond of Peters was signed by Frank Krueger and Robert Schuster. J. W. Taylor, chief acting attorney, and Frank L. Stephens, his predecessor, prosecuted the case, and Roy L. Black, former attorney general, and Howard A. Peterson, chief acting attorney, were assigned and overruled by the supreme court.

Peters Disappeared.
Early last year the disappearance of Peters from his home in California was reported and it was stated that he had been last seen riding in the direction of Lewistown, where Peters offered a reward for information concerning him. Later a woman named Griswold was quoted as saying that he had been seen in southern Idaho. Still later a body, identified by a brother-in-law as that of Peters was found in an auto in the Death Valley desert where it was stated

Idaho Copper Is Feature in Wall Street Iconoclast

The recent issue of the Wall Street Iconoclast edited by George Graham Rice elevates nearly the whole edition to the merits of the Idaho Copper Project. But those who are familiar with the efforts of the publisher know that he must have some stock to sell or else he would not play game up to such an extent. Edward V. Keel of Boise, former state mine inspector is quoted at length in this publication, but we learned several years ago to beware of Editor Rice's assessments on stock purchases. However, we hope he makes a mine out of the Idaho Copper.
