Fishing Boats Battle Wind and Electric Storm with Nearly-1000 Men and 150 Boats—Comprise Fleet; Some Lost.

SEWARD, Alaska, Feb. 26—Up to the Alaskan harbor fleet were struggling in port here today, repelling one of the most terrific storm battles in years on the banks, 100 miles off shore.

Nearly 1000 men were aboard the fishing boats entangled by the storm and several of the craft were scattered and their fate is unknown. Possibility that some of the boats were lost with all hands is not ruled out.

The storm has been raging since Thursday. The boats were able to approach the Seward but were unable to dock because of the heavy snow falling.

Admiral Watson, bound for Kodiak from Seward, was forced to make a return because of the heavy snow and ice.

The gale was intensified by a heavy and hard lightning flashes.

CORVANA, Alaska, Feb. 26—The lost and last trip carrying light-house stores and three men to Hinchonburg Island from Corvona, has been found safe by the steamer West Chugach, coming from the storm in a small port hole off Point Barrow. All three men were safe.

Night Club Sucker Must Pay $50 Before Release, Manager

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—When a woman in a night club orders a member of the management a "number of the managerial" she is not to get that number out until his check reaches $50.

It is reasonable to suppose she has an interest in the establishment, according to Thomas J. Miley, prohibition agent.

He testified he heard Tex Guinn do just that in the "300 club" before it was raided last night and as a result United States Commissioner O. W. Collier ordered her held under $1000 bail for trial and charges of maintaining a public nuisance by violating the prohibition law.

TAH IN AGAINST CAMERON POWER BILL IS CONGRESS

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 26—Gov. George H. Dern today signed a senate bill, passed by both houses of the legislature, which would give Cameron hill, now pending in the irrigation committee of the lower house, the right to take a private power project development on the Colorado river near Laguna dam.

The governor also approved a senate bill, passed by both houses, declaring the Colorado river to be a navigable stream and asserting the title of Utah to the bed of this stream and all other navigable streams of the state.

Gives Up

EDUCATIONAL BILL PASSES MORE BONDS

Idaho House Passes Educational Budget Bill Totaling $2,674,162; Bill Authorizing Bond Issue Passes; Validating Highway Bill Passes.

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 26—The educational budget bill totaling $2,674,162 passed by the house of representatives of the Idaho legislature. There was little discussion of the bill before the vote.

Most of the senate's time this morning was taken up with the passage of 11 bills validating highway district bond issues. The only other measure to get by in the upper house was an anti-defining criminal trespass, making such trespass a misdemeanor.

A general validating act, winding up legislative action to make valid all bonds issued by highway districts in this state, was introduced in the house this morning and probably will be passed without opposition.

The bill creating a state publicity board to advertise Idaho faced an advertisement 5 minutes in the lower house today, but was finally passed with a three-vote margin.

A general validating act, winding up legislative action to make valid all bonds issued by highway districts in this state, was introduced in the house this morning and probably will be passed without opposition.

The final vote was 38 to 26, with four absent and not voting. The lower house passed on two measures, defeating house bills Nos. 323 and 377. The former invited the governor to sign the Boundary, chairman of the fish and game committee told the members the committee would report in without recommendation. It was a measure designed to make uniform seasons on game in groups of counties. The chairman said that if the bill passed the governor who introduced the measure was waiting with a bundle of amendments to attach to it, so thought it best to let the senate act first. The other defeated bill was house bill No. 377 by the judiciary committee providing for adjusting barrier wire fences on enclosures on lands where cattle are grazed.

MACHINE GUNS TRAINED ON SHANGHAI NOW

Armed Foreigners Are Setting Up Machine Guns Behind Embankments and Barbed Wire Near Shanghai City.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 26—Armed foreigners on the outskirts of Shanghai tonight were setting up machine guns behind sandbag embankments and erecting miles of additional barbed wire to protect the foreign community from Chinese soldiers or mobs.

Despite the war like preparations, which have resulted in the creation of two major lines of defense and a third for emergency use, Shanghai was calm and seemed unperturbed.

MEN TALK TO LONDON FROM SAN FRANCISCO

Longest Distance Telephone Conversation Ever Held Completed Today—When the Human Voice Is Heard Across Land-Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Feb. 26—The longest long distance telephone conversation ever held was completed here today.

The attempt was accompanied with some relief and for two hours after the trial was started nothing but static and noise came over the wire. But at 10:15 a. m. the connection was completed and H. D. Pillsbury, president of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, talked clearly to Colonel H. E. Street, the company's representative in London.

During the trial H. D. Miller, general manager of the land lines in New York, was also in contact with Pillsbury; that the trouble was due to a storm between Maine and New York, which interfered with the land lines at that section.

Idaho Depends Much On Agriculture Says Former State Officer

The following address was delivered by Warren G. Swanderson before the Twin Falls Kiwanis club this week. Many suggestions contained in this splendid address are applicable to the South-Side tract and if these suggestions are worked out this tract will produce and give place for five to ten times its present population.

Idaho is essentially an agricultural state and its prosperity, especially in the southern portion, and will continue to be measured in terms of agricultural success. The Kiwanis club and other organizations representing business, cannot promote prosperity in any better way than to encourage and assist agriculture.

In a recent discussion of the subject with his honor, Secretary Justice, he indicated that in his opinion the most important problem confronting agriculture in the United States was to balance production. By this he meant, among other things, reducing production of export surplus crops and an increased production of import crops.

Idaho's production of wheat and other surplus crops is estimated at 25 per cent of the total crop of the United States and only 25 per cent of the total consumption is returned.

Although famous all over the world is one of the greatest dramatic stories of modern times, only one copy of an English translation of Hermann Sudermann's "The Gaily Part" could be found in all America. This is the strange fact arising out of the filmage of the European classic "FLESH AND THE DEVIL," the dramatic Metro-Goldwyn play, romance coming to the Idaho Theatre Monday for three days, with John Gilbert, Greta Garbo, Lars Hanson and a notable cast.

EARLY POULTRY

SANITATION PAYS CHICKEN RAISERS

Illinois farmers, who took big strides toward more profitable pork production by adopting waste sanitation, are now finding that sanitation pays just as well around the chicken lot as it does with pigs.

There's the case of B. A. Barker, a Grundy county farmer, for instance, who took up the poultry sanitation idea and thereby put a stop to the heavy losses which he had been taking as a result of tapeworms and other poultry parasites that abounded in connection with the sanitation system.

C. H. Wilke, a McLean county farmer, is another Illinois poultryman who has profited as a result of following a definite system of poultry sanitation.

Wilke, who is co-operating with the extension service of the agricultural college in keeping his chickens, took off a batch of six chickens in March and placed them on a grain ground where no chickens had ever been raised before.

Feeding Soaked Bread Is Dangerous Practice

There is danger in feeding soaked bread to poultry, according to a veterinarian in an exchange. Soaked bread, he says, is one of the worst things one can feed poultry, either young or old.

High Egg Production

In cold, severe mid-winter weather the winter egg man gives attention to keeping the poultry house properly ventilated, as he knows from past experience that cold temperature and lack of fresh air are the main causes of winter egg production.

Mating the Flocks

When mating the flocks, allow 8 to 10 hens of the heavy breeds, such as Brahmas or Langshans, to 10 to 12 males of American breeds, such as Plymouth Rocks and Wyandottes.

IDAHO DEPENDS VERY MUCH ON AGRICULTURE

Industry, such as exists in, say, Pittsburgh or Chicago, every professional man has at least 200 additional prospective clients, every business man at least 200 additional prospective customers, and every laborer has at least 200 additional chances for employment.

I have had occasion to observe the development of a territory in Utah, under the plan of the Twin Falls South-Side project, and here are some of the results. Fifty million dollars is invested in the general industry. Apply the fraction, I have just given, this fifty million dollars investment means for thousands of prospective customers, for tens of thousands additional chances for continued employment of labor. During the year 1925 there were 1,000,000 tons of condensed milk produced, not including condensed milk, but out of four million three hundred thousand cases of condensed milk containing the products from only 20,000 acres of land. These products consisted of tomatoes, peas, string beans, pork and beans, fruits and various vegetables.

I had occasion to visit this territory during the depression following the war and I found to my surprise that the people there were not aware of a financial depression, bank failures, postal kept-up, no bank failures occurred and no borrowing from the federal reserve were necessary.

The greatest barrier to the establishments of agricultural industries in this part of the country has been removed in the building of the American Falls reservoir. Industry must be assured of its annual return and cannot stand up under artificial cases such as grew out of the artificial shortage of water.

The very rapid development in the establishment of new agricultural industries in the Snake River valley. As a result of this condition, the tremendous potentiality in the 15,000 acres of land on the North Side Project becomes a reality and with this additional water, also, comes a greater influence on the growth and prosperity of Twin Falls.

The time has passed when I should ask support for local industry, by an appeal to community pride, sentiment or local patriotism. Our appeal and conclusion must be based on a business consideration of the economic potentiality in making support for the sugar industry. I want you to understand that I am merely asking it upon the basis of good business judgment. The industry is suited and beneficial to the country it should be supported, but otherwise it should not.

I fully realize that the success of the sugar industry here depends entirely upon the success of the farmer. If he fails to profit by growing sugar, he cannot be expected, neither should he continue to do so. My analysis of the matter leads me to the conclusion that the industry is one of the most profitable that could be established, and assuming that the federal government find a satisfactory solution to the first difficulty, which now confronts the industry, the Snake River valley will be developed into the greatest annual producing area in the United States. All natural conditions are unusually favorable.

You naturally inquire how can the Kiwanis club be of assistance. I walked down the street last night and saw a grocery store window upon a very splendid display of food products, put up in glass containers, cans, cartons, etc. I only observed one product put up in Idaho—a package of Kraft cheese. I am sure the business man would have a different one.

The public is demanding food products put up in this form, and they must be carried by the grocery, even though they have to be imported at a greater expense. Why not encourage industry, at least to the extent of our local needs, if it will sufficiently urge to consume the bulk of our farm products?

You may think it quite an unattractive matter when you go to market for the kind of sugar you order, but the fact is that the industry is established and fixed by the warboard price and only differ throughout the country in cost of freight charges. The maximum revenue to the sugar company is derived from the sale of sugar in local markets and under your form of contract with the growers, farmers are interested in the maximum local consumption.

The amount of freight paid for beet sugar upon two factors: first, the sugar content of the beet, which only varies slightly from year to year, and second, the price at which the company purchases the sugar. If you want to help the industry buy or handle beet sugar, as the case may be, I do not believe you can be of assistance.

Success in Hog Raising—Depends on Management. Farmers in all parts of the country in recent years have undertaken to some extent the business of hog raising, which is one of the most profitable branches of agriculture.

to the industry by attempting to consummate best contracts. I think the farmer knows better what to plant than you, and you can be of assistance in many ways. I can give you the latest information upon which he can base his farm program.

I merely want to suggest in closing that the sugar company appreciates the support of local business men in consideration thereof, and to convince the business of supporting local industries where profitable.

Take Choo-Choo for Daily Ride to School

A free train ride to school every morning and home every evening is the unique contribution to education provided by the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. for children of its employees in southern Colorado mining camps. The train starts at crossings and mining camps for the 150 pupils it carries. The railroad runs through mountains where highways would cost millions of dollars.

Studebaker's 75th Birthday Announcement Sweeping Price Reductions The Commander, Studebaker's Big Six Brougham, reduced $200 New Prices, Studebaker Cars Effective February 16, 1927

Today—February 26, 1927—Studebaker celebrates its seventy-fifth birthday with price reductions which reflect the aggressive spirit of this Company. Studebaker has lived and grown for seventy-five years because of its consistent policy of keeping ahead of the procession. Studebaker Custom Cars, introduced recently, exemplify this policy. They have been the most widely imitated cars ever produced. In less than six months no less than a dozen manufacturers have introduced what they call "custom models" ... but a custom name doesn't make a custom car! As Studebaker leads in design, so does it also lead in value. The new prices quoted below represent a supreme triumph of One-Profit manufacture.

Table with columns: Old Price, New Price, Saving. Rows include Sport Roadster ($1250 to $1195), Custom Victoria ($1335 to $1325), Custom Sedan ($1385 to $1335), The Chancellor ($1735 to $1645), The Commander ($1785 to $1585), The Sheriff ($1610 to $1445), Big Six Sport Roadster ($1680 to $1495).

Prices f. o. b. factory. Bumpers front and rear included, of course. Four-wheel brakes and disc wheel regular equipment. All the above models are now on display at our newly arranged showroom. J. A. BARRETT AUTO COMPANY The Home of Studebaker 250 N. Main Ave. — Phone 59
