Hall were business to the American War Mothers Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Johnson on Main avenue north. Mrs. C. T. Hart was in the chair during the business session. The program included two vocal solos by Miss Naomi Niven with Miss Rosemary Weaver at the piano and two violin solos by Mrs. H. V. Jones accompanied by Miss Weaver. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

B. Y. P. U. Party—The B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church gave an interesting B. Y. P. U. party at the church Friday evening. Mrs. Leonard Deane being in charge of the arrangements. Pleasure of officers was held at the brief business session, with the following results: President, Loren Canada; vice president, Leo Slotwick; secretary, Alpha Smith; treasurer, Elsie Johnson; pianist, Jack Finckler. The remainder of the evening was spent with lively games and contests for which prizes were awarded. Refreshments were served to forty at the close of the evening.

Luncheon for T. S. S.—Mrs. M. R. Nelson entertained the members of the T. S. S. club with a charmingly appointed luncheon Friday afternoon at her home on Fourth avenue. The following luncheon the afternoon was spent with needlework and conversation. Mrs. Jones, who is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. T. Newman was a guest of the club.

Actresses Club—Members of the actresses club were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. N. Landheim Friday afternoon. Interesting current events were reported and discussed, and a short program was presented. Dainty refreshments were served during the social hour.

FLAT FEET
In speaking of feet, "when they are good, they are very, very good; when they are bad they are terrible."
The feet are bony structures to serve as foundations for the rest of the body. Each has three arches to give "spring" to the foot and pole to the body. Let any bone in these arches become even slightly out of place and the whole bodily structure is affected. A "flat" area through the entire length of the foot. The result is not much more than just a "flat" foot.
An osteopathic physician can put those bones of the feet back into proper position and not only give you soft feet which will walk on an even foundation for the rest of the body. Get your feet put into shape and learn the joy of living.
If you haven't tried osteopathy you haven't given yourself a fair trial at health.

Deserved Fate
Whenever I see a man anxious to get into the middle of a fist that don't belong to him I am always inclined to bet that I know he will get the worst whup any man in the party—Josh Billings.

Crop Rotation
The folly of growing the same crop on the same land for several consecutive years was noted by the Illinois farmers. The attention was recalled to the value of crop rotations in 1777 in a treatise by Dickinson of Edinburg, Scotland.

THIRD DEGREE IS CHARGED BY HINTON

Defendant Admits Making False Statements but Says He Was Forced to Do So in Some Cases by Officers; Did Not Think it Necessary to Tell Mumpower He Had More Stuff; Denial Is Made That He Received Word to Call for Any Goods at Stevens Home.

Declaring that he had made false statements to Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Jones relative to the rifle, because Jones was putting him through the third degree and because the officers seemed determined to twist everything he said into evidence that he was "head of the game," Frank Hinton stoutly denied this morning that he had intended to keep the goods committed to his charge, or knew they were stolen at the time he received them. In this connection his attorney, Shad L. Leighton, declares that at no point had Mrs. Hones Stevens identified that stolen goods or other goods were mentioned by Clifford Melton, when at her request, telephoned to Frank Hinton in behalf of Clyde Hinton, one of the Stevens' house, and that such imprecisions are incorrect.

Hinton Tells Story.

The defendant claims that he was innocent of any knowledge of wrongdoing when he came. He says that he was talked to the police the first day and offered to assist them. He meant it, and when Chief R. E. Leighton told "Police Chief" William Mumpower to go to Hosen with him, and get the stuff, he went with a view of turning it over. He says that after he had delivered two grips and the sack, Mumpower told him to get into the car, which he did. He said Mumpower did not ask him if there was any more and he did not think it necessary to tell him that there were other articles at any other place.

After they returned, the officers charged him with not telling all and he thought that they were twisting everything against him. He claims that this was the first time that that gun was mentioned and that he says because of the attitude of the officers toward him which led him to believe they sought to implicate him, he denied knowledge of the gun and made statements which he knew were untrue.

Hinton Alleges Third Degree.

Hinton claims that after his return from Hanson Jones called him into the inner office of Chief Leighton and demanded that he identify Clifford Melton as the person who helped him load the goods at the Stevens home. He says Jones told him if he did not identify Melton it would go into the record. He says that Melton did not help him, but Jones made him say he did. "Do you mean to say that Jones made you lie?" asked County Attorney O. W. Whelan. "Yes," answered the witness. "Did he make you lie about the gun?" persisted the prosecutor. "No," Hinton answered. Hinton denied that he asked Chief Leighton if he might see Jones alone, denied that he said to Jones that he would tell all if he could get assurance that it would help him out and denied that Jones refused to grant him any assurance.

He denied the statement of Chief Leighton that he had mentioned the gun prior to the time of the alleged third degree, and gave a different version of some details of the arrest from that given by Mumpower.

Mr. Hinton objected to many questions prejudicial to the interests of his client and as tending to create a wrong impression with the jury. The court sustained several of these objections and cautioned the jury not to regard them.

Clears Case.

The case for the defense closed this afternoon with the introduction of the testimony of three witnesses that Hinton was regarded as a man of good character and the testimony of his brother, Clyde Hinton, that he had not telephoned Frank to get his goods.

The state then began calling rebuttal witnesses. The case may close this evening.

Nevada Highway Resolutions Are Received in City

Copies of the resolutions of the Nevada legislature published last Monday in "The Times" under a Carson City date line, have been received here by President Astley B. Wilson of the chamber of commerce. These resolutions are optimistic in requesting the federal government to extend aid to complete the V to Y highway from Wells to the Idaho line "in connection with the work to be put on this side. While the resolutions say "Nothing hereinafter contained shall be construed as an abandonment of the declared intention of the State of Nevada to seek the completion of the Lincoln Highway east of Dryden, as designated by the Lincoln Highway association." The text gives precedence to the V to Y highway. On presentation of the official resolutions by President Wilson and President C. E. Lind of the Y and V association, the highway board consented to record this afternoon behind itself to the required co-operation.

Government Removes Restriction on Use of Code Telegraphy

Removal of the restriction of code messages a night and day letters by the government, according to word received here, is expected to greatly assist stockmen and business men in the transaction of many lines of business. In the opinion of T. J. Foster, operator of the Western Union Telegraph company, who says: "This service which was adapted to many classes of semi-urgent business communications hitherto sent by mail was somewhat limited in its application by the restriction against code which is now admitted, no restrictions that day letters in the United States. Because the increased use of these telegraph services has speeded up business correspondence by many miles, they have contributed in no small degree to the prosperity of American business and to the American reputation for speed and efficiency."
