

PRINCIPALS TO TESTIFY NEXT WEEK

Henry Ford and Aaron Sapiro Will Have Their Turn on Stand; Scheduled to Follow Fred L. Black, Business Manager of Paper.

DETROIT, Mich., March 25.—Henry Ford, the man who perhaps has made more money than any other person in the history of the world, and Aaron Sapiro, who has received more than 100 co-operative marketing organizations in the United States and Canada, were scheduled to be called to the witness stand to follow Fred L. Black, business manager of the Dearborn Independent.

Sapiro, who is suing Ford for a million dollars, will come first. He is expected to deny all the things that Ford's Independent said about him. Then will come the climax of the trial, the appearance of Ford. He will have opportunity to say that he believes what the Independent said about Sapiro; and to say a lot of other things; but general opinion is that the battery of attorneys defending his case will guard him every inch of the way with objections, and that Ford really will be crucified as usual.

With the case in adjournment over the week-end, principals defended, several leading the city attorneys, tomorrow started the revised pleadings filed Thursday by Sapiro's lawyer, with a view to presenting arguments against acceptance of the verdict. It was believed if their arguments fail to impress the court, they will move for a mistrial.

Story of Nanking Riot Told by United States Consul

The United Press presents herewith the first eye-witness account of what happened at Nanking when Chinese mobs rioted and looted in the city, shelled the hill where foreigners had taken refuge, and finally were shelled themselves by the guns of British and American warships anchored in the Yangtze river.

U. S. J. DAVIS. (U. S. Consul at Nanking). SHANGHAI, March 25.—We escaped over the wall. After both the British and Japanese consulates had been attacked and the consuls reported killed and after the known cold blooded murder of one American missionary (Presumably Dr. J. E. Williams of the Presbyterian university at Nanking) and the attempted murder of many others, the Chinese police informed us that we would be destroyed unless we could escape. Violence was committed by nationalist soldiers. Accordingly our party, including one vice consul (presumably J. Hall Patton), 11 sailors, nine civilians and 10 children escaped under constant fire across country to the Standard Oil company houses on Soocny hill, just above the city wall. This place was visible from the river and many Chinese boats and looted in the area found refuge there. (The Standard Oil buildings are on top of a hill and adjoining an extremely high wall. To escape from this impregnable citadel without getting into that part of Nanking which was being shelled or was to be looted, the refugees had to have to be lowered by ropes over the wall to landing parties awaiting them below.) Although we were repeatedly robbed and threatened by nationalists, the vice consul, the Standard Oil manager and myself, managed to keep them out of the houses for two hours. Finally the Chinese broke in. Seeing our numbers, they retired and began firing on us. The firing increased as the Chinese and British warships in the river laid down a protective barrage of shells immediately around the houses and we were able to escape over the wall. The American consulate was entered by the nationalists and was reported by the Chinese to have been thoroughly looted.

EVANGELISM SPIRIT STRONGER THAN EVER

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—With hymns under the direction of their pastors playing the main part in evangelism, the old form of this method of worship, represented by tents and tabernacle meetings, has fallen into disuse. Dr. Charles Goodell, secretary of the evangelism commission of the federal council of churches, declared today. "The spirit of evangelism," said Goodell, "was seldom more prevalent in the church than now. The movement among us is rapidly magnificent. This new movement is taking the form of pastoral and personal evangelism."

Goodell has written a report on evangelism which will be incorporated in a forthcoming edition of the "Handbook of Churches." "The movement to deepen the devotional life of the churches, in home and family prayers, in homes, and to bring the spirit of evangelism more largely into the whole system of Christian education, is one of the most hopeful things, in connection with the present life of the church," Goodell wrote. "The reports which are now coming from the churches indicate a general quickening of the church which is showing itself in increased additions to the church membership. Evangelism is to be increased in the next few years as never before in recent years, with the ultimate purpose of an evangelic spirit in every church in each community."

Twenty-two Earth Shocks Felt During Month of February

SISANVILLE, Cal., March 25.—What some residents in the vicinity of Mount Lassen inferred as foreboding, an eruption of the volcano on its crest, have been felt. In the form of light earthquake shocks, recently. Last month 22 distinct earth tremors were recorded in one day on the volcano seismograph located about 15 miles from the peak, at Mineral Wells. The noise attending these quakes was greatly out of proportion to their violence, according to mountain rangers, which indicates that they might be nearer a paroxysm. No surface activities of the volcano have been noted as a result of the tremors. Snow lies at a depth of 15 feet in some places along the mountain side, making transportation for the evacuation of the crater and its possible volcanic activities difficult. A recent snowing trip made by Dr. R. H. French, volcanologist, extending over a period of three days, disclosed a general increase of volcanic action, particularly noticeable at hot springs and geysers where the water was of greater heat intensity than has been recorded in recent years.

ORDER MORE MARINES TO CHINA AREA

President Issues Order for 1,500 Leathernecks to Prepare for Sailing; Are Mobilizing at War Time Speed.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Alarmed that spreading anti-American activities in China, President Coolidge today ordered 1,500 more American "leathernecks" to be sent to the "war zone" in order to protect the interests of United States nationals in that area.

The leathernecks, mobilizing with war time speed at half a dozen army bases, will sail from San Francisco, via the transport Howland, probably within 10 days, and will be at the scene of their assignment within 30 days, navy officials said.

The Howland, after carrying 1200 marines to protect American lives and property in Nicaragua, will arrive in San Diego in about ten days. In that time marines ready for service will be mobilized at some eastern coast army bases. The marines will sail from San Francisco, via the transport Howland, and other vessels and will be mobilized across the continent by rail.

The request for marines came to the navy department at three a. m. today from Admiral Clarence S. Williams of Shanghai, chief of the United States army in the field. He has placed a complete change of the dangerous situation. Williams specified that he wanted 1,500 of the "leathernecks" corps—the most famous marching and fighting men.

Possibility that the government was considering mobilizing 1,500 of the regular army forces to China was reported as the result of a conference between Secretary of State Kellogg, and Secretary of Navy William D. Mitchell. Major General Charles L. Simmes, chief of staff of the United States army, was called to the conference.

"FLAMING FOREST"

Swirling, soaring flames—terrifying and enthralling in their ruthless devouring of countless acres of primeval forests, vegetation, habitations and frantic people fleeing before their mighty, spectacular onrush—such a great spectacle stuns the imagination and forms the thrilling climax in the pictorialization of James Oliver Curwood's masterpiece of the Canadian northwest, "The Flaming Forest."

Over one million copies of this book have already been sold since its serialization in the Cosmopolitan magazine—a remarkable tribute to the popularity of this famous author. Magnificent views of mountains and streams, thrilling encounters with the Indians, the romance of the mounted police, comedy and pathos—all dramatized in a great screen entertainment of the Canadian northwest before law and order was established.

Hence Adore and Tom O'Brien undergo their remarkable performance in "The Big Parade," while Antonio Moreno makes a romantic, two-act mounted policeman.

Any of Sixteen Major League Clubs Have a Chance at Winning Pennant; Can Boston Repeat 1914 Drive?

Ed.—This is the first of a series of articles in which the United Press sports editor will discuss the entries in the major league pennant races.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Ever since the Boston Braves of 1914 started a midseason drive that gave a rank outsider a National League championship and a world's series victory in straight games over the great Philadelphia Athletics, there has been a disposition to figure that no team in major league baseball is entirely without a chance for the pennant.

But the Braves of 1914 were miracle and there isn't one manager in baseball who won't trade his share of miracles for one good 300 hitter. The material league has that old story about the little boy who was told in school that every American youngster has a chance to become president.

"I'll sell my chances for a nickel," he said.

Sixteen clubs in the major leagues have a right to championship, but of the sixteen there are six clubs whose chances are as favorable as that of the legendary snowball in the familiar locality.

Throwing out 1914 miracles, 1926 surprises by the Cardinals and the Yankees, and any other aspects that might be recalled there are only two guesses—right one and a wrong one.

Exercise the constitutional right to guess and take the chances it looks as if—

If Philadelphia Phillies, the Boston Red Sox, the Boston Red Sox haven't a nickel's worth of chance.

The Brooklyn Robins, the Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns have chances worth fifteen cents straight.

This classification of the Brooklyn club might turn out to be a symptom of lunacy, principally because the magic of Uncle Wilbert Robinson who can do more tricks with a funny ball club than any man in baseball.

The St. Louis Browns, influenced by the magnetic personality of Dan Howey may also upset the odds, but the popular Howey cannot carry a baseball into a two base ride with the sacks loaded.

Howe Bancroft is frank enough to admit that he can't see his Boston Braves as a pennant contender. Bill Carrigan hasn't opened his heart to the same extent about the Boston Red Sox but he is too much of an old-timer to look at the sun without smoked glasses. Ray Schalk is willing to admit that the Chicago ball park wasn't enlarged to accommodate the White Sox in the next world series.

Not one of the six clubs is balanced sufficiently to hold up against opposition from the other clubs which are not all of championship caliber, but which are good all-around teams.

SIXTH FIFTEENS: PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26.—George Siple, dropped the ball in the crucial period of the game with the Boston Braves here yesterday and the Braves emerged a few minutes later with a 4 to 2 victory over the Browns.

BALTIMORE LONES TO ATHLETICS: FORT MYERS, Fla., March 26.—A free hitting contest that lasted 12 innings between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Baltimore International League team went to the major leaguers, 7 to 6.

JENS HAINES WINN GAME: AVON PARK, Fla., March 26.—Jens Haines was in great fettle yesterday and the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the outfit of the Philadelphia Nationals, 9 to 5, here yesterday.

BEAVERS WILL GIVE OTHERS RUN THIS YEAR

By WILLIAM C. FERRERIDGE

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 25.—Watch the Portland Beavers this year. If experience means anything, this club will put up a hard battle for the 1927 pennant of the Pacific Coast League.

There is a sprinkling of youngsters in the lineup, but Fred Thurnham, Turner will depend upon his older players to pull the club to the top. That is the way things look here in training camp before the season begins. Turner refuses to be optimistic.

After Ernie Johnson left the Beavers prospects hinge upon possibilities in the lineup, but Fred Thurnham, Turner, voted the best in the league, but been holding out and may not play.

The pitching staff will in an unknown quantity. And youth may have its influence if Chalmers' "Six" is still the $13,000 "boy wonder" shortstop proved to be the right-hand wonder he was when Turner laid down a fancy price for him to the Sox.

Prthro wants $1000 a month and declares otherwise he'll go back to Memphis, Tenn., and go into business.

BUCKY HARRIS NOT WORRIED OVER OUTCOME

Senators Will Not Have Full Power Until Walter Johnson Is Able to Return to the Camp.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 26.—It is unfortunate for those who have faith in the power of pennant clubbing that the schedules have to be played out.

As far as we of the Washington club are concerned we are expecting to fight it out with these other clubs. New York, Philadelphia and Boston in what should be the most spirited competition faced in years.

When we are able to use our full strength we will have an improved line-up. Ernie Turner, Walter Johnson, able to take his firm we will not be able to command our full strength. I am not worried, particularly about my own injuries, but those injuries will just go to show how uncertain baseball can be and how futile it is to make predictions.

This speaker will be a tremendous help to do and will give us almost a perfect outfit. Our catching staff

Sten Baumgartner, southpaw pitcher, is the only other holdout, but has accepted transportation money. The pitching staff has been bolstered by addition of Walter Kibbey, once-pitcher formerly with the Athletics, and Cowboy Ed Tomlin, the moustache hurler from Newark of the International League and the Detroit Tigers. Both are strong hitters. Chalk looks just as good in camp as did Red Hickey in his first year of play. In one practice game he rapped-out three hits in four times at bat. Elmer Smith, leading home runner of the league, and Bill Hodge, who led the league with 392, top list of leaders. The Beavers may not cop the pennant, but they'll be in the cellar—not by the Beavers' demerit.

A Good Man. Put an end once for all to this discussion of what a good man should be and be one—Marcus Agrippa.

Buhl Girls Forced to Join War Dance of Roe Full Bloods

(By HAROLD HARVEY) WICHITA, Kan., March 26.—(Special)—The Buhl Indian football team will hold a dance of the public interest at Wichita this evening. The team was eliminated in the first round of the series.

Between the two semi-final Friday evening, a band of full blood Indians from the New American Indian Institute put on a war dance and the 4000 spectators that packed the forum yelled so loudly for the Idaho girls' team that the full squad was forced to yield to popular demand and join the war dance.

They received an ovation. The full girls are immensely popular at the institution for the splendid sportsmanship with which they have accepted their defeat and cheered the other teams from the side lines.

As Thrilling in Beauty as in Performance ~ ~ ~ Everyone says "Nothing like it in the world"

The mere announcement of the Super-Six principle, freed to the limit, focused on Hudson a dramatic public expectancy such as never awaited any other car. In appearance and value, as well as performance, it is the most talked-of car of the year. New riders, new buyers and thousands who merely witness its vivid dash on the road are saying "There is nothing like it in the world." In all it does, there is effortless ease, from its swift, smooth glide into motion, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four-wheel brakes. It has been accorded the greatest public reception in Hudson history.

"only the most advanced engineering could create it—only super-precision methods could produce it"

If you are one of those sound automobile buyers who buy on comparative values, and if you compare the Greater Oakland Six against the best in its field, you will discover that only the most advanced engineering could create it... and only super-precision methods could produce it. In no other car of the $1000 class will you find such a matchless combination of engineering advancements as the Greater Oakland Six... offer car, regardless of price, provide Oakland's Rubber-Silenced Chassis and Harmonic Balancers, Oakland's full pressure cooling, bronze-bearing main and side bearings, foot controlled tiller-beam handlebars and four-wheel brakes. Nor in any other car of comparable price will you find so many examples of that super-precision in manufacture directly responsible for long car life and lasting owner satisfaction. All Oakland piston pin bushings are diamond bored... All Oakland connecting rods are exactly matched for center of gravity and weight. All Oakland rotating parts from transmission to crank are completely balanced. These are practices which typify the most modern and exacting principles of scientific manufacture—and Oakland uses them all.

Modern Woman a Radical in Business Says Anne Morgan—'No' Says Roosevelt

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt

For many years the increasingly important part women are playing in the economic life of the country. This is due, Col. Roosevelt believes, to the fact that woman has played the rules of the game. Asked to agree with Mrs. Morgan that women are more radical than men, Col. Roosevelt said: "The success of women in the business world, in my opinion, is to be attributed to their 'radicalism' and not to their conservatism of men; but rather to the fact that they do not break the rules. Women have been described as 'emotional, temperamental, and tender-hearted.' This does not necessarily imply that they are more radical than men. We hear much of 'female logic' which is popularly supposed to be the antipode of real logic. However, this 'female logic' is solving many of the business and economic problems of the day, not along radical lines, but in a more sane, helpful and constructive manner.

"There are hundreds of examples to illustrate the important relation of women to the business life of the day. We find women selling bonds and running bond departments, women executives in the largest business and industrial concerns in the country, women brokers, lawyers, doctors, editors, sales executives, women running businesses of every kind and description.

"Not only are they doing the practical end of the work, but often they are contributing an inventive genius to it which would be impossible by the use of the male mind. A striking example of this is Miss Emma Dearborn, who has worked the development of Speedwiling, a system of rapid shorthand which has discarded the symbols of the conventional systems of shorthand, and uses only the letters of the alphabet.

"There is again an excellent example of 'female logic.' It took a woman to see that the only system of shorthand needed for the vast business correspondence of the nation is contained right in the letters of the alphabet.

"If the ability to apply shortcuts to business methods and procedures that men have not had the vision to see be still to be developed, then I agree that the business woman is radical."

Col. Roosevelt declared: "Nothing is more significant of our century than the increasingly important part women are playing in the economic life of the country. This is due, Col. "There is again an excellent example of 'female logic.' It took a woman to see that the only system of shorthand needed for the vast business correspondence of the nation is contained right in the letters of the alphabet.

"If the ability to apply shortcuts to business methods and procedures that men have not had the vision to see be still to be developed, then I agree that the business woman is radical."

BORAH'S ADVICE ON CHINA

By JAMES D. WHELAN.

So far as his advice to America to keep out of China is concerned, Senator William E. Borah is right in the sense that it is not our business to seek to decide for the Chinese what form of government they should have. But the administration is right in keeping a fleet in the war zone to protect American life and property. Perhaps the senator is right in saying that the spirit which animates the Cantonese army is the same as that which moved our revolutionary army and patriots, but the same spirit sometimes manifests itself in different ways. There is undeniable truth in the scripture warning against putting new wine in old bottles. The reaction from despotism is apt to be anarchically followed by new despotism and that is manifesting itself in China today. If Senator Borah were an American caught in Nanjing, he would perhaps view the situation from a different angle when Celestial camp followers of the Cantonese army broke loose. Only those who are deceived will say today that Bolshevism is not using every means in its power to spread over the world. Conditions are not ripe for its military triumph in America as they were in Russia or as they are in China, but the warnings of the American Federation of Labor, of the United Mine Workers and of socialists like Spargo, Russell and others, in the United States; and the experience of the socialist labor government in England, shows that even semi-radicals scent real danger in the most stable communities.

In America under both Articles of Confederation and the Constitution government has been based on the popular will. It is not so in Russia. The election held just before the bolshevik took charge at the point of the bayonet resulted in the election of 90 per cent of the reform delegates of the Kerensky party. Of course, that is not our affair. Backing up the so-called White Russians with soldiers was the mistake of the western powers which enabled the bolsheviks to make a patriotic appeal that permitted them to hold the power unlawfully seized. Uncle Sam should not be an international busybody to regulate the internal affairs of other nations that are presumed to take care of their own problems.

On the other hand, a reasonable degree of care should be exercised in China to see that, as far as possible, the protection which international law assumes should be afforded to nationals of one country within the boundaries of another, is extended to ours in the orient.

Burley High School Band Will Enter in State-Wide Contest

BURLEY, March 25.—The Burley high school band will enter the state-wide band contest which is to be conducted by Mark Freshman, local music supervisor and president of the "music section of the Idaho State Teachers' association." Mr. Freshman will have his players well "trained" to compete with the best in the state. He has already organized a band whose enviable reputation even as a unit has attracted considerable comment throughout the state. On many occasions, where a municipal band is needed, the high school band is brought into service.

The following is the personnel of the Burley high school band: Cornets: Rudin Westcott, Ernest Atkins, Harold Moeller, Francis Johnson, Carl Huntington, Duane Blincham, Robert Parks, P. Thompson, Stanley Skiles and Frank; Trumpets: Blake Christensen, Max Gudmundson, Earl Orchard; trombones: Noah Burris, Willard Peterson, Wesley Stearns; baritone: Fred Story; basses: Ray Lambert, Preston Cutler, Floyd Olsen; clarinets: Jack Cooper, Heggan, King, Wayne Hill, Brentford Harris, Richard Kaur, Sawyer Pritchett, Don Griffith, Frank Buech; saxophones: Leola Cramer, Elmer Gunnarsson, Clarence Slesby; drums: Don Kooplin and Virgil Clark.

Sport Cabriolet Very Popular Car

The diversified purposes for which the four-passenger sport cabriolet, the new car added to the new Pontiac six line, may be used has made this model one of the most popular in the line.

This comparatively new body type has enjoyed a tremendous vogue due to its many-sided utility. It has all the advantages of the coupe in that the front seat is entirely enclosed—and in addition has carrying capacity for two extra passengers in the rumble seat. It possesses, likewise, all the finest qualities of design and equipment of the sport style of car. It has been found that those who desire the intimate type of car such as the coupe, frequently desire extra passenger space for outings or to give friends a lift home.

In probably no other model in the Pontiac line is the Placer created so admirably revealed in this car. The leather top is soft and without studs, while nickel-plated louver doors add a distinguished touch to the completeness of the car. It is finished in chrome gray, blue, striped in orange on the bottom, hood louvers, and mudflaps. The top and fenders are finished in Brewster green, while the leather upholstery is in green.

The sun visor is supported by nickel-plated brackets. Windshield cleaner and rear view mirror are standard equipment. Back of the driving seat is a broad recess or open pocket, leather lined, for packages. Head and cowl lights have nickel-plated rims, with the body of lamps finished in duco coloring the same as the body.

The rumble seat is reached by two aluminum steps mounted on the right side of the car. When the rumble seat is in use, the back curtain of the car is hooked up inside on snap catches.

Mother and Daughter Meeting at Kimberly Is Great Success

KIMBERLY, Idaho, March 25. (Special Times)—One of the largest and most worthwhile gatherings that has occurred in Kimberly this season was the mothers and daughters banquet held in the Methodist church Friday evening. About 100 mothers with their daughters as guests were present.

An especially well arranged program was given as follows: The hostesses, Mrs. J. N. Lewis, introduced each person appearing on the program in gracious manner and each responded in a pleasing way.

Those responding to guests or singing musical numbers were Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Pyper, Mrs. Hill, Edna Brown, Margaret Shepherd, Betty Shepherd, Mrs. Garrison, Marjorie Harvard, Misses Taylor, Pledge, Jacey and Crown, Mrs. Barnhart. The banquet tables were beautifully set with white, a centerpiece from Miss Hazel Van Houten, and with baskets of Easter eggs. The speakers' table was especially attractive with white and red center pieces of Easter Bunnies and eggs, and golden tapers at either end of the table.

The lights of the hall were shaded with yellow creating a golden glow over all.

Banquet Is Successful. The three-course banquet was served by a committee of girls and their mothers, which could be said in commendation of the skill with which they handled every detail of this important part of the program.

In the kitchen also the men took charge of affairs supplementing the service of those in the banquet hall.

WATER LOSS ISSUE BEFORE JOINT BOARDS

Meeting of Boards of Milledale, Northside and Twin Falls Canal Company Will Wrestle With Question.

The question of water losses in the Snake river and the working out of a plan whereby a more equitable arrangement for dividing the same will be before the executive here Monday afternoon of the 27th of the Northside, the Milledale and the Twin Falls canal company. The last named company claims that the present method of measuring deprives it of about 20,000 acre feet annually, and relief is sought. So far as producing crops is concerned, the loss of the amount named, will be relatively unimportant to the Twin Falls tract, but as much as future extensions of the irrigated area may result in the purchase of water, the loss of acre feet would be of financial importance.

BURLEY PASTOR GETS CHANGE OF VENUE IN COURT

(Special to The Times) BURLEY, March 26.—There was no resistance by County Attorney Tom Morris to the motion for change of venue filed by Sylvester T. Lowe, attorney for Rev. John T. Morris charged with criminal libel. Sheriff Prepley D. Pace, when the matter came up before Judge Hugh A. Baker today. It is stated that the county attorney in a previous case where change was sought and obtained by W. C. Jeppson, declared that the venue in Burley was not against deposition but against Rev. Morris; hence there was no resistance to the granting of the motion for change. It is probable that the case will be heard in Jerome early in April. Rev. Mr. Morris made a series of charges against Sheriff Pace in "The Forum" publication which has since been discontinued.

OVERPRODUCTION CAUSE OF FALL GAS

That the fall of two cents a gallon in the price of gasoline which struck this community in common with the rest of the country this week is due to overproduction, was the state made today by George A. White, manager of the Standard Oil company of California. "It is a peculiar thing to note a sharp fall in prices in the face of increasing demand," he said, "and this could arise only from the cause named."

BREAD

BUTTERED BREAD sometimes seems hard and dry when it really is not. It is a very firm, solid loaf, thoroughly baked, with delicate crust, brown on top and when cold it may seem stale. If you desire more of a crisp crust, it can be returned to the oven for 10 minutes. BUTTERED TWINS 2 loaves (2 pounds) 25¢. Heavy "BUTTERED" or full weight loaves.

MOTHER'S BREAD—the ribbon you prefer a very light, soft, fluffy loaf that the ordinary baker's body has never made. It is made with milk, the same dough as BUTTERED, but baked by the ordinary process. It will be the Special MOTHER'S Bread when having it for a quarter loaf. You then get BUTTERED quality in the soft, flaky loaf.
