WEISSMULLER SMASHES RECORD; AVENGES DEFEAT BY YOUNG STAR

CHICAGO, April 8. (UP)—Another National A. U. record went by the board here last night as Johnny Weissmuller, star of many an aquatic meet, averaged himself on George Kojac, 17 year old New York school boy, and won the 250 yard free-style swim in 2:19.4-6, in smashing the old record of 2:14.4-6 which he himself made at the conference last year, the Illinois Athletic club star, Ted Kojac, who finished second, by 15 feet. Spack Wednesday defeated Weissmuller and other veteran swimmers and set a new world record for the 500 yard back-stroke swim. The Illinois A. C. and Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A. now stand tied with 23 points in the championship standings. Other entries came as follows:

Chicago A. C., 13; New York A. C., 11; Boys' club, 8; Ambassador club, Los Angeles, 5; Los Angeles A. C., 3; Erie, Pa. Y. M. C. A., 2; Philadelphia A. C., 1; Pennsylvania A. C., Philadelphia, 1; Northwestern university, 1.

The final championships will be held today. The 500 yards free style swim, springboard diving and finale in water polo are the remaining events. This afternoon trials in the swim and diving events will be held. The water polo championships will be decided tonight by teams of the I. C. A. and C. A. A.

In the water polo preliminaries the I. C. A. C. defeated the Brooklyn A. C. 16-4.

The C. A. A. squeezed through to a victory over the New York A. C. 10-0.

Paul P. Simpson, captain of the championship U. of Michigan team, was disqualified in the preliminary heats of the 220 yard free-style swim for not touching one of the buoys.

The summary:

220 free style—Won by Johnny Weissmuller, I. A. C.; George Kojac, Boys' Club, New York, second; Harry Glancy, Pennsylvania A. C., third. Time, 2:19.4-6. (New National A. U. record.)

PIRATES WILL HEAD NATIONAL LEAGUE; CLAIM

By HENRY L. FAHRELL.

NEW YORK, April 8. (UP)—There is no law against calling the order in which the National League teams will finish and there is nothing at stake but the prophet's reputation, so here goes:

Pittsburgh Pirates—St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds, New York Giants, Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn Robins, Boston Braves, Philadelphia Phillies.

The odds showing "you're wet" forms are the right.

Picking the exact position in which a team will finish can be done and has been done frequently but it is largely a matter of guess work.

Study of pitching, batting and fielding form, consideration of the personalities of the players and the peculiarities of the stadiums are the factors in the comparative class of the teams. There is no way however, to foresee the late season and break a team can overheat and reduce a pennant contender to the second division.

Even looking at the season that has been demonstrated in the case of the New York Giants, which have the favorite on the "odds" books and were most likely to throw down a pennant winner and a world championship club, but the Pittsburgh Pirates look stronger than the St. Louis Cardinals.

It wasn't luck alone that won the pennant for St. Louis but the Cardinals had less luck than any of the contending teams. The Giants were wrecked by injuries and the Cincinnati Reds were badly handicapped by the loss of Bressler in the important part of the championship race.

The Reds are nominated for third place on the basis of their pitching staff and it is likely they will land higher because of their strength on the "odds" books to hit as they did last year and regardless of statements made to the contrary the team is bound to miss Eddie Hough.

The Giants are a hard team to play. McGraw had Ross Young in the outfield and Travis Jackson at shortstop for the start of the season, the club would have the appearance of a pennant winner, but Young is gone for good and it may be months before Jackson will be able to play a hard game. The pitching and catching staffs also could be improved.

The Cubs are ranked below the Giants although they finished in the first division ahead of the Giants last year.

Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia may not finish in the order named but it is not to be expected that any of them will finish higher than sixth place.

CLOCK 5 MINUTES FAST SAVED WORKMEN

MEXICO CITY, April 8. (UP)—Two hundred workmen here owe their lives to the fact that a clock was five minutes fast. They fled out of the drug manufacturing establishment, where they were working, five minutes before they were supposed to. The last man had hardly got out when a terrific explosion wrecked the building almost completely.

JUSTICE

PORTLAND, Ore., April 8. (UP)—At last justice is to be done the "blue-ribbon" golfer.

The trouble has been, it seems, that a man never forgets the feat of making the shot. The trouble has been in making others believe him.

Portland, Ore., N. Y. Humans and Dunlap are paired for the date and circumstances of the accomplishment will be inserted.

can sit in his home and tune in on his distant Paris; see his absent friends and talk with them; see and hear an opera performed in some distant metropolis; or even, perhaps, catch the broadcast of some stirring event, such as a world session or a big disaster, while it is taking place.

The scene of yesterday's demonstration at which television was first revealed to the world, was a long, low ceilinged auditorium on top of the laboratories. About 50 spectators were grouped in chairs in the center. In Washington there was a similar group.

All along the walls were stationed the men working on the experiment. Soldiers in the army of science, each at his post. Some were equipped with head phones and instructions were being sent out to the men in the center. Near the stage were the technical staff, moving about in the years of research that led to television.

Then, a man of medium stature with a pointed, reddish beard and spectacles, was smiling, and, as he spoke, the auditorium sympathetically gasped, quietly triumphant over the fruits of his years of labor.

After the music had been given a demonstration of television from one end of the room to the other, the speaker discussed its elementary principles, the epoch making demonstration over more than 200 miles of wire from Washington began.

FORD EXPECTED

of the Ford-Sapiro bill suit today.

Senator James Reed, continuing cross-examination of Aaron Sapiro, and the witness relate all he recalls about the case.

The notes, given by the organizer, Idaho Potato Growers, being made in Sapiro's handwriting.

"I ran into Mr. Zieckerman in San Francisco and explained that the articles of incorporation would possibly need as much as $10,000 to set organized," Sapiro said.

"I will attempt to furnish funds and they were turned over to the organizing committee either by the firm or director of the Idaho," Sapiro produced a telegram, answering one introduced by the senator to deny that his firm had wired Charles J. Carlson of Idaho Falls, saying Weyl-Zieckerman would advance necessary money, and then that Carlson had wired.

"I wrote at this time to make arrangements for the incorporation's name. Arrange have it made in ones,"

"Was it because Carlson wanted to hide the fact that the alleged speculators in the state were financing a co-operative association that he wanted it in your name?" he asked the senator.

"I have no idea," answered the witness. "I don't know if the alleged speculation, wasn't it?" asked Senator Reed.

"And to promote co-operative marketing of potatoes?"

"And you were getting money from the largest speculators in the field to organize it?"

"They were willing to completely get out of speculation in potatoes," came the answer.

"On what terms?" the senator asked sharply.

"No terms."

"Now they sponsored the handling of the potatoes of the Idaho Speculators, didn't they?"

"Yes."

"Was a matter of fact and the senator turned full on the jury, raising his hand, too long. "Didn't you receive $27,500 as co-ordinator for handling Idaho potatoes?"

"I have no memory,"

"So," the senator continued, "Senator Reed went louder, "and also isn't it true that other commission payments were getting $10,000 a year?"

The witness was halted from making a final denial by the senator, W. H. Gallagher, who objected and was sustained.

Senator Reed produced two notes, one for $2,500, payable to Sapiro, with interest at 8 per cent which was due on the 1st of January, 1925, unpaid on maturity. The other, for $1,000, bore similar terms.
