SWEET SAYS WELLES WILL BRING ENGLAND REJECTS FRENCH ARMS PROPOSAL

CLAIM SAPIRO GAVE $1,000 FOR ONE TALK

Plaintiff in Libel Action Declares He Can Not Recall It

IDAHO MENTIONED

Senator Reed Brings Out That Sapiro Was in Idaho 3 Days.

DETOIT, April 11 (UP)—At the invitation of Governor William Sweet of Colorado, Anton Sapiro made his first speech before Colorado farmers in 1937. He testified today as the fifth week of his million dollar libel suit against Henry Ford here.

"Would you paid $1000 for this speech?" demanded Senator James A. Reed, remaining cross-examination.

"Not that I can recall," the witness answered.

"Reed's suggestion that the books were brought out but failed to disclose any charge either for the trip or speech, Sapiro said. This testimony came after a short mention of the Idaho Potato Growers' Exchange in which Senator Reed had referred to Sapiro's appearance three days previously in Idaho.

Sapiro said in his speech, delivered to the governor, that mention was made in the spring of 1932.

In June, Sapiro said, at the request of Mr. Henry of the University of Colorado, went to Mr. McCabe of the Logan Farm Bureau office to look at the potato situation.

At Denver, Mortimer Stone, an attorney connected with the potato growers, Reed brought out.

"The arrangements did you and Stone have toward splitting or dividing the money," asked the senator.

"I received the money," the witness testified. "I was not regarding organization work and it was decided that I was to be the general or consulting counsel, Colorado was to have a local counsel and my co-operatively set up to pay me monthly and similar fees to the local counsel."

FORMER WIFE OF BARTHELMUSS TO RESIGN STAGE; WEDS RICH BRITISH OPERATOR OF RUBBER

NEW YORK, April 11. (UP)—Mary Hay, who danced lightly away from Richard Barthelmuss through a Paris divorce court a few months ago, has become the bride of William Barthelmuss, British rubber merchant from Singapore.

The story of how the bridegroom came out of the far east and captured the love of one of America's most famous stage actresses in a whirlwind courtship was told by friends today. Miss Hay had met him only a few weeks ago, they said, and their secret marriage to be notified by a notice of the birth of a child on Saturday night was a complete surprise.

The newlyweds were at a hotel here today and were reported to be leaving for the West before night to sail from San Francisco for the Far East. Miss Hay was quoted as saying she was through with the stage and would make her permanent home in Singapore.

COAL STRIKE ENGLAND IS RECALLED

Chancellor Churchill Claims Huge Tie-up Cost Britain Much in Trade.

LONDON, April 11. (UP)—One machine gun, thirty rifles and a quantity of ammunition were captured by Chinese police in their raid on the Russian embassy in Peking last week, Sir Austen Chamberlain, British secretary, announced in the House of Commons today.

Chamberlain impressively counted the cost of the general strike and the coal strike which began a few days more than a year ago and whose injury to British trade, the chancellor said, had been "very deep, deeper than many of us are willing to perceive ourselves."

"The industry of transport, the mines department and the overseas department," Churchill announced, would be abolished during the current financial year.

New entrants to the civil service would be markedly limited.

Chamberlain said, estimated that profits for the year were 150,000,000 sterling, compared with 175,000,000 sterling below expectations.

"We need this afternoon," he said, "to show the shadow of the disasters of last year."

Churchill said he believed the best thing was to have the 1937-38 financial year, approximately 150,000,000 sterling, and the 1937-38 financial year would be 210,000,000 sterling, approximately 22,000,000 sterling, and the entire revenue for 1937 would reach the 505,700,000 sterling, 41,025,000,000 collected.

AVOID COLLAPSE OF LEAGUE MEET

British Disapproval Comes on French Argument to Limit Total Colleague

GENEVA, April 11. (UP)—College of the League of Nations separately abhorrently announced today for a time today when the League rejected the French formula for total disarmament.

The book became manifest when Vincent Gull, speaking for England, insisted that the French suggestion that naval armament be limited by total tonnage instead of classes of ships.

The discussion revolved around President Coolidge's proposal for further naval treaties and Gull insisted that the French should defer presenting their program until, the League conference was over.

Latin America, as represented by the Argentine and Chile, strongly favored the proposal for limitation of the French plan. Serbia accepted the French plan was acceptable, and the Japanese delegate said that it would serve as a basis for continued discussion.

The Americans said they were ready to continue to seek a solution acceptable to all parties and Gull's proposal, which Gull's compromise appeared before.

John Gibson, American ambassador to Great Britain, and delegate to the preliminary conference, explained the United States position.

"The fundamental test of the American delegation he said is to make the present commission a success. The United States wants general naval disarmament, with a solution by the end of the year, but failing that, a partial solution of three-power or other conference."

The United States has insisted upon naval reduction by the limitation of categories, it is because this system is the only one which is workable results. Meanwhile, we are ready to study the French and all other proposals if they are found that will give a general naval disarmament within the United States will be ready to accept it and contribute to it."

There are arguments to be given on each side and a great many persons have expressed their preference, one favoring the daily column and another the weekly page.

Our first consideration and decision is to serve society as well as other uses in the most lively form and in a way that will meet the general demand. Of course, it is a more simple method to continue the old style which they do not prefer.

To Err is Human?

These men do not make mistakes!

THE romance and glamour of news-reporting hover around the intrepid reporter.

But the UNITED PRESS telegraph operator deserves a paean of praise for his unflinching accuracy in circumstances when a tiny error might shake the world!

The layman knows that telegraphy is a matter of dots and dashes. What he may not know is that with it goes a system of automatic abbreviation or "shorthand" which reduces "decided" to "dcd" and "judge" to "jdg" and condenses other words in similar fashion.

Thus: "Mussolini decided today" might easily be erroneously sent as "Mussolini died today" and countless other mistakes could easily become possible.

The load of responsibility resting on the UNITED PRESS operator is terrific. To err may be human but the dictum does not apply to him. HE MUST NOT; CAN NOT permit himself to make mistakes.

And when you remember that he sometimes sends or receives some 15,000 words a day, you appreciate the strain under which he labors.

This newspaper is proud of the fact, accurate UNITED PRESS operators who send and receive the news gathered by UNITED PRESS reporters equally faithful and accurate. Look for the line "BY UNITED PRESS" in this newspaper every day. News so marked is accurate, true and authoritative.

CLEAR SKY AHEAD FOR BALL; CASES, SCANDALS ALL SETTLED

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
 NEW YORK, April 11 (UP)—The gloom of the baseball season has been thrown back on the playing field and a winter spent in turbulent offices and public investigations has cleared of scandal charges and with Henry's position with the New York Giants now secure by settlement of his attack fight, there is nothing to keep the boys from playing tomorrow without any extra pressure. Owners of the major league clubs predict another successful season. If competition encourages business, the club owners ought to be glad because the two managers will have to look to it as night as they could be made if the dope is correct.

None of the eight clubs in the National League have chances to win the pennant with the Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds and the New York Giants very closely grouped in strength.

At least four clubs in the American League are strong possibilities, the Philadelphia Athletics, the New York Yankees, the Cleveland Senators and the Cleveland Indians.

The Pirates and Giants are being

FARRELL PICKS ATHLETICS TO WIN AMERICAN LEAGUE PENNANT

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
 NEW YORK, April 11 (UP)—With five new manager-leading clubs in a league that has been re-organized almost entirely, a prediction of the outcome of the American League championship race involves more than the ordinary risks.

It would be a simpler and a more pleasing process to take the book-makers and establish two clubs on the same odds as the favorites for the championship.

Accepting the responsibility of being wrong—and very wrong—the standing of the teams in the American League next October looks like this:

Philadelphia Athletics, New York Yankees, Washington Senators, Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Browns, Chicago White Sox, Boston Red Sox.

Choosing between the Athletics and the Yankees for the call on first place requires a verdict against a powerful team—that was a championship last year, a club with hitting power great enough to be rated as at least a five-run ball club.

The Yankees with the exception of the pitching staff, are a club of class and power. The Athletics, however, seem to be almost a perfect team. There are two good ball players for every position, Connie Mack, has led to Cleveland, the most powerful pitching staff in the league and he seems to have everything else in line. Some critics have said the real strength of the club is worked around on many old hands, but even Grube, Collins and Wheat can't win in every game the utility men are able to handle their positions.

Ball players in the American League looked off the chances of the Athletics in recent years on the general belief that the team lacked courage and thinking power. But it has built now.

Washington has an impressive team but without Walter Johnson the team cannot get away to the start necessary for a championship.

The importance of a quick getaway was demonstrated last year by the big lead which the Yankees grabbed, a lead that gave them enough to work on when the team fell into a slump this late season slump.

The followers will miss Speaker and it is not safe to assume that the pitchers will function as they did last year. The season before will mean that the extra, most valuable player race.

The Detroit Tigers, however, may be the big surprise of the league.

YOUNG CORBETT, RING IDOL, DIES WHILE CROSSING STREET

DENVER, Colo., April 11. (UP)—Young Corbett is dead. The tough little fighter, who knocked the featherweight championship crown from Terrible Terry McGovern in two rounds in 1925, died of a heart attack from heart failure, last night.

His death occurred in view of hundreds of names of whom had named him in the spotlight of years ago—the spotlight of ring fame.

Young Corbett, coming to cross the street in front of a theatre, stepped from the curb into the path of an automobile. He dodged back, stepped forward and then pitched forward on the pavement.

Corbett's full name was William Rothwell. He was born in Denver October 4, 1880. He started his boxing career in 1907 in his native city; fighting was more of a game and less of a profession. He fought hard and often, making his first five or most of the tough boys in his class.

His first fight was with Dutch Jones for which he received $150, after some 20 rounds of hard fighting. A few months later he was married.

with Dago Mike Maczane at the old Opera House in Cripple Creek for what was billed as a fight to the finish. After 27 rounds of hard fighting both men were still on their feet but the fight was stopped and Dago Mike was declared the winner.

The next year in a return match, Young Corbett knocked out Dago Mike in two rounds.

By consistently howling over some of the best boys in the game Young Corbett in four years earned a chunk at the title held by McGovern. They met at Hartford, Conn., on November 1, 1910. Young Corbett, although a game youngster, was conceded little chance of staying with the hard hitting of Terrible Terry and went into the ring on the long end of heavy betting odds. In the first round he swamped Corbett, scallop on avon around with the Terrible Terry and in the second he put over a knockout.

His victory was one of the greatest upsets in the fighting game had seen.

For several years after he won the championship he not only fought, he finally lost his title to Jimmy Britt in a match at San Francisco, on October 1, 1916.
