Open Warfare Carried On In Shanghai

LABORERS DIE
DURING RAIDS IN STORM CITY

Nationalist Army Retreat
Ended on North of Yangtze River.

SHANGHAI, April 12 (UPI)—Open warfare broke out today between nationalist moderates and extremists in Shanghai. On June 13 more laborers and soldiers of General Chiang Kai-Shek's army were killed when Chiang's troops raided five alleged booths of Bolshevik labor unions in the anti-city of Shanghai.

Revolting was strong throughout the city.

Considerable arms and ammunition were confiscated in the raid. It was reported.

The split in the Kuomintang, or Cantonese party, was further evidenced by the announcement that Qiu Tai-Chi, Cantonese foreign commander-in-chief, had been recalled by the Cantonese Government in Nanking. He remained in office, however, pending action by General Chiang who appointed him. Chiang, it was later learned, would support his aide to the limit.

The nationalist army was reported to have stopped its retreat on the north of the Yangtze River to have determined stand against the northern troops. It was learned definitely that Chinkiang was not captured by the rebels.

Nanking and Pukow were bombed by northern aviators Monday. Bombs were dropped. Duanmu was believed slightly.

General Chiang Kai-Shek, whose soldiers were reported to have entered in the city, is now the leader of the moderate faction of the Cantonese army. He has been reported to have been supported by the moderates in the party for some time, and recently it was rumored he had been dismissed as generalissimo of the army. He was given command of Nanking a few days ago ostensibly to take personal charge of the Cantonese armies after their defeat by the northerners north of the Yangtze river.

The extremists of the Kuomintang have been charged with being sympathetic to the Communists and the sold on radicals by Chiang's troops therefore was believed likely to lead to the most serious results within the party.

GENEVA, April 12 (UPI)—Orders have been issued at Peking that League of Nations will not accept the new Chinese delegation until it comes in Europe, effective March 1. The Peking government says that the closure was necessitated by lack of funds.

President Coolidge May Select California Judge

WASHINGTON, April 12 (UPI)—President Coolidge, bound to a southern tour, has not yet received word from the Congress to receive his appointment, he said today, but the appointment has been held up because of a disagreement among California Republican leaders as to a

LOWDEN PRESIDENT CLUB HEADS NAMED

MERCED, Calif., April 12 (UPI)—With officers elected, 25 members of the Lowden Club, which had been organized last summer, had started planning today for increasing the membership of the club and becoming a state-wide organization.

"All we have done is to elect officers," W. L. White, president of the newly formed club, the first on the Pacific coast, said today. "We expect to grow rapidly and will be a very strong organization in the state."

The present membership includes many of the most prominent Republicans in Merced county, White said.

François Parker and family are in this city from Boston visiting Kenneth P. McLaughlin and family. They left this morning for Peotocello, Ralph H. Mouser in Portland attending a convention of agents of the Oregon Life Insurance company.

DE PINEDO AROUND-THE-WORLD AIRPLANE BURNS ON ROOSEVELT LAKE

The picture at the left was taken April 6 within five minutes after the around-the-world Phineo hydroplane burst into flame and was destroyed on Roosevelt lake, the Apache Trail, Ariz., as the world renowned aviator landed, en route to San Diego and San Francisco. It was transmitted by telephone from Los Angeles to San Francisco and speeded to The Times by NEA Service, Inc. At the right is a picture of Roosevelt lake. The morning stand where the aviator landed and saw his plane destroyed is clearly shown in the foreground.

COUNTRY ON EDGE FOR START OF GREAT NATIONAL PASTIME

By Henry L. Parker

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, April 12 (UPI)—The major league umpires were in proper voice to shout, with a glare at the home—"They put a batter up here!"

Umpires were ready to argue that the first pitch would be called wrong and that the diamond could not be in the bases. The players were up to class, and the pitcher, too, was just as son, faced the ace-henberg Phillies at Philadelphia.

The forecast was cloudy, but warm. Brooklyn was to play the Braves at Boston, with cloudy weather predicted.

The Pittsburgh Pirates faced a team that was to play Cincinnati, where the Reds awaited them.

The season is the 23rd in the National League and the 27th for the American League.

CHURCH AND STATE

Governor Smith of New York, the New York governor, will reply at an early date to an open letter by Col. C. Marshall, New York lawyer, appearing in the current number of the Atlantic Monthly. The letter, which has attracted much attention, asks Governor Smith whether he places the Roman Catholic church, of which he is a member, above the state in case a dispute should arise between them. What would seem an important question is made less so by the writer's citations of church authorities to the general effect that in the event of such a dispute its members' first loyalty must be to the church.

According to the Times, the governor will reply in detail to each point raised by Mr. Marshall. "He will receive assistance, and will say no, in matters of church law and church history referred to by Mr. Marshall, but will express in his own characteristic way his position on church and state." The Times reports that the governor "welcomed the opportunity of placing his views on the matter before the American people," and it indicates that the governor's reply will remove much of the opposition to him in certain parts of the country because of his religious stand.

It is earnestly to be hoped that this forecast will be verified. Governor Smith is a successful and able, a courageous and progressive, democratic leader. It is easily conceivable that he may become his party's nominee for the presidency next year. This is not so conceivable, however, in the event he should fail to make his position plain to the satisfaction of the American people. For they are many liberal, tolerant and highly educated persons themselves. Humanitarian but without prejudice against that great and historic church who would hesitate long before voting for a candidate for the presidency, however appealing, who perverted any doubt to exist as to his first and sole allegiance. In all matters political and pertaining to the presidential office, belong to the United States or America.

Despite the Marshall citations, there is reason to believe that "Al" Smith may make a pretty complete job or clearing up that point. For many a time in history distinguished laymen of the church have been found arrayed against the church in matters of politics. The first, if not the most, notable example of this kind was that of the pope practically a prisoner, and for political reasons. Catholics immovable have sometimes fought and died under the flag of a non-Catholic nation in war against a Catholic nation, as in the Spanish-American war. Whatever of political authority the church may or may not claim, it has often been fearlessly challenged by members of the laity asserting their right to complete freedom of thought and action, not to mention but one.

In the United States, of course, the question is fundamental—and fundamentally settled. The sole vital allegiance and official responsibility of an American president, or any other public servant, is to the constitution of the republic and his constituency. No divided allegiance is conceivable and tolerable. Once Governor Smith, though speaking only for himself, makes this point emphatic, he will have contributed greatly, whether he is nominated for president or not, toward removing all political questions. It should never again be necessary to raise them.

HARPSTER IS NOMINEE FOR BURLEY MAYOR

Friends of Present Executive Put Up Ticket: Feeling After Under Precedings is Still Strong.

Special Dispatch to The Times

BURLEY, April 12.—Harry L. Harpster, member of the Burley Rotary club and proprietor of the Harpster Drug Store, was nominated last night by a margin of 19 votes over Prokate Judge E. Wright, after Mayor G. A. Johnson had withdrawn his name, not again becoming a candidate. Other nominees of this, the Citizens' convention, are Parley Clark, for city attorney; W. H. Johnson, for treasurer; L. W. Fearnans, councilman; Fred Ward, M. E. Wright and H. O. Guldmann, city ward; William Schell, chamber of commerce. The administration of Mayor Johnson, now closing, has been a stormy one. An effort to bring him to account, mainly on financial grounds, the result has been that much feeling still exists in the community. The convention last night was made up of followers of the mayor.

The forecast of Graham Brothers Street car, trolley and bus service, and express carriers, three-quarters of a million passengers daily according to estimates prepared from reports by the company.

This huge number of riders, equivalent in a period of six months to the entire population of the United States, being transported in every direction, from coast to coast, in the Americas, near the Antarctic Circle, in Africa, China, India and Europe, as well as in Australia, the United States, the minor countries and busses are providing comfortable and economical transportation.

The forecast of Graham Brothers street car, trolley and bus service and their world-wide distribution is sufficient to passenger transportation needs as proof of inherently desirable transportation facilities.

The company's slogan, "Graham Brothers, we're pioneers in building bus equipment, Constant development through several years of actual running, the latest line of motor coaches and busses which are standard for the market."

MANY SOCIAL EVENTS GIVEN OVER WEEKEND

Special Dispatch to The Times

KETCHUM, Idaho, April 12.—Mrs. H. T. West entertained with a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon at her home Thursday afternoon.

The guests were seated at four small tables beautifully decorated with cloche luncheon sets and candles. The favors for high score were won by Mrs. J. L. Shepard, first prize; Mrs. A. C. Johnson, second; Mrs. Mrs. J. Frank Henry, consolation prize. Guest prize was won by Mrs. Roy Scott. Guests present were Mrs. P. W. Scott, Mrs. Roy Scott, Mrs. Roy Scott, Mrs. Mrs. Roy Scott, Mrs. Harry West, Jr., and Mrs. C. E. Lester.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian Church held their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. W. P. Swarmer. The day was spent quilting and sewing, and "making plans for the Easter bonnets and the annual food drive to be held Saturday, April 16.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hiniker, members of the First Methodist Church, attended the meeting. The day was spent quilting and sewing, and "making plans for the Easter bonnets and the annual food drive to be held Saturday, April 16.

The Idaho Study class was entertained at the home of Mrs. Freda Swarmer Thursday evening. Members present were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Miller, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Zuck, Mr. N. W. Swarmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hiniker.

The Kipp plan, as this feature is known, has the commendable feature, however, of being on an amateur basis, and consisting of a collection of information on the state of the market. It brings buyer, dealer, shipper and government into collaboration, thus making it possible to coordinate flooded markets. It cannot fail utterly, and may bring salvation.

The Idaho Cooper company, interested in the Idaho Cooper Corporation, which used Miss Inspector Stewart Campbell for their advertising, authorized the state's chamber of commerce to draft plans for publication.

They announced the capture of two additional villages south west of Aransas.

Information from swelling beyond bounds. That will be natural result? It is known, and means that the general's decisions for each class is of course decided on merits.

Examination, however, of the general's decision in this meeting shows that—now—that—long—was—cont'd—more ready for offenders against property rights than for those who had shown a spirit of cooperation. One long term, was given his liberty. He was named Daniel C. Binger, who slew the man who shot him. The man who shot him was given two years.

The general opinion about Edmunds when he made his recommendation was that he was right. At least one of the general's statements was right, that he would endorse Edmunds and his idea entire but for realization that too many patrols would at once change the situation.

The state had a department of information, labor and statistics for years and started it finally about 1915. It was a good department, but it was disbanded. It has not functioned like an attitude. Persuaded by the agitation among miners, it was reorganized.
