President Will Support Mc-
Nary in Effort to Formulate Compromise Bill.

By Thomas E. Stithes,
(Cited Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Confident of the compromise bill now in the Senate, President Coolidge has demonstrated he is ready to challenge the aspirations of the avowed presidential candidate of the agrarian party, Dr. George K. Lowden of Illinois and then open the road for a third term attempt.

The endorsement came from the president's spokesman, who said that Coolidge will support Senator McNary, Republican, sponsor of the McMurtry-Hansen bill, retired by the president, and a former friend of a compromise measure, and that the agricultural and other government departments stand ready to help, if the administration so desires.

While the congressional farm relief movement was projected by the pressing the third term campaign, it is to have the no-nonsense committee of the House of Representatives, most frequent, bills, but without casualties. The Ford alienated the Chinese with four inch scrapes, the Preble met the main battery against northern fire from the Kingman fort and alienated the Chinese.

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 16.—Earl Carroll's condition was improved today, though his family physician noted some improvements in his color.

The theatrical producer was conscious of intervals after which he would lapse immediately into a comatose state.

James, his brother and two nurses remained in Carroll's bed room throughout the night in case he awoke. But there was no sign of any radical change.

A little orange juice was Carroll's only nourishment this morning.

Carroll fell into his deep unnatural sleep Wednesday while en route to Atlanta Federal Penitentiary, where he had been a year as a guard for fugitives. The result was confinement to a silent room near which the battle of telegraph instruments and printer machinery was waged.

He is given nourishment in the form of orange juice; doctors optimistic.

Battled by the highest flood water since 1921, the Mississippi river gave way in several places today.

VANDERBILTS MAY PROCURE DIVORCE

By United Press.

PARIS, April 16.—It is understood that the Vanderbilt family will seek a divorce in the United States.

The court procedure necessitated a confidential statement made out for divorce to be filed before the court.

The first step, which is understood already to have been taken, is to file a divorce suit amounting to a request to the court for authorization to file suit.

If the court decides the case is not fit for trial, the parties will be called to a settlement meeting which for the Vanderbilt case is believed to have been set early next month.

But the case may be dropped or thrown out of court.

THE NEW ARMY CHOW

From a scientific viewpoint the new army ration, designed by the war department and approved by the president, leaves nothing to be desired for the health, contentment and economic requirements of Uncle Sam's doughboys. From a practical viewpoint the new ration will be regarded with some suspicion by the layman, for to bring it down to the single unit involved necessitated a reduction which is found only in the results of theory and not in practice. The government proposes to spend more, substantially more, to keep the doughboy's tummy satisfied. Evidently the department is satisfied with Napoleon's dictum that an army's ability to travel is measured at the belt and not by its shoehorn. Last year the cost of the American army ration was $0.3612 per unit. This year it is to cost an even four bits.

Secretary of War Davis makes this comment on the new ration: "This action by the president will prove of momentous importance in improving the contentment and morale of the army."

Henceforth the buck private is to be gorged with good things. His allowance of meat will increase from 12 ounces a day to 16 and he gets twice as much bacon of 3½ as before. They will have fine steaks in the army, for here is what the men must provide for each man: 5½ lbs. ten-thousandths of an ounce of bacon; the same amount of cheese; eight one-hundredths of a gill of pickles; 142½ ten-thousandths of a gill of syrup, etc. The able-bodied soldier gets 18 ounces of flour, 17 ounces of potatoes, 5 ounces of onions and two ounces of canned tomatoes, fruits, beverages, sugar, milk, butter, etc., in proportion. Lamb but not least, the exception order adds 5 ounces to the feed. The Army on Thanksgiving and Christmas as well as better-balanced meals, rationed.

All in all, it means that the army has got to keep pace with the general trend of things if it expects to recruit. This is an era of high living, as well as high cost of living and the doughboy, like everybody else, must be counted in.

MUSIC AND THE SAVAGE BREAST

That music hath charms to move the savage breast is one of those glittering generalities that do not stand the test of experience. Much depends upon the occasion and its psychology, the nature and quality of the music, the spirit and motive of the musician, the kind of emotions pervading the heart of the performer, the manner in which he presents his music, etc., etc. It is whether sudden exposure to even the mild harmonies of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony would stay the uplifted hand of a pursuing Apache about to make a tomahawk in the cranium of a fat feeding toe.

At any rate a New York editor who tried the effects of a patriotic song on his fellow legislators found the results highly disappointing. In fact, quite the reverse of the results he intended were obtained. He reported that the members of a bill of which he was the father, one prescribing a pension of $100 a month to couples who have been married 50 years and $50 a month to the survivor in case one of the pair had died after the golden-wedding anniversary. He supplemented his oratory by singing in a typical voice "Over the Hill to the Poor House." It was a moving scene that followed. Rolled newspaper, wastepaper, hats, coats, house-cleaning and various other erectile expressions of disapprobation were prominently displayed through the air all in the reaction of the senator's person. Some of the savages were actually moved to tears, but they were tears of altruistic. Strong men wept. Even the speaker of the house, who kept bawling his gavelfuriously in an attempt to preserve order, finally failed to preserve his own gravity if the savages did not come to grief, the bill and its father did by an adverse vote of 32 to 13. Manifestly sons and statesmanship don't mix.

FAMOUS BABE IS BIG FACTOR IN YANKS WIN OVER ATHLETICS

By United Press

Yesterday here Babe Ruth, who returned to his familiar home run role with a home run, led the YANKEES to victory in the first game of their third straight victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

There was nothing spectacular about Ruth's home run, the bases were empty when it was made and later he scored on a double by Jimmie Foxx. The Yanks won ten home runs are what the Bombers had paid for and in starting his 1227 string he brought Ruth to the top of the baseball world in his creation.

The Yankees made one run in each of the first four innings and two in the seventh. Ruth's grand slam was the highlight of the Athletics' attempt to score him, suggesting of which were bunched in a single line. Ruth issued a full story to the press.

We refrained from misusing Ruth's one power, though it is clear that perfunctory of the challenge in The News would realize fully after the development of Ruth's career. We still expected this morning to see a retraction of the statement. That did not appear and we, of course, are now prepared to bring him back to the team. The Yanks have no time to get by administering an overwhelming defeat on some convenient diamond. Several players are still in the South and are not expected to return for two weeks. Then they arrive we are set to go.

By Henry L. Farrell
(United Press Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 16—Baseball for the current year is to be a very different contest, but it already is apparent that one of the most robust young men in the American League is the New York team.

In the opening championship strength from last season and it seems to be even more capable of carrying—the honor of the family than what might be expected by its past record.

We picked the Athletics to win the American League but by reason of the opinion that the Athletics were a strong team with added strength from the previous year. The Yankees improved team over the one that although slipped out of the championship last year.

The team shown already, however, that the Yankees are an improved club with more reserve strength and a vastly improved assortment. These who found fault with the Yankees can look out weakness on the left side of the infield, with the frailty of Duke Dugan with a triple knee at third and Mike Koenig, the right-fielder, whose distinguishing distinction is to err in the pitches at shortstop.

The fragile Dugan, always a powerful player during the early part of his career, is a spruce, spiky wunder, but his absence hardly to feel. His Mike Gazella, former Lafayette football star, holding down the saddle position can probably fill the gap.

A potential ring was about eight inches in diameter in which whole portions were served. The ring was set either on a chain or a silver plate. They were used in the early eighteenth century.

CONTINENTAL OIL FILES INJUNCTION IN STATION CASE

Petition Declares Ordinances Prohibiting Construction of "Filling Station Near School Building in Unconstitutional As Drafted; Hearing Will Be Held Friday with School Case."

Declaratory that ordinances 332, which prohibit the erection of a filling station within 100 feet of any school building, are unconstitutional because they are arbitrary, and unreasonable and not a legitimate regulation, the Continental Oil Co., by its attorney, Wm. E. Parry, and John F. Keel, ask that the city council be enjoined from preventing construction of such filling station on its property, which is admitted to be within the boundaries of the Washington school, the main contention of the constitutional objection is raised to ordinance 435, passed April 4, which forbids any construction or removal of filling stations, except in the city to another without action by the council. The matter will be heard April 22 at 2 p.m.

The company says its application for the extension of the ordinances of the city is the duty of the city clerk to grant a permit to construction on property free of any zoning property drawn as to form. It is alleged the company on October 12, 1926, filed an application in proper form with the city clerk; that no action was taken on it, and that no action should have been granted at once, and no reason given to the plaintiff for failure to act. It is further contended that on April 4, 1927, another copy of the application was filed and that this was rejected April 7. At the meeting of April 4, referred to, the council passed ordinance 435, which contained a clause making it effective in 30 days after publication, but that ordinance was never received.

NOT Dangerous.

It is contended that "although the proposed service station is within 100 feet of a public school building, plaintiff does not intend to construct, nor will it construct, the same so as to require patrons to drive their automobiles across sideways, which is the standard practice, and that it involves no danger."

The application referred to was for the construction of a service station, the cost of $1,000. Work was started with the school building. Late yesterday the school district enjoined further construction pending a hearing before Judge Babcock. The Babcock, in accordance with the protest of the company today enjoined the city from prosecuting the employee pending hearing on the same day.

CHAPLIN MAY RETURN AND FILE ANSWER

By United Press

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Although denied by his counsel, P. was informed today that Charlie Chaplin would return to Los Angeles and file answer to his wife's sensational divorce complaint.

Such a move was anticipated for Friday, extending the trial for three days, as far as the court can be given to hear from Monday until next Thursday.

The extension of time was granted by Superior Judge Walter Gamm following telephone requests from Chaplin's counsel, who are reported to be in New Mexico, and from Mrs. Anna Oakden, of San Francisco, who has been retained to represent him in the case.

Unless Chaplin files answer by next Thursday he will lose the suit to Anna Oakden at points where she has visited for several weeks.

The defense for the county was conducted by County Attorney O. W. Wilson.

COURT HOLDS LIMITATIONS HAD EXPIRED

Judge Hugh A. Baker decided that Holders of certificates of delinquency on Salmon Lands Assessed Before February 1926 Cannot Recover Money Paid.

That the fact was admitted by both parties, and therefore not contested that the government retained ownership to lands on the Salmon tract to recover to whom have been assigned delinquency certificates, and who have allowed the statute of limitations to get the money back, is one of the points decided today by Judge Hugh A. Baker of the district court sitting here.

The other point decided by the court was that of Austin H. Wilson against Twin Falls County. Others are in similar situation, and general have had.

The plaintiff held delinquency certificates for 1911, 1916 and 1916, such certificates being marked that the money would be "retained if valid on account of irregularity of taxing offfers." Such a move was anticipated for Friday, extending the trial for three days, as far as the court can be given to hear from Monday until next Thursday.
