CONTAGION FOLLOWS WAKE OF FLOODING RIVERS; ADDS NEW HINDRANCE TO RELIEF

Estimate 80,000 Ave Now Homeless; Property Damage is Indefinitely Set at Between Twenty and Fifty Millions; Sixty Known Dead

By United Press.
"Disuse attacked refugee camps in the flood area today. New waves burst in various sections of the Mississippi valley, ravished by high waters, more thousands are homeless, more lives have been lost—and there is no hope of immediate relief."

Outbreak of contagion in two Arkansas refugee camps alarmed authorities who are seeking to provide for the homeless in concentration centers. Cold and rain hatched with the flood waters to cause death and suffering.

Camp conditions are the most sanitary and best for the victims to date has been noted by suffering.

The disaster appears in the following:

Dead At least 60.

Homeless approximately the heavy rains which swelled the rivers today. It is feared the death toll will be much heavier. Many hundreds of people have not been permitted to leave their homes.

Estimated at 200,000, including an estimated 50,000 refugees in concentration camps.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunate victims who pain to your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?
You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in hundreds of letters of gratitude.
I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so I could hardly walk. I tried most everything. Went to hot Springs and finally I decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatism pills entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would cure, but now it has disappeared, and I am sure that I am S. S. S. which removed the cause. I was very in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best. Carl C. Campbell, 165 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.
S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the roots and stems of natural plants and herbs and gives to you relief without any harmful effects on the system. It is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

PAY DAY.

Time went and Saturday has been known as pay day. This is the day when husbands, having completed a whole week of hard work, get their pecuniary reward and have the delightful pleasure of taking it home to their wives. They say of company motor cars, if they are to run, must have gas and oil. Husbands, if they are to work, must have lunches.

Saturday's husbands learn a practical lesson in the meaning of pay day. In the morning, they go to the store to get the things that are necessary to last the week ahead. They get the things that are necessary to last the week ahead.

Wives, so the sex equality people tell us, hate to ask their husbands for money. It humiliates them. It does much more than that to the husband. Most husbands are really ready to hand it over without being asked.

Wives are always irritated when husbands bring their pay home in large bills. Naturally, because that makes it so much more difficult to spend. Like laws, the weekly amount a man gives his wife out of his wages never decreases. If he complains she can always point to some out-of-pocket item he demanded, such as shirt or trousers.

Husbands always wonder what wives can do with all the money they give them. Many a husband has a secret feeling that some fine day his wife will suddenly announce that all along she has been putting a little aside to surprise him, and here it is.

THAT COUSINESS.

How that maternal cousinhood in human nature which is usually misinterpreted can interfere with happiness is aptly illustrated by a Kansas man and his wife, remarried after 37 years of separation.

They married and had ten children and they quarreled and she took the young ones and went home to mother, and he wandered away. I don't know how long and how long she would not forgive and forget. And so the two of them, it is said by a rift of joyful obstinacy, even though love was still in their hearts, sought happiness in another marriage.

Their children have reunited them, now, after a generation of time. On the twelfth of life, well past 70 years of age, they will take up the broken threads of their romance. How much better it would have been, how much more joy they might have had, if he had been less quick to anger, less constant in his willfulness, when their first separation occurred.

What George Lost. Many years ago during the great boom at Helena, Mont., a Governor was elected who had the office was engaged in the oil business at that time and was a regular guest at the hotel in town. The Governor was on a friendly visit to the town, the Governor's car was stuck in a hole in the ground. One morning when the Governor was out for breakfast, a young man and a young Negro was at his table. "What are you doing here," said the Governor, "George's?"

"George" was at his table in the Governor's room. "George" was at his table in the Governor's room. "George" was at his table in the Governor's room.

DON JUAN

Novel by INEZ SABASTIAN

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. "Don Juan" screen play by Beza Merz and Irving John Garrison.

SYNOPSIS "The greatest lover in the world" Don Juan is a charming, dashing, and adventurous man who seduces women admirably, none knowing that his cruelty to women, his lack of faith in them, and his use of veils of secret mystery to the day when as a child he had seen his father, Don Jose, trap his beautiful wife, Juan's mother, with her lover, Leandro, whom Don Jose had killed through her. She banished the faithless wife and mother, and the mother and father, still smiling mockingly, had sworn him silent, as well as the father, men who had married her.

CHAPTER I—Continued. "I know, I know," Juan had cried at that time in the tale. He himself, realizing what had been done, had drawn his short sword and leaped to his feet. But his father, still smiling mockingly, had waved him aside, as well as the mother, men who had married her. "Not here, my dear," he had said calmly. "I am not here to fight. I am here to see you, to bid you, 'Destroy women who will destroy you. Go out into the world, make a name for yourself, please you. Take it successfully—and forget.'"

Strangely enough, he had not said this to Juan, but to the girl, Juan's mother, whom he had married. "Love and mercy, beauty—and anger; beauty and ugliness and cruelty and kindness, all embraced, could be found in her eyes."

Don Jose had drawn his trembling son to him.

and not even the most optimistic person in the court room expected that a jury would be constituted by then. It took a long time, but eventually a jury was called.

The state was tentatively satisfied. Then the prosecuting judge, Edgar Wallace, chief counsel for Mrs. Sawyer, took up the examination.

For ten minutes he subtly put his case before the tribunal. Sawyer may not take the stand, he hinted, but she is not guilty of first degree murder. If a person can make a confession, but not mean it, can't she hallucinate for cause?" said Wallace.

Then came William Millard, counsel for Gray. He talked to Wallace as if he were an individual. "If you accept an answer in this case, would you be satisfied?" asked Millard.

Wallace shifted uncomfortably. "I am not a juror," he said. "I am a lawyer. I am not a juror. I am a lawyer. I am not a juror. I am a lawyer."

Mrs. Sawyer called faintly. "Sisterly to the people," said Gray. "Sisterly to the people," said Gray. "Sisterly to the people," said Gray.

and in doing. Newspaper reporters call to inform the mother of her daughter's latest collapse, and the likelihood of Paul Kelly, a young man who is accused of having administered the "death" beating to Ray Raymond, husband of Dorothy. "Why it can't be true," she exclaimed. "I just had a wire from Dorothy and she says they are dead but does not mention Kelly."

Wagner is expected to have made a number of startling disclosures in connection with the alleged conspiracy to cover up the musical comedy favored by Kelly.

According to investigators Wagner may be a physician and not to the hospital in which Raymond died Tuesday morning.

Dr. W. J. Sullivan, who attended Raymond, testified before the grand jury that he had received $500 for his services. He told the jury that he had the county coroner's office that Raymond died of natural causes and still held that opinion.

MAY RESUME MINING WORK IN SILVER CITY DISTRICT

Special Dispatch to The Times.
 UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, April 21.—The probability of a resumption of profitable mining in the Silver City district is emphasized in Bulletin No. 11 of the Idaho bureau of mines and geology, just issued. The publication is written by A. M. Piper and F. B. Lauer, geologists.

In a preface to the bulletin Dr. Francis A. Thomson, secretary of the bureau and dean of the university school of mines, says:

"This report, which represents in many ways the most laboriously detailed work yet done by the bureau staff, carefully analyzes not only the geology, but also the nature of the financing and the depositum of the area. It shows that both structurally and geologically there are excellent reasons for believing that careful, intelligent prospecting, laterally and at depth, of the extensive of formerly prospected ore bodies, is fully justified and that in certain instances at least, such a prospecting presents less than the usual mining risk."

Dr. Thomson points out that Silver City is in the most important quartz mining district in Idaho, as far as gold and silver are concerned, more than 25,000 tons of each of these metals having been produced in the aggregate from three areas of War Eagle mountain, Florida mountains and De Lamar.

"While on a professional visit to the area in 1917 and still more during a second visit in 1918 I was impressed with the improbability of certain of the ore bodies having been exhausted. On the second occasion the conclusion was reached that Silver City should be included in the Idaho district of the greatest possible date."

Re-examination of the region, according to the bulletin established two fundamental facts: first, that the veins of the Silver City area have contained large percent ore bodies of medium and rather uniform tenor; and second, that there is no reason to expect that the ore bodies will fail to continue in depth. Moreover, a rather complex fault system was analyzed as completely as the death of successful mine workings permitted and the relations of the several sets of earth fractures to the ore deposits was established. Later all extensions of ore bodies beyond faults and their extension downward beyond the depth prospecting of the past may, therefore, be disclosed by further mining development.

"Revival of mining activity in the region," say the authors in conclusion, "must depend upon the success of certain exploratory projects designed to test the application of theoretical conditions to the problems of the region. In the expenditure of large sums that will be necessary to prove or disprove the region, the most important success, tempered by technical conservatism, will be required of operators, but the solution of fundamental problems forgotten in the search for immediate profitable operation.

"It cannot be too strongly urged that detailed geologic mapping be made an essential part of every development program and that the best available geologic data be used. Geologic means adequate to the extensive exploratory programs outlined, proper technical skills, and the courage and foresight that spring from sound analysis of geologic conditions is likely that future development will revive this region, once a premier silver-gold mining camp of the West."

BULGIN HITS AL SMITH IN HIS ADDRESS

Exemplified Says He Will Continue to Fight Union As Long As Anybody Tries to Break Down Amendment.

"So long as there is a single illudic, and so long as there is a man like Al Smith who wants to break down the eighteenth amendment to please a few dirty politicians and undermine and demoralize the young manhood of the nation, I am going to continue the fight against the labor evil," declared Dr. Edwin J. Bulglin in his address at the tribune last evening in the course of his welcome to the W. C. T. U. which attended the meeting in a hall. The statement was greeted with much applause.

Plans Luncheon.
 It was announced that a series of noonday luncheons were being arranged in connection with the rally. Dr. Bulglin said that such meetings had proven successful elsewhere, and suggested that topics like "Christianity and Communism" or "Science and Christianity" be taken up for discussion and informal debate.

Talks on Commitments.
 "God's Measure of a Man" was the subject of the sermon, during which the evangelist considered the Ten Commandments and the role of the Jews and insisted that it is necessary for people to adopt the new dispensation which has been given through Jesus Christ.

He spoke highly of the work of the Women's Christian Temperance union which had brought about the adoption of national prohibition.

EXPECT TOUGH COMPETITION IN TRACK EVENTS HERE TOMORROW

Stiff competition is predicted for the indoor track meet to be held at Lincoln field tomorrow afternoon. The meet, which is the first important one of the season, will give the first indication of what the five competing schools, Hurley, Rupert, Filer, Buhl and Twin Falls, will be able to do this year.

The visiting schools have a number of men who excel in their particular events. Filer has three men, Smith, Dayley and Harman, who should do well. Smith is a dangerous runner in the sprints and weights; Dayley in the jumps and Harman also in the sprints. Rupert is sending down Higgins who is particularly good in the pole vault.

Hurley is sending down a half-mile relay team which is expected to be 1:30 in trials this afternoon. Two weeks ago in the inter-school meet the Twin Falls team made this relay also in 1:30 and therefore this race is expected to be one of the best on the program for tomorrow.

The best word from Coach Jopea is that, while the relay will also be run tomorrow, but it is expected that Twin Falls will be the only school entering a team in this event.

Dahl seems to be the "dark horse" of the meet. Little is known about the team that Coach Jopea will bring here.

The Bruins are pinning their hopes on a number of men in their relay events. Among these are Dettler, who should take the mile, Wall, who should lead the field in the shotput and the javelin; Robertson who should place in the hurdles and Ferris in the sprints; Williams in the discs and Jones in the high jump should place well in these events.

AMATEUR GOLF PLAY MAY COME TO WEST COAST

The committee announced after a meeting late yesterday that it had been its duty to award a national championship to California and that under ordinary conditions the amateur championship would have been played next year in Los Angeles or San Francisco.

The Walker cup matches are to be played in 1928 however and the committee felt that the traveling British players might not be able to take the long trip to California.

Regarding the payment of expenses to teams, the committee stated as follows:

"In order to allow the expenses of an amateur golfer to be paid or contributed in connection with competitions of any kind, save only in three instances: the contribution which the association makes toward the expenses of the Walker cup team; a stipulated allowance for expenses of contestants in the public link championships; and payment of expenses of only organized college and team by the college athletic departments or organizations.

COCHRANE'S HOMER FEATURES ATHLETICS' WIN OVER YANKS

Yesterday's hero—Mickey Cochrane whose lumen ran in the sixth inning, tied the score of the Philadelphia Athletics-New York Yankees game.

The Athletics followed up their advantage and drove Shocker from the mound in the seventh with three runs.

The final score was 8 to 6.

Cochrane likewise thrived in four of the five double plays with which the Athletics cut down potential runs. It was New York's second consecutive defeat after opening the season with six straight victories, three of which were in a series with the Athletics.

As the Yanks lost, the Detroit Tigers defeated St. Louis 7 to 9 and went into it for the first place, although having played just half as many games this season as New York.

Whitehall, ace of the Detroit pitching staff, was a puzzle to the Browns' hitters. DeWahl, second best American League batter last season, slammed a home run in the fifth, driving in two runs ahead of him.

After losing seven straight on the road, the Brooklyn Robins opened the home season with a 4 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves. Bobby Harrod started it in the sixth when he hit a homer and drove in another run.

The Cleveland Indians inaugurated the Chicago White Sox revengeful ball park by defeating Ray Schalk's team, 7 to 4. The hurling of Huddle, 20 year old Oklahoma high school student, who relieved Shantz, stopped the Chicago batters. The Indians knocked Lyons out of the box with three runs in the sixth.

The Chicago Cubs continued, to smash the air and lost to St. Louis 4 to 2. Stuhler fielding by the Chicago infielders prevented a worse defeat. Only 1100 saw the world's champions open their home season.

Fredule Lindstrom landed safely in four out of five times at bat and Rogers Hornsby hit 1,000 in two "big balls" as the New York Giants took the measure of the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 1, in the first National League game in New York this year.

as many old ones equalled. Some of the veteran performers of the 1926 affair will be here again in May.

The Grizzly school also stages an annual declamation and essay contest and intercollegiate debate in connection with the meet. This year a new attraction has been added—a Little Theater tournament embracing the presentation of one-act plays.

The list of qualifying marks for the various track and field events in Montana's big meet are as follows:

50 yard dash, 6 seconds; 100 yard dash, 13 seconds; 200 yard dash, 25 seconds; 400 yard dash, 50 seconds; 800 yard dash, 2 minutes 55 seconds; mile run, 6 minutes 10 seconds; pole vault, 3 feet 6 inches; 100 yard hurdles, 18 feet; 120 yard hurdles, 30 seconds; 220 hurdles, 32 seconds; shot put (12 pounds), 35 feet; discus throw, 85 feet; javelin throw, 110 feet.

George Varvel, veteran starter and football referee in the northwest, will send the Treasure State's youth down the cinders again this spring, this being the twelfth time that he has performed in this capacity for the University of Montana.

GOLF RULING MAY AFFECT OTHER GAMES

By United Press.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The barring of Miss Mary K. Browne from amateur golf tournaments because she has become a female professional, will have a far reaching effect, it was believed today.

As predicted by the United Press several days ago, the executive committee of the United States Golf Association has ruled Miss Browne ineligible for its first definite action on that phase of amateurism.

Miss Browne has no immediate appeal and it is doubtful if she would care to press the case. She might, however, have the matter taken up to the general association at its next meeting as Bill Tilden did when he was battling the tennis association.

The resolution approved by the executive committee made Miss Browne "ineligible to compete in any amateur tournament" under the jurisdiction of the association.

The same ruling will have to be applied against Jigger State, Dizzy Vance, Ross Young and other professional baseball players who have been allowed to play in amateur tournaments. The defense of the association in the case of the ball players was that they were competing only in minor tournaments and had never tried to enter a major or national championship.

The ruling forces all those earning money in any other line of sport, with the exception of football coaches into open competition or into outlaw leagues.

You can have your private yacht

GIVE me a pipe and Prince Albert, and you can have your cabin-cruiser and your winter vacation. I won't envy you for a minute. In fact, I wouldn't trade places with anybody. I could even be happy on a desert island with a pipe and plenty of P.A.

You'll understand my enthusiasm for this, prince of smokes the minute you open the tidy red tin and get a whiff of real tobacco. But that's only a starter. This taste more than lives up to the promise of the aroma. Tuck a load in your jimmy-pipe, light up, and see.

Cool, as a breeze from the forward deck is cool. Sweet, with a sweetness that doesn't tire. Mild as milk, yet with plenty of body to let you know you're smoking. P. A. is neither too heavy nor too light, which makes it the middle-weight champ, so far as I'm concerned.

Telling you about Prince Albert is one thing. Trying it in your pipe is another. You'll never know exactly what it is that holds millions of happy jimmy-pipers to this one brand until you make the personal test. When you do, you'll say I did you a favor in tipping you off.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, round and flat, and comes in many varieties. And always with every tin a set of the new Prince Albert matches, made by the Prince Albert smokers.
