WHITE FLY IS NOT MENACE TO FIELDS OF BEET

Lack of Samples from Experiments to Seek Pest Elsewhere, East Year Was Different—Acreage Is Doubled.

That the number of white fly left on the Twin Falls tract is so small that it is necessary to send away for samples for experimental work is the substance of the report of Walter Carter, government entomologist who is working here in connection with the Agricultural Sugar Company. Last year at this time the fly had appeared in dangerous numbers, and had already killed many fields. It was predicted in February 1926 that this might happen and as a result only 2175 acres were planted in sugar beets. On the other hand the past winter was such that Mr. Carter and other entomologists declared that the fly would be virtually eliminated, and 5025 acres were planted on the tract, and all are doing fine.

The Carter report follows: "Careful surveys made by three members of the staff of the White Fly Laboratory reveal the fact that the bugs here do not appear as a menace to any kind of crop as far as the White Fly is concerned, this year. The forecast given out last spring called attention to the very small number of bugs on the desert, and the favorable winter. This has been confirmed by very careful investigation of the desert conditions. Not a single instance has been recorded of a yet of White Fly being found in beet fields. The laboratory staff has investigated several supposed instances and found in every case that some other harmless insect flying around had been mistaken for the White Fly.

Prospects were never better for a fly-free year. Laboratory experiments are being held up because of the great difficulty in finding a sufficient number of the White Fly for use for experimental purposes. This is hard on the experimental work out at the laboratory, but no doubt growers will be glad to know that the flies are no menace."

chico suns at the corners of the jail and in nearby buildings and occupies a large space surrounding the prison. Mob Mills Around Jail. At 11 o'clock the mob outside the prison grew larger. More than 2,000 persons, most of them youths, were milling around the jail by hundreds. They started shouting and throwing missiles at the defending guardsmen. Close to the front there were a few "trouble" shouts and the cry was taken up on all sides of the jail.

Suddenly a group rushed the ropes. Others put out the lights with stones and bricks. An order to halt from the guardsmen failed to stop the attack. Pistols were drawn and a volley fired. Six of the attacking mob, among them Pifer and McCray, went down.

Then the flight became general. A small detachment of cavalry bore the brunt of the attack. One rider was pulled from his horse. Another man came from the mob, but none of the troopers was hit.

A machine gun on the roof of the jail began to chatter and three more of the mob were wounded.

The cavalrymen charged the crowd and succeeded temporarily in scattering its members, but they reassembled immediately after the counter-attack.

Ambulance and first aid units of the national guard arrived at the scene of fighting at dawn. They picked up a score of wounded most of whom were not seriously hurt.

WOMAN'S FEET GROW LARGER, SURVEY SHOWS

By United Press

NEW YORK.—Women's feet are getting larger. For generations the average size of the foot of the American woman has been 4 1/2, but the modern girl has outgrown this standard according to figures published by the Woman's Home Companion, and the average size at present is nearly half an inch longer and a full size wider than that of her great-grandmother.

Athletes, dancing and such walking on pavements are advanced as the principal reasons for the increasing size of the feminine foot.

Some aerodynamic information on footwear includes the fact that women's feet show less variety in size than formerly. Standardization is apparently in process of evolution. A great industrialist, asked how he would apply modern methods of mass production to shoes, replied that he would make only one style and only one size—the average—and compel all persons with feet larger or smaller than the average to go elsewhere and pay higher prices. Women with the particularly dainty foot and men with particularly big ones may therefore some day have to go to the custom shoemaker, and, as the industrialist emphatically observes, "foot the bill as gracefully as possible."

On the other hand this survey of feminine feet and footwear shows that history is defying the standard. In this large company which in 1920 carried 450 varieties, styles, colors and sizes of stockings, now few to carry goods because fashion has swept a profusion of colors.

GERMANY TAKES CASTANET TRADE

By United Press

MADRID.—Good customers, the Americans accompanied in thousands by Spanish dancers, are getting scarce. It appears the national industry of castanet making is going through a certain dry spell, due to the lack of proper hand labor which has resulted in part from the fact that castanets are now made in Germany, by an enlarged Spanish.

It would seem simple and easy to fabricate the pairs of little instruments which for numerous people have an all necessary but it is in fact castanets can produce any kind of expression to suit musical purposes if made in the right way and placed in the hands of players who know how to use them.

Although some of the expensive hollow shells are made of silver or ivory, accomplished artists generally prefer those of "granite" (castanets) which render the finest effects. However, other hard wood such as ginkgo, juniper, box, hick and black ebony serve currently well.

For a long time, Seville, the capital of Andalusia was the center of the castanet industry controlled by renowned artisans called "palleros." The chemist, Francisco Bonilla made perfect castanets that nobody ever equalled. Today there remains only the manufacturers of castanets in Seville; the "maestros" are dead and have left few initiated pupils.

A set of "serious" castanets, female for the right hand and produce the high sounds male for the left hand, and after the lower sounds, cost in wood, from six to forty dollars, and in ivory from sixty to two hundred dollars, according to quality and engraving. In the old days, a set of snappily "granadilla" castanets could be purchased for thirty cents.

ALMOST unbelievable amounts are lost to the American people annually from unwise ventures in the lottery. In fact, when you take into consideration that practically all of the money invested in numerous "take schemes and half-baked projects is forfeited by the investors. In presenting this series of articles we regard sharp practices and various kinds of swindles we hope to prevent thousands of people from falling into the traps already set for them by irresponsible and unscrupulous promoters.

Through the use of only actual cases selected from several thousand, it is hoped to prove conclusively the futility of taking a "gambler's chance" with your savings, for as in a lottery without a winner you are bound to lose. Much of the material here used has been supplied by the Federal Business Bureau throughout the United States which are non-profit organizations serving the investor without charge and acting wholly in the public interest.

NEW SIDEWALK BAKER RULES ON RESOLUTION IS TWO ACTIONS IN COURT TUESDAY

Council Acts on Matter That Has Been Pending More Than a Year; Deals With City's Sidewalk Power Contract With City. The council last night passed a resolution which has been under consideration for the past year, the first of 24th kind since 1919, and also passed the ordinance of the Sidewalk street bridge, which has not received a vote of confirmation since that time. The resolution provides for construction of sidewalk on second street north from the Short Line depot to Main avenue, on Addison avenue east to corner, with sidewalk to the county general hospital, in the vicinity of the Bicket school, and at a number of other places to make continuous walks. This will include a property owned by the Continental Oil company over which litigation is now pending. The district will include 2000 lineal feet of sidewalk. The delay in the passage of this ordinance was due to the provisions of the law which until amended by the last legislature, would not permit the inclusion in one district of unincorporated sections and corporation. Some instances was impossible. Owners have a reasonable time in which to build. If they do not do so, the city will build and tax the cost in the amount of $1000.

The Portland Paint company presented a proposition looking toward the painting of the bridge, but while it was agreed that the structure should be painted, the contract was not let, but the whole matter was placed in the hands of Commissioner T. J. Downing.

Chief of Police E. L. Laidlaw, of the police force, filed his monthly report last evening. The arrests numbered 18 and the fines assessed $265.30. Nine of the arrests were for violations. Three were for illegal possession, two for drunkenness, two for disorderly conduct, one for disturbing the peace, one for nuisance and one for harboring an unlicensed dog. A total of 100 citations had been issued. There were two men one search warrant was executed, 21 indictments were returned, 100 citations were returned to people other than prisoners.

Chicago Contract Harry Dibble, who received a contract a year ago, whereby he was to construct a machine for the city of Twin Falls. In the event that bonds for the amount named should be used by the city, cancelled the same last evening in a notice saying that the

JURY IS BEING SELECTED FOR BURGLARY CASE SPRAY OF THE FALLS

Questioning members of Special Jury continues this afternoon with No Reciprocity Challenges Exceeded 50 Far. For the third time during the present term of the district court, the jury panel for the case of William A. Laffer, faced a jury today on a charge of entering the fur machine shop and warehouse on the night of April 20 and stealing a tire.

The state has entered the names of the following new witnesses on the jury panel since the last term: William Hude, Sr., William Hude, Jr., Mrs. William A. Hude, Evelyn Hude, John Galbraith, T. Wesson and E. T. Guttery.

Examination of the jurors on the special clear proceeded slowly today. The jurors were examined for cause first by O. W. Witham, prosecuting attorney in behalf of the state and then by Porter & Taylor in behalf of Anny. This was completed by noon. W. L. Dunn, attorney for the defendant, then made a motion for Corcoran and Laffer, did not participate in the examination this afternoon and announced that he would question the panel at a different angle in behalf of his clients this afternoon. After the jurors were examined by the state, it is believed that a jury will be obtained by evening.

GOES TO CHICAGO Miss Ruth Snowhill leaves today for Chicago where she will take a course in music after which she will spend the rest of the summer visiting in the hands. Miss Snowhill has just completed a term as teacher in Hulse, where she has been employed nearly for the next year.

GOING TO TEXAS Mrs. H. P. Hickox of Jerome, accompanied by her daughter, Janice, and by Miss Sapor were in Twin Falls Tuesday. They are leaving tomorrow for a brief visit in Artesia, N. M., and a five week stay in Texas.

About Working Women It is generally realized that one out of every five working women is under twenty years of age. Two-thirds of the women who work are less than twenty-five years old. Another two-thirds are between twenty-five and forty-four years old.

Humani Nature Never Changes And what a delightful life these in-vincible lead! They are always detecting and increasing and conquering their disorders and always conquering they will be cured by some nostrum which somebody advises them to try. Danderin is so inexpensive too. The 25c bottle contains enough to prove to you how wonderful it is. You can get it from your nearest store.

Want to save money? We'll tell you how. Our coal is down you should. M. H. Hall, Richard Davlin and Fred Bates, testified regarding the procedure and declared a cut in the Salton district to be necessary to insure ample water every year. All cases will be reported, it is reported.

Storage Prices on Coal Effective today, and subject to change without notice, we are pleased to announce very attractive storage rates on coal. Our mines have given us liberal concessions, which we are passing on to our customers, but they tell us that owing to strike conditions in the East, they will not be able to guarantee the lower prices, for any specific length of time; therefore, we will not be able to guarantee any definite period on which the present storage prices will apply.

In buying storage coal, there are a number of things which should be taken into consideration. In the first place, you want a coal that will not go to slack in your bin. Second, you do not want a coal that is apt to heat and catch fire, which some coals have a tendency to do. You also want a coal that does not CLINKER when it burns, and also that is as free of SOOT as possible.

UTAH GRAND COAL is absolutely CLINKERLESS and free of STRINGY SOOT. It is the HARDEST coal mined in the West, absolutely does not SLACK or HEAT in storage. It lasts longer, is cleaner to handle and is the ECONOMICAL coal to use! Many of our customers save from 10 percent to 25 percent on their coal bills; WHY NOT YOU? We have a size and preparation for every need. Phone us TODAY and we will have our representative call and help you select the coal best adapted to your needs. DETWEILER COAL CO. Deaths and Funerals The funeral of Mrs. H. H. Hickey, who died Monday night, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from the Baptist church and conducted by the pastor, the Reverend J. C. Barton. Mrs. Hickey was 72 years of age. She was born in Missouri. She has lived for several years past on a farm three miles from Merata. She is survived by her husband, three sons and four daughters.

Girlish Charm The exquisite refinement you admire in so many women depends on much in their hair as their peach-like complexion and stylish clothes. You can't look good with a pretty dress and dull, stringy hair any more than you would be neatly dressed if you had on a pair of shoes with run-over heels.
