

WORLD'S SHOOTING OFF

Harold Robinson, aged about 25 years, shot himself through the head, inflicting what proved to be a fatal wound, at 3:30 this afternoon, in a tent at 421, Second avenue east. He returned from California where he had been working, about a month ago, leaving his wife in Sacramento, and has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Gus Johnson. No motive is ascribed for the act. He was taken to the hospital where he died later. His stepfather and his mother live in the house in front of where he shot himself and his mother was attracted by the sound of the shot. His stepfather said he has been melancholy since his return.

Mr. Robinson was well known in Twin Falls, where he spent most of his life. He has been seeking work here, since his arrival and it is believed that the act was the result of failure to secure a permanent position, which, it is believed, caused him to fall into a melancholy state of mind.

Drs. W. Wilson and J. R. Morgan, who were summoned, said at once that recovery was impossible, it was stated by his stepfather, Gus Johnson. The Times was on the press when reports of the suicide were obtained. The forms were brought back in order to get the facts for its readers.

FLYING HERO IS EXPECTED HOME JUNE 11

By United Press
KENDLEY AIRDROME, England, June 2—Captain Charles A. Lindbergh who dived to fly across the north Atlantic ocean alone, was stopped today when he sought to fly over the English channel. He postponed his departure for France. Lindbergh arrived here at 3 p. m. intending to depart at once in a single seater Hawker Woodcock, combat plane for La Bourne field, near Paris. Plans were laid out in detail near the field and reports from the coast said conditions were even worse above the channel.

After waiting more than an hour and a half for the weather to change Lindbergh decided conditions were too bad. Aviators at this field were relieved when Lindbergh finally conceded the impossibility of leaving in his country after losing himself and his plane in the fog bank.

Lindbergh will remain at Kendley overnight as a guest of the officer of the airdrome.

Starts Early
Colonel Joyce, commanding Kendley airdrome, said Lindbergh had chosen the time for his start in time to cause as little inconvenience as possible to persons with whom he had engagements in Paris.

The flight was postponed, the colonel said, "because of very bad fog conditions reported over the coast. A small group of civilians and several hundred air force mechanics had gathered at the airdrome to witness Lindbergh's departure. They returned to their homes or quarters. Before the postponement Lindbergh's luggage was with the officers of the airdrome.

COOLIDGE WILL BE "IN HIDING" DURING SUMMER

Newspapermen and Others Will Have Hard Time Seeing President.

By PAUL H. MALLOS, (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 2—President Coolidge intends to "drop out of sight" for three months when he goes to the Black Hills of South Dakota in west from Monday for his summer vacation. Fourteen miles from a railroad, two days' journey from Chicago and secluded from everyone but secret service men, Mr. Coolidge plans to make himself the first president in history who was able to get away from busy government officials, curious callers and politicians for any length of time. Not only will it be hard for anyone to enter his limit if one intrudes, but he will seek to break the custom which allows all the personal actions of the president are brought before the public.

Newspapermen will not be admitted to the lodge as they are to the White House here, but will remain 32 miles away, in Rapid City, to receive announcements through the executive offices there.

The only connecting link planned between the two places will be Mr. Coolidge's private wire. For the bi-weekly newspaper conference, Mr. Coolidge will drive to the executive offices in a school house in town. At all other times he will remain at the lodge.

Some few personal guests may be invited, but newspaper men will "not enter there only when Mr. Coolidge desires." Here at the White House, callers are stopped at the door and thousands of words are published daily on what they say, do or think. While telegraph wires are installed here in the White House, here in the Black Hills range lodge where Mr. Coolidge will stay.

Reporters here sit in cushioned white lounge chairs and smoke cigars, clear, but get in the hills they fear they will sit around the mountain peak in Mr. Coolidge's front yard and watch their own clearance in true cowboy fashion.

On the afternoon of December 12, 1921, they gathered here distinguished assemblage of diplomats to open, as Lord Jellicoe said, "the new chapter in the history of world reconstruction." This gathering was first presided over by the president of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, and then by the British prime minister, David Lloyd George.

The battle of Jutland demonstrated the weakness in the construction of the British battle cruisers. Three of them, after comparatively little punishment, were destroyed with little loss to the German fleet. The British magazines, while the Lion, Admiral Beatty's flagship, was saved from a similar fate only by the heroism of a dymic turret officer who hid himself remaining staunchly ordered the magazine flood.

The Nelson turret are protected by a heavy armor belt. The turret is 11 inches thick. The barbets on which they are mounted are 11 inches thick. In addition, along the ship's side, partly above and partly below the armor belt, which is 11 inches thick, are 11-inch armor plates. All this armor, except that of the barbets, is designed to resist being penetrated by shells fired at long range.

But ships may use all their guns on the broadside. Mr. Dwyer believes that, due to slower loading in the three turret ships, the British with their nine guns will not be able to throw more shells about the target in a given time than we can with our eight. The British ships are equipped with a novel turret gun which is mounted on a pedestal and is mounted on a pedestal and is mounted on a pedestal.

Mr. S. Ellis Will Protected.

The protection of our turret and armor is probably not as good as that on the Nelson. Our superiority in thickness of vertical armor and in the thickness of the armor belt, however, is the result of planning for the future. There was no big turret spotting in normal firing of such great caliber guns. It is achieved by plunging projectiles.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION AGAIN TO FORE

The Mexican government, according to news reports late yesterday, has declared a boycott against American goods as a new step in its long "battle of words" with the United States.

The boycott is expected to be in retaliation of this government's refusal to grant export permits to Mexico under the American embargo which prohibits such exports to Mexico except when authorized by such permits.

While Mexico's latest action will mean some loss in trade, it is just as well that the move comes now in order that the final showdown with Mexico may be hastened. Sometime or later it is expected to be by force for the United States is now producing tungsten sufficiently plain for Mexico to understand and then be prepared to back such language up with more drastic action if it becomes necessary.

Leaving out the religious issue entirely, Mexico has become a hotbed of intrigue and really constitutes a menace to this country in more ways than one. The recent riots at London which resulted in the breaking off diplomatic relations between England and Russia revealed that Mexico is the center of much soviet activity, and there seems to be little doubt that the Bolshevik movement in this part of the world is operated out of Mexico.

This country has been very patient with Mexico because of the mutual sympathies in that country. We have taken very little if any action when American property has been seized and Americans murdered but in view of the latest Mexican move of boycotting American goods, it seems that the time finally will come to call a halt.

ANOTHER CONQUEST IN IDAHO

Those who have not visited the scene of Idaho's latest conquest, the construction of the new bridge across the Snake River canyon near Twin Falls, should do so at the earliest opportunity.

The building of this bridge, which spans a commanding strait between Twin Falls and all of the surrounding territories, is, indeed, another conquest for Idaho. Reclaiming this district from a desert and making it one of the garden spots of the world was the first step, then came the building of the railroads, power lines and numerous other improvements both state and civic.

The present conquest is the construction of the huge dam at American Falls, reclaiming many thousands of acres more of arid lands and now the transportation and communication system is to be further enlarged by the building of the bridge at a cost of approximately $800,000.

The engineering layout and the preliminary steel work for this project are truly awe-inspiring. Standing on the brink of the canyon and looking across at the piers which have been built and the grandeur of the valley which the Snake river has cut down into the solid rock through the ages, one cannot but marvel at the growth of this country and the accomplishments of modern engineering.

LEGION FUNCTIONS

Just as its individual members found function in the great world war, so the legion organization found function in the affairs of the communities in which it is located.

It is the Legion that sponsors many public events of patriotic importance in their neighborhoods. They have built fine new public buildings, led in social activities, handled organized charities, and sponsored numerous other things of which they have helped the locality in which the post functions in many ways.

Now the organization has again come forward with a grand purpose in mobilizing its fine forces for aid in the Mississippi flood area.

They have relieved emergency suffering, have survived unflinching work under the Red Cross, have been a potent aid in doing what has been necessary in contacting conditions to support the Red Cross in its humanitarian aims.

Not less excellent in the service rendered has been the Auxiliary, that powerful adjunct in the legion organization and which has been exemplified in the field for many years. It has been well as war—Idaho State Journal.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT TRAVELING

By HEDDA HOYT (United Press Fashion Editor)

NEW YORK—The vacation girl this year need not carry with her trunk a bundle of handkerchiefs, but actually have trunkloads of costumes that are of the type which can be easily packed in smaller pieces of luggage.

For sports wear, for instance, skirts and blouses will be suitable for the traveler and skirts of flannel or jersey and knitted sweaters do not require carrying bulky sweaters. There are slacks, dinner and evening gowns of lace or silk and chiffon combinations can also be packed in a small amount of space, since they do not wrinkle easily and can usually be worn without pressing, after they have been packed in a braided evening gown should never be hung as hanging tends to stretch the lines. Slacks which can be folded or rolled up and placed in a small dressing or pillow case. They will not wrinkle and after they are taken out of the case and hung up for a few minutes they are ready for wear.

Many women even hold upon carrying cotton crepe garments which material are especially well-suited although most women prefer silk undergarments for day wear.

LINDBERGH'S LIFE

The story of America's Hero, the first man to fly from New York to Paris in a non-stop trip.

BY MORRIS DE JARVEN TRACEY United Press Staff Correspondent. Copyright 1927 by Tribune Publishing Company.

CHAPTER I The straggles that marked the flight of Charles Lindbergh from St. Louis through to New York and on to Paris without stop or fuss, is characteristic, plainly outlined during his childhood.

The boy's mother never gave up and what to some appeared as eccentric acts were not approved. The Lindberghs maintained a low interest and a natural curiosity in all things mechanic.

During the winter of 1911, Lindbergh lived in Washington, airplane were in his mind and he had a model airplane which was always among the leaders in his class.

His father, Charles Lindbergh, was a physician by profession and a pilot by hobby. He was a young, Charlie Lindbergh was never one of the herd.

It is recorded that he cared little for fish, composition or such subjects, but was much interested in the airplane and his mother, Mrs. Augusta Lindbergh, was always among the leaders in his class.

WATER IS NEW GUARD METHOD AT HUGE BANK

LONDON—The water it will require an army of legionnaires to rob the vaults of the Bank of England.

The saying "safe as the bank of England" is in no danger of becoming obsolete now, with all the water it is being poured from the surface of Mother Earth, an American who has been indicted in the robbing of the bank which is now taking place, will constitute obstacles to invasion such as have never yet been created in the annals of the world.

When the work is terminated, it will be possible to flood the bank's vaults with water from the surface of Mother Earth, an American who has been indicted in the robbing of the bank which is now taking place, will constitute obstacles to invasion such as have never yet been created in the annals of the world.

In addition to the device which will require prospective burglars to become water-proof, the bank has provided a system whereby in case any modern and efficient fire-breathing attempt to dislodge one of the concrete blocks which constitute the vault, the fire-breathing attempt will be broken resulting in the immediate sounding of an alarm.

The concrete blocks are reinforced with steel wire mesh which is attached to the building's main structure in such a way that any attempt to dislodge one of the blocks will result in the immediate sounding of an alarm.

Indian Religious Rite "Pagoda" are feathered sticks which certain Indian tribes use in their religious rituals. A member of these tribes never plays a trout first planting around himself, or on his altar, before he starts a "summer of the highest heavens, so may his petitions be answered and winged to the ears of the gods."

Old Folks Say Doctor Caldwell is Right

When a man is in the 32d year of his life, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. One of these things is that he should not be afraid of old folks.

Old folks say Doctor Caldwell is right. They say that he is a man who has lived a long and useful life, and that he has learned many things that are of great value to us.

FEAR CHAMPION MAY WEAKEN HIMSELF BY MAKING 147 POUNDS

BY HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, June 2—Pete Latzo, a chunky little fellow from the Pennsylvania coal belt, will give the Baltimore Italian, Joe Dundee, a crack at the heavyweight championship tomorrow night on the Polo grounds in the first major championship bout of the season.

Latzow was quoted as being 5 to 1 favorite in the betting. There is no doubt that Latzo and Dundee are the best in the water-wrestling class and picking a winner is no easy task. Latzo has been built up as a handicap that Latzo will have to carry while Dundee is a natural champion. Latzo's weight is a handicap that Latzo will have to carry while Dundee is a natural champion. Let's get down to cases

YOU don't need a degree from Oxford to figure out why so many men smoke pipes today—and enjoy them. Pipe-smoking has increased at least three-fold since Prince Albert came into the picture. And pipe-pleasure has increased a thousand-fold. And with good reason!

Prince Albert in the bowl of your pipe, means pipe-joy coming up the stem. That's the story of P.A.'s tremendous popularity in a pipe-bowl. You suspect that Prince Albert is wonderful tobacco the instant you open the tidy red tin and set free that rich, rare fragrance. That's a treat in itself!

Your "suspicions" are confirmed the minute that cool, comforting smoke comes rolling over your tongue. Never did pipe-tobacco taste as good as that. Cool and sweet and mellow and mild—long-burning—why, P. A. just has everything you ever wanted in a smoke, including complete satisfaction.

No matter how hard you hit it up, P.A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. You can start in right after breakfast and stay with it until bedtime. You may think your pipe is delivering capacity pipe-joy now. Never mind. Until you've tried P. A., you won't know.

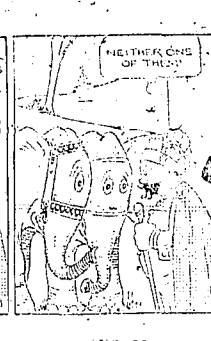

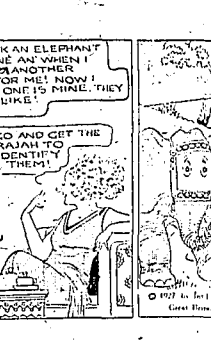

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, boxes and half-pipeless tins. Beware of cheap and crystalline imitations with over-creamy or too dry and powdery contents. Buy the Prince Albert pipes.

TOLL OF RIOTS REACHES FOUR

By United Press

CANPA, Fla., June 2.—With four killed and 20 injured in riots here this week, more than 1,000 riotous gang members were on duty today to prevent further fighting between citizens and civil authorities.

The casualties resulted from mob attempts to storm the county jail, where Dr. Levine, confessed slayer of a Memphis family, was believed confined. Virtual military law was resubstituted yesterday following attacks on the jail the two previous nights. Last night passed without serious fighting following enforcement of a curfew order which kept the streets clear after 9 p. m. All traffic was barred from an area of four blocks around the jail. Infantrymen and machine gunners enforced the restricted area.

Four men have died from wounds inflicted by default—scoundrels and soldiers. They are: Hal Pifer, 33; H. E. Melroe, V. E. Downing, 42; and Earl McGee. Most of the wounded are not in serious condition.

It had been reported that one or the other would seek a divorce. Vanderbilt's divorce from William Kissam Vanderbilt, noted sportsman and capitalist which was signed Monday by the divorce court in Paris, is the result of the state trial.
