HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT LINDBERGH HELMETS

By HEDDA HOYT. (Talled Press Fashion Editor.) NEW YORK.—That there's no room left for her there has been proven again today. We will grant the young and daring aviator Lindbergh all the credit that is due him and his brilliant airplane with the rest of the world. But—whenever designed the Lindbergh helmet for ladies' wear, "middle-aged aunts chin straps" for their double chin deserves a special mention from the Ladies' Editor. Yesterday at the Waldorf Hotel we saw no less than five ladies far beyond the 40-year mark wearing helmets in honor of the glory of young Lindbergh. At least, we assume the credit that is due him and his brilliant airplane with the rest of the world. One slender grandmother chose a gray suede model trimmed with ruffles and chin-strap of silver. Another woman of black felt trimmed with what looked to be black patent leather chin-strap and ruffles. The hats are unlike the Diablo models of the winter since they extend in weeks between the eyes and follow the line of the eyebrows over the forehead with par-tabs over the ears. The addition of the chin-strap makes them as Lindbergh models. If the hats are a combination of the devil model and Lindbergh model, we add that when worn by most women they look a la Lindbergh from the rear and a la Hitler from the front. The most beautiful young girls, to have enthusiasm enough to brave a Lindbergh helmet.

And while we are about it, it may be best to give further thought to the wearing of any of the so-called skull caps. True enough, these things look rather cute on plump young faces but as the years pass they seem to weigh them. How hideous an aged face appears in a hat that barely should attempt. The very fact that the skull cap outlines the brows in dubious fashion without permitting any softening effect of the hair should smack such a hat as fit only for youth.

CHANDLER ENDS GRUELLING TRIP

Unqualified endorsement of the stamina and quality of Chrysler's Standard Six sedan was given by disinterested spectators in Portland, Ore., recently, when this popular car completed a successful 100 hour high gear run throughout city streets, states Ed George, of the Empire Auto company, local Chandler representatives.

The car chosen for the test run was a regular stock model Standard Six sedan, certified as standard in every respect at Police headquarters by Portland Police officials in conjunction with mechanical experts of that city, Mr. George advised.

Before the start of the test run the gear shift lever was removed, the car sealed in high gear and the oil intake and radiator were sealed by Traffic Captain Ervin of the Portland police. The car ran 20 hours a day for five days, being routed throughout streets where traffic was heaviest.

"The test run proved the surplus power and stamina of the Standard Six model," said Mr. George, "for during the 100 hours thousands of starts were made in high gear after the car had been forced to a dead stop by traffic signals."

"Despite the fact that it was frequently necessary to crawl along at a few miles per hour in dense traffic, at no time did the car show any signs of faltering under the strain, and at the end of the hundredth hour careful inspection showed every part was in 100 per cent condition," Mr. George stated.

IDAHO
For the first time in motion picture history, a star allows another character to play the title role in his own production, in Buster Keaton's "The General," which comes to the Idaho Theatre tomorrow and Monday. An iron horse of the crin-line days is "The General." In April of 1926 the famous Andrews railroad raid took place at Big Shanty, Ga., and much of the fun in Keaton's new comedy centers upon that basic incident. Buster plays the part of the young engineer, an actual character in history, who was so attached to his iron friend and companion, "The General," that he chased a score of Union dragoons over burning bridges and torn-up tracks, even inside the Federal lines, before he was captured by "The Fire Brigade" and the Andy Gump comedy "The Big Surprise" will be shown tonight for the last time.

10 P.M. Monday, End of Big Votes Now Is the Time to Win Big Automobile

To the Public:

Monday night, June 20, marks the end forever of the big vote schedule period in The Times' Big Free Gift Distribution. Now is the time to help your favorite. Your subscription given to your favorite now means more to him or her than it will mean later in the campaign. The Times' circulation sales campaign and gift distribution is conducted on a decreasing schedule. The old antiquated increasing schedule has been thrown in the discard. The time between now and Monday and up to 10 o'clock Monday night are the biggest remaining days of the distribution.

Show your favorite what real friendship means. Some of you have asked that the participant come back. Try and have your subscription ready the next time—otherwise you may beat them out of some other subscription. Time is the essence of this campaign now.

You may make a second payment, if you have already subscribed. The first year gives 10,000 votes. The second year gives 20,000 votes, making a two year subscription count a total of 30,000 votes. If the subscription is new, add bonus of 30,000 extra votes.

Subscription turned in to the account of any participant before 10 o'clock Monday night count up to 13 times what the same subscription can count the final period and the final day. Remember votes determine the gift the participant earns, nothing else, and this is the time when votes count greatest.

HELP YOUR FAVORITE NOW

Circulation Campaign Headquarters at The Times' office are open each evening until 10 o'clock and until 10 o'clock Monday night to receive subscriptions and votes. Subscriptions may be mailed from any post-office anywhere up to 10 o'clock Monday night and, when so postmarked, will count on the big vote schedule even though they may not reach headquarters before Tuesday or even later.

All in the State of Mind

If you think you are beaten, you are. If you think you dare not, you don't. If you would like to win, but think you can't, it's almost a cinch you won't.

Think big, and your deeds will grow; Think small and you'll fall behind; Think that you can and you will—it's all in the state of mind.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost. For out in the world you'll find Success begins with a fellow's will; It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are; You've got to think high to rise; You've got to be sure of yourself; Before you can win a prize.

Put many a race is lost, Not over a step in front; And many a coward falls, Ere even his work he begun.

Life's battles don't always go To the strongest or fastest man; For sooner or later the man who wins Is the fellow who thinks he can.

TWIN FALLS TRACT IS GARDEN SPOT, SAYS CONSUL I. I. BOAK

Head of Woodmen of the World Pays High Tribute to This City and Surrounding Country; Says Coolidge Will Get Another Nomination; Borah Vice Presidential Possibility

"The Twin Falls tract is one of the finest spots of the world," declared I. I. Boak of Denver, head of the Woodmen of the World, when interviewed by "Times" representative last evening. "When I was here last year I was struck with the beauty of the city," he continued, "and it looks better than I had previously now than it did then. With your fine soil, your equable climate, your splendid water supply and your progressive people, your city and country are bound to grow."

"I hear this opinion expressed everywhere in Idaho regarding Twin Falls. It is everywhere regarded as a community that is bound to go ahead. The country is prosperous all over except in spots; the intermediate country is especially so. Colorado was never more prosperous than it is now."

"THE SALES RACE" STARTS MONDAY MORNING

SALMON FILING INSTRUCTIONS ARE RECEIVED

Total of 47,789.28 Acres Are Thrown Open 35,000 With Settlers Preference and 12,000 With Soldiers Preference

Further instructions concerning filing on the 47,789.28 acres of Salmon land have been received here by H. E. Powers, United States commissioner today. Of this more than 35,000 acres are composed of what are known as cutoff lands, that is lands which were made when the tract was opened and which were later abandoned. Complete descriptions of all lands involved have been received.

Settlers Have Preference

On the first 35,000 acres, the settlers who were on the lands when the tract was reduced have preference during the period of application from Tuesday and ending September 11. After the expiration of the settlers' rights there will be a period of 90 days during which service men and women will have preference, after which any person eligible will have equal opportunity to file.

On the 12,000 acres soldiers preference will be given and will continue until September 12, after which the general public, so far as unoccupied land laws, will come in on equal terms.

Has Long History

The original Salmon River reclamation containing 127,707.29 acres was thrown open to settlement April 16, 1903, as a result of estimates as to probable water sufficiency made by a state engineer. When about 100,000 acres had been filed on, it became evident that the amount of land that could be irrigated from the Salmon River catch supply had been very much over-estimated and no further filings were accepted. Even today it is estimated that more than 200,000 acres had been filed on and settlers on about 12,000 acres abandoned their claims in a short time.

Differences in construction of the contracts were a prolific source of litigation and over 600 lawsuits were filed, some of them by individuals and some of them by associations composed of practically all the settlers who remained on the tract. Every attorney in Twin Falls was at one time or other representing settlers in the courts. Some of the cases reached the supreme court. Two of three suits are still pending but most have been settled.

Legislature Acts

The legislature of 1916 appointed a committee to investigate and this brought in two reports: one that the tract should be cut to 28,000 acres and the other, that it should be cut to 25,000. Acting on the first named Governor Alexander took the matter up with the federal government and what was known as the Whiffen report laid out plans for cutting out lands, which, after much litigation, was carried into effect. The total amount of lands retained amounted to 26,000 acres, of which about 33,000 were irrigable.

The lands voluntarily abandoned in force cutting the tract are those included in the soldier right orders now being cut out to reduce the district to the contour of the Whiffen report, and the 35,000 acres with settlers' right preference.

Smaller Estimate Right

Smaller estimates have justified the 25,000 acre estimate as being the proper one to insure ample water every year, since under the 25,000 acre district, water is insufficient in dry years. This year water will be an-

Pickford's Kidnaping Plot Proves Hoax

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—The Mary Pickford kidnaping plot headed back today toward the limbo of movie "hoax" reports.

Two police officers remained on guard at Pickford's palatial home of Douglas Fairbanks and Miss Pickford, but even the staunchest supporter of the rumored plan to steal the famous film star, Police Captain Blair of the Beverly Hills division, began to waver.

"I don't think much of this thing," he admitted today. "We will maintain the guard at the Pickford home for a few days more, however, as a precautionary measure."

Doug and Mary gave their opinion of the "hoax" in no uncertain terms.

However, by a vote of the settlers it has been decided to cut the irrigable area to 25,000 and compensate the owners of the new cutoff district of 7,000 acres for their lands. This agreement awaits only completion of negotiations with institutions loaning money to be put into effect.

SHOSHONE FALLS FERRY SUSPENDS FOR HIGH WATER

For the first time in many years, high water in the Snake river has resulted in the suspension of the operation of the ferry above Shoshone Falls. The catwalk is now a wonderful scene which is attracting many to view its grandeur.

Over a foot of water is running over the top of the Idaho Power company, which has not been covered since its construction several years ago. This is no water running over the property of the company, however. Depth of water running over the falls cannot be ascertained. It was stated at the power plant this afternoon.

Verhoeven, of Shoshone.

DODGE SIX LAUDED BY TECHNICAL MEN

The arrival of Dodge Brothers recently anticipated Six has swung the spotlight of interest in the direction of the saleroom where, tradition tells us, the word "desirable" was almost a popular coinage. There it remained focused, for the new Six, the Sixty, reveals much that absorbs the attention and much also that creates surprise.

New cars and new models are constantly rolling over the horizon, but a Six arriving from the Dodge laboratories carries its own peculiar new value. There are, of course, certain pre-conceived ideas as to high quality in structure and mechanics, due to the past history of the makers covering a period of twelve successful years during which nearly two hundred cars were built and marketed. But how does this new member of the family perform? And—here is where curiosity is perhaps uppermost—how does it look? In there a note of conservatism in its appearance? Or does it look as though its designers were appealing to flaming youth?

Snappy Appearance. It may be said at once that without being extreme in any sense Dodge Brothers Six has plenty of snap in its appearance as well as in its performance. Niran Bates Pope, one of the foremost technical editors in the car world, hits it off well when he says in Automobile Topics: "Dodge Brothers Senior is a distinct improvement in the spirit of the times." Mr. Pope, who made an intensive study of the car and product and was exhaustive on the subject, continues: "His size is regarded definitely by the car world as a step forward and a step which is crowded and rounded over the added to produce the effect of length and height without unpleasant accentuation anywhere. Actually it stands a foot or more from the ground, but it looks considerably lower.

"An entirely new interpretation of the mounting line is created by the use of recessed panels on the doors and swinging around the back from the rear quarter to the top of the side. The entire front of the car is distinctly new. The radiator is deep, rather high and surrounded by more than a rim of the polished shell which is of uniform width, save at the top where it tapers out. The orderly sweep of the guards is effective; the lines of the hood rugged and strong.

Plenty of Room. "There is abundant room inside the car for comfortable riding and frequent change of posture during a long drive in uncomfortable weather. All the interior work is carefully toned on the chromatic scale to a soft and durable exterior of blues and greens in lacquer finish, and of appropriate ivory hair lines." "Mr. Pope goes over the car minutely from a mechanical standpoint and makes this interesting summary of the power plant:

"The motor follows modern practice in numerous ways, utilizing also the many years experience of Dodge Brothers' engineering department in producing a power plant that will run on and on with a minimum of attention for years. It would be in the eyes of some designers a little bigger in volume than the weight of the car demands, but this means abundant power under all circumstances. Though the motor compass is not placed on a raised base it will readily yield a great deal of power life and produce a great deal less trouble for the consumer than any of the high speed motors."

Performance. Hic Factor. But in the last analysis actual performance is a vastly important factor. The impression of a seasoned observer like Mr. Pope are important. "That the Senior will sell very largely on merit, and on the strength of Dodge Brothers' reputation is a foregone conclusion," he says. "It is a clean-cut thoroughly modern car. But more than all that it will sell on demonstration. It is a remarkably smooth performer under normal road conditions. It has been proved on cross continental tests that its remarkable endurance under the sort of punishment only cross continental drivers know how to inflict. It handles as any car should. The clutch pedal and the engagement are smooth; the gears change easily and the standard shift will be a comfort to many drivers.

"As for speed, the car on smooth pavements picks up uniformly to its 50, its 60 or more and no one doubts the speedometer. In second it dashes to the smartest kind of get-away—25, 30, 35 or even 40—without perceptible vibration, without any of those groans and rumbles that make so many drivers afraid of second speed."

Mr. Pope summarizes his impressions thus: "It is a car of remarkable variety and no one doubts its performance—about which there can be no argument whatever."

EUROPEANS USE AMERICAN CARS

BRITLIN, Germany, June 18.—Many people of prominence here may be seen doing their spring touring in American-made cars. Sidney H. Dinnel, hardware manufacturer of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car company, on a recent trip through the country, found many of the old nobility in cars of his company's manufacture. Among them were Prince Hesse XXXII, Marbach; Count Rabe von Oeynhausen-Sierstorff, Bad Homburg; Countess Susanne Geyhausen, Bad Homburg; Baron Landrat, Friedrich v. Droste-Hulshoff, Hoster; J. Wolff; Duke Oettingen-Wallerstein; Schloss Wallerstein and Duke Erzbischof-Wallerstein, Schloss Zell in Leutkirch.

Although the good American-made cars are much more expensive than in America, they are in constant demand by the wealthier class.

PAIGE FOUR SPEED SETS NEW RECORD IN FAST TULSA TRIP

At 6 o'clock on a recent morning, with the shadows of night still hanging over the city, a long, graceful coupe sped away from the office of the Western Union in the direction of Tulsa.

A score of people stood about on the curb to watch the big car hit 72 miles per hour in third at the end of two blocks and then go into high-fourth speed. Naturally it was a Paige Eight, the only car in America with two high speeds.

At the wheel was Dick Marmon, veteran race track driver, and with him was Jack Vanhouten, mechanic. Both were determined to establish a new speed record between the oil capital and the state capital. "Boy did!"

In spite of being delayed five minutes by a car stalled on a bridge between Sand Springs and Keystone and over the city, a long, graceful coupe sped away from the office of the Western Union in the direction of Tulsa.

distributor in Tulsa, the previous record for the run was 2 hours, 18 minutes. "If any better time ever was made it was not publicly announced," he said. Marmon, upon returning here, again broke the old record. He said this he Paige was perfectly cool at the conclusion of both runs and that it could have continued almost any distance at the same rate of speed.

The New PAIGE "8" with Two High Speeds merits a demonstration and your thoughtful consideration

Those who are contemplating the purchase of a fine motor car should withhold selection until they have driven this new Paige.

Many of these, after enjoying this experience, will doubtless find themselves accepting its performance as a standard by which to judge other cars.

Much of the difference in this car's performance lies in the mathematical fact that at high speeds its engine revolves much more slowly than engines normally do, due to its Warner Hi-Flex 4-speed transmission.

This new engineering accomplishment produces greater silence at all speeds, resulting in unusual gasoline economy. Because the engine makes fewer revolutions, it lasts longer, requires less attention, less frequent overhauling.

Third speed is another high speed, and delivers greatly improved acceleration, both in traffic and on steep hills.

We invite you to drive a new Paige "8" at your convenience. There will be no obligation to buy.

Idaho One of Four States Having Big Road Program

Gem State, Utah, Wyoming and Nevada Will Spend $11,000,000 This Year for Extensive Highway Systems; Details Are Given.

Four intermountain states—Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada—each possessing or rather harbored with several million acres of public domain land which lies strategically with regard to the state and transcontinental highway systems and yet must be fruited by judicious development if the West is to realize fully its dreams in tourist business, are appropriating approximately $11,000,000 this year and inaugurating the greatest road-building and improvement program in their history.

Of this sum, $3,500,000 is available this year. It will be devoted to new construction, chiefly on the arterial highways, and the remaining $2,500,000 will be used for improvements on portions already constructed and for the development of feeder routes.

Idaho's program is the most ambitious, providing new construction totaling $2,700,000, with $700,000 for maintenance. Utah has $2,500,000 for new construction and $700,000 for maintenance, while Nevada has $1,000,000 for new activity and $350,000 for maintenance.

The great problem in road building in that great region has been vast expanses not producing revenue. Hundreds of visitors, chiefly from the East, have accented these states by leaving in highway building. There are thousands in Southern Idaho, between Nevada and Southern Utah and Great Salt Lake, and the desert and sagebrush produce no revenue.

Widely dependent on Federal Aid, Save for federal aid the West would have been virtually out of luck in its road-building program. The four states mentioned have received during 1917-27, including the funds available this year, approximately $25,000,000 from the federal treasury. It is not out of proportion, however, for the government to assist in this degree for Uncle Sam still is the chief landlord in these states. The problem of public lands in road building is shown by the following percentages: Indicating the area in each state which has public domain or Indian land or forest land, in percentage: Idaho, 64 per cent.; Utah, 71.7 per cent.; Wyoming 61 per cent., and Nevada 84 per cent.

The West has found itself faced with two alternatives: (1) It can push rapidly highway construction work during the coming three or four years and develop its arterial system, and principal feeder routes, after which it can pursue supplemental work in a more leisurely manner; or (2) it can continue to build roads when and as funds become available, without consideration of the fact that upkeep on a long stretch of completed highway is proportionately less than on intermittent stretches of road and bad road.

Economic developments in the West make energetic highway program necessary. Agricultural systems are finding markets everywhere in the United States. Idaho potatoes, for instance, enter practically every state. Railroads can not be depended upon to gather produce from the vast areas as great as the Snake river valley of Southern Idaho. Highways of the best type are necessary to facili-

The 25th U. S. infantry band, precedes the coffin. Along the way, American soldiers stood at attention.

Utah will receive $1,600,000 this year from federal funds and an equal amount from the gasoline tax. Wyoming has $1,000,000 federal funds available, with $500,000 coming from the gasoline tax. Nevada will receive $200,000 from the gasoline tax and about $950,000 from federal aid, while Idaho's new 4-cent gasoline tax is expected to yield $1,800,000, with $900,000 available from federal aid. Forest highway funds in the four states are divided as follows: Utah, $100,000; Wyoming, $220,000; Nevada, $57,000; Idaho, $16,000. In order to make the highway program in Utah an state-wide as possible, the state has taken overall highway maintenance, and the amount of Utah now advances 25 per cent to match federal aid funds.

Utah has recognized the need for secondary highways and has appropriated $550,000 for projects for which federal aid is not available. This amount is also making some important investigations to ascertain what can be done to make gravel roads, the type favored in the densely settled portions, more permanent. Heavy oil coating is being tested this summer. It is planned to oil this year 300 miles on the North and South

An important adjunct of the new road will be the Monte Carmel-Zion National Park highway, which will open Zion Park from the east. This road will cost $3,000,000 and approximately $250,000 is now available. The new route, which is likely to be built at elevations that will avoid winter snows, will cut through the center of the scenic attractions of Utah and Arizona, and will give a wonderful panoramic view of the famous Painted Desert.

Equally significant is a program in Utah looking toward development of the east-west highway between Salt Lake City and Denver. This for the bulk of transportation and travel between the northern and southern states. The central route has had good travel only in summer and early fall. Expenditures of approximately $2,000,000 in connecting a high road in Utah during 1927 and 1928 and building new routes near the Colorado River have been authorized by the Utah legislature.

With Colorado devoting attention to connecting routes west of Denver, the development is of importance. Among other things it will mean adequate highway transportation for the timber base of Northern Utah, which has been pleading for railroad service or modern transportation of some kind for the last dozen years.

Another route upon which construction is likely to be started this year is the Ogden (Utah)-Twin Falls (Idaho) highway. This road will reduce the distance from Salt Lake to the Northwest by about 70 miles. Idaho deems of the scenic attractions of Utah and Arizona, and will give a wonderful panoramic view of the famous Painted Desert.

Save for sections well populated, most of the road-building in the intermountain region this year will be of macadam type. How road materials for 1927 will be divided by the northern and southern states is shown in the following table:

State	Material	Amount
Idaho	Twenty-five miles, earth	100 miles, sand-clay, gravel
	100 miles, sand-clay, gravel	15 miles, asphalt, concrete and brick
	7 miles, asphalt, concrete and brick
Wyoming	One hundred fifty miles, earth	200 miles, sand-clay, gravel and macadam
	200 miles, sand-clay, gravel and macadam
Nevada	One hundred forty-five miles, sand-clay, gravel and macadam

100,000 Mile Oakland Making Tour of South Company Extends Route

PONTIAC, Mich., June 18.—The Oakland Six Landau Sedan which celebrated completion of its first one year run on a treadmill last winter by starting on a 15,000 mile tour of the United States, is attracting such attention on its journey that the Oakland Motor Company is extending its route 5,000 miles more. The announcement was made this week by W. R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales.

The treadmill run was made in the new rooms of the Richmond-Oakland Company, Detroit. It is full view of the thousands passing the General Motors building. Except for refueling and a few minor repairs, it was a non-stop run. So fit was the car, after crowding two years' service into a few short months, that Oakland officials determined to send it through the United States on a traveling calendar of Oakland Six stunts.

Now heading home.

The car went from the factories at Pontiac to New York, Washington and Boston, coming back across the continent to the Pacific coast, which it traversed from San Diego to Seattle, and is now heading home. Instead of returning to the factory, as first planned, however, it will turn southeast from Chicago, going to Evansville, St. Louis, Atlanta, Richmond and intermediate cities, before heading homeward via Springfield, Ohio.

The performance of the car, which has seen ten times the yearly mileage of the average automobile before starting on the present grueling run, has been such as to attract the attention of the general public as well as of automobile men, from coast to coast. Starting early in the winter, it reached the New England states when there were deep in snow, and gripped by biting cold. It traversed the middle western plains at the start of the flood season, without mishap, and passed into the territory of southern California, still performing perfectly.

Turning east again after the trip to the coast, the car encountered cold weather and heavy snows in Montana and North Dakota but it was delighted by those run by the slick mud which followed. The only delay encountered has been due to dealers' insistence that it depart from its scheduled route to visit their cities.

"This route, as extended, is such as to lend an international complexion to the car's remarkable run. Mr. Tracy pointed out. When it returns to Pontiac, it will have spanned the country from the Mexican border to the Canadian line, having traversed three-quarters of the masses of the globe.

General Motors Request.

"The insistence of dealers in the South that we route the 100,000 mile Oakland Six through their territory is such that we cannot ignore it," said Mr. Tracy. "Reports from our crew indicate that the car is well able to stand the trip, in spite of some months of the severest kind of punishment. We have accordingly made the necessary arrangements, rounding out a program which we believe to be unmatched by any other manufacturer in the history of the automobile industry."

On Ocean Trail

GOODYEAR TIRE IS POPULAR IN SUMMER MONTHS

That the new Goodyear All-Weather balloon tire will come into more general use during the summer months was predicted by C. E. Lind, Goodyear dealer here, today.

"Strong points of the new tire for use in winter weather have been exposed," said Lind, "but warm weather is harder on tires."

"The biggest factor in tire wear is lateral heat due to flexing and consequent friction of the cords. This heat gradually takes the life out of the rubber and makes it more vulnerable in road wear or sharp rocks."

"What the motorist wants is a tire that will give the longest wear under the most trying conditions. In winter, he wants a tire that will stand up under driving over snow and ice streets. In summer the tire must be safe on wet streets and roads."

"The new All-Weather Balloon has a carcass built of super-twill, an exclusive Goodyear fabric, and many other advantages, including the All-Weather tread which is so designed that water is slung off without operating conditions on the Goodyear test fleet for over 2,000,000 miles and out of over 50 tread types tested, the new All-Weather Balloon tread was shown to be superior to all others."

"The summer tire business promises to be even better this year than last," he said.

MULLINER ADDS NEW EQUIPMENT AT NATATORIUM

Something new in the line of equipment has been added to the Twin Falls Natatorium by A. E. Mulliner, the new owner. A number of inflated inner tubes have been placed in the pool, a huge log has been procured and a dozen beach balls have been ordered for the benefit of patrons.

Judging from the way the season has started, the Twin Falls natatorium will be a more popular place than ever for fathers this summer, Mr. Mulliner says.

This Is the Way to Make Every Buy a Bargain

Buy advertised goods. Only good goods, fairly priced, can stand the spotlight of publicity.

A merchant or manufacturer would not dare to advertise merchandise that is poor in quality, poor in make or that will not give reasonable wear. The penalty of such tactics is too heavy. No goods—and no business concern—can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

A merchant places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. Naturally enough, he is careful of what he says and when his statement is placed in the newspaper—where everybody in town may read—so that any untruth in it will be known to all of his employees and most of his friends—then you may be sure he is doubly careful.

When you buy advertised goods you get a bargain because they must be as advertised.

So it pays you to read advertisements. Advertising protects you.

Read the advertisements in this paper and get the thing protects you.
