HUGE GRANGER CROWD MEETS WITH LEADER

L. J. Tabor Urges Farmers Aid Co-operative Move in Talk at Shoshone.

Special Dispatch to The Times. SHOSHONE, June 20.—Grangers from every section of Idaho to the number of several thousands, public officials, leaders in various lines of business and industry and others gathered here today to welcome L. J. Tabor of Ohio, national master of the Grange.

If most extensive program in the history of the state was given in honor of Mr. Tabor, who is on tour to the West and who will address the Grange as one of the two places he will visit while in this state.

The program began at 10 a. m. and continued until 4:30 p. m. and was held at the courthouse grounds. Mr. Tabor, addressing the Grangers, taking as his subject the co-operative movement and its great importance to the agriculturist, he declared that the plan was the only one by which the growers could benefit in the long run and all farmers to join and aid in its program. The farm industry has the same right to a fair and safe margin of profit as any other industry and to assure normal conditions in this country action must be taken to produce income to agriculture, he declared.

Following talks by several other leaders in listening to the national master of the Grange, Senator George Barrett, of Wendell, D. M. Condit, of Elgin, J. E. Simpson, of Shoshone, Representative W. J. Tabor, of Richfield, Mrs. Wright Johnson, of Kuna, state Grange lecturer, and Miss Marion Teworth, state home demonstration leader, a music and literary program, including a basket lunch was held at noon. The Pomona Grange of Lincoln county provided coffee, sugar and cream for all present.

FOES OF THIRD TERM LIST 18 AS ELIGIBLES

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The 18th annual and experienced enough to be considered for nomination to the United States, are listed in recent communication sent here from New York by the National Foes of a Third Term League, an organization devoted to opposing the anticipated candidacy of President Coolidge for a third term.

One senatorial way on seeing the list proposed that Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh would be named as the best view of his suddenly-acquired popularity following his New York-to-Paris flight.

The list, proposed by Henry S. Paris, New York lawyer and president of the organization, is as follows: Charles F. McNary, former "New Republican," and stressing the point that there is plenty of material for presidential candidates, follows:

- William Edgar Borah, senator, Idaho.
Nicholas Murray Butler, president Columbia University, New York.
Charles G. Dawes, vice president Chicago.
Dwight F. Davis, secretary of war, Chicago.
Alvin T. Fuller, governor, Massachusetts.
Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, California.

Frank O. Lowden, former governor, Illinois.
Andrew J. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, Pennsylvania.
Nathan S. Pusey, former governor, New York.
Charles L. Whitman, former governor, New York.
Slater's letter mentioned the list as "inclusive," and admitted that some of these would be considered as progressive, others too conservative, and some might have geographical disadvantages. The list was sent to 20,000 republicans over the country, asked each of the recipients to reply, indicating which of the names they favored, and for the names of other republicans favored.

IDAHO ON GOOD SIDE, AS USUAL

Among other things which the state of Idaho has accomplished this year to show a gain in the amount of building as compared with last year, Idaho was included in the list of only a few states which showed an increase, they being, in addition to Idaho, the states of Alabama, Arizona, California, Kentucky, Maine, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Florida, which two or three years ago went through the most sensational building boom in the history of the nation, this year shows a loss of 10 per cent. In last year, Connecticut, Maryland and Mississippi each lost 50 per cent.

Totals	$247,115	$128,227	$306,940

While Twin Falls shows a decrease in May, 1927, compared with May, 1926, it shows a gain in April, 1927 over April, 1926 and is, therefore, likely that this year, following a season of successful farming in the surrounding districts.

BLOOD HAS DAILY TIDE

In the blood stream, pumped from the heart to give us life, there are daily tides, like the ebb and flow of the tides of the sea. Dr. A. F. Bernard Shaw, of Newcastle, England, recently made this discovery while studying the white corpuscles of the blood.

These white cells, whose duty it is to fight disease germs which enter the blood, are known to vary in number from time to time. Dr. Shaw found that the number increases and decreases in two regular daily waves.

The high tide of white corpuscles usually comes just after midnight and again in the afternoon. Dr. Shaw suggests that these tides may bear some relation to the hours of eating and sleeping, or may be due to changing positions of sun and earth.

MEASURES A VOLCANO'S HEAT

New scientific methods are being used to measure the heat of Hawaiian, giant volcano of Hawaii. Under the direction of Dr. J. A. Sigsbee, a direct volcano observatory, borings 100 feet deep to the solid rock at the crater at intervals of a thousand feet. As soon as the temperatures within are taken and recorded, the holes are capped with metal rings to preserve them, so that they can be used for future observations.

BABY NOW WORTH $9,333

The fact that we live longer than did our grandfathers is bringing us billions of dollars in cash, says a great insurance company whose experts estimate that the total wealth in earning power of American men and women in the present generation, or age 1901, is $3,500,000,000. This gain has been largely to the extension of life.

In 1901, a baby boy at birth was considered to have a potential value of $7,533. By 1924 this value increased to $9,333. This gain, also, they conclude, is due to expectation of longer life, with a consequent longer period of earning capacity.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
T. H. The forenoon situation calls to mind the case of a very illustrious senator who was poured into the chamber to hold vote for war against Germany. A woman who had been many a soldier was in the gallery, and she had her eye on the senator in a test case.

A fellow went to believe all he heard in those precincts, he would admit that the same thing happened. The popular impression is that you could put all the personality dry senators on a bicycle.

By giving no more notice to such base canards as these, every senator fighting for the state of the folks back home, it must never be said that the same personality dry senators fully appreciate the fact that there are at this moment no more filibusters and all night sessions during which the sergeant-at-arms may be ordered to break into their chambers and bring them into the chamber.

That happened one night during the Boulder dam filibuster in the last session, to the great embarrassment of perhaps a half dozen senators who were disgraced unmercifully.

WHY DO YOU LIKE SOUTH IDAHO?
Believing that a general discussion of the advantages, future development plans, conditions relating to health, prosperity and other concrete points about southern Idaho will promote a feeling of friendship and all this part of the state, "The Times" is starting a daily column, "Why I Like Southern Idaho."

ABIE'S IRISH ROSE by Anne Nichols

"Goodbye"—Her fingers were in his, cool, electric. Then he was clattering down the steps.

AS THE STORY GOES
In a quiet little western village, just a short distance back from the fringe, Corporal Abraham Levy is nursing a wounded leg and waiting until the war is all about him he is caught by the mercenary company and taken to a hospital for the entertainment. Miss Mary, an Irish girl, is devotedly nursing his leg, but she is not dispensing a nurse as any Broadway girl. She looks a new arrival, but she is a very special one.

Corporal Levy gathered the music in the piano, and stopped it mechanically into the case. The doctor was speaking to the Lieutenant, to that figure in blue. The room was filled with voices: "Goodbye, good!" "We're outta luck here!" "See you another time!" "Come again, how?" A sudden woman's speech near Abie. Action! He knew what that could mean. He had been through it before, and it is one thing to come out from a week in the line—it's quite another to go back in with only twelve hours' rest. Stiffly, wearily, he started toward the door.

Now let's see; the other one's name was... "Oh dear—I'm sorry." The music had stopped from her hand. Abie, nicking it up tried to part the sheets and found himself in difficulty. "Stuck"—Here!—let me help you! "It's such a bad music!" "No, it's my hands. I'm all thumbs, but I'll try to get you out of this."

Abie, startled, wheeled round on his chair. He was just in time to see the doctor's big foot with the clattering figures—in a line to recognize Major Delman, the Battalion Commander, as he was striking up the theater table. "There was a scraping of feet and benches, a turning of heads; and from the seated company a protesting murmur: "Hoi!" "Old Delman?" "What's your name?" "Shut up!" "Look who's here!" The bark of the sergeant by the door, the room rose in a hiss. Major Delman, a streak from the floor, came swiftly up the steps and into the platform. He bowed to the front and hurriedly to hand the salute of the two men both who were their feet; then faced the footlights.

(The part I like, she went on, as she lifted her hand and waved, "Seeing the boys start off like—"
Abie nodded soberly. "It's not much fun, but it's not over some day."
"Let him see! And then we'll all be back again in the States."
The States?
Lieutenant, suddenly. "Know Levy, perhaps?"
"Well, yes, perhaps," laughed Frank. "He bent forward with sudden earnestness, "I'd like to think that I could head you off these conditions."
She heard him in obvious surprise, those blue eyes a first amazement, then frowning. And then her warm lips broke into a tender smile. "I don't live in New York, but I expect to be there again, to go on with my music."
"And if I should look you up?"
"Another guess. Then, "Do look me up! And her clear voice thrilled him. "Goodbye!" They're calling you!"
"Goodbye!"
Her fingers were in his, cool, electric. Then he was clattering down the steps, to go on with my music."

He was in the night air, in a sea of moon, the night sky filled with an ominous, hazy glow. "Do look me up! And her clear voice thrilled him. "Goodbye!" They're calling you!"

The Carelessness of Yesterday Seems Like a Crime Today.

Foresight faces facts and the facts concerning travel accidents are startling. Thousands of people are killed or injured in accidents each year. Statistics show that more people are killed and 35 per cent more are injured at the present time than there were in 1912.

WHAT IF YOU SHOULD BE ONE OF THE THOUSANDS KILLED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS THIS YEAR.

How long will your wife and children be able to get along without your income; and should you be hurt, how long would you be able to pay the hospital and doctor bills? # Bruins Lose Close Game to Idaho Falls Spuds, 7 to 5

APPERSON'S MEN FALL SHORT IN EIGHTH WITH RALLY FOR 2 RUNS

Farrell Hurls Good Game But High Wind Plays In Favor of Opponents and Carries Pill for Hitter; Gardiner, Apperson and Hoag Star at Bat.

Special Dispatch to The Times

IDAHO FALLS, June 20—The Twin Falls Spuds dropped their final game of the series to the Idaho Falls Spuds here Sunday by a score of 7 to 5. A high wind and a first batter interfered with hitting and fielding by both teams.

Twin Falls, with Farrell on the mound, seemed likely to win the game in the early innings. They scored one run in the first, two in the second and went one run ahead in the fourth inning. The wind carried a couple of hits away from the Bruin batters in the sixth and seventh innings. The Spuds would get the better of three of the locals scattered over the pitcher on good solid smashes, one a home run by Hickok.

The Bruin died gallantly, rallying for two runs in the eighth inning, but short of the necessary run to tie up or win the battle.

Farrell allowed 11 hits and fanned 17 men while the Spuds scattered 10 hits and did not run a man. Farrell, former Twin Falls pitcher, held down the first sack for the victors, led the Bruin attack with 11 hits and out of 10 men. Hoag and Manager Apperson each had two.

The box score of Sunday's game follows:

BRUINS LOSE, 8 TO 5

IDAHO FALLS, June 20—Continued from the first page. The Bruins pitched but another game in the loss column for the Bruin Saturday, Idaho Falls tripping the Bruin 8 to 5 for its fourth straight triumph over Twin Falls.

Frazier, who replaced Horton at second, marked his appearance with three knucks. Even with Frazier's home-landing, the Bruins could not manufacture runs at opportune times.

One feature of Saturday's hit was that it gave Idaho Falls a better hold on the top rung in the league—and Twin Falls on the entire. Last Bruin backstopper, weak at the bat, continued playing and will pitch in a lowed four Spuds in pitcher second hit.

Hickok was called into batting in the sixth when Hutton, who pitched for Manager Apperson, was injured by the heat in the dugout. The box score:

TELEGRAPH POLE PROVES HOODOO TO CAR DRIVER

The fatal telegraph pole near Curry, which recently interrupted the happiness of a wedding party enroute from Boise to American Falls, and brought some of the occupants into court before Justice John E. Davies, played a similar role in a near tragedy yesterday morning.

While Harry Mannheim of Twin Falls and a hickerman boy were driving west about 6 o'clock Sunday morning the pole sat in the way of their car the steering of which went wrong just before Curry was reached. It is said. The car and pole were both damaged and Mannheim suffered a severe cut in the head and face which necessitated the attention of a doctor. He also suffered a number of bruises.

The hoodoo continued in full force, however. Don Linville, accompanied by Vera Flynn, drove out later to get the car and were towing it in, when either the track or the car is said to have come in contact with a car driven by E. N. Durza of Nohaska, inflicting considerable damage. It is stated, Durza swore to a complaint charging Linville with negligence for alleged violation of the road law.

Nobody was much hurt in the accident, officials say, but it was fortunately reported that several were killed.

WYOMING RESTRAINED FROM TAXING TWIN FALLS WATER

Last Chapter Is Written in Effort to Make Canal Districts Pay Toll on Value of Contents of Jackson Lake; Judge Bothwell Finds Demand for Salmon Bonds Good.

The last chapter has been written in the story of the effort of the state of Wyoming to tax Idaho waters backed up in the territory in Jackson lake, according to Judge J. M. Bothwell, who returned just night from a trip to the east in the course of which he stopped in Cheyenne where the federal district court made permanent the injunction against the collection of $70,000 taxes attempted to be levied on waters of the Northside Canal company, and $28,000 sought to be levied on waters of the Twin Falls Canal company. Justice Bothwell represented the company.

Injunction Is Permanent

When the case was tried in the federal district court in Wyoming, the state won. Appeal to the U. S. court of appeals was taken and the district court was reversed. The United States supreme court upheld the court of appeals. The injunction has been made permanent and entered in record of the federal district and all efforts to levy similar taxes in the future are restrained.

Hond Market Good

Justice Bothwell went as far as Cheyenne where an attorney for the Salmon River Canal company, he consulted with bond buyers and their attorneys relative to the purchase of bonds which it is expected to issue for the purchase of the 7,000 acre tract in the vicinity of the Salmon River. He says that the market for irrigation district bonds in Idaho is much improved. The success of the American Falls district has been demonstrated. The issue of the validity of the purchase of bonds in the case of the Salmon River for the purpose of eliminating them from the Salmon tract, which is now before the supreme court of Idaho, and should the validity of the sale be upheld, Justice Bothwell says he anticipates a ready sale of the necessary bonds to complete the transaction.

COW NO LONGER CAN RESIDE IN HANSEN'S PARK

What used to be the public park in the village of Hansen was for a short time this spring used as a cow pasture, but court action Saturday afternoon brought back 25 public lands to the village of Hansen.

Early this spring Mrs. O. C. Leckerling of Hansen began pasturing her cow in this park, and it was through this action that light was thrown on the fact that Hansen's title to the public park was not clear.

Upon petition and protest of 87 of the village's inhabitants to the county commissioners, Mrs. Leckerling amably surrendered her lease to the grounds. Now the village of Hansen has filed suit in district court against Twin Falls and Trust Co. trustee, to quiet title to the property.
