Commander Byrd Soars Across Atlantic for Paris

FOUR PILOTS DEFEY FOG TO LAUNCH TRIP

Last Reports Indicate America is Over Nova Scotia on Way to Europe.

HALIFAX, June 29—An airplane believed to be the America was sighted at St. Elizabeth's Island at the southern coast of Newfoundland.

ROSELIFE FIELD, NEW YORK, June 29—Dreadful fog and triumphant over-riding compass. Commander Richard Byrd and his crew of three in the bi-motored amphibian spot north and east across Nova Scotia this afternoon, nearing the start of the long journey across the open Atlantic to Europe.

"Keeps Steady Pace"

The tri-motored Fokker plane was keeping a steady pace of well over 100 miles an hour, enroute reports to the United Press from Nova Scotia indicated.

The plane seemed to be keeping strictly on its course, and it was assumed the compass variations had been stopped when steel-banded auxiliary gasoline cans which had exerted a magnetic attraction on the compass needles, were tossed overboard after the fuel tank had been pumped into the main tanks of the plane.

Tears Tell Route

As the land behind the runway so the motors could get up, full speed before the plane was started down the runway, but the craft, installed as its crew, tore itself loose from the restraining bands before mechanical tests were made, and it sped along the runway.

It wobbled a little under the heavy load, but as the wings caught the air, skimmed beautifully along the firm ground.

The four men waved farewell as the plane left the ground. A crowd cheered, as similar crowds had cheered Lindbergh and Chamberlain. The plane rose steadily, easily, and headed for Europe and fame or disaster and possible tragedy.

The plane was encountering difficulties with its compass when it was over the open halfway between Cape Cod and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, a radio message from Byrd, received at the hangar at Roosevelt field.

The message, sent at 8:41 a. m., contained the following:

"Half way between Cape Cod and Yarmouth. Out of sight of land. Weather clearing slightly. Extra cans gasoline causing trouble with compass. Hope they will not when they can be thrown away."

The confused but serene was hoped to be able to empty the cans into the ocean.

Live Candidates Are Working Hard for Votes Now in Effect

The Big Gifts Will Be Given the Candidates Who Secure the Most Votes and Each Subscription Counts More Votes This Week Than It Will Later.

As the close of the Daily Times' circulation sales campaign and Free Gift Distribution draws near, scores of predictions are being offered as to who will be the fortunate recipients of the valuable gifts, including the four luxurious automobiles and the cash gifts. Astrologists, palmists and proponents of the occult sciences have been consulted by some in an endeavor to obtain some inkling of what the outcome will be. Yet all their predictions avail them not, for the final result is as such as ever in doubt.

In a general effort to eliminate all doubts of this nature the only way to be sure of winning is to spend every minute possible securing subscriptions. Perseverance is the only living quality.

Such stirring scenes as these with eager candidates filled with the spirit of conquest, have never had their equal in this section. The race for supremacy is rushing forward rapidly with no chance, if they are judged by their vast standing, promise to spring surprises that will lead to unexpected areas up to defeat.

Over-confidence is the biggest hazard when which a candidate can be sure. This misfortune attribute comes more regrets than anything else in a campaign of this nature. The only way to be sure of winning is to spend every minute possible securing subscriptions. Perseverance is the only living quality.

Special Gifts Await.

See what there is in the offer to all competitors to reach the place of their own desire—four luxurious automobiles and cash gifts, too. These prizes will make the winner's life a very happy one. The gifts of a motor car and these particular gifts, the "Times" has made out, as motor car achievements, in great numbers.

The big scheme of votes that will be held on Saturday night means possible a rapid race in votes. Don

She sent a message to her son through the United Press saying: "Thank God for having protected you."

Maitland's father expressed happiness at the word of his son's safe arrival.

"Of course we expected them to do it all the time," he said confidentially.

Thousands Cheer Two American Aviators at Honolulu After History-Making Trip From California

By H. E. FARNS

Filed Press Service Correspondent

WHEELER FIELD, HONOLULU, June 29—(United Press)—"The United States army's great green monoplane 'Bird of Paradise' roared out of a semi-tropic dawn today and came to rest on Hawaii's soil at 6:34 a. m., Honolulu time, 9:01 Pacific coast time. The ship had crossed its landing direction, which explained the delay in estimated time of arrival.

The plane made a perfect landing, with Lieutenant Lester Maitland at the controls. The giant Fokker taxied to the reviewing stand amid the cheers of thousands, Americans, Hawaiians, Orientals.

Tremendous Surprise

The epic dash of 2,408 miles over the ocean had been achieved in 25 hours and 53 minutes elapsed time. The plane left Oakland airport on San Leandro Bay at 7:10 a. m., yesterday Pacific time.

The arrival was a complete and tremendous surprise. The "Bird of Paradise" had crossed the squadron of scout planes which had been searching over Molokai channel for hours, then through the straits of the Kaula to the almost instant and totally unheralded arrival.

After touching the ground, the great ship rose slightly, skirted the water in a graceful and daring perfect position directly in front of the reviewing stand.

A battalion of troops immediately surrounded.

Lieutenants Maitland and Albert Hegenberger, two weary young men, stepped out from the ship without assistance, and glanced back to the crowd toward the airway they had blazed across the Pacific.

They stepped then to the reviewing stand, where the governor of Hawaii and the commandant of the army post greeted them, and decorated them with floral leis.

Maitland's first words to Governor Farrington were: "I certainly am glad to be here."

"This, my life dream, has come true. The flight was a marvelous success."

Although he had had weather part of the time, he said, "The ship crossed heavy fogs, but the radio beacons until last night when one of our receiving sets went out, and the ship was lost."

Maitland and Hegenberger, literally smothered with leis, walked together to the street. They passed Dr. C. C. Lewis' automobile where a group of military and civilian onlookers gathered to relieve the suspense.

Both fliers were drawn and haggard.

"We are very tired," Hegenberger said.

They grinned at the cheering crowd and nervously fingered the wreaths of flowers around their necks.

Look Very Bright

"I've looked very bright," Hegenberger told beside General Lewis' white stone endeavor to clear a path through the wildly cheering thousands.

The arrow-like arrival of the "Bird of Paradise" had been a sight to behold. The clouds came after hundreds of miles of flight, but had almost no hope.

A general drift of the breeze from the city was felt by the cry they heard.

Stress began to show on the faces of the crowd. The utmost excitement of the great plane landed, and the fliers were greeted with a steady down-pour of rain.

POWERS TALK 6-5-4 RATIO

Geneva Now Realizes That U. S. Will Maintain Equality Stand.

By HENRY WOOD

United Press Staff Correspondent

GENEVA, June 29—A 6-5-4 ratio for cruisers, destroyers and submarines with Great Britain superior to the United States was discussed unofficially in naval limitation conference circles today.

The suggestion was not made to the American delegation even in the form of a proposal, it was revealed at more of a hope than an expectation. It was thought certain that the United States would not accept anything less than equality with Great Britain, even if the idea of elevating Japan's auxiliary strength to four-fifths, as in the case of battleships, were agreed.

WIFE IS PLEASED

WASHINGTON, June 29—"I am very much pleased—my husband, of course," Mrs. Lester J. Maitland, wife of Lieutenant Maitland, army flier, said today when advised of his landing at Hawaii.

"I did not doubt for a moment that he would make it but I am relieved now to hear that he is here," she said.

Mrs. Maitland immediately dispatched a telegram to her husband, expressing her delight at this and Lieutenant Hegenberger's feat.

She will go to San Francisco to meet him when he returns.

ARMY BIRDMEN MAY FLY BACK

Assistant Secretary of War Traces Decision on Army's Aviation Plans.

WASHINGTON, June 29—There is a possibility that Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger will not make their Hawaiian post a round trip journey.

While no decision has been reached yet on the subject of a return flight to San Francisco, it was learned today the aviator was being advised.

Assistant Secretary of War Trabue Davison in a letter yesterday discussed the possibility with the United Press but said "we cannot determine just yet for your publication."

In army circles it was believed the military value of Maitland and Hegenberger's exploit, which has been the basic factor from the beginning, would be greatly enhanced if they can demonstrate the practicality of American military planes making a round trip flight from the Pacific coast to the strategically important Hawaiian Islands. Decision on the added venture will await reports of the conditions of the men, plane and weather upon arrival.

It is believed the aviators would like to make the trip.

By United Press

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29—The new era near, says the aviator with a flight is "immensely gratifying."

The army air chief said he never doubted that Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger would complete the flight.

"This means that one way air communication has been established with these island possessions and it is a promise that better air communication may follow," he said.

"It is confidently looked upon as a forerunner of regular air transportation between the Pacific coast and Honolulu."

"Although hesitating to pass an opinion, he felt that it is not yet further toward such communication with the shores of Asia."

Newspaper Hurts No-Hit Game and Spuds Beat Local

IDAHO FALLS HURLER PUTS BRUINS DOWN IN ORDER IN EIGHT FRAMES

'Charley, My Boy,' Is Likely to Be Official Song for Visitors Following Feat Yesterday; Both Squads Play Sterling Ball.

By WILFRED FEHLEHAR. It happens only once in a lifetime, and yesterday it happened to Charley Newhall. That is, his marvelous feat of hurling a no-hit ball game.

Like so many the soldiers, the crowd stood and came up with the Bruins down, through eight of the nine frames he turned in a very creditable showing. He pitched it was only in the second inning that Newhall allowed a man to reach first, and that was through a ball that bounced off his own glove.

When Newhall was not striking the ball out, he was hitting it into the apple into someone's mitt. Fifteen of the local boys flew out, either four or five.

It was a grand afternoon for Charley. His slants were working in an admirable fashion and his control was superb. His support was perfect. Bob Hurst, in his first appearance on the mound for Twin Falls, made a very creditable showing, despite the fact that he lost. Except for a late second inning when he allowed Coleman to reach a single through a fielder's error and Tadevich a double, for two runs, he pitched smoothly.

An infold hit by Newhall in the fifth, followed by Hutton's double and Collins' long sacrifice fly to right, gave Idaho Falls her three runs. The last tally came in the eighth when Hutton opened with a screeching single to center, was followed by second and came in on a two-base knock to left.

Both teams played sterling ball—much better than customers are accustomed to see in Class C baseball. The errors committed were few and far between. Both outfields were stopping fast and pulled down several sacrifice safe hits, brought the crowd out to the seats when he raced far to his left to catch Callaghan's fiery line drive.

Hurst fielded his position well, making four chances without a slip. Rosenberger and Thibault were up with sparkling catches, the latter getting six assists and two putouts. Hutton and Cronin shared well in the outfield, but the fact that only seven runs were registered by Idaho Falls adds emphasis to how well Newhall did the situation in hand.

From now on the Spuds ought to make 'Charley, My Boy' their official song and regard it as their motto. If the class of ball displayed in, as good as yesterday's the battle will be well worth watching.

The box score of yesterday's game follows:

TODAY'S RESULTS

Table with columns: AMERICAN LEAGUE, NATIONAL LEAGUE. Rows include Chicago, Detroit, Boston, etc.

By CLIFFORD L. DAY. Called Press Staff Correspondent. LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Through a brilliant rally William T. Tilden and Frank T. Hunter, Americans, entered the semifinals of the Wimbledon doubles tennis tournament today by eliminating N. L. Hatchford and H. B. N. Ferguson, England.

The score was 7-5, 6-3, 6-3. The two Englishmen were the youngest men in the tournament each being 19 years old. They could not cope with the terrific volleys of the American team.

The match was suspended because of rain after Tilden and Hunter had won the first two sets and were leading, 5-3 in the third. The suspension was short-lived, however, and when play was resumed Tilden and Hunter smashed their way through to an easy victory.

By CLIFFORD L. DAY. Called Press Staff Correspondent. LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Through a brilliant rally William T. Tilden and Frank T. Hunter, Americans, entered the semifinals of the Wimbledon doubles tennis tournament today by eliminating N. L. Hatchford and H. B. N. Ferguson, England.

The score was 7-5, 6-3, 6-3. The two Englishmen were the youngest men in the tournament each being 19 years old. They could not cope with the terrific volleys of the American team.

The match was suspended because of rain after Tilden and Hunter had won the first two sets and were leading, 5-3 in the third. The suspension was short-lived, however, and when play was resumed Tilden and Hunter smashed their way through to an easy victory.

WALTER DENIES ARSENIC WAS CAUSE OF BENNING'S DEATH

County Chemist Makes Statement in Connection With What He Brands False Report Concerning Probe of Jerome Man's Death.

Denying a statement that he had reported after the chemical analysis of William Benning's viscera he found enough arsenic poison to "un-doubtedly cause death," the county chemist, this morning said he found a trace of arsenic poison in the viscera, but not enough to cause death.

Earlier this week Mr. Walter took the viscera specimens to his laboratory suddenly in Jerome to W. B. Leonard, state chemist at Boise, and returned there on Monday morning, after which he showed the same result.

State chemist Leonard has submitted a written statement to Jerome John F. Schermerhall of Coroner's office that there was no arsenic present in all the viscera, but that, in his opinion, it was insufficient to cause death.

William Benning, 72, Jerome stock buyer, died at his home last Thursday morning. Because of the mysterious and mystery surrounding his death, Dr. C. F. Zoller, attending physician, refused to sign the death certificate. A coroner's jury was called, and it ordered that a chemical analysis be made.

After the chemical analysis report and the testimony of a dozen witnesses were heard last night, the coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that death came from an unknown cause.

E. D. Reynolds, Jerome county attorney, has declared that investigation has just begun. He said that he expects new developments in the litigation for possession of Benning's estate, which is estimated to be between $30,000 and $20,000.

EXPECT LARGE CROWD AT CAMP

With one church in the eastern part of the state expecting to send 25 delegates, with all expenses paid, and several other Presbytery churches in southern Idaho reporting favorably, attendance at the Bellevue summer conference looks exceptionally big.

The camp grounds have been visited by the Rev. A. G. Pearson of Twin Falls, who is in charge of the plans of arrangements, and he reports that they will be in good shape when the first delegates arrive on Wednesday, July 14. The conference lasts seven days, which the attendance camp in the Twin Falls area is expected to be the beautiful Wood river, which at Bellevue divides into several channels.

Recreational activities are being well arranged. A joint field meet will be held with the Methodist and Baptist groups, who also have summer camps in the Wood river valley. There is a provision for a prize-winning the first time last year, have been put in good shape.

An orchestra of eighteen players will furnish music for the assembly periods daily, and a professional band leader has been engaged.

Dr. J. B. Armstrong of Philadelphia, dean and Sunday school methodist.

Dr. William H. Ostby, of San Francisco, Theological Seminary, Bible.

ARABIAN CIRCUS LARGEST, BEST EVER IN CITY

The Wortham Brothers Arabian circus, which is being announced here this week by the members of the Twin Falls high clubs is by far the largest and best show of its kind to ever play here. The absence of anything but the best of circus talent is guaranteed and in an interview with the manager it was learned that there has never been anything of that nature connected with this show. Starting out a few years ago with very small capital and the firm belief that if the public was given something for its money it would return, Mr. Wortham has built one of the biggest shows of its kind on a tripod.

In looking around for something that was out of the ordinary for the season's feature he secured the services of Miss Shirley Frances with her big water circuit and style revue. Miss Frances has for the last several years been awarded the style revue and tough model's parade at Miami Beach, Miami, Fla. in competition with numerous other contestants and comes here with her original living models and costumes that have been made famous at beaches in this and foreign countries. Teaching 25 separate and distinct styles she will accomplish some difficult ideas from the high towers into a tank of water a little over a foot deep the show is most interesting.

Missionaries in China Are Confused on Next Move

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
TSINGTAO, China—American missionaries from all over Shantung province are concentrated in Tsingtao and wondering "where do we go from here?"

A fair proportion of them, survey by the United Press indicates, want to get back where they came from. Moreover, they are now somewhat annoyed over the situation in which they find themselves. But they can't return to their posts for a while, because of a variety of reasons, none of them agreeable.

Whole Situation is Likely to Await Outcome of President Coolidge's Three-power Conference; Many Other Problems Up.

By HENRY WOOD

GENEVA, June 28—The meeting here of the council of the League of Nations, the question of disarmament, and the dominating problem of the world, has been called before the council.

It seems the practically unanimous opinion that such danger as may be excited, if any, does not now exist. Everybody recognizes that there may be more danger in the future than most of the temporary residents of Tsingtao feel that they would be quite safe back at their respective jobs, if they could get there.

However, if the international situation become confused that they would be lured into leaving at a time when they would have remained, the result in that case would be disastrous.

The bulk of this vast sum will, of course, be spent by the "first class travelers," always regarded as the backbone of the tourist invasion, and who provide just about 20 per cent of the total. The remaining 80 per cent is made up by the extratourist who stays in Europe averages about three weeks only to compare with the three to six months of their richer countrymen.

So far as concerns the United States, the American consular authorities can order out British subjects, and they do so if necessary in the event they decline to obey orders; the American authorities can not order anyone out. WASHINGTON—The job of utilizing the mighty Mississippi river to prevent another billion dollar flood disaster will start in a modest way here, perhaps within a few weeks and possibly before winter has set in.

The first report was that on the question of control of the private armaments of sea and land armies and the question of limiting armaments, the council had adopted an essentially neutral position, on which more or less agreement was reached, reservations being made by many nations as to whether it contains the conditions which would be launched and ratified.

and thus far returns have averaged better than 50 per cent. The selections of subscriptions previously given are valuable.

The best for votes.

Determined efforts are being made to play to make an effective "clean up" of the territory this week while the biggest remaining effort is effective. Candidates are starting their last push for votes.

We make today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday the most active days that have gone before. The time is short—only three days left today till the close of the "second period" and candidate can make himself or herself a winner in this short time.

Put forth your best efforts right now, this week, before Saturday night and when the sun sets on the final day this you can reflect contently that your work was a mighty effort, well put forth. This present week, this short period between now and Saturday night is a period filled with tremendous possibilities—time enough for anyone to make victory a certainty. Get started tomorrow morning—keep going and finish your campaign in a blaze of glory.

This week promises to be one of the biggest, if not the biggest of the whole campaign. The time is short. Saturday night brings the fatal hour. Then but two short weeks remain with two big vote credit chances still before a period of seven days. Participants are certainly going strong, getting subscriptions right and left, each preparing to "catch" the leadership for his or her choice of gifts before Saturday night.

Circulation campaign headquarters at The Times office will be open tonight and every night until 9 o'clock to receive subscriptions and votes and to issue supplies. Candidates and their friends are welcome to call in the evening if more convenient.

New Determination Shown.

Many participants, who call at circulation campaign headquarters, are expressing new determination to put forth their best efforts this important period. Every indication points to the fact that the remainder of the race will be more spirited.

Two weeks from Saturday this interesting circulation building campaign and the most stupendous list of gifts ever conceived by any newspaper in this section of Idaho will be distributed.

"Second Period" Almost Over.

The "Second Period" at the big race period for vote making during the remainder of the campaign is

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NRA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Congressional mail is fascinating material for exploration, but congressional visitors are almost a menace.

The only reason congressmen retain such a reputation as they have is that there are secretaries to protect the congressmen and sometimes even stenographers to protect the secretaries.

But the worst part of the most pronounced political case at times has such a plausible exterior that he sets into the inner sanctum and then it is the devil's own job getting rid of him.

THESE "cases" include those who come in to ask the great man to endorse a check, if he isn't there to put his name on the check himself, why his secretary will do very nicely. Often it's not good politics to refuse and the boys on the hill are not hearted when someone from the home state badly needs the money, but it is no rarity for those checks to come back.

The late Senator Ladd once lost $400 in this way. The leader of an American Legion band is said to have cashed the check after offering Ladd's endorsement.

Most members of Congress, however, will balk at taking a chance on such a large sum.

CONGRESSMAN SOL BLOOM
New York has blossomed out as the government's super-salesman.

About March 15, Uncle Sam stepped out on sale one of the most important volumes published by the government printing office for a long time.

This was the code of laws of the United States of America, an indexed, complete compilation produced by act of Congress after many years of labor and research.

One lawyer says that this massive tome costs some $200 as available in annotated form from private publishers, but the government only charged the modest sum of $4.

Nevertheless, "sales" were sluggish in many congressmen's Sol grabbed hold of the promotion work.

Then the government printing office received more orders for the book in three days than it had in the preceding two months.

INTENSIVE CULTIVATION BEST WAY TO DESTROY QUACK GRASS

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of articles being published in The Times on how to recognize and control half a dozen or more of the weeds and grasses which are this vicinity much trouble. Data for the articles is being received from the extension service of the University of Idaho's College of Agriculture.

QUACK GRASS
OTHER NAMES: Couch grass, quack grass, witch grass, etc.

DESCRIPTION: Quack grass is an introduced perennial which reproduces by means of underground creeping joints, branching root stalks and seed. Each joint is capable of forming a new plant. Leaves are dark green, distinctly ribbed, and when dry roll or curl spirally. Before heading out, quack grass resembles awlgrass. In the spring, the plant which also has running root stalks, Upph close examination of the stems so that it turns the soil completely over. Plowing is followed by frequent cultivation with a springtooth harrow. The harrow tends the soil to pieces and breaks the root stalks to the surface where they dry out and die.

The first cultivation should be followed by others at frequent intervals, thus continually destroying the root stalks and finally killing the weed.

Many farmers by persistent effort have cleaned the land of the weed to such an extent that a crop could be seeded the following season.

Under irrigated conditions the success of such method will necessitate diluting the water from irrigated areas.

—Votes Decrease Again Next Saturday Night—

Must Keep Active

Rule No. 17, from the Rules and Regulations, as published at the opening of The Times' Campaign reads as follows: "There will be several big prizes awarded, besides a 10 per cent cash commission to all ACTIVE non-prize winners, but it is distinctively understood that in the event ANY candidate becomes INACTIVE, failing to make a weekly cash report, he or she will, at the discretion of the management, become disqualified and thereby forfeit all right to a prize or a commission. The 10 per cent commission will be paid only on money turned in for subscriptions, and subscriptions only."

A few names have been eliminated from the lists with today's publication. Several more will be eliminated after this week unless they make a cash report by Saturday night, July 2. We want to be as fair and as liberal as possible in the enforcement of this rule and, until a candidate's name is dropped from the lists, they are eligible to share in the distribution of gifts. We do want to know who is active and also want to eliminate the "dead" material so the field will be left clear for the real workers. This is fair warning to every candidate that they must make a weekly cash report if they wish to share in the prizes or commissions. Coupons do not constitute a cash report.

Campaign Headquarters in the Times' Building Will Be Open Until 8 o'Clock Each Evening

Extension Privilege On First Period Subscriptions

The Campaign Department wants to be sure that each and every candidate understands the extension or second payment privilege as explained in No. 15 of the Rules and Regulations. On every subscription, no matter what size, effected by any candidate anywhere during the first period, there is a special privilege. This can be extended by any candidate by subsequent subscriptions secured during this period and upon all such extensions full first period votes and bonus votes will be given, but the second period votes prevail on all new subscriptions secured from people who did not subscribe during the first period. Any candidate can extend any subscription, regardless of what candidate started it in the first period. Example: Supposing Mr. Jones gave Candidate A one year in the first period. Then Candidate B came along in the second period and secured three more years from Mr. Jones. Candidate B will secure all of the votes on the first period schedule due on a four year subscription less the one year's votes already awarded. If this isn't plain come into the office and we will explain further.

How to Get a Million Votes by Saturday Evening

Four NEW SIX-YEAR subscriptions, including "clubs," count 2,880,000 votes. Five NEW SIX-YEAR subscriptions, including "clubs," count 3,600,000 votes. Eight NEW SIX-YEAR subscriptions, including "clubs," count 5,760,000 votes.

One hundred and twenty dollars (ten clubs of 100,000 votes each) made up of any size subscriptions, means 1,000,000 votes besides the regular number of votes credited to each subscription.

A million votes can easily be secured by any candidate after the SECOND PAYMENTS—that is extensions of subscriptions received earlier in the campaign. Thousands of extra additional votes can be secured in this way and many new "clubs" made up. This arrangement of "Second Payments" will not be in effect the last week of the campaign.
