President Joins in Celebration of Hectic Days of 1874 at Custer.

By United Press

CUSTER, S.D., July 27.—President

Coolidge was the "star" of the annual celebration of the memorable discovery of gold in 1874.

The chief executive impersonated

Horace N. Ross, member of General

Custer's staff, who rode into the Black Hills more than 50 years ago to trace Indian rumors that the precious metal might be found in the hills.

Mr. Coolidge, who came here from the State Game Lodge for the celebrations, was the center of attention, and was surrounded by hundreds of tourists.

The theater was packed, and the performances were sold out.

SCHOOL BOOKS BEING CLOSED

Special Dispatch to The Times
BUHL, July 26.—The books for the Buhl Independent school district are being closed this week by the secretary of the board, Bert E. Knutson, superintendent. He reports that the general fund is low, but there is about $15,000 in the sinking fund. This fund is to pay off the bonds outstanding on the new school buildings.

Bert Knutson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knutson, left Portland Sunday afternoon for the summer vacation. He will travel to Kansas and the Philippines Islands, returning in October. He is a graduate of Linfield College.

Mrs. Margaret and Katherine Hallahan are at home taking a quiet vacation for their summer vacation. Miss Margaret is training for a nurse in a hospital in Kansas and Miss Katherine visited her here this spring after her school closing.

Mrs. O. J. Whitman of Spokane returned Sunday to her home after several weeks visiting Mrs. T. F. Connor.

Mrs. Mildred Overhousen, former principal of the Frank H. Hull school, with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Overhousen, and her husband, Dr. Frank H. Hull, are in Salt Lake City for a vacation. They will return to their Overhousen homes.

They will go from here to Spokane where Miss Overhousen has a position in the school system.

Mr. C. C. Robertson and son, his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schaefer and daughter, Miss Ruthie, are spending a month for a vacation with their friends at Salt Lake.

Mrs. O. S. Peet and Mrs. Leslie Nelson will attend the state convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Salt Lake City next week.

Miss Eliza Lewis left for Blackfoot, Mont., where she will become the bride of W.H. Lewis, a man of the Shoshone tribe, long in that vicinity, shortly ahead for the past month and he and Mrs. Smithwick will return to Hull to make their home. Friday evening a tremendous reception was held in spite of rain. Here they are, posing the night away along lower Broadway.

Friday evening a tremendous reception was held in spite of rain. Here they are, posing the night away along lower Broadway.

Miss Genevieve McElroy is visiting for a month with friends and relatives in Salt Lake City.

BARBS

A delegation of women called on President Coolidge to ask rights. Doubtless the president didn't care.

The girls used to apply tints to their fronts. Now they use them on their backs.

John D. Rockefeller was 88 the other day. Now we can only find out when Whitney Dixey and Thomas Edison both died.

The apple crop forecast is excellent. May the doctors had better put off their vacation until winter.

Charles A. Lindbergh—the very man to take a girl for a happy ride along a country road some Sunday afternoon.

Well, you can't expect warm days in winter, can you?

Smith Dodges Dangerous Coast of Molokai Island

When "Ernie" Smith brought his plane, "City of Oklahoma," to a safe resting place in a tree on the island of Molokai as his gas ran out after crossing the Pacific ocean, he was able to dodge the dangerous and mountainous shoreline of the island. This N.E.A. picture shows the Molokai light house on the eastern side of the island, and something of the feeding cliffs on that side of the island which menace any attempted plane landing.

Furniture for Furniture

If an eggshell glass is desired for furniture, provide a clean slate brush, a piece of white cloth and a small, smooth, sharp edge of thin ground iron. To "frost" thumb the lid on the glass. Then rub the lid with the pointed end of the thumb, shake the punche over it, and brush with long strokes the long way of the top, panel or drawer front. Then wipe off the residue of the punche and oil carefully with clear varnish.

Patterned Tile

The word "stone-pastille" means "shaped" but, and synonymous, is an earthenware tile having a pattern in different colors, made with different colored clays, laid in the tile and fired with it.

Navy's Small Beginning

On March 11, 1770, an act was passed by congress authorizing the building of six warships. This marked the beginning of the United States navy which was eventually to become the most powerful in the world.

Only Test Measurement

Although casting out lines is a very common method of ship measurement, it is not the only one.

There are two other methods:

1. The "square measurement" of a ship.

2. The "cubic measurement" of a ship.

Both are based upon the same principle.

Doug DeQuincey, just out of Oxford, is driving his car after a long trip to the logging camps on the DeQuincey timber property. The young DeQuincey, an adventurous soul, seems the prototype of his son's name, and, though he's been identified, when he goes into the camps.

The toughest camp of them all, ruled by "Hoofy Dan" and Pete, the warden of the lumber region, is a place of continual fighting and division. It is not infallible, and is regarded by methengians as only a test and not an absolute proof.

They await his arrival eagerly and expectantly. No one eager and willing to help him, and the lumber children of the camp superintendents whose lives have been made miserable by the conduct of the bullies.

When Jack arrives, he incites the lumbermen to a general strike, which the bullies are badly hurt, but Marlie thinks Jack started the fight just to effect and will have nothing to do with him.

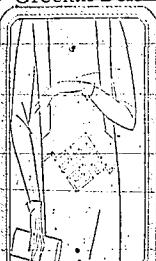

A second camp comes, in which Jack's life is endangered by the two Indians and Marlie is made captive in a tunnel while he is caught in the trap set for her by the Indians.

The dénouement of this vicious tale of the north woods will be shown at the Idaho Theatre, 100 Main Street, at 8 p.m. Saturday evening. The play starts its two day engagement here tomorrow.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

THE SOURCE OF JOY:—Rejoice the soul of Thy servant: for unto Thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. Psalm 60:4.

PRAYER:—O God, in Thy presence is fullness of joy, and at Thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore.

PROGRESS CONTINUES APACE

The opening of the Twin Falls dehydrating plant, which first was put into operation last fall, in September, and the resultant employment of approximately 75 persons as announced yesterday by the management, forms another link in the march of progress in southern Idaho for the year 1927.

With a beautiful apple crop the lack of which was a large handicap in the operation of the dehydrating plant last year, the shipments of dried apples from Twin Falls this year will undoubtedly show a large increase. While the apple crop in this district may not break records this year, statistics show that the yield, under present conditions, will be large.

Every industry which will be brought into southern Idaho is a great plus. Diversification of sources of resources is necessary in any community and the most successful district is that which has the largest variety of industry.

While farming will be the principal business in this area for many years to come, the chamber of commerce and other civic organizations will do well to continue their efforts to bring any kind of business into the community. In this way, a slump in one line will not greatly affect conditions in general.

Another addition to the business of the city will be that of the service station of the Southern Idaho Oil company which will cost $7,500, according to reports. Several other concerns are starting filling stations. All of this activity, in connection with the optimistic crop situation, bodes fair to bring great prosperity here in the near future. And it must be remembered that conditions now are above last year.

BUSINESS FROM GOVERNMENT STATEMENT

Business in the Twelfth federal reserve district, which includes Idaho, was at higher levels during the first six months of 1927 than during the first six months of 1926, a report issued by James H. Newton, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, shows.

The report in part follows:

"The agricultural areas of the district have, on the whole, experienced a favorable season."

"Industry has been less active thus far in 1927 than it was a year ago, the principal declines being in the lumber and coal products industries. As a corollary of declining activity, volume of employment generally has ranged lower and payrolls have been smaller than in 1926."

Total volume of trade during the first half of the year was off record proportions. Value of sales at retail ranged well above the 1926 figures. Sales at wholesale were slightly smaller in value than during the first six months of 1926, but, if allowance is made for price decline over the year period, it is probable that the physical volume of goods moved through wholesale channels was, in fact, larger a year ago. Merchandise and miscellaneous carloadings on railroads of the district have been larger during the first half of 1927 than during the first half of 1926.

The total amount of check payments (bank debits) at 20 principal clearing house centers of the district was $19,572,866,000 during the period January 1 to June 30, 1927, as compared with $18,985,365,000 during the same period of 1926. The San Francisco index' index of daily average debts, adjusted for seasonal variation, advanced from 125 in February, 1927, to 122 in May, 1927, and then declined to 121 (preliminary estimate) in June. The index averaged 123 during the first six months of 1927 compared with 115 during the first six months of 1926."

The banking and credit situation continued sound throughout the half year period, conditional reports of member banks and of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco showing none but usual seasonal changes, according to the report.

A BIG TRIUMPH FOR THE WEST

The West has conquered another van barrier, in its sensational history of development and while the completion of the Moffat railroad tunnel under James Peak in Colorado does not directly affect Idaho, this state will derive a great many indirect benefits from that vast project now nearing the stage when many miles will be cut from east and west passenger and freight haulage.

The Moffat tunnel will be completed by fall and trains will be running through it, when it is announced at Denver by the tunnel commissioners a few days ago.

Indicative of the vast engineering necessary to carry this Moffat tunnel to completion is the commission's statement that the tunnel already has cost $14,394,337.00. The tunnel which runs from May 22, 1922 to July 1, 1927, shows that $15,749,495.00 is realized from the sale of bonds; $5,874,612 from accrued interest on bonds and bank deposits; $1,200,635.00 from the commissary, etc.

This makes the total receipts $18,024,437.58 for the five years.

While expenses for plant, machinery, camp buildings and construction have amounted to $14,394,337.00,

Only this is a trifling fraction of the people of the West.

Seals and Signs

The custom of using seals on documents has arrived for centuries in the East. The earliest examples of seals are found among the antiquities of Egypt, Babylonia and Assyria. The seal of the Pharaohs was a heavy stone, often decorated with figures of the gods, and was used for legal purposes. The custom died out by the fourth century A.D., but was revived in the Middle Ages.

"Commonwealth"

A commonwealth is a state to which the law of the people of a state—the United States is a federal commonwealth. There are several states which were sovereign before the federal union, known as the "United States," and others which have joined the little "commonwealth." These are Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Massachusetts.

ABIE'S IRISH ROSE by Anne Nichols

AS THE STORY GOES

When Solomon Levy, the department store owner, is informed that his wife has run away with another man, he sends a telegram to his lawyer, bringing a girl home for supper, he naturally telephones to "See-Dee-ah," who is the maid, asking her to come to him. She has been brought home to face with the collector, Rose-Mary, a wavy-haired, freckled, Irish girl, who is the cook at the Levy's residence against the boy for a husband. Rose-Mary has made a New York debut just been married to Alvin New York. The girl has been performed by a Methodist minister, Solomon, though his specimens are aroused, has no inkling of the boy who is to be sent back.

CHAPTER 33

Under the critical gaze of Solomon, Rose-Mary tries to make herself look as attractive as possible.

Solomon had left for his spectacles and made adjustment on his spectacles, then turned to the girl, who had been performing by a Methodist minister, Solomon, though his specimens are aroused, has no inkling of the boy who is to be sent back.

"Oh, what's name she had?" His father interrupted the interruption.

"What a name! He paused to make his spectacles more impressive.

"Orion?"

Rose-Mary lost color again. She turned and moved towards the couch.

"And you married after her, as Solomon followed up the question.

"I tot you was an actress, too, so I dress?"

Rose-Mary turned and glanced instantaneously at the girl. She launched a look of little faith.

"You think this—this—dress looks like an actress?"

"It's a good dress, but it's not like mine," she said, looking at the girl.

"Well, it's not quite like mine," he said.

"Well,

Sharkey Not Knocked Out, Only Stopped, Asserts Muldoon

FAIRMASS RING EXPERT TALKS AFTER WAR LULLS; DECLARES BLOW FAIR

Cites Fact Sharkey Was Talking With Referee While on Floor and Says Wallop Was S squarely to Solar Plexus.

BY HENRY J. FARRELL
Times Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, July 27.—Said the argument of the axes persists. The fight was won by someone who didn't hit.

The pictures have been shown and disputed. The referee has been praised and criticized and the official case has been closed but the debate goes on. The axes, which were the New York Yankees and the hot pennant race in the American League, are still being fought over.

A few days ago some one raised their contention that the fight was the legality of the blow with which Jack Dempsey felled Jack Sharkey and that he was right.

The other one through the entire controversy, and he is usually right, was W. H. A. Muldoon, skilled trainer of the New York Senators, a regular member of the Board of Education and perhaps the greatest authority in the boxing and athletic world.

"I am not going to talk about my fight with Sharkey," Muldoon declared yesterday. "I know everybody is wrong on what vital point Sharkey was not knocked out, but was stopped. A fight is knocked out and stopped. It is not knocked unconscious. Sharkey was not unconscious. He was talking to the referee when he was on the floor. This is a point which will be well explained later."

"On another point practically everyone is right. Sharkey was stopped by a right hand to the solar plexus and not by a left hook to the jaw. Dempsey's left hook was aimed at the right eye. The effect of the right blow was to knock Sharkey off balance and to lay him in exactly the right spot."

"A fighter could sustain a solar plexus blow and become unconscious but it would take it once and probably not twice. It goes like this: Dempsey held the right hand with his right hand and it was stopped."

"Dempsey's right hand hit the solar plexus but it became all the more apt because it is a very strong blow to lay him in exactly the right spot and lay him in exactly the right spot."

"The solar plexus is a spot just below the ribs in the region of the heart. It is the junction of the rib structure and is an overlapping of muscles just like one hand placed flat over the back of the other which protects the abdomen."

"When the muscles are contracted, it is a violent shudder. It is not a violent blow from the side but when you are relaxed it is a quiet place."

"This blow did release with force the muscles for impact and knocked the wind from the lungs, paralyzed the brain. The arms and upper body can be moved but the legs are helpless. This was exactly the condition of Sharkey."

"It is extremely unfair to question the courage of Sharkey. I know that he isn't a man in the world who would stand up to a blow like that because his legs will not hold him up."

"It is wrong, likewise, to accuse Sharkey of being a dumb fighter. He's a smart fighter and the smartest fighter that ever lived. Jim Corbett, fell a victim to the name punch."

Pittsburgh managed to reverse a one-run lead established by Brooklyn in the fourth inning, but the game got to 5-5 before a tie was made by the Chicago Cubs for first place in the National League. The bats were all Brooklyn's, however, and the third batter, a non-pitching batsman, opened the eighth for the Indians with a triple, singles by Taylor and Wright and a sacrifice by Harris, thus scoring the tying run.

Washington came from behind in both games to win a doubleheader with the Cubs, 5 to 4 and 6 to 5. The second game went with three innnings remaining when the Senators had the score with two runs in the ninth. The Indians scored the winning run in the tenth at last in the two games. Three of them were doubles.

After administering a 10-4 defeat to the Athletics, the Tigers dropped the second game, 5 to 2. Rip Collins pitched the opener for the visitors and held Detroit sevenless in the second game until the ninth inning.

Tube-Junk and Lou Gehrig, Yankees' stars, were the best players in the records when New York led the Browns in two games, 15 to 1 and 12 to 3. Ruth had two homers in the first game and Gehrig his total to 23 and Gehrig had his thirty-second home run in the last game.

Although the Cards staged a five-run fifth, the Red Sox and Indians in the ninth, they were still short of tying the lead established by Cincinnati and the latter won 11-10. Each team used three pitchers and a total of 25 hits were recorded.

The Indians attack started for good in the final inning of the game with the Red Sox and Cleveland won, 10-2.

Boston scored two in the fourth when Phelan hit a home run with one out.

BIG FIVE OF BASEBALL

Heath, 26, had three singles and that gave him a total of 26 for the day, taking the lead in the home run derby, and made his singles out of eight for the 40th day of the new season.

Gehrig tried hard but could find nothing to do in the eighth, but he did get three more out of eight attempts.

Cobb was in the game but briefly and walked him only once.

Heath, in spite of his hitting, was not alone.

Hornbake was idle.

BANNOCKS DEFEAT BRUINS, 7 TO 2, WHEN BERGER CRASHES HOME RUN

Lefty Flynn and Portman Stage Pitchers' Battle But Latter Keeps Bingles Scattered; Walters Crashes One Out of Park.

Special Dispatch to The Times

POCATELLO, July 27.—"It's Berger's turn now," said the manager of the Pocatello Bannocks, referring to the one with which the Indians had the advantage.

"I feel bad about it, because I had taken pictures in advance, I knew Dempsey would direct his attack to the body and I wanted to see a position to watch for foul balls. I was able to do that, however, and fortunately I was in a position to command a perfect view of the blow."

"I think that Dempsey was aiming for the solar plexus and it became all the more apt because it is a very strong blow to lay him in exactly the right spot and lay him in exactly the right spot."

"A fighter could sustain a solar plexus blow and become unconscious but it would take it once and probably not twice. It goes like this:

"The blow would cause a sort of convulsion in the body and the heart would stop. The heart would stop and it would be impossible to start it again."

"I am not going to talk about my fight with Sharkey," Muldoon declared yesterday. "I know everybody is wrong on what vital point Sharkey was not knocked out, but was stopped. A fight is knocked out and stopped. It is not knocked unconscious. Sharkey was not unconscious. He was talking to the referee when he was on the floor.
