COOLIDGE THUNDERBOLT STIRS PUZZLE

Wall St. Holds Hopes Coolidge Will Run Again

Market Values Crash and Then Stage Recovery in Later Dealings.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Belief apparently persists in Wall street that President Coolidge will be presented again as a candidate in the autumn, even though he did not choose to be a candidate. That seemed to be the factor that aided the stock market to recover from its first dip of the month yesterday in morning.

Heavy selling orders which had accumulated over night were touched off at the opening and prices broke before the first half hour had passed. Recovery was under way and it continued through the remainder of the morning session.

Gederal Motors got back to 2274 after touching a low of 2214. Steel at 131 compared with its low of 134, and "Pepito" to 229, against its low of 226.

Prices were still below the previous closing, but market leaders appeared to have passed their crisis.

Dealing continued at a tremendous pace. In the first half hour same doubled $300 million in much-characterized dealings after the recovery from the sharp break appeared to be established at the end of the first hour. After another pause around the noon hour, dealing again took on an active pace. Sales in the first four hours totalled $16,430,000 shares against 14,000,000 shares in the same period yesterday.

HUGE AIRPLANE LANDS FREIGHT

Largest Craft Can Deposit Load on Ground While Going 100 Miles Hour.

By United Press

DETROIT, Aug. 3.—A huge monoplane, equipped to land its cargo from mid-air while flying at 100 miles an hour, was exhibited today for the first time at the Ford airport.

The first "flying freighter," built with "wings attached," it was towed onto the flying field from a giant "hanger" and "whip its three great motors" were started the noise shattered the air.

Described as "the largest airplane ever built," the craft measured 74 feet long, "the tips of its wings spanned 77 feet," with "wings attached." It was towed onto the flying field from a giant "hanger" and "whip its three great motors" were started the noise shattered the air.

"Shutters of Hoppers."

—Squire-Jaw—curly-haired—Walrus—tusked—was the name of the brachiose "aid agencies of the concern throughout the country."

Edgar Ford said that "a great deal of interest" in the new plane would be generated in the future. "The Ford Motor Company has more orders for commercial airplanes than all the other manufacturers combined," he said.

The new "parachute attachment" on the Ford plane will enable the "airplane to land on water" if it becomes necessary to permit the landing of the "Gull-Wing" descent of the plane.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Walter Johnson neglected her kitchen this morning. She hovered between her living room, filled with fresh flowers, and her dining room, with new silver sets.

Walter, Jr., 12; Eddie, 9, and Bobbie, 5, played in the yard with the four new pedigree fox hounds. Carter, 4, looked on from the new baby room. Barbara, 2, slept on the new puppy under her crib.

WHAT IS NEXT MOVE?

President Coolidge, yesterday stunned the nation, and particularly the republican leaders, by his announcement that he would not be a candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency in 1928.

Following the same simplicity which marked his induction into office following the death of the late President Harding, Mr. Coolidge summoned the newsmen gathered at his summer White House at Rapid City, S. D., before him and handed out a typewritten note: "Do not quote." To run for president in 1928? The only difference between the scene of the president's taking the oath of office and which marked his announcement yesterday was that the former was the birth of his father's farm home in Vermont at 2 in the morning and the latter in an ordinary school room in South Dakota which serves as his office during his vacation. Simplicity of surroundings featured great occasion in his career....

To say that the republican christians were startled by Mr. Coolidge's proclamation would indeed be stating the facts in a conservative manner. Throughout the summer efforts have been made by the various leaders that the president was gaining strength in popularity, part of the country and that he would overcome the objections to the so-called third term and the opposition to his candidacy in the west caused by his vote of the farm relief bill in the last session of congress.

The republicans have two choices. Either they must "draft" Mr. Coolidge—or they must select another man to make their case. They may draft the chief executive, but such a move is doubtful. Those mentioned in yesterday's reports as possibilities include Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Vice President Davies, London and Longworth.

Of the lot, Secretary of Commerce Hoover would seem to hold the best prospects of victory. Only recently it was reported that he had won much favor in the south through his handling of the flood relief situation and his recommendation to the president that congress be called in October to consider bond and legislation undoubtedly added to the friendly spirit he created south of the Ohio. Hoover naturally would poll heavily in California and in several of the western states, and therein lies a possible explanation of Mr. Coolidge's withdrawal from the race.

It is not beyond the scope of a fair guess to say that with a turn to Hoover, who has been mentioned for several years for the White House, Mr. Coolidge may have decided that the chances of the party were better with him out of the race in view of the farm situation; the trend of events at Geneva and the third-term objection.

Statements issued from time to time during the last year declare that Mr. Coolidge's health was good, may have some thing to do with his decision. It may be that the executive, if the facts were known, really is not in good health. The reports from Rapid City yesterday declared that the president's face recently has shown lines of worry and that there were dark marks under his eyes.

Some have blamed the Geneva arms conference situation for his worry and herein is a condition which is far more serious than the general public realizes. England has absolutely refused to curtail her cruiser strength after having accepted the invitation to the conference called by Mr. Coolidge, the primary purpose of which was to end such armaments. Reports from Geneva until yesterday were that there would be a recess of the meeting until fall—but previous to announcing that he was out of the presidential race, Mr. Coolidge emphatically declared that there would be no adjournment of the conference and that it would stand or fall at the present session. Just how close is this nation to a serious break with Great Britain? What is behind England's refusal to come to terms on cruiser strength?

After all is said about the causes of Mr. Coolidge's action and of the possibilities for republican nominees, the fact remains that there will be a great scramble to various hand wagons and that there is likely to be a sensational race for the nomination.

VIEWS OF EDITORS OVER NATION UPON WITHDRAWAL OF COOLIDGE

By United Press

Editorial comment in newspapers in all parts of the country today disclosed a variety of views on the future of the party. Coolidge's own view of his 16-word statement that he did not "choose to run for president in 1928."

The "choice" passed many editorial writers. Even the most ardent republicans were of no avail; all defined the word as meaning either a desire to run or a desire to leave which has been friendly to the president, said the word "choose" in the New England sense means.

As for the old republican papers, they were unanimous in expression of regret but divided on the result of the meeting. Washington and the Philadelphia "Inquirer" took the position that Coolidge had eliminated himself with his statement.

The New York Herald Tribune, the Boston "Advertiser," the San Francisco "Chronicle" and the Los Angeles "Times" equally strong administration supporters declared that the party and the country would "draft" him for another term.

"It is what the American people want and what the Los Angeles Tribune that will decide whether or not Coolidge will be a candidate," said the paper.

Democratic papers also were divided in their interpretation of the statement, although most of them seemed inclined to believe that Coolidge would not run again.

SCHOOL COAL CONTRACT TEST CASE IS FILED

Results of an investigation of the conduct of miners after this morning's meeting will be watched with interest throughout the country. The principals in the litigation are the Bettendorf Manufacturing Company and the trustees of the Independent School District No. 1 of Filer.

Cause for action is alleged by the plaintiff that miners, after the meeting, will be compelled to remain at the mine.

The miners, however, have agreed to go to work yesterday in try to get rid of the Shady of Shady Hill, charged with several illegal practices.

The hearing will be held at 10 a.m.

John E. Hammerquist, John Blues, Ernest Dexler and D. A. Eglebush, who composed the miners' delegation, accepted a $100 bill for gasoline fuel from the Filer Elevator company at a higher rate than the miners asked for.

The Bettendorf Mercantile company demands for an injunction against the defendants' commanding them to accept the bill of the plaintiff.

The miners, however, insist that the mercantile bill was lower, but that the fuel offered was of a superior quality.

The miners' attorney asks that the trial be adjourned until determination of the case in district court the defendants be restrained from accepting the bill.

Tommy H. Hackman, attorney for the plaintiff, states that the cause is of a test nature. He declares that each of boards accepting higher bids have never been brought to trial.

Martin W. Krumm Dies Here Today

Martin W. Krumm died at 7:30 a.m. this morning at the Twin Falls county hospital, where he had been a patient for the greater part of the last two years.

Surviving him are two sons, Edwin and Charles of Twin Falls; and a widow, Lottie Little Krumm, of Lehman, Wash.

Krumm was born at Columbus, Ohio, where he received his early education.

He married Miss Anna Nichols of Longmont, Colo., where they lived for three years, later moving to Ontario, Ore., where they made their home until 1914. They then moved to Idaho Falls, where he engaged in general farming. Mr. Krumm's health declined gradually and two years ago he became a patient of the Twin Falls Hospital.

The body lies at the Grosvenor parlor. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Appearing in court they were adjudged to either of two charges, disorderly conduct or assault. It was decided to tried them for disorderly conduct so that they could continue with the show at Caldwell.
