Comedian's Attorney—Desires Settlement But Says Efforts Will Continue.

By United Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Apparently no nearer peace than war, Charlie Chaplin's attorney, Frank Murphy, was returning to Del Monte, while his attorneys hastened preparations for his appearance in court next Monday to defend himself in Gary Chaplin's suit for divorce.

Rumors that a settlement out of court was imminent, the result of Mrs. Chaplin's third proposal of terms, were denied by Murphy, while Gavin McMurtry, defense counsel,

Frank N. Solheim.

"Efforts to exact a settlement have been underway for some time now, but in another way and probably will be up to the time the case is called in court, if it reaches that stage," he declared. "But I can't say that no solution has been found as yet."

Chaplin was in his city yesterday of Chaplin with Nathan Juran and Charles McNally, attorneys, and his wife, Helen Heydon Smith, who had come to him from New York, was believed responsible for the latest settlement rumors.

McMurtry's home "in here," he said, "and his being here in the city at the time of our conference with Mr. Chaplin, was due to the arrival of McMurtry's presence until we read of it in the newspapers."

Jones, Back From Geneva, Says Nation Needs Larger Commercial Arm.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Rear Admiral Harry P. Jones, member of the American delegation to the Geneva armistice conference today from Geneva advocated the upbuilding of a mercantile fleet.

"What this country needs is," he said, "a strong, active, commercial fleet which would act as an arm of our navy."

He expressed regret over failure of the Geneva conference to decide that it "would turn the eye of the world toward the sea and show what the sea means, to continue prosperity."

Cockiness All Right in Any Game if One Using It Is Absolutely Sure of Himself

BY HENRY L. PARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

UNITED PRESS—It's safe to say when you are playing a game that it's wise to be sure you can get along with it. Quiet confidence is better than noisy Jones has a well known record.

When Gordon Loden was awaiting a match with Helen Wills in southern Florida that had attracted much attention, he said to the publication: "Helen is such a girl. I think I am able to play well with her." And so it was.

Sharkey went out and signed with him and had all the advantage in the first round. Back in his corner he was howled out terribly by his newsmen.

"I'll mix you with him," Buckley told him. "We'll mix your head off. Don't stay in close. Hit him."

Sharkey looked at Bill with a smug smile and French said, "Bill, will give her a lesson. No one in the world can beat Sharkey."

Sharkey got up to his height in that match and she came up to the same box.

"That may change my mind about you," he said, "but I'm not enough to do it."

Competitors for the recent national open golf championships, it was reported, were emphasizing about the difficulties of the Oakmont course.

Mr. E. J. Shadburn from the Midwest, said:

"It's too early to fight."

"It's too early to knock them out in a couple of rounds and then get beat really badly by Tommy Armour."

Jack Sharkey, a young Boston boxer, had won with the brilliant precision of a chess master. He had thought he was the best on the water, especially after he and seen the other fighters.

He had been introduced to his opponent, Jim Maloney, a most ferocious fighter.

"That Maloney never drives a knockout punch," he said.

But his before the battle stances were—"Calm, cool, collected, and ready to go out there."

American Olympic athletes always seem to be in a hurry to get away and so far they have been able to get away with it. Next year, however, might be the exception.

I know of either one of those athletes good to bear an athlete admit that he is good but it is far more important to listen to the advice of one's coach.

It's not to Tevani that Malone was knocked back on the floor for ten seconds.

He was knocked back on the floor

for ten seconds.

It was Sharkey's last appearance in San Francisco this season.

Bruins Drop Close One, 3 to 2 Sunday, Then Beat Logan, 6 to 4

Both Tilt Should Be on Winning Side of Local Ledger
But Base-Running Spoils Good Hurling by Hurst in Opener; Coleman Hero of Second.

Although Twin Falls played good ball in their series, were mighty inferior in the tilt involving the Bruins' doubleheader. The Bruins were successful in halting only one run in the win column. The Bruins lost the first tilt 3 to 2, largely through poor work in the paths, and took the second 6 to 4.

The opening contest was odd in that all scoring was done in the third inning. Two hits were made by the Bruins to tally, whereas Twin Falls had two errors to pitch at the right time or being caught overrunning, which made any scoring difficult.

Hurst, who pitched with that gaudy, erratic pitching which is so hard to beat, opposed Hurst in the first encounter, as he did in the second game of the series once more, and he stuck to his strong tactics.

The Bruins outdid the Colgateans 6 to 5, and yet two extra-base knocks to one of the whalers. Hurst had nine more runs, but the Bruins had more runs, one which proved costly.

After going scoreless for the first two frames, the dual side went near across in the third. O'Shea had a single, while Hurst dropped his hard hit fly to left. McMurtry sacrificed him to second. Then Garrison was walked and he went to second, and when he tried to third, he got a foul tip.

Woodson, who was a thorn in the way throughout the series, came through with a timely single to right, and he scored when Hurst was sacrificed. Wren, to third after Coleyman had let him go to second to bunt, fumbled his hit—Woodson tallied on Donavan's error, and the dual side was deadlocked at two.

That however, ended the scoring for both teams for the rest of the battle.

The Bruins made a desperate bid in the eighth when Gardner doubled, Kecley singled and Coleman doubled. But Curly was nipped at third and Keeley was put out in a roundabout between third and home.

Keeley, who played two beautiful games at short, accepting 17 chances without the reprobate, bunt, passed a single, and then to his home town, a home run. That however, ended the scoring for both teams for the rest of the battle.

The Bruins made a desperate bid in the eighth when Gardner doubled, Kecley singled and Coleman doubled. But Curly was nipped at third and Keeley was put out in a roundabout between third and home.

Keeley, who played two beautiful games at short, accepting 17 chances without the reprobate, bunt, passed a single, and then to his home town, a home run. That however, ended the scoring for both teams for the rest of the battle.

CANFIELD WINS FLASHY GAME SATURDAY, 7-3

Rain Spoils Shutout for Little Bruin Southpaw; Colman and Lyke Swat.

Wally Colford was unable last Saturday afternoon and Twin Falls took the fifth game of the series with a 3-2 victory. The rain, however, after he had started to right, Johnnny plffered the key-ton bar and Colman on Freddie Pfahler's pretty fast ball, and the game was off.

Colman, however, came in the fourth. Schmitz was down on Pfahler's slip. He reached third when Colford got an off-the-hill hit, but Wally, who had just gotten out of the rain, got out that resulted in a double play, the second of the doubleheader started by Keely.

Wren, who had been hung up another in the fifth, had a double and Colman singled and Colman scored with a sacrifice fly to right.

A two-base hit by Lepert and a single by Woodson gave Twin Falls one more in the fifth, while Twin Falls was through with scoring as far as the game was concerned.

Successive whiffs by Woodson, Schmitz and Donovan in the sixth made things look bad for Walters and he went to second, and when he tried to third, he got a foul tip.

Wren, who was a thorn in the way throughout the series, came through with a timely single to right, and he scored when Hurst was sacrificed. Wren, to third after Coleyman had let him go to second to bunt, fumbled his hit—Woodson tallied on Donavan's error, and the dual side was deadlocked at two.

That however, ended the scoring for both teams for the rest of the battle.

Coleman chose to sit down for today's contest and started the show in three times the time it took Colman to hit his bat, ten times.

DR. WETHERBEE IN CAR WRECK

The car in which Dr. Charles Wetherbee and his daughter were riding came off a bridge into a ravine with such force that it was turned over and the front end was broken. Dr. Wetherbee was thrown from the car and was unconscious when he became blind by smoke and fire approaching the bridge.

Dr. Wetherbee, according to medical friends, was in a critical condition when appearing at a hospital the same time a brother and the driver of the car had left. He was not able to get up and had to be carried to the hospital. His wife and son have been admitted to the hospital.

Henry C. Hall, of Twin Falls, who was traveling west behind Dr. Wetherbee approached the scene in time to see the first car out of the ditch.

Spills Autoist;

. Then Drives on

Another bit of semi-drama took place two miles east of Filter in a Monday evening. Elton Wahlen, classmate of the late George Wahlen, student at the Idaho Agricultural College and Ray Duffell of Twin Falls were on their way to Burdickton, Idaho, to help in the construction of a dam there. They had been driving along the highway when they saw a dark object flying up in the ditch. As Wahlen approached the scene in time to see the first car out of the ditch.

Elton Wahlen, a boy who was injuring his eyes, was not easily hurt. Wahlen put on a mask over one eye. Nelson, an injured comrade, had a slight concussion of the brain.

The parties hurt had come to Twin Falls from Idaho Falls about two weeks ago to work at advertising soliciting.

BARBS

"The human brain is by no means a musical instrument," says Dr. Edward T. Tillyer, "but quite likely whether Dr. Tillyer is kidding us or we should think God for that."

An "invention" with the rear seat turned around is the latest innovation. The rest of this paragraph need not be written.

"The world," says Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, "is without a great many new ideas." Butler, you know, you blushing flower!

Maybe the President is trying to "hold the line" on the heart of the wall.

A man in Washington caught a pair of blue-eyes. He is of Birmingham, Ala., these days and bought a pair six years ago and still wears them! What's more, every day, and then have sold only once. The shoes are shown below—slightly worn but still serviceable. They cost three dollars when new.
