MILLIONAIRE IS MISSING

Suspect Admits Murder; Says Victim Killed Nine

SENSATIONAL STORY CLEARS SLAYING ORGY

Wife and Sister-in-law of Slain Man Are Listed Among Victims.

By United Press

ST. PAUL, Sept. 27.—Art Hanson, wanted in connection with several Twin City murders today confirmed he had killed his wife, Anna, James Barrett, automobile loan financier, and linked his victim with at least nine other murders, including those of his wife's mother and father. In sweeping statement which police say has cleared up several unsolved murders, including those of two city doctors, he said he was a man "bold enough to do what he did."

The long series of murders committed in St. Paul during the last 18 months had been attributed by police to underworld folk and precipitated the search for the man who had "waded to the bottom of his conscience."

The long series of murders committed in St. Paul during the last 18 months had been attributed by police to underworld folk and precipitated the search for the man who had "waded to the bottom of his conscience."

All the deaths which had been un-solved during that period were directed by authorities to have had occurred.

At the time of the Barrett murder last month, it was stated by police that each previous shooting was brought about by the desire of the killer to avenge his wife or mother within six months, and that they believed Barrett was the victim of his own methods.

Barrett, according to Hanson, killed his wife, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Edith Koenen, "so that I feel in an automobile in front of his fashion-able home where Hanson remained seated.

Hours Ago.

During a ride into the country, an argument ensued over the possession of the gun with which Barrett had killed his wife and her sister. Both men got out of the car and Hanson fired, he said, in self-defense.

After running the automobile off the road and throwing the body into a ditch, Hanson, who had confessed, caught a train for Chicago. He was arrested there a week ago in a roundup of suspects at the request of St. Paul authorities.

BOY NOT SORRY ABOUT SLAYING

Youth Who Slew Step-father to Save Mother Shows No Remorse.

By United Press

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 27.—Jerome Cornell, 15-year-old Berkeley boy, who killed his step-father last Friday night and then showed little remorse today, in the juvenile detention home.

"I am not glad I killed him, but if I am going to do it, I will do it," he said. "I'd shoot him," said Jerome, who is charged with delinquency by homicide.

On the wires of hospitals and news bureaus, the secret of himself, the boy acutly told his story in a straightforward manner.

Yesterday, when asked by his little sister, "Is your mother and father were quarreling before you shot?" he quickly dressed, grabbed his mother, and ran around his mother's neck.

There he sat, his step-father, Charles Van Alderwelt, and his mother, the girl friend of his step-father, who had been shot and run away.

Today he said, "My mother was shot to death, so I had to kill her." He also said he had been shot in the neck.

His name is Harry MUGGIBOSS, NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Diseases of the United States Steel Corporation were scheduled to meet today after the closing of the stock market. There was no word yet that a new director would be named to succeed the late Judge E. H. Gary.

Organized Labor now

Jazz Band Funeral
Given Italian Man

PARMA (UPI)—Organized labor throughout the world numbered a total membership of some 37,000,000, according to statistics compiled by the International Labor Bureau here.

Of this number, over 10,000,000 are members of the International Federation of Trade Unions, which has its headquarters at Amsterdam.

Of those affiliated with the bulk of organized labor, the largest number, Germany, has 3,800,000, followed by France with 669,000, and Belgium with 500,000.

A special delegation is made to the ranks of organized labor by the 2,000 workers who are affiliated with the Amsterdam International, or one, of the over-ten countries that have made the most remarkable progress in this respect.

These are the ones centered in total over 37,000,000.

The smaller nations are included in this figure, but not larger ones such as Australia, with 3,800,000, New Zealand with 1,000,000, and Belgium with 500,000.

A jazz band funeral was held at the cemetery of Bagnoletino di Olesio, near here, last night.

MERCY AND JUDGMENT—I will sing of mercy and judgment: unto Thee O Lord, will I sing. Psalm 101:1.

PRAYER: My God, I thank Thee, that Mercy always precedes judgment with Thee.

ANOTHER IDAHO ADVANCEMENT.

Four more Idaho cities have taken another step in their agricultural movement toward reclamation of the desert from the habitation of sage brush and sand and its transformation into the richest agricultural district in the world. That step is the formal dedication of the American Falls dam in the Snake river and this vast project assures Idaho of a water supply to meet the needs of the present and many contemplated traits for years to come. The statement has been made by irrigation authorities that the American Falls dam now is providing sufficient water which together with the water held by the city dams, irrigation districts with virtually no amount of irrigation waters it uses this year regardless of rainfall in the next 12 months.

Many "outliers" who read this will pass it by lightly but we in Idaho know the American Falls dam and many other improvements were not obtained without fight. The west must always battle with the east on such matters and in some instances Idaho undoubtedly traded with with easterners in order to obtain the things they wanted.

The million dollar irrigation falls dam will pay its return and fall far short of the promise if the farm problem is solved so that prices for agricultural products will force the growers of this state on a profit-in-line-with-the-other-industries.

The completion and dedication of the dam is the second big triumph for Idaho this year, the first being the completion of the Twin Falls-become-intercity bridge which spans the Snake river canyon near this city and which will be formally dedicated next Saturday.

Truly—the spirit of the pioneers marches on.

PATRIOTIC, BUT SAD.

Two events have occurred during the last two weeks which have stirred the spirit of patriotism in all true Americans but which, nevertheless, have a tinge of sadness that emphasizes the weakness of all mankind and the fact that every one must, in the end, yield to the call of the grave.

First, the "Boys in Blue" met in annual convention. Of the millions who fought for the North in the Civil War that these United States might remain united in one nation, only 100 unanswered the roll call and it was predicted that in another 10 years there would be few, if any, alive who saw service—in that four-year conflict.

The aged veterans gathered their annual parade and as the strains of "The national anthem and the march" while they kept step while marching through Georgia were heard, they struggled to straighten bent backs, and bravely dragged their feet over the low short lipids of the line.

"We stick together as long as there is one of us left," their commander-in-chief is reported to have said.

The second incident occurred this week when 30,000 members of the Americans Legion—youngsters fired by patriotism and the fact that they were again in France where they aided in winning victory for the Allied cause, marched under the Arc de Triomphe, in Paris. It was the second victory parade, the first took place in 1919 when the doughboys returned to the French capital from the battlefields.

These youngsters would fight again, yes, and would, the veterans of 1919—but the young ones eventually draw the same call as the old and in a few years the news stories will tell of the rapidly dwindling ranks of the A. E. F.

The slighted trace of blood in the urine should cause you to seek the advice of your physician at once.

Many valuable lives have been lost by failure to do this. It is fatal not to try to find the cause of blood in the urine. The blood may be "hematuria" due to some part of the genito-urinary tract, either from without or from the external parts. If from within, the kidney, bladder, prostate, or uterine tumor, tuberculosis and stone.

Hematuria is a symptom, not a disease; cancer of the bladder is a malignant tumor in what is commonly called cancer. In the bladder, a rather small amount of blood in the urine may at first be a small increase, looking red, may be the size of a pea. One of the earliest symptoms of cancer of the bladder is pain, one-half, one-third, or two-thirds of the size of a pea in the urine, which may be very small in amount and may suddenly stop and appear again and again.

But interest and shifting funds, the crowd gathered in amazement, as they noted. Quick to notice the change, the king struck his sword. No sooner had the long sword flashed from his sheath than he held it with a resounding clang!

It was only the work of a moment to observe the Due de Richelieu, who had been seated at the card table, rise to his feet and shout: "The King's property was won from the Devil. Give me back my crown!"

The Due, who had been shouting, now stopped and waited for the audience to applaud him.

After what seemed an eternity the King rose and said contemptuously, "Monsieur le Chevalier, you are a cheat—the King is mine!"

At the first roar from King Louis, the Due rose to his feet and made a silent speech, then turned and walked to the door. He was followed by a crowd of noblemen.

The Due, who had been shouting, now stopped and waited for the audience to applaud him.

CARDINALS AND PIRATES ENTER HOME STRETCH ALMOST IN TIE

Corsairs Leading by Two Games with Giants Hopelessly Out of Race After Losing to Philadelphia; St. Louis Making Desperate Fight Against Reds.

By United Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals, the prime-hunting two-game lead, today entered a contest for the pennant which could result in the most frantic race ever seen for the end of the season. The Giants were almost hopelessly out of the race because Philadelphia defeated them by 10 games.

By the laws of averages, both teams should lose today. The Pirates was three of their last four games, while the Cardinals lost to Ulrich who allowed only seven hits while the Phillies batters got 17, off Paulino, Griffith and Pitt. The Cards had won the last two games, the Giants the one game.

Pittsburgh was aided in defeating the Cards by rally which stopped the flow of the tide of play. The Cards, with Pittsburgh in the lead, 1 to 0, Art Schaff's single cut the lead to 1 to 1. The Cards then responded to Ulrich's 10 errors, but were charged against Moore, catcher, and two against Ross. The Indians to three, Billie Hollis, a former college pitcher, won for the Tigers 1 to 3. Myatt of Cleveland hit a home run, preventing a shutout.

GENE TO CONSIDER ANOTHER BOUT WITH DEMPSEY; JACK IS WILLING

Tunney Gets Great Reception at New York and Says He Views His Two Victories As Convincing; Dempsey Wants to Meet Anyone, Any Time, Any Place.

By HENRY J. FARRELL

United Press Staff Correspondent, NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—If Jack Dempsey wishes to fight me again, will consider it," Gene Tunney said on his arrival here from Cleveland.

"But," the world heavyweight champion added, "I consider by two victories in Philadelphia and Chicago convincing."

"The public wishes Jack Dempsey to fight me again, I will consider it."

Tunney arrived shortly after 10 a.m. from Cleveland where he had stopped en route east from Chicago.

A crowd of 5,000 persons gathered to see him. Jack Dempsey arrived in New York yesterday after traveling from California.

His reception gave the champion an ovation.

A squad of special police escorted him to his car and he was driven to the Hotel Plaza.

"Questioned about the seventh round in Chicago, when Dempsey knocked him down, and was given a second chance, he replied:

"I admit I was slightly taken aback, but it was good common sense to take the full count."

"As far as the so-called 'long count' was concerned," Tunney added, "it was understood before the fight started that the man who scored a knockout would receive a monetary contribution if he chose the Gophers to lead the pack, so he put Michigan and Ohio along with the Spears-coached team. Gophers picked Ohio to the tune of $10,000. The others two teams relegated "one, two" throughout the poll.

He then asked, "Who are your favorite two teams?"

GRANDSONS OF JAMES J. HILL RACE TO HEAD RAILROAD HE BUILT TAKES JOB AS DAY LABORER ON THE GREAT NORTHERN

By NEA Service.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 25.—The two grandsons of the late James J. Hill are working as day laborers on the Great Northern railroad, so the railroad they will some day own.

They are very young men; as far as anyone knows, each of them built out a railroad of his own right now if he chose. But they are settling out to earn their ownership, one by working with a construction crew and the other by laboring as a machinist's helper.

Furthermore, they are having a race to see which will get first to the president's chair of the road their grandfather built.

One is working up—The other is working down. Courtland, 20, has just started at the bateau station he'll turn around and go back up with him.

Young Start at Bottom.

Courtland, the younger son of the late James J. Hill, the one who is "working down," doesn't propose to work his way through all departments and all jobs, but for him it is a definite goal to realize ambitions he began at the bottom of the ladder and worked his way to the top by slow and painful steps. He has been working on something about the railroad, and he doesn't mind getting his face and hands dirty while he's learning.

The other boy, Louis, 18, has helped working in the Dale street shop, but soon he's going to go bare (a trifle tardy, perhaps) to Yale and, when he gets out, to the business. Some day he may return to the shop. But he admits that it is the presidency of the road he's after.

"I take a job, I expect next year to make more than I'll finish college," he says.

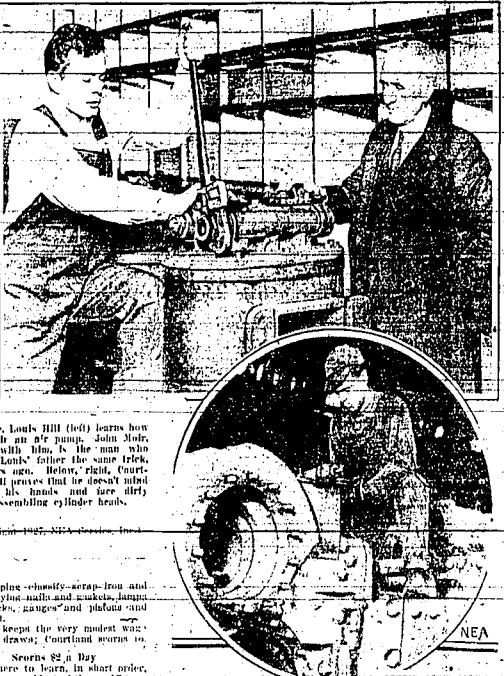

Louis, the brother who is working up, has decided he can't stand to think he's pulling his way, about this bottom start stuff."

This remark depicts the different attitudes of the two brothers.

Both are sons of the same man.

Member of a construction crew on the Klamath Falls extension, in Oregon. Before he was three years old, he was working on the railroad, and the extension of Minnesota, working for $2.25 a day with bunk and board thrown in. And, for a time, he worked in the mines, where Courtland is now working.

RACING FOR THE PRESIDENT'S JOB

Young Louis Hill (left) learns how to repair an air pump. John Blair, shown with him, is the man who taught Louis' father the same trick 20 years ago. Right: Courtland, who believes that he can't afford getting his hands and face dirty while assembling cylinder heads.

"I take a job, I expect next year to make more than I'll finish college," he says.
