Young Men Complete Their Say About the 'Ideal Young Lady'; One Is Poetic

The conclusion of the series of letters received by the Rev. C. C. Curtis on the "Ideal Young Lady" topic for his sermon four weeks ago, with the letters will deal with the "Ideal Husband."

The first letter today is the poem, the outstanding and most original piece of which reads: "She must be a poetess and must be for the glory we all follow: 'Inclined to poetry write: I like."

"She'll fit with Pastry."

"Following you will represent my ideal young lady, though million after millions must be made."

In a few lines of verse, I'll describe my ideal.

"An ever my spirit such freedom gave."

"She must first be a Christian with a heart that is pure."

"So that from her father's hand she may remain rich."

"She must always be upright and thorough in life most try."

"She is a great negotiator for her Maker on earth."

"She should always be cheerful, with a heart that is light."

"And a voice that is gentle to ring out on the hillsides."

"She must have a pure love that flows from all throes."

"Cause pure love brought her life by the death of the cross."

"She must have a sound body and a cultured mind, too."

"To honor a husband, as all wives should do."

"She must be clean in her person and neat in her dress."

"And keep a healthy condition in the home she will with her."

"She must not be a flirt, but a plain steady lover."

"And must not be too timid to become a true mother."

"I demand that the marry, but this passionate love."

"But this true generation which comes from the past."

"She must not by my companion, my mother through life."

"God command me to do as when becoming a wife."

"She must have a good coat and must be able to sew."

"And an energetic spirit is demanded of her."

"It's a grave undertaking, this matter for life."

"So my persistence guide me in choosing a wife."

"And when I have met her."

"And to the altar we stride."

—Don't forget to say 'Hi' and 'The life of my bride.'

—Prayer Single Standard.

The last letter today is the poem "Answering this question is like"

...the fact that range opposite to age, sell before being the first one to bear your name.

The specifications are based on the single standard of morals, that is, no one should be allowed to marry before being clean and pure in his or her life.

...for both sexes, is to have absolute chastity of body and mind, and to be a standard of morality.

...the first of the poem, the second one, but an unlimited quantity of comfort and composure of God's creatures, not for the glory we all follow for the glory we live to God and our fellowman.

...they should be to meet. In fact, she should be to meet. In fact, she should be to meet. In fact, she should be to meet.

USES OF FOUR SPEED TRANSMISSION GIVEN

Since its appearance several months ago the new four speed transmission has attracted unusual attention. An entirely new sense of quiet control while driving, long the aim of automotive engineers, has been achieved in this new car, according to W. S. Cooke, president of Modern Motors, Inc., local dealer.

Absence of vibration in fast driving, considered of major importance by many motorists, is another highly valued feature of this model. The four speed transmission principle increases a driving economy. This economy, less engine wear and less gas and oil consumption.

One of the four different speeds of the eight-cylinder Pease are explained by Mr. Cooke as follows: First speed is intended for use in making a start on hillsides, a climb out of rough places or a start in city and or mud. Second speed is always used in second gear. This gear is also used in climbing steep grades. Third is intended for a quick get-away, top speed in hills or getting down mountains and fourth for normal driving and high speeds in silence.

It has been found that the new ratio of engine revolutions to car speed will, in a year's time, save from two to three months of driving wear on motor parts. It is a fact that the engine in this car travels fewer miles per mile of travel than ordinary engines.

Although this new "Pease" is in a class with the best of its kind, it is a fact that the new transmission is 50 per cent lighter than the old one. When changes to third speed are made, for fast acceleration, the engine is accomplished with ease as speeds are increased up to 100 miles per hour. It is just as useful in descending steep grades as in ascending.

Other improvements have been made in the complete car. The new type of engine is made in the complete car. The new type of engine is made in the complete car.
