MEXICO POLICY IS UNCHANGED

Alleged Expose of Calles Tampering in Nicaragua Situation is Ignored.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Administration officials today said there would be no change in the present friendly American policy toward Mexico as a result of a recent article which exposed that the Calles government subsidized the recent Nicaraguan revolution, published in two newspaper articles by the Washington Herald.

The state department, continued to ignore the incident on the ground that it had no information regarding the authenticity of the alleged documents. Anything aimed to interfere with the policy of friendly relations between the two governments, being made by American Ambassador Dwight F. Davis in Mexico City, is frowned upon by officials here.

Alleged documents, reproduced in the second Herald article appearing today, purported to show that Calles had a secret conference arranged by the state department in October, 1926, to end the Nicaraguan revolution, which was broken up by President Calles of Mexico.

An alleged cable from Gen. Jose Alvarez, Calles' chief of staff, to Foreign Minister Siles, was reproduced, and seemed to incite the Nicaraguan liberal leader Siles, through the Mexican ambassador in Guatemala, to "Western" financial aid. The cable would withdraw if Siles accepted different peace plans than those contained in Mexico City.

DEMOCRATS IN WAR PARLEY ON MAJORITY RULE

Shaver is Aroused Over Agitation to Recind Famous Two-thirds Margin.

By PAUL H. WHITE, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(U.P.)—Shaver, chairman of the democratic national committee, will hold a council of war among party leaders here tomorrow.

Shaver was understood to be aroused over agitation among some members of the democratic national committee for abrogation of the rule requiring a two-thirds majority in national conventions for the nomination of a presidential candidate. There is a movement to change the national committee's rule to a simple majority at its meeting here January 12 recommended.

Deeply involved in the situation is the candidacy of Gov. Al Smith of New York. It is generally agreed among authorities that Smith might get a majority of the next convention but would have a hard time getting two thirds of the delegates in states opposing Smith would have a veto power with their control of some one-third of the strength of the convention.

So under the surface an important battle is being fought as to whether Smith should be permitted to have a demonstration.

The Texas company was granted a permit of occupancy of the city-owned building at the corner of Main and Washington streets, which is to be used as a radio station. The permit was granted under the same terms as in the announcement yesterday that it was being sought. It was the council's decision that the structure be used for that purpose.

Considerable time was taken up in the meeting in the discussion of the matter, but no definite action was taken. The proposed new radio station is to be located in the city of Twin Falls.

T. J. Douglas, radio commissioner, reported that he had been asked if the city was going to buy the building. It was stated that there is no money for such purchase. Mr. James H. Whelan, president of the Twenty-first club, said that he is in favor of a program of the city to buy the building.

Today, the Girl Reserves organization of this district launches a campaign for $2075 with which to carry on its activities during the coming year. This is an enterprise worthy of the support of every citizen.

The people of this area have responded generously to requests for finances by the Boy Scouts and other organizations but they should not overlook the Girl Reserves. This body is an asset to any community, the same as the Boy Scouts and its ideals are just as high. The slogan "My City is Greater Than His Woundings" is true and it is being taught during the school age that will develop the character of the girl in later years, the same as for the boys. And, happily, character building is one of the main items in the Girl Reserves' program.

The Girl Reserves' work was organized in southern Idaho in 1923 and at present there are more than 200 members in clubs in the five towns making up the Twin Falls district, this city being headed by Mrs. H. G. Hildner.

The activities of the organization have expanded until it has been found necessary to employ a full-time Girl Reserves secretary and part of the money derived from the campaign this week will be used for that purpose.

The Girl Reserves is non-sectarian, membership being open to girls of all church denominations. The code of the body, which follows, best explains its work and purpose:

- G ration in manner.
I impartial in judgment.
E ready for service.
L loyal to friends.
E eaching toward the best.
E earnest in purpose.
S eeking the beautiful.
E eager for knowledge.
E everent to God.
V istorious over self.
V ery dependable.
S incere at all times.

As in the case of the Boy Scouts, the work of the Girl Reserves is the best recommendation for support and that much good has been accomplished can not be denied.

HOW ABOUT THE TWIN FALLS AIRPORT?

Will Twin Falls take advantage of the opportunity to establish an airport which is offered in the present rapid development of such enterprises throughout the country and in having a mail, express, passenger and light freight aerial line? Or will those who have it in their power to put the proposition into operation let the chance slip by and later see airplanes soaring between Salt Lake City and Seattle or crossing this part of the country in other directions but not stopping here simply for the lack of some definite action which plan has a chance of being carried to a successful conclusion?

Airplane lines are the coming method of rapid transportation and anyone who denies that statement is blind to the facts as presented by Federal statistics or even ordinary observation.

Initiative of the business of early action in obtaining an airport for Twin Falls are the firms issued recently by the assistant secretary of aeronautics of the United States department of commerce.

There are at present 875 municipal, commercial or private unimproved but permanent landing fields, a great many of which are unsatisfactory and in need of development in accordance with the standards suggested by the department.

In addition, airports of one grade or another were under discussion in 144 cities with the number growing constantly. It is estimated by the assistant secretary of aeronautics that there will be fully 1,192 airports of one grade or another in 1930, airports of which a large portion will be municipal in fact or in practice.

Illustrated descriptive bulletins are published by the department of commerce on all airports as fast as conditions permit. The literature is also under an annual amount of unimproved auxiliary fields, of which there were approximately 3,000. A register of these is maintained with the territory of the airports, for flights of scheduled routes by news agencies or other commercial air service operations or private lines.

Much of this development has been directly aided by the department of commerce through its publications. Some 4,000 of these have gone to cities, commercial organizations, engineers, editors and others directly interested in airport development.

In addition, personal advice and aid in planning or construction has been given in scores of cities by the assistant secretary or his personnel of the three divisions of his office while an immense volume of correspondence has covered every imaginable phase of the subject.

This would indicate that the government and large airline corporations are willing to give every assistance possible in the establishment of routes and ports and this would undoubtedly be particularly true of the western part of the country where good ports are scarce and where the immigration of lines will be of great benefit to the business and general development.

However, nothing can be accomplished unless some of the leaders of the chamber of commerce gets behind the program.

BOTH GETS 'SLOTTED' RECOGNITION.

Ruth Elders' trip over the Atlantic may have been a "wild goose chase" of the kind which has become a tradition, etc., as claimed by the morning Twin Falls paper, but the fact that President Coolidge thought enough of her feat to invite her to attend a luncheon at the White House yesterday with 15 of the nation's leading aviators. And another thing—the president led the march to the dining room, with Ruth Elder on his arm. This is a compliment which is not often accorded to a woman. They were graciously led Ruth and the president head the procession and came in second Mrs. Coolidge's escort.

Putters-historians may speak of this time as the dawn of the era of wings—or they may just call it the flighty age.—Los Angeles Times.

"Electricity!— The Foe of Drudgery"

Says Mrs. John D. Sherman President General Federation of Women's Clubs "Electrically equipped homes mean happier and more healthful homes. The cost of electrically operated labor-direction devices is offset many times by the saving, the increased efficiency, the protection to health and the contribution to the general well-being of the family of such devices."

THE constructive efforts of the forward-looking electric power companies of the United States have released an ever-increasing number of women from the exacting duties of the household to more congenial and interesting pursuits of life.

Every new electrical invention finds an abundance of power ready to serve it. Through the enterprise of these companies, inspired by individual initiative, electric power plants and service facilities are being constructed five years in advance of consumer demand. Since 1900, the capacity of these plants has been doubled every five years.

Keenly alert to their social obligations, these electric power companies have not been content to rest on the expansion of their facilities. "The most ex-

We know what we like, don't we, Old Pipe!

PRINCE ALBERT, and plenty of it, huh? Well, we can justify that on any number of counts. It's more than mere preference. There are sound reasons for liking Prince Albert above anything else.

Take fragrance, for instance. P.A.'s emblem all dropped there. Every time I open the tidy red tin, I get a brand-new thrill. A tobacco that smells like that would have to be good, if you ask me. Yes, Sir!

And then taste. Every puff tells a man that P.A. is cool and refreshing, with a mellow-mildness that is a revelation. Mild, yes, but not wishy-washy. P.A.'s rich, full-bodied flavor balances its mildness and makes it a smokel!

But all the talk in the world won't do a man any good, unless he gets on it. A load of long-burning P.A. in the bowl of his pipe will tell him volumes—and in language he likes. It's the personal test that counts, after all. I don't believe I can do to that.

URGES QUALITY IN COAST MART

BOISE, Nov. 12. The following summary of conditions in Pacific coast markets was made by L. S. Spangler, representing the state department of agriculture and the state chamber of Commerce.

"In summarizing facts concerning our coast markets, the factors to be far the most important of Idaho products. At the present time it is the most important market from an economic standpoint.

"We should be able to maintain this market until for these purposes and increase consumption of our products as the population increases in Los Angeles. Idaho shippers should not be satisfied, however, with the present consumption of Idaho products in this market, as a thoroughly convinced that consumption can be increased if Idaho shippers will give attention to quality and attractiveness in packing when shipping. These points can not be over-emphasized as importance is the most important factor when bids are made.

"The geographic location of San Francisco makes it a less favorable outlet for Idaho products. Its proximity to heavy production in the Sacramento valley, and the advantage which Oregon and Washington have in a climatic respect, make it difficult for Idaho to look in this port for an outlet of a very large quantity of the more bulky products such as apples and potatoes.

"Sacramento and adjacent territory has been and probably will continue to be a market for Idaho potatoes, they have used over 200 to 250 cars annually.

"Outlets of grain and livestock, important at present times, are also available. However, Idaho ranks first of the other states in the number of head of cattle, sheep, and hogs and is one of the best exporters of grain.

"It is generally admitted that the facilities on the Pacific coast for a market for her products, I would say that quality and attractiveness of the product will do more to increase business there than any other one thing.

Fliers May Get New Trans-ocean Bureau

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The commerce department probably will not soon establish a trans-oceanic flight weather bureau, following recommendation of such a plan by some of the nation's great fliers at a meeting with Commerce Air Secretary McCracken.

While the fliers generally agreed that United States weather forecasts for ocean flights were far superior to those in Europe, they voted out an organization specifically for this purpose would aid greatly in developing trans-oceanic aviation.

The fliers emphasized that more cooperation was needed from ships at sea, land weather stations and commercial meteorological services in compiling accurate data.

Flag Oath Breaks Up Family

Because his parents refused to allow him to repeat the "flag oath" in school, Russell T. Chubb, 12, has been taken from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tennant of Binghamton, Wash. The parents hold that "obedience" to the flag means willingness to fight their fellow men which, they say, is against the Biblical command to love one's neighbor. For two years, Russell, as a ward of the county, has been living with a childless couple. Court officials refused to divide his whereabouts. The boy and his parents are pictured above.
