LOCAL BOWLING TEAMS GETTING THEIR STRIKE

The bowling teams of the Grill cafe and "Bunchies" went with the other night and yesterday, standing the record of the Twin Falls Commercial Bowling League. Local pin topplers are making a name for themselves by having been without the opportunity to smash pins for a long time in this city. They will soon be ready for their outside competition.

Tonight at 7:30 is fast representing the bowling club in Twin Falls will decide an old issue with the attraction last night.

Both sides battled hard, and it was not until the last minute of play that the gridders were able to pull away from the three-eight and ninth graders. Tim Robertson and Rex Dilbeck led the winners in scoring.

The lineup and scoring was:

Gridders (12)	Wolverines (11)
A. Keaton (2)	Wolverines (1)
Robertson (3)	Forward
Green (1)	Forward
Finch (2)	Center

CROWDED GYM BECOMING BASKETBALL PRATICE

With basketball becoming more popular each year, the grocery store gymnasium at Twin Falls high school is more crowded than a subway station after the last clock has been punched and is more sought for use than almost any other place in the city. The four class teams are busy preparing for their tournament. The junior high has a team practicing. The girls' team takes its turn. The men on the faculty have an organization, and the women instructors are thinking of organizing a team.

REIN'S NAME OMITTED

In a recent story that appeared in the list of Bruha who had won letters in football this fall the name of Al Berg was inadvertently omitted. Al played more than the number of quarters necessary to win a moustache. He and Floyd Lincoln alternated at holding down a guard berth. Al got away to a post start, and then just as he was beginning to find himself he was bothered some by injuries.

Club, the Ethnological

Unfavorable to Sweden

Have lots of Irish, Scotch-Irish and German your baseball club if you want to win games. Such is the gist of the advice given by Ty Cobb when he visited the club recently. He says that those nationalities are most ideal for a ball team for fighting heat. He admits that a few Germans sprang in world on this, but when it came to Sweden, Ty said, "That's what the Swedes. They like to cut up too much to be first class players."

When the Georgia player mentioned the Swedes he knew, Walter Johnson was not a Swede, and Cobb has a lot of admiration for the famous shutout twice. The warning issued by his long-standing tilt with Howard Ehmke. You perhaps remember that this pair did not get along well on the same

BIG LEAGUE SCOUTS HOUND MEET OF MINORS TO BOLSTER FOR 1928

Several Big Time Managers Admit They Are Willing to Trade and Sell Everything Down to Uniforms and Bats; One or Two Standing Pat.

By FRANK GIBBY
Editor, Press-Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—While the annual baseball meeting which starts in Dallas tomorrow is properly a minor league party, everyone who knows baseball knows that no major league club will fail to be represented. The big fish will be around ready to gobble up the most desirable of the little fish, and many a man who is only a bush leaguer today will be headed for fast company before the week is out.

En route to Dallas to sit in at the proceedings an "unofficial observer," representative of the 16 minor league clubs made known to the United Press their particular requirements in building for 1928.

Secretary Grabner of the White Sox, for instance, admitted that Chicago was looking around for "what would amount to just about a brand new ball club."

Uncle Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers, another who would trade his club, uniforms and all, if the right opportunity presented itself.

On the other hand, Barney Dreyfus and Sam Watterson of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and many a man who will still Bill Veeck of the Cubs said he "only wanted the season wad open tomorrow."

Here to what some of the other clubs have on their minds as the minor league meeting gets under way.

Chicago Field: "No trades pending, but Jack Henrick's is in Dallas looking for catchers."

Cleveland Indians: Billy Evans, now general manager, way of talking out of turn, but the sports editor after Bruce Harris of Washington for Boston.

Boston Braves: Judge Fichtelberg, former coach, with a near tangle in his tongue, is willing to add some battling strength to give his new manager a leg break, if the strength isn't too costly.

New York Yankees: Well fixed, except for your pitchers to replace Shanley and Heuser, who were released the other day.

St. Louis Browns: Ready for a shakeup. "I'll trade the whole damn club," says Phil Blevins.

St. Louis Cardinals: "My hope is to have the best team in the league next year," says Branch Rickey, president of St. Louis. "About fifteen million dollars, whom the fate has been trying to trade off for us. I think the chances are 75 per cent both will be with us again."

New York Giants: Out for battery men with an eye open for an outfielder. John McEwen playing with the idea of adding Ty Cobb or Tris Speaker to the club, purely as a drawing card.

Chicago Cubs: Ready to play ball. Chicago White Sox: Perhaps the most ambitious of all the majors, franchise club secretary, admits they would like Slinger Smith, Bob Mitchell, Bourque, Gasella, Myke Thomas and others.

Brooklyn Robins: With a ball club made up of Jerry Dodge, Larry Vance and Little else, Uncle Robbie has eyes, ears and pocketbook wide open.

Washington Senators: Clark Griffith out to save money and build up a young ball club. Judge Rice and Snicker on the market.

Philadelphia Athletics: Connie Mack also is in a retrenching mood, having made the mistake of firing with both walls in a desperate bid for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Aliens Urged to Join Class in Citizenship

Under the direction of the Americanization committee, but apart from the school for non-English speaking people, is the class in citizenship, offering civics and history, being conducted for the benefit of residents of Twin Falls and community who desire to take out citizenship papers. The local people in charge especially urge those who are interested to begin the work at once.

A. H. Nelson is conducting the class, which meets Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 in the high school building, and L. Houtin has offered his services. Should the enrollment warrant, and the numbers of the class desire such action, more evenings a week may be devoted to these two subjects.

These classes cost students for the examinations required to obtain papers of citizenship.

Recent country English classes are conducted, four nights a week for foreign speaking people.

defeated Mrs. Molla Mallory to win the world's championship.

The Feb. 16, 1926, Miss Lenglen met and defeated Miss Helen Wills, the young American champion, at Cannes, thereby strengthening her claim on the championship. She remained the unquestioned champion, until she turned professional.

Since then Miss Wills, through outstanding victories over women players from every country, has been considered the champion. There has been popular demand that Miss Wills meet Miss Lenglen again, to decide which is the greater player.

RICE SELECTS 11 SCHOOLS ON ALL-AMERICAN

By United Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—All-American Rice, who served as selector of the 11 schools which appear in the list of the 1928 All-American football team, has announced the following: Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Stanford, Cornell, Columbia, Brown, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

"Ball players are paid to bat in the position the manager desires and carefully bound to perform where the manager believes they will be of the most use. Two things they must always do: one run out every hit and slide into every base, when by so doing they either increase their chances of being safe or make it more difficult to complete a double play."

That was the slogan of John McGraw when the Cuyler case was under discussion. Jack Henrick's of Philadelphia who was present at the same time, tersely remarked:

"Any big league manager who doesn't run his ball club to suit himself will shortly be looking for a new job."
