Your Buick Dealer stands back of the USED CARS he sells

Your Buick dealer's reputation is worth far more to him than the profit on any used car transaction.

He is the head of an established business. He expects his business to grow steadily, year after year.

He knows that to get more business, he must continue to please his present customers.

He carries a representative stock of used cars—including both used Buicks and cars of other makes.

He offers you your choice of many makes and models, covering practically every price range.

You can ask his honest opinion of any car in stock and receive an honest answer. He wants you to be satisfied with the purchase you make because he wants you as a used or new car customer.

You're sure of a square deal when you buy from the Buick dealer. He knows that it is good business to stand back of the used car he sells you.

BIBLE VERSES AND PRAYER

THE HAPPY—He that hangeth a matter wisely shall find good, and without transgression in the Lord, happy is he.—Prov. 16:20.
PRAYER—Blessed is the man whose delight is in the law of the Lord.

FROM RACE TRACK JOCKEY TO VICE-PRESIDENT

It may be accepted as a strange co-incidence that both candidates of the Republican party for the offices of President and Vice-president are men of humble birth.

In a recent issue of The Times, special mention was made in detail of the career of Herbert Hoover, candidate for President.

We desire to call the attention of the younger generation, especially the boys, to the strange career of Charles Curtis, Senator from Kansas and now running mate of Herbert Hoover as Vice-president.

We are told that Charles Curtis was born near North Topeka, with Indian blood in his veins and that he became an orphan at the age of five years. He was then sent to live with relatives on an Indian reservation in Kansas and at sixteen signed up as a jockey on the Kansas race tracks.

And then came the awakening. He became convinced that a young man who is without an education has a small show in this world, so he secured an opening as a newspaper reporter and spent his evening hours in studying law. Eight years later he was made prosecuting attorney of Shawnee County, Kansas. That was the direct result of rigid application to a well-defined program which had for its purpose the acquiring of such learning as might fit him for a wider career of usefulness than that of a jockey.

It was in 1907 that he was first elected to the United States Senate, where he made a name for himself as a student of good government and parliamentary procedure. In the course of events Curtis became a majority leader of the Senate, this selection following the death of Henry Cabot Lodge.

Senator Curtis of course has not had the wide variety of experience which has fallen to the lot of Herbert Hoover but he is undoubtedly a strong force in his party and is tremendously popular in the farm belt. The Republicans have used wisdom and discretion in making Curtis the team-mate of Hoover in order to hold the farm vote in line.

THIRTEEN MONTHS PER YEAR OR TWELVE?

That is what you are going to be asked to decide. We have all been hearing the proposition discussed pro and con, fore and aft. It has been something possible, but remote—one of those ideas at which you laughed and then dismissed as too chimerical for serious consideration. For if that happened, how would you know where to put your birthday. And besides it never has been done, and why be revolutionary?

However, there is a committee for calendar simplification suggested by the League of Nations, to work toward an international cooperation in the matter, and George Eastman of Rochester, New York, is the national chairman for the United States.

And Mr. Eastman has just returned from abroad and announces that he proposes to see what the people have to say about it. It is certain to be plenty. Whether for or against, does not signify, but personal and editorial comment is one of our best known vices.

The League of Nations addressed a letter to Secretary of State Kellogg asking the cooperation of this country, but as the United States is not a member of the League, the secretary decided that official cognizance of the matter would not be good form, and turned the letter over to Mr. Eastman, who has shown much interest in an international revision of the calendar.

Mr. Eastman does not state how the nation-wide inquiry is to be conducted, but does indicate that it will be thorough and will be conclusive of the opinion of the American public.

So, which would you rather have? Twelve months of unequal length or thirteen of equal length?

And what should the newcomer be named?

And where should he be placed?

We are surprised at the comment of the Lewiston Tribune which, in mentioning that a five-day week is being agitated for the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and that the movement is perfectly proper, suggests that keen observers of ladies' garments cannot but wonder why two days a week should not be quite ample to maintain the proper balance between supply and demand.

A Canadian newspaper of recent date carried stories of nine fatal automobile accidents in one day in various sections of the Dominion. Canada is evidently becoming modernized too.

Some are buying 1929 models in 1928, and others are buying 1924 models this year.

As a general thing, the man who likes five-cent cigars has no objection to a ten-cent cigar when it is given to him.

Daily Poem

AMONG THE MOUNTAINS

The mountains, hills, the mountains from my view.

Ver-er-er, I know are near: their reach skyward through the clouds to greet the blue.

The mountains, hills, the mountains from my view.

Unfettered things in soul may know that not within the body's prison lies.

Save as in dreams it breathes the over-ful and yet clear, of heavenly harmonies.

Yet I am speeding onward through the night in their warm and safety as in day.

The freely day, upon the earth were bright To guide and cheer the traveler on his way.

Life has its darkness and its mystery. Yet I walk at times' abstrahant, forlorn.

May strength receive to face them valiantly. Till on the mountains' I shall see the morn.

—H. T. J. Coleman.

Other Viewpoints

THE GOLDEN FLEECE

Lewiston Tribune

Those sturdy motor launches which ply the turbulent Snake above Lewiston have been exceedingly busy the past few months.

They have been chugging up and down the river, transferring the products and equipment of one of the most profitable "sheep years" in Idaho history.

It has been no easy job, either. Supplying, shoring crews and equipment waiting to be taken to the upriver camps. Great sack upon sack of clean, heavy wool waiting at the ramps to be sent out to the world through Lewiston.

Weather conditions, hasty production, the wool clip and prices received for it have made the job an exceedingly painful year.

The sheep commission estimates that the net profits from wool and lamb will be close to an average of 25 per cent. On a basis of 2,000,000 ewes that means the industry will bring into Idaho $10,000,000 more than it cost to produce its 1928 crop.

Idaho lambs are among the finest produced. Born in sheds and protected from mother and wild animals in the mild climate of the river valleys, they develop faster and become fine, heavy animals which bring top prices in the livestock markets.

Idaho's ewes produced 100 per cent lamb this year, meaning that 2,000,000 will be marketed at an estimated average price of $10 a head.

Each of these animals also are shorn a heavy coat of fleecy, fine and uniform texture, which has brought an estimated price of $2.50. On 2,000,000 ewes that makes another $5,000,000 to be placed in the credit column.

Someone with a leaning for statistics has figured further on this record wool crop. He has discovered that this year everyone in Idaho, man, woman and child, figuratively raised pounds of wool and received $12 for it. Quite a help towards keeping the nation supplied with blankets and clothing.

Whether a person believes in statistics or not, it is certain that Idaho has proven itself a good place to raise things, be they sheep, lumber, grain or apples. And the next time your car is hunk up on the highway by a seemingly simple and endless band of idling sheep do not spend your time hunking the horn and cursing at the delay.

Take a good look at the Maxing woolies and respect them. They are one of the essential foundation stones which uphold the structure of Idaho prosperity.

SILENT MAJORITY
Detroit News

The millions of peaceful citizens who are daily harassed by the thought of evil do not get their names into the police records. Their activities do not constitute news.

It is the exceptional, the unusual event that attracts a publicist. In the background of these happenings is the vast civilized body that reads about them, shudders and wonders.

Sometimes if the world is really growing better, there can live proof that it is.

ANOTHER CHANGE FOR CONGRESS
An economic expert tells congressmen that people are eating less food than formerly. Maybe some one would introduce a resolution that all compelling people to eat more food.

COLEMAN LEADS
BRUINS TO WIN
OVER THE BEESBruins Continue Winning Streak Back to Half Way Mark.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 23.—White Coleman held the Bees to six safe hits in the first nine innings yesterday's game from the Bees by a score of 11 to 4. The score was tied at the end of the sixth, but Coleman, who had been in the lead for the first time in the seventh and fifth hits in the ninth.

The victory checked the winning streak of the Bees another game and extended the Bruins' winning streak to five games in a row.

The Bruins return to their home lot Monday if the campaign there succeeds and play Ogden, Boise and Salt Lake in turn.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

By United Press

Pontiac leads: Bobby Burke, recently returned from a stay in the Southern League, who played the Boston Red Sox with seven hits to give the Washington Senators a 1 to 0 victory.

The St. Louis Cardinals increased their lead in the National League by taking another game from the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 1.

While St. Louis beat Cincinnati, the Cincinnati Reds were beaten by Pittsburgh with 17 hits, under an 11 to 1 defeat.

Two other National League games, New York at Philadelphia and Brooklyn at Boston were postponed, one because of rain and the other because of cold weather.

Although caught by the Tigers, the St. Louis Browns turned their eighth hit in road account, and defeated Detroit 4 to 3 in the first game but dropped the second.

The Chicago White Sox, under an offer out of the White Sox, won the final game of the series from the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 4.

Twin Falls Plays

Burley Tomorrow

Twin Falls players will leave early in the morning for Burley, Idaho, where they will play a game with the Burley club. The game will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday and look home the victory, playing one substitute while Twin Falls played four.

Each Fall will be represented by ten men, who will line up in two teams. The score last Sunday was a close one and there is every evidence that either Twin Falls will win this time or the score will be even closer.

No game was played in the main was available, this morning, as the Burley men did not get the hour for the opening of the league.

Yale Crew Rests
After Big Victory

By United Press

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 23.—The undefeated Yale crew, which captured Harvard in the 66th annual regatta on the Thames river yesterday took a brief respite from training today before pointing toward the Olympic trials on the Schuylkill river at Philadelphia July 4 and 5.

Yale yesterday proved it had the don't know anything power to row four miles at top speed by defeating Harvard in a stunning upset. Taking the lead after the first four yards, Yale drew away from Harvard for four miles, and finished the race in front in 20 minutes 21.3 seconds. Harvard had been favored.

Although caught by the Tigers, the St. Louis Browns turned their eighth hit in road account, and defeated Detroit 4 to 3 in the first game but dropped the second.

The Chicago White Sox, under an offer out of the White Sox, won the final game of the series from the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 4.

President Tennessee Press On Pay Roll Private Utilities Of State

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 23.—The president of the Tennessee Press Association, "Mack" Dink, and a former newspaperman, (Mr. P. Newsum), handles all publicity activities directed by utilities of that state, the Federal Trade Commission learned today in its power inquiry.

Dink who acts as assistant in the office of the Tennessee committee of utility information, in the Manchester Times, the subscription was told.

This testimony was given by Newsum, director of the publicity committee.

An average of $15,000 is spent by Tennessee utilities in the public relations work carried on by Dink and Newsum, the witness said.

Newsum testified that he is a member of the press association and attends its meetings. For his services to the utility, Dink receives a salary of $225 a month.

Propaganda pamphlets supplied his committee by the National Electric Light Association have been distributed in Tennessee schools, Newsum said.

Regulation of utilities by State commission was praised in the pamphlets. Newsum was asked if there had not been a bitter fight in Tennessee to abolish the State commission on the ground it was inadequate. He replied in the affirmative and admitted the pamphlets were designed to sway opinion in favor of the commission.

May Hear Favorably.

One of the Tennessee papers quoted a writer in the New York Telegram as saying that the power companies of the United States would have little difficulty in proving that they were doing more for the development of the United States than any other agency and that the power companies were being investigated by the American Congress in order to be unseated.

John Henderson, financial editor of the New York Telegram, in a recent article in that paper, declared that the power companies of the United States would have little difficulty in proving that they were doing more for the development of the United States than any other agency and that the power companies were being investigated by the American Congress in order to be unseated.

The New York Telegram is the principal unit in the Scripps-Howard chain of newspapers of which the Knoxville News-Sentinel and the Memphis Press-Scimitar are also units. These papers have displayed a tendency to support government ownership and have been in some cases unfriendly to the utility interests.

Hansen Out Not Just.

The story was headlined "Largest paper in Scripps-Howard chain declares power companies to be greatest factor in economic development of United States."

Forwarding C. A. Bessley, legislative agent of the Oklahoma Power Company, now closed and editorial regarding Muscle Shoals, Newsum said:

"You will note that the Memphis Press and Knoxville News-Sentinel are very unfavorable editorially in as you doubtless know, the Scripps-Howard papers and for this reason are not considered seriously by the public."

Hill-Billy Philosopher to Appear at Chautauqua.

Granville Jones, Patrick Henry, and Henry Clay are some of the great men Granville Jones personally suggests. He is a composite of various "characteristics" was the report of one paper after Mr. Jones' appearance.

Yes, Granville Jones, is like no one else. Though he resembles one of Lincoln with his tall, angular body, rich nose, and native simplicity; at Patrick Henry with his fiery oratory; and of Henry Clay with his courtly bearing and still noblest understanding; he is still himself—the "Hill-Billy Philosopher."

Granville Jones has been on the lecture platform for forty-five years and has delivered his famous "The Philosophy of a Hill-Billy" for twenty years of that time. He is a native of the mountain state of Kentucky.

"I have lived through in every state except Idaho," Mr. Jones said once, "and I was eating supper when I passed through there."

Mr. Jones' childhood closely paralleled that of Lincoln. He was born in a log cabin in the mountains of Arkansas, and hundred miles from a railroad, which in the days of horseback transportation over mountain roads might just as well have been five hundred.

Mr. Jones still has his home in the Driftless. It is a log cabin which he calls "Hill-Billy Home," and it is here he goes to rest between lecture tours.

Great men of the ages have found strength to go on with their work in the solitude of the mountains. Vision one of the crises in Christ's life came to him as he went up into the hills. In the hills of the Driftless Jones found a philosophy of life which was simple, convincing and satisfying.

His philosophy, together with that of a whole life of rich experience, has been wrought into his lecture, "The Philosophy of a Hill-Billy."

"The Philosophy of a Hill-Billy" is delivered in simple Anglo-Saxon, unadorned, direct and powerful, and it is spiced with the richest humor, fresh and untrilled.

Dr. Frank L. Loveland says: "Granville Jones is one of the rare types of men of the indescribable sort, a human rail split out of some unthoughtful tree that is as yet unutilized, with the bark and all—still clinging to him, but sound to the center; a strange mixture of the Aristocrat and the Democrat, a combination of the blood of the dashing Cavalier and the stern Puritan, with a brain and a heart that balance each other with all the delicate accuracy of a chemist's scales."

Burley Boy Pleads Guilty; sentenced and Given Parole

Frank Jensen, 17, of Burley, was sentenced to 12 months in the state penitentiary by Judge W. A. Babcock yesterday afternoon and was then paroled pending good behavior. The charge of felony was one from the Burley district. Jensen pleaded guilty and waiving the statutory time for the receiving of sentence. He was brought to Twin Falls by the Burley-Coe County district attorney, and Deputy Sheriff Steve Mahoney.

Judge Babcock, who has just returned from Boise, then granted a release to John A. Auluck from Helen Helen Auluck. Today he has come to Hazelton to hear arguments on a petition to revoke certain parts of the order of the state court. The hearing started at 10 o'clock.

BIBLE VERSES AND PRAYER

THE HAPPY—He that hatheth a matter wisely shall find good and who the Lord, happy is he.—Prov. 16:20.
PRAYER—Blessed is the man whose delight is in the law of the Lord.

FROM RACE TRACK JOCKEY TO VICE-PRESIDENT

It may be accepted as a strange co-incidence that both candidates of the Republican party for the offices of President and Vice-president are men of humble birth. In a recent issue of The Times, special mention was made in detail of the career of Herbert Hoover, candidate for President.

We desire to call the attention of the younger generation, especially the boys, to the strange career of Charles Curtis, Senator from Kansas and now running mate of Herbert Hoover as Vice-president.

We are told that Charles Curtis was born near North Topeka, with Indian blood in his veins and that he became an orphan at the age of five years. He was then sent to live with relatives on an Indian reservation in Kansas and at sixteen signed up as a jockey on the Kansas race tracks. And then came the awakening. He became convinced that a young man who is without an education has a small show in this world, so he secured an opening as a newspaper reporter and spent his evening hours in studying law. Eight years later he was made Prosecuting Attorney of Shawnee County, Kansas. That was the direct result of rigid application to a well-defined program which had for its purpose the acquiring of such learning as might fit him for a wider career of usefulness than that of a jockey.

It was in 1907 that he was first elected to the United States Senate, where he made a name for himself as a student of good government and parliamentary procedure. In the course of events Curtis became a majority leader of the Senate, this selection following the death of Henry Cabot Lodge.

Senator Curtis of course has not had the wide variety of experience which has fallen to the lot of Herbert Hoover but he is undoubtedly a strong force in his party and is tremendously popular in the farm belt. The Republicans have used wisdom and discretion in making Curtis the team mate of Hoover in order to hold the farm vote in line.

THIRTEEN MONTHS PER YEAR OR TWELVE?

That is what you are going to be asked to decide. We have all been hearing the proposition discussed pro and con, for and aye. It has been something possible, but remote—one of those ideas at which you laughed and then dismissed as too chimerical for serious consideration. For if that happened, how would you know where to put your birthday, And besides it never has been done, and why be revolutionary?

However, there is a committee for calendar simplification suggested by the League of Nations, to work toward an international cooperation in the matter, and George Eastman of Rochester, New York, is the national chairman for the United States.

And Mr. Eastman has just returned from abroad and announces that he proposes to see what the people have to say about it. It is certain to be plenty. Whether for or against, does not signify, but personal and editorial comment is one of our best known vices.

The League of Nations addressed a letter to Secretary of State Kellogg asking the cooperation of this country, but as the United States is not a member of the League, the secretary decided that official cognizance of the matter would not be good form, and turned the letter over to Mr. Eastman, who has shown much interest in an international revision of the calendar.

Mr. Eastman does not state how the nation wide inquiry is to be conducted, but does indicate that it will be thorough and will be conclusive of the opinion of the American public.

So, which would you rather have: Twelve months of unequal length or thirteen of equal length? And what should the newcomer be named? And where should he be placed?

We are surprised at the comment of the Lewiston Tribune which, in mentioning that a five-day year is being suggested for the International Laborers-Garment Workers Union and that the movement is perfectly proper, suggests that keen observers of fables' grinnings cannot but wonder why two days a week should not be quite ample to maintain the proper balance between supply and demand.

A Canadian newspaper of recent date carried stories of nine fatal automobile accidents in one day in various sections of the Dominion. Canada is evidently becoming modernized too.

Some are buying 1929 models in 1928, and others are buying 1924 models this year.

Some are buying the man who likes five-cent cigars has no objection to a ten-cent cigar when it is given to him.

Daily Poem

AMONG THE MOUNTAINS
 The darkness hides the mountains from my view
 Yet they are near; they are near; they are near;
 Reach upward through the clouds to greet the blue.
 The sturdy silence rests on them
 Immutable thence no wind may know
 That still within the body's prison lies
 Save as in dreams, it hears the over-flow
 Pulse and yet clear, of heavenly harmonies.
 The light
 In light and warmth and safety as
 The friendly day, upon the earth were bright
 To guide and cheer the traveler on his way.
 Life hits its darkness and its mystery
 Yet I who at times distrust the modern
 May strength receive to face their reality
 Till on the mountains I shall see the morn.
 —H. T. J. Colman.

Other Viewpoints

THE GOLDEN FLEECE
 Lewiston Tribune
 Those sturdy motor-launches which ply the turbulent Snake above Lewiston have been exceedingly busy the last few months. They have been chugging up and down the river, transferring the products and equipment of one of the most profitable "sheep years" in Idaho history.
 It has been no easy job, either. Supplies, shoring crews and equipment waiting to be taken to the up-river camps. Great sack upon sack of clean, heavy wool waiting at the camps to be sent out to the world.
 Weather conditions, lamb production, the wool clip and prices received for it and the lambs have combined to make it an exceedingly gainful year.
 The sheep commission estimates that the net profits from wool and lambs will be close to an average of 100 per cent. On a basis of 2,000,000 ewes that means the industry will bring into Idaho $100,000,000 more than it cost to produce the sheep.
 Idaho lambs are among the best produced. Born in sheds and protected from weather and wild animals in the mild climate of the river valleys, they develop faster and become fine, heavy animals which bring top prices on the livestock markets. Idaho ewes produced 100 per cent lambs this year, meaning that 2,000,000 will be marketed at an estimated average price of $10 a head.
 Each of these ewes has also produced a heavy coat of fleece, fine and uniform texture, which has brought an estimated price of $150. On 2,000,000 ewes that makes another $300,000,000 to be placed in the credit column.
 Someone with a leaning for statistics has figured further on this great wool crop. He has discovered that this year everyone in Idaho, man, woman and child, figuratively raised 25 pounds of wool and received $12 for it. Quite a help towards keeping the nation supplied with blankets and clothing.
 Whether a person believes in statistics or not, it is certain that Idaho has given itself a good place to raise things, be they sheep, lumber, grain or ladders. And the next time you are held up on the highway by a seemingly aimless and endless band of "bleating" sheep do not spend your time looking the herd and cutting at the delay.
 Take a good look at the luscious wool and respect them. They are one of the essential foundation stones which is to reveal the structure of Idaho prosperity.

SILENT MAJORITY

SILENT MAJORITY
 Lewiston News
 The millions of peaceful citizens who go about their daily business without thought of evil do not get their names into the police records. Their activities do not constitute news.
 It is the exceptional, the unusual event, that attracts public attention. The background of these happenings is the vast civilized body that reads about them, shoulders and waders sometimes if the world is really growing better. Their own lives prove that it is.
ANOTHER CHANCE FOR CONGRESS
 A economic expert tells Congress that people are eating less food than they used to. He says some could improve their diet by eating more food.

Nebraska Youths After Gold Prize

By United Press

GENEVA, June 22.—Lombard, one of the smallest countries in the world, since in the middle between Belgium, France and Germany, holds the world's record for labor legislation.
 It is the only country in the world, according to an announcement by the International Labor Bureau, that has ratified all 25 of the international labor conventions that have been launched by the 10 international labor conferences that have been held since 1919.
 The first of these conventions is the famous eight-hour labor convention.

How that was launched by the First International Labor Conference, held at Washington in 1919.
 Among the other 24 and which Lombard is the only state to have ratified—all were the conventions against unemployment; against the employment of women before and after childbirth; against the employment of women and children in night work; fixing the minimum age limit for children in industrial, agricultural and other work; establishing the right of agricultural workers to form unions; equality of treatment for foreign and national workers in the matter of recompense for accidents and a dozen others.
