NEBRASKA STAR MAY REPRESENT UNITED STATES

Fair Elkins Will Perform at Antwerp If He Is in Condition.

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
ARBOARD'S S. ROOSEVELT, July 16.—Frank Elkins, the tall, thin, athletic, bald-headed, wavy-haired, with-thrown Roland Locke, sprinter, and Weems Basink, hurdler, would not be allowed to compete at Amsterdam.

The four athletes from the Olympic Games, and the New York American League, will be in condition.

That decision has been reached by the Olympic committee, which also announced that the United States will be represented by the University of Nebraska at the Olympic games, if William Kennedy, president of the New York American League, and the City of Elkins is in condition.

A. C. recently decided to send them to Europe anyway and may their expenses.

No word has been received from Kennedy and officials said they could take no further action until a report is filed.

1,000 athletes are tapering down their exercising, although daily workouts are being held on deck. Ten are on the hospital list; none of them seem to be serious cases.

Midwest football writer from the University of Iowa, Beers was hurt during a workout and physiatrist said he probably had a fractured shoulder.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

By United Press

Yesterday's hero: Fred Flitzelmann, Giants' pitcher, who held the Clubmen Reds to six hits and hit the lot with his own game, 10-2.

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig came out of a battling tump and hit a home run each in the second game of the double header between the Yankees and the Cleveland Indians.

It was Ruth's 34th of the season and Gehrig's 13th. New York won both games, 6-3 and 6-2.

Duke McGehee's "buzz ball," was working perfectly and the St. Louis Cardinals got to make only six hits off the Brooklyn Dodger's 10.

The two teams tightened up the National League race.

The St. Louis Browns went twelve games without a victory over the White Sox in the South. Each team had three pitchers.

The Chicago Cubs continued their winning ways, chalking up their fifth straight victory over the Philadelphia 6-3. Each team got 11 hits.

Philadelphia could not bunt them.

Their record is 10-12.

With the Senators, each team had one win.

From an economic standpoint,

the Browns are a success in this state.

BIBLE VERSES AND PRAYER

THE INSECURITY OF RICHES. Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themselves wings; they fly away as an eagle toward heaven. Prov. 23:5.

PRAYER, Lord, we have set our affections upon the things that are above, when Christ saith at the right hand of God,

AGRICULTURAL COMMISSIONER SAYS "CULLS IS CULLS."

In the many wordy battles which raged last winter over the various phases of a low potato market, none was more hotly contested than that which surged around the question of potato grades. Were they a help or a detriment in marketing? Should they be restored or forever abolished?

There were proponents noisy and eloquent for each side. Potatoes were shipped graded and ungraded and the price for the most part was uniformly low, due to an over-supply of the humble tubers, it seems to be generally conceded, plus the absence of grading rules.

However, a desire-to-play-safe-on-this-point this season, led the recently organized Potato Growers' Association of Idaho to enact a resolution providing for a grade number 1 and a grade number 2, and allowing in addition, a so-called "no grade" potato to be shipped. This "no grade," it was specified at the time, was to be the cull potato, but appreciating that a certain amount attaches to the word "cull," the somewhat ambiguous term was to be permitted. Last year there was shipped in quantity a so-called "Commercial" grade which was a mixture of ones and twos. This under the 1928 agreement was to be abolished.

Now it seems that many growers and dealers are choosing to interpret the "no grade" as embracing the same sizes as the commercial grade. Therefore the commissioner of agriculture makes definite statement that both the "no grade" and commercial are out of the picture and that anyone who wishes to ship cull potatoes must label them culls.

In taking this action the State authorities will have the backing of every thoughtful citizen who cares a shap of the finger about Idaho. One would think that common experience should be sufficient to point the way; we have the example of California and other States as to what uniformity of pack and proper branding mean; we know that California products would have no market at all were it not for sensible handling of her output from dairy, grave and farm. Jail sentences ought to be provided for those shippers of Idaho potatoes who hurt the State by passing off cull stuff for the genuine No. 1.

Boy of Three Has Fancy for Fires; Ignites Haystack

A strong stream of water from a nearby ditch onto the blazing haystack. The fire was soon extinguished and the boy was taken to a nearby hospital.

Three-year-old Donald Neiger wanted to see a bonfire yesterday so he struck a match and lit the hay. He ran for water, but the fire had been moved and the fire extinguisher had been taken down by another child.

The fire department left Twin Falls yesterday about 1 p.m. for the fire and in a few minutes was pumping water onto the burning haystack. The fire was soon extinguished and the boy was taken to a nearby hospital.

Donald is said to have seen his father's fire last year.

DULLNESS MARKS TODAY'S SESSION

By United Press

NEW YORK, July 16.—In one of the duller sessions of the year stocks today moved in an extremely slow manner around their previous closing levels.

The ticker stopped for long periods at a time and brokerage houses were practically deserted, both due to the lack of interest in the market.

About the only feature to the day's operations was a short rally to around the previous day's closing level.

Other industrial leaders generally were fractionally lower, although General Motors was about 3 points up. Standard United States Steel, after losing more than a point rallied to around the previous day's closing level.

General Electric, which rose to a new high for the year, the market closed lower.

WILL BE 100 YEARS OF AGE NEXT FRIDAY

Community to Join in Honoring Veteran As Century Mark Arrives.

It has been Twin Falls, well known veterans of the Civil war, will be exactly 100 years old next Friday, July 20. To honor him on his birthday, the G. A. R., the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Elks and many other patriotic organizations of Twin Falls will hold a big open celebration at the city park on Friday.

This action was decided upon at a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Blake, Legion avenue, last evening. Various committees were appointed and details of the celebration were apportioned and are to prepare their reports at once that the full plans may be completed early next week.

Mr. Hart fought during the Civil War with the Northern army. He was born in 1828. He is able to remember his life in the Civil War and his memory is still excellent. He can recall instances of 60 years ago much more vividly than he can present day occurrences.

One of the judges paper recently carried a story of Mr. Hart and his life.

Addison T. Smith, Congressman, invited to speak at the big birthday party here Friday. Congressman Smith was not certain today whether he would be able to attend the party because of his heavy schedule. An oration will be engraved to furnish music and the program will include many songs of the old Civil War days.

People are expected to be present from all over Twin Falls county, the North Side and from other parts of the State, as Mr. Hart has many acquaintances and friends throughout the State.

The Anti-Saloon League has alleged that Smith, a member of the Democratic party, had a secret understanding with the League to help it in its campaign.

He was given a scholarship by the League to attend Cornell University.

Smith, however, refused to accept the scholarship.

ABROAD — S. ROOSEVELT, July 16.—Fair Elkins, an archer from Nebraska, can represent the United States at the Olympic games if William Kennedy, president of the New York Athletic Club, will certify that Elkins is in condition.

That decision has been reached by the Olympic committee, which also includes John R. Thompson, coach; and Roland Locke, sprinter; and Weems Baskin, hurdler, would not be allowed to compete at Antwerp.

The four athletes, fair Elkins included, are to leave the New York City recently decided to send them to Europe, hurry up and pay their expenses.

No word has been received from Kennedy and officials said they could take no further action until a report is filed.

Loughran Expects To Conquer Latzo

By HARRY FEHRIGEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—Lionel Loughran, light heavyweight champion, preached today from an old, familiar text.

"I'm going to beat Pete Latzo to smithereens," Loughran said.

The champion has said that before. He told the other New York lumberjacks he would be back to do it again.

Mr. Loughran, who has many friends and fighters with Jimmy Slattery, Mike Manus, Emanuel Young, Stehling, Mike Manus and Lou Lombardi, No one was knocked out by him.

Loughran is an 11 to 10 favorite, but it is not upon his punts that he bases his claim to this fall's title of their money. They are banking upon his mighty feet and crafty brain.

Old Settlers To Hold Annual Meet

The Old Settlers Society of Twin Falls County will hold their annual picnic at the county fair grounds at 10 a.m. Friday, August 2, it was decided at a meeting of the executive committee, here, yesterday afternoon in the offices of M. J. Sweeley. The society is comprised of all those people who were residing in Twin Falls county from 1901 to 1910, the date of the organization of the county.

An attempt is being made to get United States Senator William E. Borah to speak at the picnic, it was decided at the meeting.

Governor H. C. Baldwin has agreed to be present if matters of State will permit.

When the executive committee met, Aug. 2, was served upon last Saturday when the chairman of the picnic, M. J. Sweeley and Secretary James W. Smith, presented:

"Dear Brother Smith," the Democratic presidential candidate invited him to the association's picnic here, "I have received your letter of July 4 and understand you will be here on the 2nd of August, so I am sending my very best wishes."

"I should like very much to be present at your picnic, but I am unable to do so as it is utterly impossible for me to be in St. Louis on July 4.

"Sincerely yours,"

M. J. Sweeley.

Winchester Store

Defeats I. D. 10-9

The Winchester bat slingers edged out 10-9 a victory over the Idaho Department store crew yesterday afternoon at the ball park.

The Wildcat crew, which began with a 3 lead at the end of the sixth inning, led the I. D. men 6-4 when the game ended with a 3 lead at the end of the ninth inning. When the Winchester store crew came out "man-hoed" to take the lead, the I. D. men were 10-9.

The two teams played considerably better ball than they had before. The I. D. men were held to 10 runs, while the Wildcat crew had 12, but when both the bats on the 'let' were broken, there were two outs left, the I. D. men made those with a minimum of difficulty.

Erwin started on the mound for the I. D. but was replaced by Paulson. Tyson taking care of the score book end, and the Wildcat crew, in line for the win, with Taylor, with the Wildcaters, with Taylor re-cusing his offerings.

BIBLE VERSES AND PRAYER

THE INSECURITY OF RICHES—With them set thine eyes upon which is not for riches certainly make themselves wings they fly away as an eagle toward heaven.—Prov. 23:5.

PRAYER, Lord, we have set our affections upon the things that are above, when Christ sitteth at the right hand of God.

WALKING ALONG THE SUNNY SIDE OF THE STREET.

The man who has the reputation of being a mixer is usually a half fellow well met who has a lot of friends and is a success in business.

The men with a grouch who sticks to his desk, and never has a pleasant word or thought for anybody, is not a mixer and is the sort of fellow who never succeeds. Mixing brings a man into contact with all sorts of men and opens to him the opportunity to get into business or at least understand the angle of view of the other fellow. Herein lies one of the great secrets of success of such organizations as Rotary and Kiwanis.

Attend any of the meetings of these and similar organizations and note the effect that contact has had. Not one would forfeit his membership if at all possible to be kept within the ranks. Furthermore the mixer finds other revenue for his personality besides through the avenues of business. Socially the mixer is an asset for that society is at its best in which every member holds up his end and allows everyone his faculties to shine on all the other members.

Now, here is a pile of crushed stone, some sand, cement and water. When the pieces of stone are thoroughly coated with the sand, cement and water, they go together and stick. But they will not stick unless they are thoroughly mixed so that the component parts come into direct contact with the other elements.

Anybody who has watched concrete mixers at work will have observed that always, after mixing a batch of concrete, there are left a few pieces of stone lying on one side that did not get into the mix. They were overlooked, hence they play no part in the make-up of the concrete. As a speaker at one of the local service clubs remarked not so long ago, there are in every community men and women who do not mix with the rest of the population, refusing to recognize civic, religious, or fraternal duties and take no part in the up-building of their home town or city. These may be likened to those overlooked pieces of stone. They are out of tune with everything and therefore out of the swim, to use a common expression.

On the other hand, considering the power of the mass, each of the pieces of stone has its mission to perform. All sides of each piece are coated with sand, cement and water and each performs its functions in helping to hold the whole mass together.

A man among men, the mixer, who is coated all over with good nature, who has confidence in himself, who has sympathy and a thought for others who seeks the sunny rather than the shady side of the street and plays his part in the world each day to the best of his ability, may not rise above mediocrity but he is a success because he does his duty to the utmost in accordance with the light he has and he did not pick out that light.

Each piece of stone in the concrete does its work where it is placed and sticks to its job. Some pieces are larger than others, so of course do an amount of work that is proportionately larger—that's all.

The older the concrete becomes, the stronger it is, and the more able to meet all tests. And that is the common experience of human relationships; the world is growing better because of mutual contacts for it is these contacts which inspire a spirit of trust and of helpfulness.

Yet here is another thought. Sometimes pieces of masses of concrete crack and break but it is always that part which is the weakest, the weakness, nine times out of ten, being caused by the introduction of some foreign and hurtful matter, some sort of dirt. And that is exactly what happens to human associations when unworthy things creep in to disintegrate and disrupt.

They say there are sermons in stones; there certainly are sermons in those stones that enter into concrete but this is not a Sunday sermon but some simple thought appropriate to Saturday night when, at the end of a busy week, we may have time to sit down and think things over. If there is any lesson for us, it is this, that if we have been a little careless about mixing among men, if we have been avoiding the sunny side of the street lest we meet too many of our fellows, it is not too late to turn over a new leaf by getting out and becoming acquainted. The other fellow is not half so bad as we sometimes think him to be.

CRIME IS THEME OF CHURCH MAN IN LOCAL TALK

Elder Melvin J. Ballard Addresses L. D. S. Conference Here.

Elder Melvin J. Ballard of Salt Lake City, principal speaker at the quarterly conference of the Twin Falls Stake of the L. D. S. church, gave some startling statistics relative to the cost of crime in the United States at the M. I. A. meeting in the auditorium of the Hotel Idaho during the closing meeting of the conference Sunday evening.

"The constitution grants man the right to pursue happiness," he said. "Is it not alarming to you to realize that we are in danger of having a nation with all the savagery of an uncivilized country?" He said over 40,000 men have been killed, a ratio of ten times the amount of murders in England. The cost of crime is greater than the expenses of maintaining the national defense of the United States government," Elder Ballard commented.

Elder Ballard, after quoting figures from the latest statistics, said that the information is not reliable, but to point out the conditions now facing Salt Lake. He continued: "Read from the statement of George H. Gale, Mr. Ferguson and Daniel Webster that there was security for us in our national life if we could just hold on. If we hold out our lives...we are born to fall in other nations. In the past have failed." The Latter Day Saints believe that the Constitution and the constitution of the United States were established by God and that it is our duty to uphold and support it.

He said that the purpose of the meeting was to encourage the members of the congregation to work for the welfare of the people who live in the state.
